IN CUBA REVOLT PLOT

New Arms Load For Caribbean Seized In Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Another batch of military equipment apparently destined for use in the uneasy Caribbean area was seized by Miami detectives Saturday.

An automobile loaded with 5,000 rounds of ammunition, machetes and field tents was grabbed and its driver, Aroldo Fernandez Lieges, 23, was jailed. Unconfirmed reports said the raiding officers narrowly missed another car loaded with arms.

The arrests followed a roundup of 13 persons, including the Dominican Republic's consul general, Friday in an alleged plot to arm foes of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

UPSETS SCHEDULE

The Miami Herald quoted unidentified Cuban sources in Miami as saying Friday's seizure of 13 persons and a C47 transport plane loaded with arms and ammunition may have upset the timetable of a Cuban counter-revolution.

These sources said an attack against Castro had been set for the first part of June but now would be delayed.

The arms taken by customs agents, however, amounted to only a small fraction of the military equipment already put into the hands of the expeditionary force in Santo Domingo, these sources added.

In Havana, Cuba's defense minister said the Miami raids proved that followers of Fulgencio Batista, ousted president of Cuba, are preparing for a counterattack from the Dominican Republic, where Batista lives in exile.

"Every day we are better prepared to defend our revolution at whatever moment we are attacked," said the defense minister, Augusto Martinez Sanchez.

The Dominican Republic's consul general at Miami and 12 other persons, including a woman pilot, were charged after Friday's roundup with plotting to arm the enemies of Castro.

Customs agents seized a C47 transport plane being loaded with arms and ammunition at Miami International airport and said the

Reds' Planned Trap Ignored, Lions Are Told

"The American people, with the careless attitude toward today's Communist threat are falling head over heels into a carefully planned trap set by the Soviet Union several years ago," declared Dr. Sas Jaworsky, keynote speaker here last night at a banquet of the State Lions Club convention.

The speaker, now of Abbeville, La., once himself a victim of a Russian concentration camp, said that American principles, powered by an active and energetic people, are the one and only force today capable of smashing the Iron Curtain.

He recounted hearing a top Russian official of the Lennin School of Warfare in Moscow declare several years ago that "war between Communism and Capitalism is inevitable," and that Communism must make the first hit "with the element of suprise, after the bourgoise is put to sleep with a program launched of peace negotiations."

Dr. Jaworsky told Lions Club members last night the importance of using their own Lion principles, backed by America's, to trample the Iron Curtain.

"Americanism is the strongest force in the world today," he said. "Time and time again, countries throughout the world have rallied to the strength of America's wonderful moral support."

The trouble, he said, lies in the apathy of this country's citizenry. "We should be concerned and afraid of the Communist threat and not allow ourselves to be put to sleep by the endless peace negotiations they constantly assume to use."

In closing, the speaker told the assembly, "I predict that finally the truth of democracy will pen-

Jet Drops Tank, Man 81, Lucky

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A 450-gallon empty fuel tank fell from an Air National Guard jet near here Saturday and struck the ground within 10 feet of J. L. Slawson, 81.

Slawson said a 16-foot section of the tank smashed into a ditch near his home three miles east of here and rebounded some 20 feet into the air. Another 6 foot section was found in nearby woods.

The pilot, Lt. John McKay of Jackson, said the tank became detached by accident while he was flying at 12,500 feet.

Faubus Faces New Test In Recall Vote

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A new test of strength between the pro and con forces in Little Rock's continuing controversy over public school integration comes Monday at a school board recall election.

The outcome of the election will give the first solid indication whether Gov. Orval E. Faubus has gained or lost support since voters ratified, 3-1, his closing public high schools to prevent integration last fall.

All six board members are up for possible recall. Three are staunch Faubus supporters who sparked the latest integration fire here by dismissing 44 faculty members. The others were once denounced by Faubus as "integrationists."

WALKED OUT

The anti-Faubus board members walked out on the meeting at which the teachers were fired last May 5.

Faubus, who previously had not taken sides, Friday night said in a television speech he would vote against recall of his faction on the board. And he said if the other faction were recalled, "it would be no better than they deserve."

The governor did not explore the issue of teacher firing, but dwelt on what he termed the evils of integration.

The anti-Faubus board members contend the dismissals were illegal since the meeting was without a quorum after they walked out.

Indignant school patrons rallied immediately behind the teachers and the anti-Faubus board members—Ted Lamb, Russell H. Matson Jr., and Everett Tucker Jr.

Savage Stray Dogs Attack, Kill Child, 2

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — A savage pack of stray dogs viciously attacked and killed a 2 ½-year-old boy in suburban Hazelwood, dragging him into a field about 75 yards behind his home.

The torn body of Mark D. Draper was found by a neighbor, Melvern Jones, who fought off snarling dogs to retrieve the body.

At least six dogs were shot and killed, and three others wounded and captured several hours after the attack as about 35 men, police and members of the Civil Defense Corps., roamed through the woodland area armed with shotguns and clubs. Four helicopters also were pressed in the search of the area, located near Lambert-St. Louis Municipal Airport.

EXTEND SEARCH

The search even extended into the airport, where air traffic was halted about 15 minutes while a dog pack was chased along the runways.

"I've shot and killed six of the dogs myself," Police Chief Albert J. J. Talley said. "I think we've about run out of dogs in the area."

Jones was able to identify four of the dead dogs as "members of the killer pack." But he was unable to say exactly how many dogs were in the pack which attacked the child shortly after he wandered from his home about 8 a. m.

"I believe it was six or eight," Jones said. "They all were curs."

Shortly after the boy left his home, his mother — Mrs. Douglas G. Draper — went to look for him. When she was unable to find her son, she telephoned Jones, who heard the dog pack and decided to investigate.

As Jones approached the pack, which was milling about the boy's body, the dogs suddenly sprang at him. But Jones managed to beat off the dogs, pick up the boy's body and retreat from the area.

Trailer Breaks Loose, Two Die

RACELAND, La. (AP) — A trailer broke loose from a truck on a highway near here Saturday and swung into the path of an oncoming car. Two women in the auto were killed and two persons were hurt.

Killed were Mrs. Flora F. Singerman, 48, the driver, and Mrs. Lena Boston, 46, both of New Orleans.

Army Attack On Senators Under Probe

Defense Agency Leaders Ired By Public Outburst

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The defense department Saturday disavowed an Army attack on the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Air Force and disclosed it is investigating orgin of the outburst.

The Army publicly accused the Senate Committee of endangering national defense by proposing a drastic cut in the Nike-Hercules anti - aircraft missile program. It also assailed the Air Force's Bomarc missile, which appeared to have been favored in the Senate committee.

Top defense officials hinted the army had come close to insubordination.

CONTACTS MCELROY

"The Army press statement was issued without any consultation in the Department of Defense." Assistant Defense Secretary Murray Snyder told newsmen.

The Army uncorked the attack late Friday.

Snyder, who is in charge of defense information, said that it was "not a closed issue." He revealed he had conferred by telephone with Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy, who is in Geneva, Switzerland, attending the Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference and Acting Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. He also said he

Ike Requests Science Push In Education

WASHINGTON (AP)—A jacking up of the entire American educational system, with new emphasis on science, was urged by the White House Saturday to help maintain the security of the free world.

Proposed financial outlay by the nation: at least 30 billion dollars a year—or double the present annual expenditure for education.

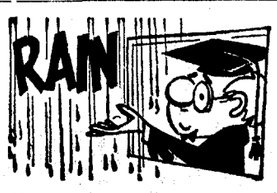

The call was made by President Eisenhower's Science Advisory Committee in an 18,000-word report entitled "Education for the Age of Science." It was made public with an approving statement by Eisenhower.

The specific recommendations ranged from one urging do-it-yourself science experiments in the home by students after school hours to a suggestion for caravans of science—that is, mobile museums transported by trailer trucks to bring the story of science to the hinterlands.

In advocating new stress on science, the committee said: "We emphasize that we are not urging that other fields of intellectual importance be reduced or diminished, but only that a proper balance be maintained in our educational offerings. We fear that in the past there has been inadequate emphasis on mathematics and science."

Eisenhower's statement said: "This report makes clear that the strengthening of science and engineering education requires the strengthening of all education. As an excellent statement of educational goals and needs, I hope it will be widely read and that it will stimulate a wider understanding of the importance of excel-

Ike To Make Decision On Summit Meet

GENEVA (UPI)—President Eisenhower personally will make the final decision for the West whether sufficient progress has been made at the Geneva Foreign Ministers' Conference to justify a summit meeting, authoritative conference sources disclosed Saturday.

They said the final decision would be based on a twin yardstick:

The actual material progress achieved by the Big Four Foreign Ministers.

The "atmosphere" at the wind-up of the current talks.

WEARY OF STALLING

The second factor may be the more decisive, it was said. If the Geneva negotiations erupt into a bout of East-West charges and counter-charges, a summit meeting would be highly unlikely. If they remain friendly, chances of a summit get-together would be far greater.

Meanwhile, the West already obviously was weary of Russian stalling tactics and there were rumors the U.S. might even move to break off the talks if no progress is shown by the end of next week.

Asked about the rumors, U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Andrew H. Berding, the official U.S. spokesman, refused to confirm them but said:

"Let's wait until the end of next week."

As the foreign ministers went into their week-end recess there were these other developments:

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko conferred for an hour and a half with West German Foreign Minister Henrich von Brentano at the latter's villa. The meeting was at Gromyko's request, and a communique issued by the West Germans later said they had a "frank" discussion of "problems which form the basis of the conference."

Three Hurt As Rocket Explodes

Ft. SILL, Okla. (AP)—Two soldiers and a Lawton, Okla., high school boy were injured Saturday afternoon when a homemade rocket exploded on a launching pad at the Army artillery and missile center here.

The two-stage rocket exploded as the three were preparing to launch it. About 60 persons were watching from nearby bunkers on Ft. Sill's east range.

The injured were John Mehew, 17, Lawton; Capt. Richard S. Miller, launching officer, and PFC. G. Nelson.

Officials at the base hospital said they were treated for burns about the face and hands, and undetermined injuries to their eyes.

Capt. Wallace Hitchcock, public information officer, said safety checks had been made on the rocket. He quoted officers as saying they could not understand what went wrong.

House Fight Due On Teachers Pay

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Legislators backing a 21-million-dollar full pay raise for teachers said Saturday they plan a House floor amendment in an effort to put it in Gov. Earl Long's 458-million-dollar general appropriations bill.

Since Long already has threatened a veto for any teacher pay hike larger than 9½-million, the second major conflict of the 30-day fiscal Legislature is in sight.

The first legislative battle took place last Wednesday when the Senate threw out Long's hotly controversial proposals to ease voter registration laws.

MAY TEST ISSUE

Long's reported determination to force the House to look at his Senate-rejected registration law changes may reach a test as early as Sunday.

It all depends on whether the governor, who delights in political tumult, signals his House leaders to act then, wait or drop the whole idea.

Sen. W. M. Rainach of Summerfield, Louisiana segregation voice, is ready for a new fight with Long any time the governor moves. Rainach has powerful House allies.

The House returns at 4:30 p.m.

Stolen Ring Is Recovered In FBI Raid

ELIZABETH, N. J. (UPI) — FBI agents raided a motel here Saturday and recovered a $300,000 diamond ring stolen from Mrs. Vera Krupp, former wife of the German munitions manufacturer, in a robbery at her Nevada ranch home last April. Three persons were arrested.

Those seized were James George Reves, 31, a native of Greenwood, Miss., his wife Mary Jo, 31, formerly of Hot Springs, Ark., and Julius Berger, 43, Newark, N. J., paper bag salesman.

The ring, weighing 33.6 carats, was recovered in the motel where Reves and his wife were seized. Berger was arrested in Newark.

Reves and Berger were held in $25,000 bail and Reves' wife in $5,000 bail at their arraignment here. They were placed in custody of a U. S. marshal pending grand jury action.

The FBI agents also seized Reves' 1959 auto, which they said was equipped with a mechanical device for emitting a smoke screen from the exhaust.

Three gunmen stripped the 33.6 carat ring from Mrs. Krupp's finger on April 10 at her ranch near Las Vegas.

SEEK YOUNG RECRUITS

FBI Chief Warns U.S. Reds Active

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Saturday that American Communists, under more pro-Soviet leadership than ever, are emerging from underground with a renewed drive to recruit young people and workers invital industries.

He said the reds are "still retaining an underground organization" but they also "are now coming out more openly, trying to infiltrate into labor organizations and other areas where their influence can be felt."

He said this included a membership drive aimed partly at forming a new youth group and infiltrating basic industries like steel, shipping, automobiles and transportation."

"The Communist aim is, of course, to eat into our econmic life and our freedom," the FBI chief said in an interview with Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.)

Hoover said the renewed Red drive for members followed a sharp fall-off "due to the fact that they screened out those about whom they had any doubts as to their fanaticism and dedication to communism."

He said the domestic Communist threat is "the most critical problem we have to face up to in our internal security" because Communist leaders in this country "are more pro - Soviet than they've ever been."

Hoover said that "a definite tie-in to the international conspiracy" was reflected in reports to the national Communist Party by three high officials who recently returned from the 21st Congress of the party in Moscow.

Hoover said the Communist Party in this country "is an arm of the international conspiracy against freedom and God."

Cloudbursts Set Off Flash Floods In Texas Cities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cloudbursts swamped the Texas coastal area Saturday.

The downpours set off flash floods in Houston and other areas

Rain of more than three inches turned some Houston streets into small rivers. Stranded motorists were evacuated by rowboats.

The heaviest fall reported was 6.12 inches in Woodsboro in Refugio County. Streets there were inundated but damage was slight

Rains ranging from 5 to 5.3 inches were reported in Bonney view and Bayside areas north of Corpus Christi.

The shower and thunderstorm pattern extended from the Texas Gulf Coast eastward to the middle and south Atlantic states.

Patches of rain appeared on the weather map from Wisconsin eastward into Pennsylvania and New York State.

Thunderstorms also were reported along the Rockies from Montana southward into New Mexico.

Snow accompanied a shower in Elko, Nev.

FIVE DIE IN CRASH

Tragedy Ends Trip In Grad's Gift Car

MONMOUTH, Ill. (AP) — Five teenagers whizzed south in a car one had received as a high school graduation gift.

A workman, back on the job after a winter layoff, and his family drove north on the same road.

They collided head-on a few minutes after midnight Saturday in a crash that killed five and injured six others.

Killed were Larry Dean Earp, 18, of Little York; Charles Lee, 18, Monmouth, and Mrs. Mandy Logsdon, 35, and two of her children, Duard W., 8, and Robin, 8 months.

In critical condition in Monmouth hospital is Jerry Perrin, 19, of Little York. Also injured and in the hospital are Duard Logsdon Sr., 57; his son, Stanley, 11; Bernard Brown, 16, son of Mrs. Logsdon by a previous marriage and Dean Talbott, 18, and Billy Tempero, 15, both of Little York.

Earp was a distant cousin of Wyatt Earp, who left Illinois in the 19th century to win abiding fame as a fast-drawing marshal in the west.

Young Earp and Lee were graduated by Little York High School Friday night. They were joined by three others, young Perrin, Talbott and Tempero.

Earp had been given a car as a graduation gift. It carried him on his last ride.

Mrs. Logsdon loaded her four children into the family car and drove into Monmouth to pick up Logsdon at the end of his night trick at the Western Stoneware Co. He had returned to the job a week ago after having been laid off last winter.

State police gave this account: Logsdon, bound north, attempted to cross the left lane of the

OVER FULL INCREASE

House Fight Due On Teachers Pay

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Legislators backing a 21-million-dollar full pay raise for teachers said Saturday they plan a House floor amendment in an effort to put it in Gov. Earl Long's 458-million-dollar general appropriations bill.

Since Long already has threatened a veto for any teacher pay hike larger than 9½-million, the second major conflict of the 30-day fiscal Legislature is in sight.

The first legislative battle took place last Wednesday when the Senate threw out Long's hotly controversial proposals to ease voter registration laws.

MAY TEST ISSUE

Long's reported determination to force the House to look at his Senate-rejected registration law changes may reach a test as early as Sunday.

It all depends on whether the governor, who delights in political tumult, signals his House leaders to act then, wait or drop the whole idea.

Sen. W. M. Rainach of Summerfield, Louisiana segregation voice, is ready for a new fight with Long any time the governor moves. Rainach has powerful House allies.

The House returns at 4:30 p.m.

Stolen Ring Is Recovered In FBI Raid

ELIZABETH, N. J. (UPI) — FBI agents raided a motel here Saturday and recovered a $300,000 diamond ring stolen from Mrs. Vera Krupp, former wife of the German munitions manufacturer, in a robbery at her Nevada ranch home last April. Three persons were arrested.

Those seized were James George Reves, 31, a native of Greenwood, Miss., his wife Mary Jo, 31, formerly of Hot Springs, Ark., and Julius Berger, 43, Newark, N. J., paper bag salesman.

The ring, weighing 33.6 carats, was recovered in the motel where Reves and his wife were seized. Berger was arrested in Newark.

Reves and Berger were held in $25,000 bail and Reves' wife in $5,000 bail at their arraignment here. They were placed in custody of a U. S. marshal pending grand jury action.

The FBI agents also seized Reves' 1959 auto, which they said was equipped with a mechanical device for emitting a smoke screen from the exhaust.

Three gunmen stripped the 33.6 carat ring from Mrs. Krupp's finger on April 10 at her ranch near Las Vegas.

Reds' Planned Trap Ignored, Lions Are Told

"The American people, with the careless attitude toward today's Communist threat are falling head over heels into a carefully planned trap set by the Soviet Union several years ago," declared Dr. Sas Jaworsky, keynote speaker here last night at a banquet of the State Lions Club convention.

The speaker, now of Abbeville, La., once himself a victim of a Russian concentration camp, said that American principles, powered by an active and energetic people, are the one and only force today capable of smashing the Iron Curtain.

He recounted hearing a top Russian official of the Lennin School of Warfare in Moscow declare several years ago that "war between Communism and Capitalism is inevitable," and that Communism must make the first hit "with the element of suprise, after the bourgoise is put to sleep with a program launched of peace negotiations."

Dr. Jaworsky told Lions Club members last night the importance of using their own Lion principles, backed by America's, to trample the Iron Curtain.

"Americanism is the strongest force in the world today," he said. "Time and time again, countries throughout the world have rallied to the strength of America's wonderful moral support."

The trouble, he said, lies in the apathy of this country's citizenry. "We should be concerned and afraid of the Communist threat and not allow ourselves to be put to sleep by the endless peace negotiations they constantly assume to use."

In closing, the speaker told the assembly, "I predict that finally the truth of democracy will pen-

Ike Requests Science Push In Education

WASHINGTON (AP)—A jacking up of the entire American educational system, with new emphasis on science, was urged by the White House Saturday to help maintain the security of the free world.

Proposed financial outlay by the nation: at least 30 billion dollars a year—or double the present annual expenditure for education.

The call was made by President Eisenhower's Science Advisory Committee in an 18,000-word report entitled "Education for the Age of Science." It was made public with an approving statement by Eisenhower.

The specific recommendations ranged from one urging do-it-yourself science experiments in the home by students after school hours to a suggestion for caravans of science—that is, mobile museums transported by trailer trucks to bring the story of science to the hinterlands.

In advocating new stress on science, the committee said: "We emphasize that we are not urging that other fields of intellectual importance be reduced or diminished, but only that a proper balance be maintained in our educational offerings. We fear that in the past there has been inadequate emphasis on mathematics and science."

Eisenhower's statement said: "This report makes clear that the strengthening of science and engineering education requires the strengthening of all education. As an excellent statement of educational goals and needs, I hope it will be widely read and that it will stimulate a wider understanding of the importance of excel-

Fire At Refinery Seen Four Miles

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — A huge gasoline fire erupted with a shattering report Saturday, sending flames hundreds of feet into the air at the American Oil Co., refinery.

One man was injured.

The fire — visible four miles away — raged out of control for 45 minutes, forcing back police and medical personnel waiting to search for possible casualties.

Cloudbursts Set Off Flash Floods In Texas Cities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cloudbursts swamped the Texas coastal area Saturday.

The downpours set off flash floods in Houston and other areas.

Rain of more than three inches turned some Houston streets into small rivers. Stranded motorists were evacuated by rowboats.

The heaviest fall reported was 6.12 inches in Woodsboro in Refugio County. Streets there were inundated but damage was slight.

Rains ranging from 5 to 5.35 inches were reported in Bonneyview and Bayside areas north of Corpus Christi.

The shower and thunderstorm pattern extended from the Texas Gulf Coast eastward to the middle and south Atlantic states.

Patches of rain appeared on the weather map from Wisconsin eastward into Pennsylvania and New York State.

Thunderstorms also were reported along the Rockies from Montana southward into New Mexico.

Snow accompanied a shower in Elko, Nev.

FIVE DIE IN CRASH

Tragedy Ends Trip In Grad's Gift Car

MONMOUTH, Ill. (AP) — Five teenagers whizzed south in a car one had received as a high school graduation gift.

A workman, back on the job after a winter layoff, and his family drove north on the same road.

They collided head-on a few minutes after midnight Saturday in a crash that killed five and injured six others.

Killed were Larry Dean Earp, 18, of Little York; Charles Lee, 18, Monmouth, and Mrs. Mandy Logsdon, 35, and two of her children, Duard W., 8, and Robin, 8 months.

In critical condition in Monmouth hospital is Jerry Perrin, 19, of Little York. Also injured and in the hospital are Duard Logsdon Sr., 57; his son, Stanley, 11; Bernard Brown, 16, son of Mrs. Logsdon by a previous marriage and Dean Talbott, 18, and Billy Tempero, 15, both of Little York.

Earp was a distant cousin of Wyatt Earp, who left Illinois in the 19th century to win abiding fame as a fast-drawing marshal in the west.

Young Earp and Lee were graduated by Little York High School Friday night. They were joined by three others, young Perrin, Talbott and Tempero.

Earp had been given a car as a graduation gift. It carried him on his last ride.

Mrs. Logsdon loaded her four children into the family car and drove into Monmouth to pick up Logsdon at the end of his night trick at the Western Stoneware Co. He had returned to the job a week ago after having been laid off last winter.

Slawson said a 16-foot section of the tank smashed into a ditch near his home three miles east of here and rebounded some 20 feet into the air. Another 6 foot section was found in nearby woods.

The pilot, Lt. John McKay of Jackson, said the tank became detached by accident while he was flying at 12,500 feet.

Three Hurt As Rocket Explodes

Ft. SILL, Okla. (AP)—Two soldiers and a Lawton, Okla., high school boy were injured Saturday afternoon when a homemade rocket exploded on a launching pad at the Army artillery and missile center here.

The two-stage rocket exploded as the three were preparing to launch it. About 60 persons were watching from nearby bunkers on Ft. Sill's east range.

The injured were John Mehew, 17, Lawton; Capt. Richard S. Miller, launching officer, and PFC. G. Nelson.

Officials at the base hospital said they were treated for burns about the face and hands, and undetermined injuries to their eyes.

Capt. Wallace Hitchcock, public information officer, said safety checks had been made on the rocket. He quoted officers as saying they could not understand what went wrong.

SEEK YOUNG RECRUITS

FBI Chief Warns U.S. Reds Active

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said Saturday that American Communists, under more pro-Soviet leadership than ever, are emerging from underground with a renewed drive to recruit young people and workers invital industries.

He said the reds are "still retaining an underground organization" but they also "are now coming out more openly, trying to infiltrate into labor organizations and other areas where their influence can be felt."

He said this included a membership drive aimed partly at forming a new youth group and infiltrating basic industries like steel, shipping, automobiles and transportation."

"The Communist aim is, of course, to eat into our econmic life and our freedom," the FBI chief said in an interview with Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.)

Hoover said the renewed Red drive for members followed a sharp fall-off "due to the fact that they screened out those about whom they had any doubts as to their fanaticism and dedication to communism."

He said the domestic Communist threat is "the most critical problem we have to face up to in our internal security" because Communist leaders in this country "are more pro - Soviet than they've ever been."

Hoover said that "a definite tie-in to the international conspiracy" was reflected in reports to the national Communist Party by three high officials who recently returned from the 21st Congress of the party in Moscow.

Hoover said the Communist Party in this country "is an arm of the international conspiracy against freedom and God."

House Fight Due On Teachers Pay

Sunday, opening the third week of the 30-day fiscal session. The Senate, with little to do until the House begins pushing through its money bills, will be back at 7 p.m. Monday.

Rep. Sidney Sylvester of St. Landry Parish. acting for the Louisiana Teacher Assn., said his supporters are "seriously considering" an attempt to amend the general appropriations bill when it comes up for a floor vote Monday.

The LTA is carrying on its unending struggle for full implementation of the 1956 pay raise voted by the Legislature but only halfway paid.

Here is where possible conflict with the governor and his administration would develop, if the teacher legislators make their bid in the general appropriations bill. Long has put 4½-million of his 9½-million teacher pay hike in the big money measure, which wraps in most state operating expenses.

The House Appropriations Committee will send the big money bill to the House in a last-minute meeting Sunday just before the House convenes. The bill is expected to be called for a floor vote Monday.

Long has another omnibus money bill, still in the committee, setting up a series of capital outlay projects totaling 34 million and containing another five million for teachers pay, making a total of 9½ million. He is running for governor and wants to spread the money around.

But the Legislature, also facing an election in the fall, is well aware the teachers haven't been given their full pay raise as the Legislature voted in 1956.

When these two general political developments rub against each other, sparks will fly. But the governor usually holds a floor majority.

Long's pay raise would give teachers 75 per cent of their 1956 pay increase.

Sylvester and far more than a House majority, including Long's floor leaders, have introduced a separate bill for the 21-million teachers seek for full implementation. But Long threatens to veto any sum larger than the 9½ million he favors. Even if the LTA's 21-million bill passes the Legislature, as it might, a veto apparently lies ahead.

So the teacher leaders seek the safety of the general appropriations bill.

Should Long try to revive his vote registration ideas, Sen. Rainach, the state segregation leader who may run for governor said, "Every time he gets out of line we'll let him have it full blast."

Administration leaders confirmed what Long already has revealed in part—that Long will try to amend House bill 228 in order to stuff it with his Senate-rejected legislation.

The administration is ready, if Long nods, to pounce on House Bill 228 and attempt to floor amend it for Long's purpose. The bill as it now stands is a simple measure authorizing appointment of deputy vote registrars.

The bill is 15th in line for final House passage.

It is an administration measure with a fiscal label, making it eligible as it now stands for consideration in the 30-day fiscal session.

The governor's proposals are to keep registered voters from being challenged by white citizen councils because of minor registration errors and to block challenging of voters registered for a year or more.

Long plainly is bidding for Negro vote support and says so. Rainach's citizens councils, which he formerly headed. have been purging Negro voters they claim to be improperly registered.

If Long's leaders call up House bill 228 Sunday night, and attempt to amend it the way Long wants, Rep. John Garrett of Claiborne Parish, Rainach's House colleague, is ready and waiting.

Dr. Jaworski is originally from Western Ukrainia, where he received his primary and secondary education, and graduated from the Veterinary Academy in Lwiw Lemberg.

He spent several years in concentration camps as a prisoner of both the Soviets and the Germans, before the country was liberated by the United States. He later applied for permanent entry into the U. S. and arrived here in 1949.

Since that time, he has practiced veterinary medicine in Louisiana and became a citizen of this country in 1955.

The Berlin Communist organ Neues Deutschland said the German Communists would oppose secret sessions at Geneva from which their representatives were excluded.

Disclosure that Eisenhower will decide for the West whether there is to be a summit meeting followed Herter's warning to Russia last week that the West will not go to the summit if the Kremlin renews its threats of a new Berlin ultimatum.

Western officials, consequently, were disturbed that Premier Nikita Khrushchev Thursday unleashed just such a threat again.

He warned West German Ambassador to Moscow Hans Kroll that if the Geneva talks broke down, Russia would at once conclude a separate peace treaty with East Germany. He asserted this would deprive the West of any further rights in Berlin.

Two of Mrs. Cureington's three children were in the auto. Her four-year-old son, James Edward, was treated at a Winnsboro clinic and released, but her daughter, Charlotte Ann, three, was hospitalized with a broken right leg and other injuries.

Her third child, Peggy Faye, four-months -old, was at the home of the child's grandmother, Mrs. Ray Cureington.

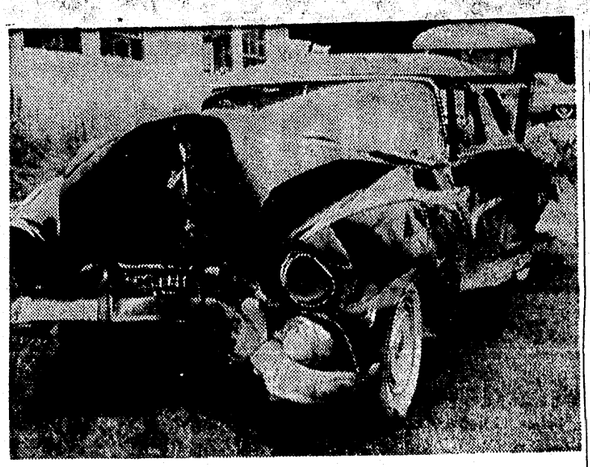

Investigating officers said Henry Hawthorne, driving a pickup truck, entered the highway west of Chase from a private road, and rammed the side of Mrs. Cureington's car.

The force of impact sent the car 70 feet headon into a tree.

Hawthorne was taken to the Winnsboro clinic, treated for minor injuries and released. He later was charged with negligent homicide and posted $1,000 bond.

In addition to her children, Mrs. Cureington is survived by her husband, Jimmy Ray Cureington.

planned to talk with Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker.

At issue is not only a public attack on a congressional committee on which the defense department must rely heavily but the department's control over a subordinate department — the Army — and the handling of a public pronouncement.

The Army acted in an apparently desperate move to save its Nike - Hercules program after the armed services committee on May 14 proposed that $17,322,000 be cut from an Army request for $22,413,000 for missile sites. The committee also proposed repeal of previous authority for the Army to put 50 Hercules batteries around 25 Strategic Air Command bases in the United States and eight in Hawaii.

The Nike-Hercules has a range of 75 to 100 miles and an atomic warhead. The Air Force's Bomarc has a range of 200 to 400 miles, depending on the model, and is scheduled to go into service late this year. The Bomarc also has an atomic warhead.

The Defense Department said in a separate statement Saturday that the nation's defense require both the Hercules and the Bomarc.

"The master plan for numbers and location for both systems is being reviewed in an expedited manner," it said. It added that the plan "will be submitted to Congress by the secretary of defense as promptly as possible."

Franklin Parish Coroner Dr. Brashear Earle pronounced Mrs. Cureington dead at the scene of the tragedy.

Her sister - in - law, Miss Pearle Jean Cureington, a passenger suffered a fractured left leg and undetermined head injuries.

Two of Mrs. Cureington's three children were in the auto. Her four-year-old son, James Edward, was treated at a Winnsboro clinic and released, but her daughter, Charlotte Ann, three, was hospitalized with a broken right leg and other injuries.

WITH GRANDMOTHER

Her third child, Peggy Faye, four-months -old, was at the home of the child's grandmother, Mrs. Ray Cureington.

Investigating officers said Henry Hawthorne, driving a pickup truck, entered the highway west of Chase from a private road, and rammed the side of Mrs. Cureington's car.

The force of impact sent the car 70 feet headon into a tree.

Hawthorne was taken to the Winnsboro clinic, treated for minor injuries and released. He later was charged with negligent homicide and posted $1,000 bond.

In addition to her children, Mrs. Cureington is survived by her husband, Jimmy Ray Cureington.

Funeral arrangements last night were incomplete, but will be under the direction of Mulhearn's Funeral Home of Winnsboro.

Army Attack On Senators Under Probe

planned to talk with Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker.

At issue is not only a public attack on a congressional committee on which the defense department must rely heavily but the department's control over a subordinate department — the Army — and the handling of a public pronouncement.

The Army acted in an apparently desperate move to save its Nike - Hercules program after the armed services committee on May 14 proposed that $17,322,000 be cut from an Army request for $22,413,000 for missile sites. The committee also proposed repeal of previous authority for the Army to put 50 Hercules batteries around 25 Strategic Air Command bases in the United States and eight in Hawaii.

The Nike-Hercules has a range of 75 to 100 miles and an atomic warhead. The Air Force's Bomarc has a range of 200 to 400 miles, depending on the model, and is scheduled to go into service late this year. The Bomarc also has an atomic warhead.

The Defense Department said in a separate statement Saturday that the nation's defense require both the Hercules and the Bomarc.

"The master plan for numbers and location for both systems is being reviewed in an expedited manner," it said. It added that the plan "will be submitted to Congress by the secretary of defense as promptly as possible."

Logsdon, in the hospital, said bright lights on a car behind him had confused his judgment of the distance of Earp's approaching automobile.

HEATED DREAM

GEARY, Okla. (AP)—An early morning dash was made by firemen to a Geary house. A woman told Chief Lloyd McNeely a neighbor boy ran into her house shouting "fire, fire." Turned out 13-year-old Clarence Pickett was sleep walking.

Rising Farm Pay Increases Cost Of Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rising farm wage rates are leading a general advance this year in the cost of producing agricultural products.

An Agriculture Department report of farm costs said farm wage scales are running 9 per cent above a year ago. Taxes follow with an 8 per cent rise. Farm machinery prices are up 5 per cent; livestock 5 per cent; motor vehicles 3; livestock feed 2; motor supplies and building and fencing materials one each.

Only in the case of fertilizers and seeds are prices down, the amounts being 2 and 7 per cent, respectively.

Taken altogether, these price changes will put farm production costs at a new record high. In contrast, prices farmers are receiving are running about 5 per cent below a year ago and nearly 25 per cent below the record high.

Prices paid for nonfarm goods and services used in farm production have reached new peaks each year since 1955.

Increasing agricultural efficiency — reflecting effects of technology — have helped to offset the rising prices paid by farmers, the department said. Production costs per unit of farm product generally have leveled off since about 1951, the agency said.

Reservations Still Open For 'Y' Day Camp

Dr. Doyle Hamilton, chairman of the Twin Cities' YMCA Day Camp committee, has announced that a limited number of reservations are still available for the YMCA-YWCA summer Day Camp.

The first period of camp begins June 15.

Hamilton reported that over 600 boys and girls from throughout Ouachita Parish are expected to enroll this year, setting an all-time high record for enrollment in the program.

"All indications point to the Day Camp having its most successful season," he commented.

Reservations are also available on a limited basis for the second period of the camp, June 29-10; the third period, July 1 and the fourth period, July August 7.

Hamilton urged, however, any parent interested in sen his children to camp contact YMCA immediately for rese tions.

ON TOUR OF CAPITAL

Congressmen Fail To Impress Seniors

WASHINGTON (AP) — At 7:25 on a recent spring morning, while senators with early committee meetings groped for their first coffee, 73 young but critical citizens of the United States of America arrived by train in their national capital.

They were all high school seniors from Deer Park, Ohio.

In Deer Park, as in many other places around the country, the trip to Washington is the reward for reaching and surviving that dazzling peak of omniscience called the senior class. And for $83.55 each, minus $4.05 contributed by the class fund, these junketeers from a suburb of Cincinnati would get not only one night and two days in Washington, D.C., but two nights and two days in New York, N.Y.

What do such kids see of their capital? How do they react to the heart and majesty of government? well, let's follow the Deer Park bunch for two days.

Their two sight-seeing buses made the first stop outside the Bureau of Engraving.

Clark Ballard, Jr., class president and impending valedictorian, took notes because, he said, his dad was "sure to ask questions."

The buses rolled on. The ladies and gentlemen of Deer Park High now were ready for the White House.

They entered through the basement of the east office building. Upstairs, in the East Room, the questions began to come. "Do the President and his wife really use these rooms?" They do, said a guard, on state occasions.

"Is that the picture of George Washington that Dolly Madison saved?" It was.

The girls couldn't resist touching the silk damask walls. "That's real material," one said, "not wall paper."

Outside again, the kids backed off, shooting pictures. Had they really been impressed by the home of Presidents? "High school seniors," said Miss Helen Williams, their assistant principal, "never appear impressed by anything. But they are. They'll be talking about it for years."

The tour rolled on.

Washington Monument...many waited for the elevator but the bravest of the brave walked up. all 555 feet.

FBI Building came after lunch. The seniors were fascinated by FBI exhibits, by John Dillinger's death mask and personal arsenal, Brinks robbery setup and the FBI agent who didn't miss on the firing range.

Jefferson Memorial, after dinner: In soft twilight, with the monument reflected in the tidal basin, they flowed up the steps and into the memorial, bubbled, gaped, shot off their flash bulbs and flowed out.

The National Archives Building: They paused before the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence under glass. They were impressed that these crown jewels of democracy could be lowered into the floor in the event of an air raid.

By 10:30, most were back in the hotel. Promptly at 11, they were sent to their segregated rooms.

At 11:03, the last four holdouts, boys, showed up with pizza pies to see them through the night. All hands were now accounted for.

Lincoln Memorial, second day: "In this temple as in the hearts of the people for whom he saved the Union, the memory of Abraham Lincoln is enshrined forever." They looked up, they read quietly, they took their pictures.

Arlington Cemetery, the three Unknown Soldiers tombs: At close range, they studied the immobile face of the guard. They tried to make him smile. He didn't.

Mount Vernon: The kids filed slowly through the old mansion, asking about the kitchen and bathrooms. They were outside.

Back in Washington for lunch, for popsicles outside the Smithsonian Institution and a tantalizing short tour of the inside, for a brief tour of the stately Supreme Court and finally the Capitol.

They filed quietly into the House gallery and noticed only about 50 representatives present.

In the Senate, they saw only four senators, quite relaxed, and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) making a long determined speech. Something about a "food for peace program."

What had they liked best about Washington? What had they liked least? Did they think more of their government now?

They thought the memorials beautiful. The Washington Monument thrilling, the FBI and the Smithsonian fascinating. But what of their government?

"I don't think most kids got a good impression from what we saw in Congress," said the editor of the Deer Park "Tom-Tom," pretty Sue Boney. "Nothing was happening there. Where were all the congressmen?"

"Looked to me," said Jack Ward, football end, "like old (House Speaker) Sam Rayburn was just sitting there getting money for nothing."

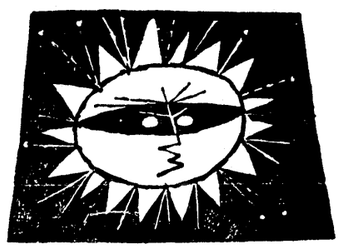

Having disposed of the government of the United States, the touring seniors from Deer Park, Ohio, started singing.

OFF-BROADWAY AWARDS

NEW YORK (AP) — The top annual citations for off-Broadway theatrical achievement, The Vernon Rice Awards, have been given to Hal Holbrook and Jane McArthur. The prizes are given by the New York Drama Desk, organization of writers and reviewers.

Holbrook is star of the one-man show "Mark Twain Tonight!" and Miss McArthur is in the revival of "Our Town."

The award for the best directing went to William Ball for "Ivanov." "Fashion" was cited as the best overall production.

Joint Chiefs Considering Air Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense authorities said Saturday that the Joint Chiefs of Staff are still considering a proposal made a month ago by the Air Force for a new all-service strategic command.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy disclosed in April that the plan was then under consideration by the Joint Chiefs, but authorities indicated Saturday that nothing new had developed.

The command would control all big nuclear retaliatory weapons, including the Navy's forthcoming missile-hurling submarines.

The Strategic Air Command with headquarters at Omaha, at present controls the long-range nuclear bombers and the 6,000 mile intercontinental ballistic missiles, such as the Atlas, Titan and Minuteman. But the Army and Navy have missiles in being or projected which operate separately.

The Air Force proposal is believed to involve a new single command which would control strategic weapons and coordinate all targeting of strategic enemy centers. The basic contention of the Air Force is believed to be that modern warfare techniques require such speedy retaliation with big nuclear weapons that this coordination is advisable.

Asked about the Air Force proposal, the Defense Department said that "no major changes in command structure are conteomplated for the immediate future." The spokesman refused to discuss the proposal further on security grounds."

Actress Learns She's Pregnant After Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Joan Caulfield, granted a divorce a little more than a month ago when she testified her husband didn't want any children, disclosed Saturday that she since has learned she is pregnant.

Miss Caulfield, 34, said a doctor told her she would have the baby in September. She and her husband, producer Frank Ross, were divorced April 15.

They were married in 1950 and had no children.

"I hadn't been feeling well," Miss Caulfield said, "so I went to see my doctor. He gave me the news.

"I've lost four babies during my marriage, so I never thought it could be this."

Miss Caulfield, whose marriage to Ross was her first, said she did not know if they would reconcile before their divorce becomes final next April.

"He was very happy to hear the news," she said. "But he and I don't see eye to eye on lots of things. We have a while to make up our minds."

Ross, 54, did not contest the divorce in which Miss Caulfield won $847 a month support for 10 years.

Ben Grayson Insurance Post Candidate

BEN H. GRAYSON

Ben H. Grayson, a former resident of Monroe, announced here yesterday that he will be a candidate for insurance commissioner in the December primary.

His full statement follows:

"After long and careful consideration and upon the advice of many friends from all parts of Louisiana I have decided to enter the race for Insurance Commissioner. I am making this announcement from Monroe rather than from Baton Rouge because Monroe is where I was born, raised and attended school. I have many friends and relatives living in and near Monroe.

"My wife, the former Katherine Knight, has many relatives and friends in this area. We both look upon Monroe as our home and Baton Rouge, our present city of residence, as our adopted home.

"The constitution of the State of Louisiana says the business of insurance shall be regulated in the public interest. I believe that I have the experience and knowledge to do just that. In the past twenty years I have handled insurance problems of every type that comes under the supervision of the Commissioner of Insurance.

"During the next seven months I intend to visit every parish and community in Louisiana and personally ask the voters of this state for their support and assistance."

WOMAN SOLDIER

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — In West Brookfield Cemetery near where is stone with this inscription: "Mary Owens Jenkins — Served in the Civil War 1861 - 1865 in Co. K, 9th Penn. Vol. Cav. under the name of John Evans."

According to the story, Mary Owens — rather than be parted from the man she loved — dressed as a man, assumed the name, John Evans and enlisted in the Union Army. She was discovered 18 months later following the battle ofGettysburg, in which her sweetheart was killed and she wounded.

She returned to her home near Youngstown, Ohio, the story goes, and later married Abie Jenkins.

Joint Chiefs Considering Air Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense authorities said Saturday that the Joint Chiefs of Staff are still considering a proposal made a month ago by the Air Force for a new all-service strategic command.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy disclosed in April that the plan was then under consideration by the Joint Chiefs, but authorities indicated Saturday that nothing new had developed.

The command would control all big nuclear retaliatory weapons, including the Navy's forthcoming missile-hurling submarines.

The Strategic Air Command with headquarters at Omaha, at present controls the long-range nuclear bombers and the 6,000 mile intercontinental ballistic missiles, such as the Atlas, Titan and Minuteman. But the Army and Navy have missiles in being or projected which operate separately.

The Air Force proposal is believed to involve a new single command which would control strategic weapons and coordinate all targeting of strategic enemy centers. The basic contention of the Air Force is believed to be that modern warfare techniques require such speedy retaliation with big nuclear weapons that this coordination is advisable.

Asked about the Air Force proposal, the Defense Department said that "no major changes in command structure are conteomplated for the immediate future." The spokesman refused to discuss the proposal further on security grounds."

Actress Learns She's Pregnant After Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Joan Caulfield, granted a divorce a little more than a month ago when she testified her husband didn't want any children, disclosed Saturday that she since has learned she is pregnant.

Miss Caulfield, 34, said a doctor told her she would have the baby in September. She and her husband, producer Frank Ross, were divorced April 15.

They were married in 1950 and had no children.

"I hadn't been feeling well," Miss Caulfield said, "so I went to see my doctor. He gave me the news.

"I've lost four babies during my marriage, so I never thought it could be this."

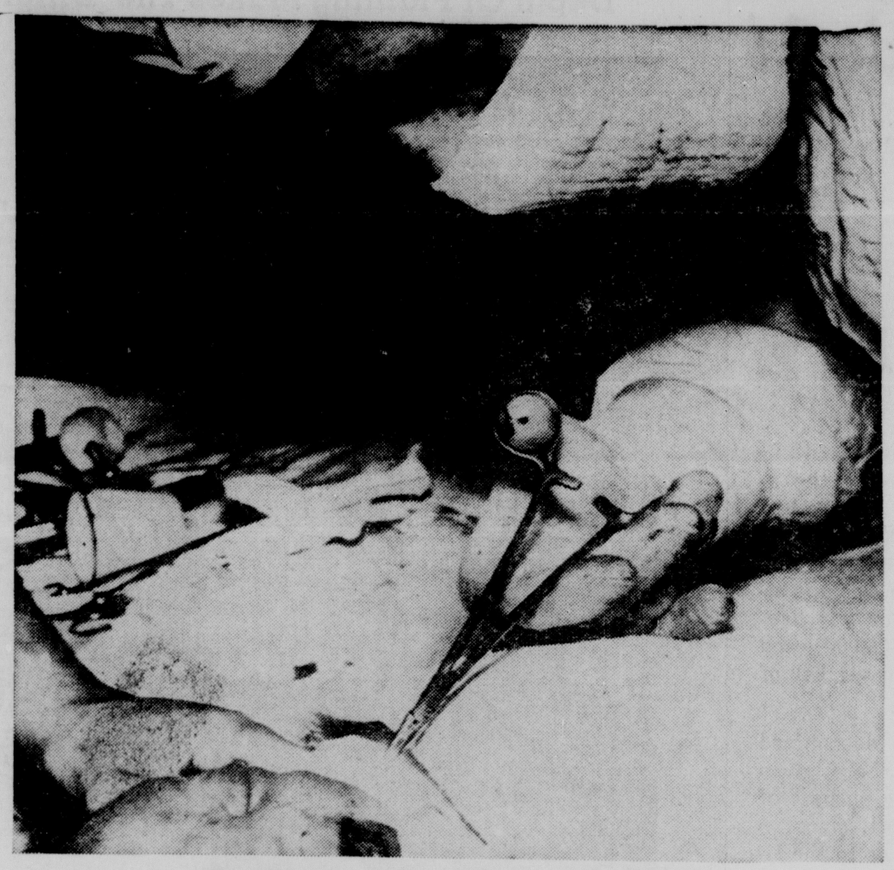

Miss Caulfield, whose marriage to Ross was her first, said she did not know if they would reconcile before their divorce becomes final next April.

"He was very happy to hear the news," she said. "But he and I don't see eye to eye on lots of things. We have a while to make up our minds."

Ross, 54, did not contest the divorce in which Miss Caulfield won $847 a month support for 10 years.

Ben Grayson Insurance Post Candidate

BEN H. GRAYSON

Ben H. Grayson, a former resident of Monroe, announced here yesterday that he will be a candidate for insurance commissioner in the December primary.

His full statement follows:

"After long and careful consideration and upon the advice of many friends from all parts of Louisiana I have decided to enter the race for Insurance Commissioner. I am making this announcement from Monroe rather than from Baton Rouge because Monroe is where I was born, raised and attended school. I have many friends and relatives living in and near Monroe.

"My wife, the former Katherine Knight, has many relatives and friends in this area. We both look upon Monroe as our home and Baton Rouge, our present city of residence, as our adopted home.

"The constitution of the State of Louisiana says the business of insurance shall be regulated in the public interest. I believe that I have the experience and knowledge to do just that. In the past twenty years I have handled insurance problems of every type that comes under the supervision of the Commissioner of Insurance.

"During the next seven months I intend to visit every parish and community in Louisiana and personally ask the voters of this state for their support and assistance."

Political Scholarships

College scholarships which are ridiculously small and which are practically on more than political slush funds for the governor, lieutenant and members of the Louisiana legislature have been rapped recently by the Public Affairs Research Council. The criticism came in connection with bills before the legislature to increase by 31 per cent the legislative scholarship funds.

The private research agency criticized scholarship awards as small as $10 to $25, correctly contending that such awards are too small to be of much value to a student seeking a college education.

As a matter of fact, a $10 scholarship is about like dropping a nickel in a collection plate. For the student in college, it won't go much farther than that. Yet, for this tiny dole, he is expected to be duly appreciative to the governor, the lieutenat governor, the senator or the representative who was kind enough to take this much out of allocated state funds and donate it to him. For throwing in this tidbit, the official thinks the student should be grateful to him and probably even should go so far as to vote for him, if he is old enough, and to induce his family to do the same.

PAR said the bill pending in the legislature for a 31 per cent increase in legislative scholarship funds continues a program which has been subject to criticism for omitting standards of merit and scholarship in making the awards.

Brought down to a practical basis, the scholarships simply enable the officeholders to pick out families likely to do the most for them politically, or those most easily bought by small favors and to bestow these often trifling scholarships on some member of such families. Need of the student and his scholastic accomplishments are undoubtedly of secondary consideration in a large number of instances in making the awards.

The measure would appropriate $778,000 for scholarships, compared to the present appropriation of $592,800 This is one of the ways Louisiana's enormous fiscal budget has been hiked without any appreciable benefit.

The bill would increase the amount allocated each member of the House from $3,600 to $4,800, each senator from $4,800 to $6,000 and would increase the amounts allocated to the governor and lieutenant governor by $5,000 each and the amount to the speaker of the House by $8,400.

As far as can be determined these respective sums are given to the officials for the purpose of buying political support, since no stipulations are made as to the financial need of the student or of scholastic accomplishments.

PAR said legislative funds might be transferred to the colleges and universities which now have no significant scholarships except awards for athletic prowess.

The limit of $300 for each student was declared by PAR to be unrealistic now in the face of rising costs and PAR said it should be relaxed to permit higher awards if requirements of scholarship and need are written into the program.

PAR continued:

"While it can be assumed that merit and need are recognized in a number of cases, it is evident from the records that these criteria are not applied in many cases and perhaps not in a majority of cases."

At best, the law leaves the selection up to the choice of the individual officeholders. This means that those most politically inclined will make the most political use of the plums they have been authorized to offer. This being true, the conscientious official, who atatempted to make the awards purely on a basis and need, would be at a political disadvantage.

As set up and as contemplated in the pending bill, the scholarship appropriation seems to provide a sum for the governor, lieutenant governor and each member of the legislature that can be used simply as a political or slush fund if the official chooses to use it in that way.

Faster Mail Pickup

Fast mail to most people means mail that travels by plane from one post office to another.

Fortunately, right now the post office bureau of operations is thinking of fast mail in other terms. It wants to speed up the delivery of mail that is placed in the corner mail box. The only way this can be done is to get the mail to the post office sooner.

While almost everyone has been looking elsewhere, fast mail has been slowing down in the old foundation of the mail service — the corner mail box.

In some cities the only collection from the corner mail boxes is made when the postman goes by on foot, making house-to-house mail deliveries. In other cities the collection trucks skip some boxes. Many of the boxes do not have cards showing the hours of collection and frequently the cards on other boxes are out of date, showing the time the pickups were made last year or the year before but not the present pickup time.

People who are really in a hurry about their mail don't trust the neighborhood boxes. They take them directly to the post offices or deposit them in the "snout" boxes located on the streets at the post offices. The trouble with the "snout" boxes is that it seems to be impossible to keep people from parking in front of them, with the result that it is usually almost as easy to go inside the post office.

Properly deposited at the post offices and promptly picked up for mail flights, mail really travels fast in some instances and it is possible to get a reply in Monroe from Chicago in four days or, in extreme cases, in three days.

Since mail delivery and pickup in the residential areas has been cut from twice to once a day, the time taken for a letter to reach the post office from the corner mail box is likely to be longer than the flight to Chicago or even New York. Mail can't travel fast before it reaches the post office.

Without waiting for public protest, the post office bureau of operations has decided to do something about the slow corner mail box situation. Each postmaster has been instructed to review mail collections immediately and to "take corrective action at one."

Fast mail can be improved as much by fast pickup as by fast planes.

Of families who still are poor a lot there are — Each has no color TV and air-conditioned car.

A currently popular slang expression is, "Don't get shook." Unfortunately, it was impossible recently for San Franciscoans to follow this advice.

The chances are great that if the Communistic and the free worlds don't scrap their armament, sooner or later they'll scrap each other.

It seems that officialdom of the Teamster's labor union is teeming with unsavory characters, to say the least.

Depth Of Planting Makes The Difference

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAY'S

Educational Advances Of Russia Impressive

The president of Cornell University, Deane W. Malott, spent some time in Soviet Russia last summer as a member of a team of seven university presidents. He was impressed by the educational advances in Soviet Russia. He commented:

"Education is made to serve their purposes well. Those purposes are not our purposes; their objectives are not ours. But if America can support education with the same devotion and strength, if we can muster as strong a focus upon our free way of life as they have in fitting education to the needs of a monolithic state, we shall remain forever ahead of the dubious and capricious aims of the dictators. But no visitor to the Soviet Union returns without grave concern for the lack of support for education in this country, the lack of enthusiasm for intellectual accomplishment, and the lack of appreciation for the position of the teacher in our society."

There is no lack of support for education in this country. Every citizen in every state is taxed for educational purposes. In addition, there are the large number of private nonprofit universities, supported by contributions, as well as student fees; there are tremendous expenditures for parochial schools, high schools and universities of various denominations.

The United States can show the largest number of elementary schools in the world, about 117,000; about 30,000 high schools, with an enrollment of about 40 million students. There are about 1,900 institutions of higher education, that is universities, colleges, and professional schools in this country; the cost of such institutions is about $22,268,000,000 per annum.

These are a few figures picked at random only to establish the fact that our educational plant is enormous; that the cost is high; and that the subject is not neglected. Then we might go back to President Malott's statement about our need to support "education with the same devotion and strength" as Soviet Russia. "The lack of enthusiasm for intellectual accomplishment, and the lack of appreciation for the position of the teacher in our society" really need not concern us so much.

* * *

There is support in this country for education; there is not a very noticeable respect for the educator. It was not always so. An older generation recalls the days of Charles W. Eliot of Harvard, Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia, Woodrow Wilson of Princeton, Arthur Hadley of Yale and even David Starr Jordan of Stanford University and so many others who stood before the American people as leaders. How many university presidents today hold comparable positions in American life?

Perhaps President Malott will reply that the men holding identical offices are as scholarly, as genteel, as significant as the ancients to whom I refer.

It has been usual throughout human history for people to respect the scholar, the intellectual. In countries and periods where literacy has been low, the person who could read was placed on a pedestal. The scholar stood out as a man apart, a man above men.

Is it possible that mass education has something to do with equalizing the scholar in a community that can read? Or is it possible that scholars who are mere administrators, busying themselves with brooms and dust pans, with bricks and mortar are not being taken as moral guides by those who come to their universities?

* * *

Or is it possible that students, male and female, who dress like beatniks, wear soiled shoes, dirty white socks, blue jeans, shirts outside their slacks, and the conglomeration of untidy ugliness which marks the current student —bearded or with straggly hair —represent a weariness with respect and propriety, with appreciation of culture? Is it that the universty degree is no longer a mark of honor but a certificate for a job?

Take commencement day at a modern large university. There is no time or patience for each, of the thousands of students who graduate, to have his or her name called, to walk up for the diploma, a precious document, to be cherished forever. Is this corny stuff! The diplomas are mailed or are distributed after commencement in the university gym!

Or even more important — what is the inspiration of the university? Does one find himself coming out of it with a sense of moral grandeur, with overwhelming loyalty to his country, its institution or its history? Corny stuff! Everything is corny stuff! Everything is debunked until the student himself is just a lot of corny stuff, looking for a job with plenty of security.

Of that no dreams are made, no castles built!

Elks May Build Hospital, Home For Handicapped

MONTGOMERY (UPI) — Alabama Elks may soon begin construction in Montgomery of a hospital and custodial home for handicapped children, it was announced Saturday.

* * *

The project was proposed by a nine-man commission and now awaits ratification by the 24 lodges of the Alabama Elks Assn.

Elks State President Abe Pisiztz of Huntsville said the proposed hospital would cost approximately $30,000. Patient cost was expected to run about $30,000 annually.

The project, result of more than two decades of searching for a worthwhile Elks endeavor, would serve charity cases only. Crippled children, cerebral palsy cases, mentally retarded, spastics and many other types of handicaps would be treated at the facility.

* * *

Plans were to construct a 26-bed hospital wing as an addition to Pineview Manor, a private hospital and custodial home for handicapped children. The new wing, to be known as the Elks Hospital for Handicapped Children, would be financed by Elks of Alabama.

Each lodge in the state would be allocated a bed from the 26 in the hospital with two extra units reserved for emergency or surplus cases. The lodges would pay a per capita share of the cost of maintenance and operation.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Lewis, At 79, Is Still Battling

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, who will be 80 years old come Feb. 12 next year has made it clear there is no real chance of a split among the nation's top labor leaders. Lewis, a conservative who supported Wendell Willkie in 1940 when other leaders backed Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third term, and who is reported to have voiced for Eisenhower against Stevenson, hasn't hesitated to approve James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamster's union, whose grab for union power parallels that by Lewis in the early days of CIO.

Hoffa's union has been accused, with much supporting evidence, of corruption and mishandling of union funds in testimony before the McClellan labor reckets committee. Lewis' union has never been under similar charges, but he nevertheless calls Hoffa "the Whipping boy" for the committee and denounces any attempt to pass legislation curbing the abuses of labor leaders against the union rank and file, just as he fought the Taft-Hartley act in 1938.

* * *

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, with its 13½ million members has lashed out at Hoffa on a number of occasions, and is less sympathetic than Lewis toward labor's new Napoleon. But union observers wonder whether even Meany could resist Hoffa if he demanded a nation wide strike against the proposal of Senator John L. McClellan (Dem.-Ark.) for antitrust sanctions to be applied against unions.

Lewis' charge that Hoffa is being persecuted recalled that he himself had called coal miners on strike in the middle of a war, that he had defied the federal courts, and that both he and his union had been heavily fined.

Lewis' and Hoffa are more emphatic in their opposition to the Kennedy labor bill than other labor leaders, but that cannot be taken to mean that there would not be a solid alignment among union leaders against any vigorous attempt for federal supervision of union bosses and their actions.

The aging dean of organized labor speaks for all of them when he expresses conviction that any legislation regulating labor is wrong, and that unions must be left free to correct their own excesses. This attitude now carries real menace, in view of Hoffa's intent to unite all transportation unions, with the scarcely veiled threat of a nationwide strike to enforce his demands.

A number of the country's more impartial economists are convinced the unions already have too much power, which they frequently use against the best interests of our economy, and that the only remedy is federal legislation.

They, with many others, are concerned about the unions' political strength, and the increasing effort of organized labor to control the Democratic party. And they are equally disturbed by the bland assumption of most labor unions that wages can be pushed up and up, without forcing inflation to a point which will cause serious damage to the nation's economy.

While organized labor leaders as a group may agree with Lewis who heads the largest labor group outside of AFL-CIO with the exception of Hoffa's Teamsters, they see danger ahead. That is why some of them, despite the opposition to it of Lewis and Hoffa, are thinking that passage of a mild labor code-of-ethics bill such as is now before Congress would lessen resentment against abuses of organized labor.

They realize that the 1958 election did not put labor in the saddle in Congress. The more far sighted leaders, while pressing hard to improve labor's political organization for 1960, are convinced that public resentment against efforts to drive wages higher, and against Hoffa's desire to impose what amounts to a labor dictatorship could cause both national and congressional candidates for office next year to take a middle of the road course which would result in less influence in Congress than they now possess.

Just as the election of candidates supposedly favorable to labor in the 1958 election has filed to give them the power to control Congress, which in turn has stalled bills they advocate—an increased minimum wage, aid to education and help for distressed areas—it could be that an aroused electorate will deal them a real setback.

Election records prove that when the national vote is small, political labor organization has had much more to boast of in results than in the presidential years, when a larger proportion of eligible voters to the polls. Since only one fourth of those eligibles represent organized labor and their families, many leading Democrats are not convinced that the labor endorsement is desireable for their party and its candi-

CHARLES O. GRIDLEY

Democrats Hurt By Disharmony

Divisions in the Democratic party are beginning to be almost as numberous as cracks in an ancient belfry, from which paens of victory are supposed to ring forth next year.

In fact some party strategists are wishing that the Democrats had only one conspicuous candidate for the presidency, or two at most, like the Republicans, instead of five or six or maybe more. They are still confident that 1960 will be a Democratic presidential year, but a band in which the lead instruments are all on different key can create ruinous disharmony.

As of now the prospect is that the big division at the Los Angeles convention will be over civil rights and that it will divide the North and South. That is still the biggest crack in the belfry, and its seriousness has not diminished. But there will be other splits within the party, and they could give the Republicans the opportunity for a unified counterattack on a confused Democaracy.

None of the well publicized Democratic presidential possibilities has any program to curb inflation, which is one issue that a majority of voters seem wrought up about. While the Eisenhower administration has not been able to check it fully, both the President ant the Vice President, who is expected to step into party leadership next year, have at least fought against the new spending programs sponsored by a Democratic congress and have warned the country against the further cheapening of the American dollar.

* * *

No precendent in modern history exists for a situation in which four of the five most mentioned possibilities for the Democratic nomination are members of the U. S. Senate, ostensibly marching along together, but each concentrating on a different major issue as that on which he will make his drive for the Democratic nomination by attracting a popular following, which none of them had much of to begin with.

It can be said, in retrospect, that the Democrats had but one prominent candidate in 1952 after President Truman announced he would not accept renomination. That was Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, who had only a three month pre-convention build up, was never picked as the probable winner during the campaign and lost to President Eisenhower by 3,000,000 popular votes. All of the five leading Democraitc possibilities in 1960, will have had wide public recognition, but the present outlook is that the leader on early ballots will not have more than 300 delegate votes, with approimately 650 needed to nominate.

Senator Joseph F. Kennedy of Massachusetts is campaigning chiefly on the labor racketeering issue, though he has spoken on a number of general welfare topics; Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri speaks as an expert on national defense, and has thus far not made much of an impression on Democratic politicians here, except as a possible compromise candidate. Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota favors larger federal expenditures for so-called public welfare programs.

That leaves only Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas of the four senators, and around him revolves perhaps the most astute political strategy of the campaign. He is the least outspoken about his availability, since he has been held closest to the Senate floor in his role of majority leader, but he is the target of Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler, who actually fears Johnson, say reliable reports, as the candidate most likely to move ahead after the first ballot for the nomination.

* * *

Butler manoeuvered the selectionof Los Angeles as the convention city because he visualized it as the ideal arena for a battle to make civil rights the big issue before the Democratic conclave. Butler's friends say that he is sincere in defying five Southern states to pull out of the convention, if they refuse to accept the civil rights plank as adopted, and in his belief that the Democratic nominee, whoever he may be, can win without the Southern states. And it is still believed his choice is Adlai Stevenson.

Whether the delegates or the voters, who so far have not shown much favorable response to Johnson in polls, will accept the suggestion that his ability to run the Senate is an indication he could run the government as well during a critical four years, is undetermined.

Political Scholarships

College scholarships which are ridiculously small and which are practically on more than political slush funds for the governor, lieutenant and members of the Louisiana legislature have been rapped recently by the Public Affairs Research Council. The criticism came in connection with bills before the legislature to increase by 31 per cent the legislative scholarship funds.

The private research agency criticized scholarship awards as small as $10 to $25, correctly contending that such awards are too small to be of much value to a student seeking a college education.

As a matter of fact, a $10 scholarship is about like dropping a nickel in a collection plate. For the student in college, it won't go much farther than that. Yet, for this tiny dole, he is expected to be duly appreciative to the governor, the lieutenat governor, the senator or the representative who was kind enough to take this much out of allocated state funds and donate it to him. For throwing in this tidbit, the official thinks the student should be grateful to him and probably even should go so far as to vote for him, if he is old enough, and to induce his family to do the same.

PAR said the bill pending in the legislature for a 31 per cent increase in legislative scholarship funds continues a program which has been subject to criticism for omitting standards of merit and scholarship in making the awards.

Brought down to a practical basis, the scholarships simply enable the officeholders to pick out families likely to do the most for them politically, or those most easily bought by small favors and to bestow these often trifling scholarships on some member of such families. Need of the student and his scholastic accomplishments are undoubtedly of secondary consideration in a large number of instances in making the awards.

The measure would appropriate $778,000 for scholarships, compared to the present appropriation of $592,800 This is one of the ways Louisiana's enormous fiscal budget has been hiked without any appreciable benefit.

The bill would increase the amount allocated each member of the House from $3,600 to $4,800, each senator from $4,800 to $6,000 and would increase the amounts allocated to the governor and lieutenant governor by $5,000 each and the amount to the speaker of the House by $8,400.

As far as can be determined these respective sums are given to the officials for the purpose of buying political support, since no stipulations are made as to the financial need of the student or of scholastic accomplishments.

PAR said legislative funds might be transferred to the colleges and universities which now have no significant scholarships except awards for athletic prowess.

The limit of $300 for each student was declared by PAR to be unrealistic now in the face of rising costs and PAR said it should be relaxed to permit higher awards if requirements of scholarship and need are written into the program.

PAR continued:

"While it can be assumed that merit and need are recognized in a number of cases, it is evident from the records that these criteria are not applied in many cases and perhaps not in a majority of cases."

At best, the law leaves the selection up to the choice of the individual officeholders. This means that those most politically inclined will make the most political use of the plums they have been authorized to offer. This being true, the conscientious official, who atempted to make the awards purely on a basis and need, would be at a political disadvantage.

As set up and as contemplated in the pending bill, the scholarship appropriation seems to provide a sum for the governor, lieutenant governor and each member of the legislature that can be used simply as a political or slush fund if the official chooses to use it in that way.

Faster Mail Pickup

Fast mail to most people means mail that travels by plane from one post office to another.

Fortunately, right now the post office bureau of operations is thinking of fast mail in other terms. It wants to speed up the delivery of mail that is placed in the corner mail box. The only way this can be done is to get the mail to the post office sooner.

While almost everyone has been looking elsewhere, fast mail has been slowing down in the old foundation of the mail service — the corner mail box.

In some cities the only collection from the corner mail boxes is made when the postman goes by on foot, making house-to-house mail deliveries. In other cities the collection trucks skip some boxes. Many of the boxes do not have cards showing the hours of collection and frequently the cards on other boxes are out of date, showing the time the pickups were made last year or the year before but not the present pickup time.

People who are really in a hurry about their mail don't trust the neighborhood boxes. They take them directly to the post offices or deposit them in the "snout" boxes located on the streets at the post offices. The trouble with the "snout" boxes is that it seems to be impossible to keep people from parking in front of them, with the result that it is usually almost as easy to go inside the post office.

Properly deposited at the post offices and promptly picked up for mail flights, mail really travels fast in some instances and it is possible to get a reply in Monroe from Chicago in four days or, in extreme cases, in three days.

Since mail delivery and pickup in the residential areas has been cut from twice to once a day, the time taken for a letter to reach the post office from the corner mail box is likely to be longer than the flight to Chicago or even New York. Mail can't travel fast before it reaches the post office.

Without waiting for public protest, the post office bureau of operations has decided to do something about the slow corner mail box situation. Each postmaster has been instructed to review mail collections immediately and to "take corrective action at one."

Fast mail can be improved as much by fast pickup as by fast planes.

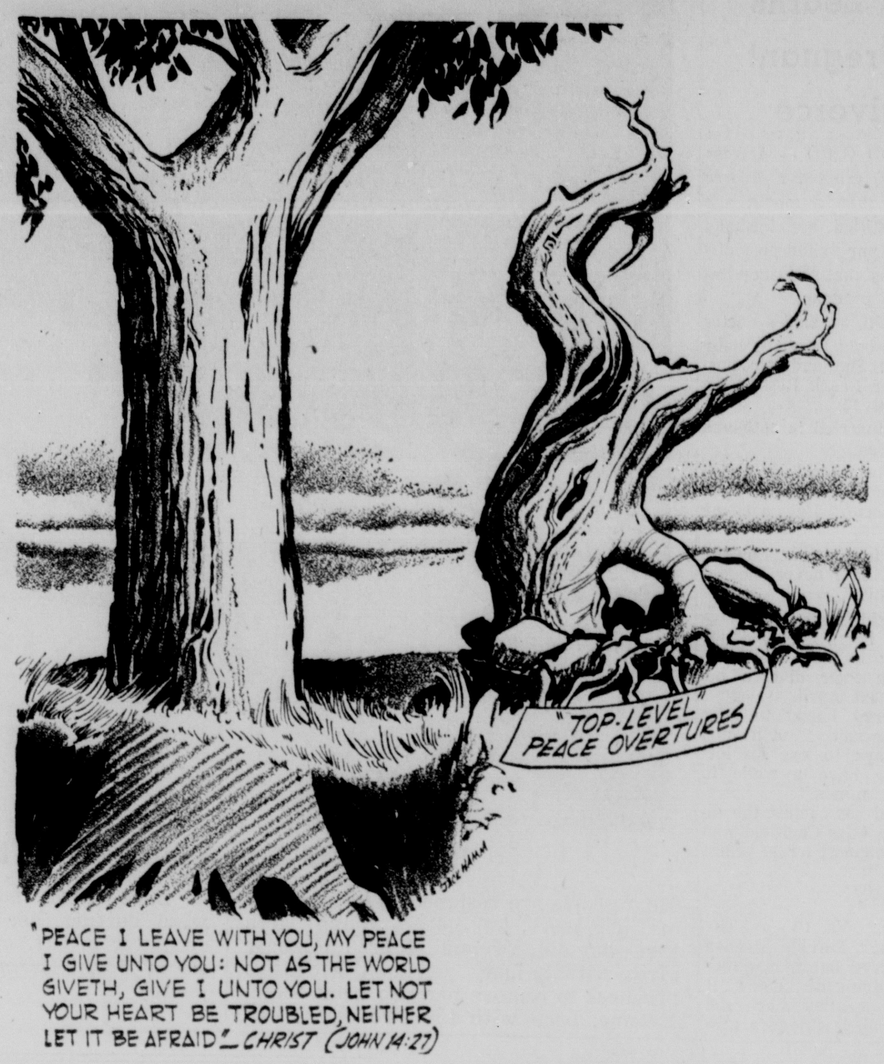

Of families who still are poor a lot there are — Each has no color TV and air-conditioned car.

A currently popular slang expression is, "Don't get shook." Unfortunately, it was impossible recently for San Franciscoans to follow this advice.

The chances are great that if the Communistic and the free worlds don't scrap their armament, sooner or later they'll scrap each other.

It seems that officialdom of the Teamster's labor union is teeming with unsavory characters, to say the least.

Depth Of Planting Makes The Difference

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAY'S

Educational Advances Of Russia Impressive

The president of Cornell University, Deane W. Malott, spent some time in Soviet Russia last summer as a member of a team of seven university presidents. He was impressed by the educational advances in Soviet Russia. He commented:

"Education is made to serve their purposes well. Those purposes are not our purposes; their objectives are not ours. But if America can support education with the same devotion and strength, if we can muster as strong a focus upon our free way of life as they have in fitting education to the needs of a monolithic state, we shall remain forever ahead of the dubious and capricious aims of the dictators. But no visitor to the Soviet Union returns without grave concern for the lack of support for education in this country, the lack of enthusiasm for intellectual accomplishment, and the lack of appreciation for the position of the teacher in our society."

* * *

There is no lack of support for education in this country. Every citizen in every state is taxed for educational purposes. In addition, there are the large number of private nonprofit universities, supported by contributions, as well as student fees; there are tremendous expenditures for parochial schools, high schools and universities of various denominations.

The United States can show the largest number of elementary schools in the world, about 117,000; about 30,000 high schools, with an enrollment of about 40 million students. There are about 1,900 institutions of higher education, that is universities, colleges, and professional schools in this country; the cost of such institutions is about $22,268,000,000 per annum.

These are a few figures picked at random only to establish the fact that our educational plant is enormous; that the cost is high; and that the subject is not neglected. Then we might go back to President Malott's statement about our need to support "education with the same devotion and strength" as Soviet Russia. "The lack of enthusiasm for intellectual accomplishment, and the lack of appreciation for the position of the teacher in our society" really need not concern us so much.

* * *

There is support in this country for education; there is not a very noticeable respect for the educator. It was not always so. An older generation recalls the days of Charles W. Eliot of Harvard, Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia, Woodrow Wilson of Princeton, Arthur Hadley of Yale and even David Starr Jordan of Stanford University and so many others who stood before the American people as leaders. How many university presidents today hold comparable positions in American life?

Perhaps President Malott will reply that the men holding identical offices are as scholarly, as genteel, as significant as the ancients to whom I refer.

It has been usual throughout human history for people to respect the scholar, the intellectual. In countries and periods where literacy has been low, the person who could read was placed on a pedestal. The scholar stood out as a man apart, a man above men.

Is it possible that mass education has something to do with equalizing the scholar in a community that can read? Or is it possible that scholars who are mere administrators, busying themselves with brooms and dust pans, with bricks and mortar are not being taken as moral guides by those who come to their universities?

* * *

Or is it possible that students, male and female, who dress like beatniks, wear soiled shoes, dirty white socks, blue jeans, shirts outside their slacks, and the conglomeration of untidy ugliness which marks the current student —bearded or with straggly hair —represent a weariness with respect and propriety, with appreciation of culture? Is it that the universty degree is no longer a mark of honor but a certificate for a job?

Take commencement day at a modern large university. There is no time or patience for each, of the thousands of students who graduate, to have his or her name called, to walk up for the diploma, a precious document, to be cherished forever. Is this corny stuff! The diplomas are mailed or are distributed after commencement in the university gym!

Or even more important — what is the inspiration of the university? Does one find himself coming out of it with a sense of moral grandeur, with overwhelming loyalty to his country, its institution or its history? Corny stuff! Everything is corny stuff! Everything is debunked until the student himself is just a lot of corny stuff, looking for a job with plenty of security.

Of that no dreams are made, no castles built!

Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota favors larger federal expenditures for so-called public welfare programs.

That leaves only Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas of the four senators, and around him revolves perhaps the most astute political strategy of the campaign. He is the least outspoken about his availability, since he has been held closest to the Senate floor in his role of majority leader, but he is the target of Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler, who actually fears Johnson, say reliable reports, as the candidate most likely to move ahead after the first ballot for the nomination.

* * *

Butler manoeuvered the selectionof Los Angeles as the convention city because he visualized it as the ideal arena for a battle to make civil rights the big issue before the Democratic conclave. Butler's friends say that he is sincere in defying five Southern states to pull out of the convention, if they refuse to accept the civil rights plank as adopted, and in his belief that the Democratic nominee, whoever he may be, can win without the Southern states. And it is still believed his choice is Adlai Stevenson.

Whether the delegates or the voters, who so far have not shown much favorable response to Johnson in polls, will accept the suggestion that his ability to run the Senate is an indication he could run the government as well during a critical four years, is undetermined.

REV. J. T. HARRIS

Rev. Harris To Address NLSC Class

The Rev. James T. Harris, Monroe district superintendent of the Louisiana Methodist Conference, will address the Northeast Louisiana State College graduates at today's baccalaureate service scheduled at 5 p.m. in Brown Auditorium on the college campus.

A total of 192 students are candidates for the bachelor's degree at commencement exercises tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. on the lawn of the president's home.

Harris, a native of Tennessee, has served as superintendent of the Monroe district of Mehtodist churches for the past six years. Prior to accepting his present position, he held a pastorate in New Orleans for over seven years and in Istrouma for about the same length of time.

He has been active in evangelistic endeavors, including serving on two preaching missions to Cuba under auspices of the board of evangelism of the Methodist Church. His work there resulted in the citizens of Monroe erecting a chapel near Pinar Del Rio which they named the James T. Harris Chapel.

TRUSTEE

Harris is a trustee of Centenary College, Shreveport, where he received the bachelor of science, jurisdictional New Orleans that bachelor of arts and doctor of divinity degrees. As post graduate work in preparation for the ministry, he traveled in the Holy Land. He and Mrs. Harris toured eight European countries last year.

His membership in the Louisiana Conference of Methodist Churches has continued since 1926. He attended the World Conference of Methodism at Lake Junaluska, N.C., in 1956, and was a delegate to the South Central same year. He is on the board of directors of the Methodist Home Hospital in New Orleans.

Dr and Mrs. Harris have two daughters living in Shreveport and Delaware, and a son, stationed with the U.S. Army in Korea.

President Of State Baptist To Be Honored

PINEVILLE (Special) — Rev. Paul Roberts, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lake Charles and president of the Louisiana Baptist Convention, and Rev. James F. Cole, editor of The Baptist Message, state denominational weekly, will receive honorary D. D. degress at Louisiana College's 53rd annual convocation.

These final 1959 commencement exercises are set for Tuesday, May 26, at 8:15 p.m. in Pineville's Alumni Stadium.

The citation for the Rev. Mr. Roberts will be read by Dr. E. F. Haight of the L. C. Bible department faculty. That for the Rev. Mr. Cole will be given by Dr. R. H. Whittington, chairman of the school's Bible department.

The Rev. Mr. Roberts, who resigned his Lake Charles pastorate last January to accept a call from the First Baptist Church of Little Rock, Arkansas, has ministered to churches in six states. These include, besides Louisiana, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, Alabama, and Oklahoma.

He was in his eighth year at the Lake Charles First Church at the time of his resignation. During this pastorate, the church grew from 1,620 members to over 3,000. Its budget also increased from $60,022 in 1951 to $324,479 in 1959.

The Lake Charles church also built a magnificent $1,000,000 plant during Robert's ministry. This included a $750,000 auditorium, opened in October, 1957, and reputed to be one of the South's most beautiful.

SERVICE

A graduate of Mars Hill College of North Carolina and of the Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville, he has served as pastor of the following other churches: Whitnel Church of North Carolina, Temple Church of Johnson City, Tenn., Euclid Avenue Church of Bristol, Va., Central Church of Decatur, Ala., and the Northwest Church of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Born on a farm near Alvarado, Va., and the son of a Baptist minister, the Rev. Mr. Roberts chose journalism as his career. He had risen to plant superintendent of the Johnson City (Tenn.) Chronical Press when he felt the call to preach.

Journalism has also played a prominent role in the career of the other 1959 L. C. commencement honoree. The Rev. Mr. Cole assumed the editorship of the Baptist Message, published in Alexandria, upon the retirement of long time editor Finley W. Tinnin on Jan. 1, 1958. (Dr. Tinnin had edited the paper for 28 years.)

The Rev. Mr. Cole came to his present position from DeRidder, where he had pastored the First Baptist Church in that city for four years. In that time, this church showed phenomenal growth under his leadership.

Its rolls increased by 1,000 members, and its budget more than doubled, growing from $69,000 to $150,000.

Prior to accepting the DeRidder call, the editor pastored the First Church of Cooper, Texas, for three years. He has served on several important Southern Baptist Convention and Louisiana Baptist Convention committees, including Order of Business, Executive Board, and Building. The latter pertained to the new $1,300,000 Baptist quarters now under construction in Alexandria.

The Rev. Mr. Cole holds three other degrees; the B.A. from Union University, Jackson, Tenn., the M.S. from Baylor University, Waco, Texas, and the B.D. from Southwestern Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas.

Last year, L. C. bestowed a similar degree upon T. C. Pennell, pastor of the Ingleside Baptist Church of Shreveport and former president of the Louisiana Baptist Convention.

U.S. Postpones Second Try To Launch Satellite

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—The launching of Discoverer III was postponed Saturday for technical reasons.

Launch preparations are expected to be resumed as soon as the readiness of the vehicle permits.

The missile was to have attempted to put four "moon mice" aboard a "life capsule" into orbit. It originally was to have been fired Thursday but was postponed due to poor weather conditions.

The Air Force did not immediately indicate when launch preparations would be resumed.

IN NATIONAL CONTEST

Northeast State's Rifle Team First

The Northeast State Smallbore Rifle Team took first place in the nation during the recent National ROTC Intercollegiate Indoor Smallbore Rifle Match. The ten-man team was in competition with 80 state colleges, universities, and junior colleges throughout the United States.

Faculty advisor and coach of the award winning squad is M-Sgt. B. D. Maroney, who this year is retiring from duty after 30 years of service.

With a top score of 2,879 of a possible 3,000, the local team outdistanced their nearest competitor, Ouachita Baptist College of Arkadelphia, Ark., by a margin of 47 points. Other colleges ranking in top places include Kansas State University, Drexel Institute of Technology of Philadelphia, Oregon State University, University of West Virginia, University of California, and University of Hawaii.

MEMBERS

The ten Northeast ROTC cadets on the team include Durwood Antley, Downsville; Robert Calvert, Rayville; Thomas Corry, Monroe; Henry Donelson, Monroe; John S. Gary, New Iberia; David Kirtley, Monroe; Charles McGough, Sterlington; Loyd G. Sharbono, Rayville; Glendale Sullivan, Winnsboro; and Jack Williams, Waverly.

Highest-scoring man on the team was Sharbono, followed by Donelson in second place, and Antley third.

The firing match used .22 rim fire ammunition, which was fired from three different positions: prone, kneeling, and standing. Ten round were fired from each position for a total of thirty shots in the match for each man.

Each cadet on the team will be awarded a medal, and a large silver trophy will be given to the team as a whole. This trophy is relinquished each year to the new national champs. Last year's top team came from Oklahoma State University, who is sending the trophy to its new owners at Northeast State.

20 Boy Scouts Receive Honors

WINNSBORO, (Special)—Twenty Boy Scouts of Troop 53 were honored at a Court of Honor held in the Winnsboro First Methodist church last week.

The Rev. W. H. Bengtson, troop 53 scout master, conferred the Tenderfoot Rank on scouts Joe Cordill, Buie Mays, Tony Durr, Bill Griffing, Mack Merrill, Bobby Smith, Tab Singer and Ronald Camp.

Second Class degrees were presented to scouts Tab Singer, James Smith, David Byargeon, Julian Kendall, James B. Stevens and Bruce Robinson, by Roy M. Taylor, commissioner of the Midland District.

First Class degrees were conferred on scouts Chester Barney and James Case by J. H. Durr, assistant scout master of troop 53.

Joe Dante, advancement chairman of the Midland District, presented Merit Badges to scouts Jim Merril, C. L. Smith, Joe W. Pankey, Billy Wheelus, Fibian Geisman and Chester Barney.

Soviets Planning Boarding School Building Program

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio said Saturday the Soviet government has authorized the building of boarding schools for 2½ million more pupils by 1965. Fewer than 200,000 Soviet students now are believed to be in such schools.

The broadcast made no mention of the snob appeal boarding schools have in many Western countries. It said they "'have become very popular with the Soviet working people" and proved to be the most successful method of education for building a Communist society.

Top Germans Split Over New Leader

BONN (UPI) — West Germany Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard Saturday were reported at odds over the question of Adenauer's successor when he becomes president of the Federal Republic this fall.

Informed sources said Erhard, who is also vice chancellor, is annoyed at Adenauer's insistence that his successor be Finance Minister Franz Etzel.

The sources said Adenauer believes he will be able to have more influence on government affairs if Etzel is chanellor.

They said that Erhard is seriously considering resigning from the government unless Adenauer changes his mind and gives him the nod.

It is a foregone conclusion that Adenauer, 83, will be elected president in September to succeed incumbent Theodore Heuss.

As outgoing chancellor, Adenauer has the right to name his successor. There were rumors — denied by government circles — that Adenauer is considering withdrawing his nomination as president unless his Christian Democratic Union Party goes along with his selection of Etzel.

The sources said Adenauer and Erhard met Friday to discuss the question if succession and that the conversation was far from cordial.

The central committee of the Christian Democrats in Parliament have scheduled a meeting Monday to discuss the problem also.

Most political observers were surprised by Adenauer's continuing preference for Etzel, who is virtually unknown outside of Germany.

The majority of the Christian Democrats are known to favor Erhard, who played a major role in pulling Germany out of the economic chaos of World War II.

When Erhard was nominated as party candidate for the presidency, with Adenauer backing the decision. a near revolt in the party resulted. The presidency has been a figurehead post although Adenauer had made it clear that he would not sit by idlely.

Erhard refused the nomination with the backing of party members and German businessmen. Adenauer then decided to step up himself.

QUADRUPLE PROFIT

NEW YORK (AP) — One play with four titles has earned Author Arnold Schulman about $300,000 in 10 years, the trade paper Variety estimates.

Schulman originally did a one-act version for a writing course, entitling it "The Dragon's Head." He reworked it into a full-length script, "My Fiddle Has Three Strings," later revised it in "The Hearts of Forgotten Hotel."

Finally he hit the jackpot with a one-hour version for television as "A Hole in the Head." Next came a successful Broadway run, and the film has just been released.

Authorities May Ask Extradition In Kidnap Case

HATTIESBURG. Miss. (UPI)—Authorities Saturday made plans to ask extradition from Florida of a Hattiesburg waitress charged with kidnaping her 10-year-old daughter from a Sunday School classroom here.

Police arrested the woman, Earline Darrell, 38, in Miami when they found her there with her daughter, Barbara Louise Duff. The woman was being held in a Miami jail Saturday.

The girl was taken from a church here last Sunday after being approached by a shabbily-dressed man who told her her mother was waiting outside. Witnesses said the man hustled her into a car and that a woman drove them away.

Dist. Atty. Danny Dabbs said here he filed a charge of kidnaping against the mother and that a similar charge would be filed against the man if he was located.

The girl has been returned here by her father Otis Duff. Duff divorced the girl's mother nine years ago. He was given custody of the child when he remarried. He told officers the mother had followed the family from town to town after that.

Northeast State's Rifle Team First

The Northeast State Smallbore Rifle Team took first place in the nation during the recent National ROTC Intercollegiate Indoor Smallbore Rifle Match. The ten-man team was in competition with 80 state colleges, universities, and junior colleges throughout the United States.

Faculty advisor and coach of the award winning squad is M-Sgt. B. D. Maroney, who this year is retiring from duty after 30 years of service.

With a top score of 2,879 of a possible 3,000, the local team outdistanced their nearest competitor, Ouachita Baptist College of Arkadelphia, Ark., by a margin of 47 points. Other colleges ranking in top places include Kansas State University, Drexel Institute of Technology of Philadelphia, Oregon State University, University of West Virginia, University of California, and University of Hawaii.

MEMBERS

The ten Northeast ROTC cadets on the team include Durwood Antley, Downsville; Robert Calvert, Rayville; Thomas Corry, Monroe; Henry Donelson, Monroe; John S. Gary, New Iberia; David Kirtley, Monroe; Charles McGough, Sterlington; Loyd G. Sharbono, Rayville; Glendale Sullivan, Winnsboro; and Jack Williams, Waverly.

Highest-scoring man on the team was Sharbono, followed by Donelson in second place, and Antley third.

The firing match used .22 rim fire ammunition, which was fired from three different positions: prone, kneeling, and standing. Ten round were fired from each position for a total of thirty shots in the match for each man.

Each cadet on the team will be awarded a medal, and a large silver trophy will be given to the team as a whole. This trophy is relinquished each year to the new national champs. Last year's top team came from Oklahoma State University, who is sending the trophy to its new owners at Northeast State.

20 Boy Scouts Receive Honors

WINNSBORO, (Special)—Twenty Boy Scouts of Troop 53 were honored at a Court of Honor held in the Winnsboro First Methodist church last week.

The Rev. W. H. Bengtson, troop 53 scout master, conferred the Tenderfoot Rank on scouts Joe Cordill, Buie Mays, Tony Durr, Bill Griffing, Mack Merrill, Bobby Smith, Tab Singer and Ronald Camp.

Second Class degrees were presented to scouts Tab Singer, James Smith, David Byargeon, Julian Kendall, James B. Stevens and Bruce Robinson, by Roy M. Taylor, commissioner of the Midland District.

First Class degrees were conferred on scouts Chester Barney and James Case by J. H. Durr, assistant scout master of troop 53.

Joe Dante, advancement chairman of the Midland District, presented Merit Badges to scouts Jim Merril, C. L. Smith, Joe W. Pankey, Billy Wheelus, Fibian Geisman and Chester Barney.

Soviets Planning Boarding School Building Program

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio said Saturday the Soviet government has authorized the building of boarding schools for 2½ million more pupils by 1965. Fewer than 200,000 Soviet students now are believed to be in such schools.

The broadcast made no mention of the snob appeal boarding schools have in many Western countries. It said they "'have become very popular with the Soviet working people" and proved to be the most successful method of education for building a Communist society.

Top Germans Split Over New Leader

BONN (UPI) — West Germany Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard Saturday were reported at odds over the question of Adenauer's successor when he becomes president of the Federal Republic this fall.

Informed sources said Erhard, who is also vice chancellor, is annoyed at Adenauer's insistence that his successor be Finance Minister Franz Etzel.

The sources said Adenauer believes he will be able to have more influence on government affairs if Etzel is chanellor.

They said that Erhard is seriously considering resigning from the government unless Adenauer changes his mind and gives him the nod.

It is a foregone conclusion that Adenauer, 83, will be elected president in September to succeed incumbent Theodore Heuss.

As outgoing chancellor, Adenauer has the right to name his successor. There were rumors — denied by government circles — that Adenauer is considering withdrawing his nomination as president unless his Christian Democratic Union Party goes along with his selection of Etzel.

The sources said Adenauer and Erhard met Friday to discuss the question if succession and that the conversation was far from cordial.

The central committee of the Christian Democrats in Parliament have scheduled a meeting Monday to discuss the problem also.

Most political observers were surprised by Adenauer's continuing preference for Etzel, who is virtually unknown outside of Germany.

The majority of the Christian Democrats are known to favor Erhard, who played a major role in pulling Germany out of the economic chaos of World War II.

When Erhard was nominated as party candidate for the presidency, with Adenauer backing the decision. a near revolt in the party resulted. The presidency has been a figurehead post although Adenauer had made it clear that he would not sit by idlely.

Erhard refused the nomination with the backing of party members and German businessmen. Adenauer then decided to step up himself.

QUADRUPLE PROFIT

NEW YORK (AP) — One play with four titles has earned Author Arnold Schulman about $300,000 in 10 years, the trade paper Variety estimates.

Schulman originally did a one-act version for a writing course, entitling it "The Dragon's Head." He reworked it into a full-length script, "My Fiddle Has Three Strings," later revised it in "The Hearts of Forgotten Hotel."

Finally he hit the jackpot with a one-hour version for television as "A Hole in the Head." Next came a successful Broadway run, and the film has just been released.

Authorities May Ask Extradition In Kidnap Case

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (UPI)—Authorities Saturday made plans to ask extradition from Florida of a Hattiesburg waitress charged with kidnaping her 10-year-old daughter from a Sunday School classroom here.

Police arrested the woman, Earline Darrell, 38, in Miami when they found her there with her daughter, Barbara Louise Duff. The woman was being held in a Miami jail Saturday.

The girl was taken from a church here last Sunday after being approached by a shabbily-dressed man who told her her mother was waiting outside. Witnesses said the man hustled her into a car and that a woman drove them away.

Dist. Atty. Danny Dabbs said here he filed a charge of kidnaping against the mother and that a similar charge would be filed against the man if he was located.

The girl has been returned here by her father Otis Duff. Duff divorced the girl's mother nine years ago. He was given custody of the child when he remarried. He told officers the mother had followed the family from town to town after that.

WATCH CASE

A 35 - year - old Negress, Swettie Mae Blackmon, yesterday was charged with theft of a watch from the room of a Northeast State College coed.

The Negress, of 3215 Church St., employed as a maid at the college, was arrested by Monroe police at 10 a.m. Miss Lois McGough identified a watch in the maid's possession as one which belonged to her.

The maid posted $100 bond and is due in court to answer charges tomorrow.

HIT-RUN CHARGES

Monroe police yesterday charged Willie Carter Jr., 26, Negro of 1109 Pine St., with hit-run driving and reckless following a rear-end collision at the corner of DeSiard and N. 11th streets.

W. A. Fordyce Jr., 40, of 2903 Jersey St., West Monroe, told police that he was halted in a line of traffic when Carter hit the rear of his car and left the scene.

Police said they measured 12 feet of skid marks which the Negro's car, owned by Wayne Carter, 5 Short 7th St., West Monroe, left on the pavement.

Fordyce complained of pains and was treated by a private physician.

Bond for Carter was set at $1,000 and he was placed in the city jail.

MISSING BIKES

Two bicycles were reported stolen yesterday by residents of Thomas and Georgia streets.

Mrs. B. N. Smith, 805 Thomas, told police that a 26-inch boy's green bike was taken from the front yard of her home.

W. R. Ferguson, 308 Georgia, complained that a 26-inch boy's red and white bicycle, with a broken headlight, and split front fender was taken during the night.

RADIO TUBE CHARGES

A Negro boy was taken in custody by Monroe police and turned over to the juvenile authorities yesterday, on charges that he stole a transistor radio tube from the Star Hardware store yesterday.

A radio was found in the boy's possession, and he claimed that he found it in the Kress store a week ago. Investigation was continuing.

TWO CHARGES

Willie R. Star, 37, Negro of 4006 Church St. was arrested by Monroe police in the 100 block of N. 11th St. last night and charged with reckless driving and carrying a concealed weapon. He posted $385 bond and is due in court tomorrow.

BATTERY CHARGE

Freda Walker of West Monroe was arrested by police yesterday on a warrant charging simple battery on Modell Heard.

West Monroe Police also arrested Mabon Davis. 32, Negro of 218 Railroad Ave., West Monroe on charges of committing aggravated battery on Walter L. Rayford, 18, Negro of 102 Phillips, West Monroe.

Rayford, who suffered a knife cut on the arm, was charged with committing simple battery on Davis. Both were jailed.

Small Girl Hurt In Car Accident

A two-year-old girl received bruises at 7:55 last night, when two cars collided at the intersection of Orange and S. 10th Streets. A Monroe man was ticketed following the mishap.

Investigating officers said that Kenneth E. Hart, 23, of 609 Georgia St. was driving east on Orange Street, when Arthur T. Powell, Negro, 25 of 836 Bell St. made a quick turn in front of him.

Powell told police that he didn't see the Hart auto when he started the turn.

Deborah Lynn Hart, 2½, riding in the car with Hart, suffered bruises.

Both cars were extensively damaged and were towed away.

Powell was issued a ticket charging reckless driving.

Highway Funds Held Inadequate

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Mississippi Economics Council warned Saturday that Mississippi highway construction funds are insufficient to match available federal funds.

"The Legislature has made provision for additional bonds to be issued within the overall ceiling of 85 million dollars to match federal funds," the MEC said in a prepared statement. "It is possible that the program can be financed within this ceiling, though at the expense of maintenance funds."

Asks Presidential Reprieve

Caril Fugate, 15, serving a life term for murder, wired President Eisenhower Saturday for a reprieve for ex-sweetheart Charles Starkweather, confessed killer of 11, who is now scheduled to be executed in two weeks. She said only Starkweather can prove her innocence. (AP Wirephoto)

Rites Scheduled At Winnsboro For Miss Ward

WINNSBORO (Special) — Miss Dorothy Ward, 48, a resident of Gilbert, died early Saturday after a lengthy illness. She was well known throughout Franklin Parish, having served as secretary to the Franklin parish superintendent of education for several years.

Funeral services will be held at the First National Funeral Home chapel in Winnsboro at 2 p. m. Sunday with the Rev. R. K. Fredrick, officiating. Interment will follow in Oakley Cemetery near Gilbert.

Miss Ward is survived by five sisters: Mrs. Ona Gardner. Gilbert; Mrs. Marjory Rambin, Monroe; Mrs. Inez Royster, Kansas City, Missouri; Mrs. Alpha Latham, Gilbert; and Mrs. Patsy Klienpeter, Gilbert; 4 brothers; F. M. "Kelly" Ward, Alexandria; John F. Ward, and Noah Ward, both of Baton Rouge; and Charles E. Ward, Kansas City, Missouri.

Pallbearers will be M. D. Peel, W. E. Rambin, J. E. Foster, C.H. Foster Jr., Ed Royster, Aubrey Kincaid, Harry Wafer, Jr., and W. M. Latham.

Honorary pallbearers include all Franklin Parish high school principals, members of the Parish school board, all school personnel, and close friends and associates.

COMIC BOOK IS WINNER

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Safety Council has given its Public Interest Award to a comic book.

The book, "Tommy Gets the Keys," is distributed by B. F. Goodrich Co. The 32-page cartoon booklet is designed to "train the would-be teen-age driver before he gets the keys to the car," company officials say.

More than six million copies of the booklet have been distributed since it was introduced in 1954.

Scouts Spark Interest At Exhibit Here

Thrown against the backdrop of a makeshift raft, a powerful wireless radio set bridged a gap of nearly 300 years for representatives of some 2000 Ouachita Valley Council Boy Scouts who staged a big exposition here yesterday.

It was the first such showing of scouting abilities in the area and climaxed over a year's work of the scouts' leaders and parents.

The radio - raft contrast was one of many that caught visitors' eyes at Selman Field where several dozen scout - prepared exhibit booths displayed.

SKILLS

The entire show was used to display the many skills the scouts undertake on the program.

Frank Kirby, OVC Commissioner, said, "We believe most of the 5000 expected visitors were here."

Cubs and scouts alike manned the exhibit booths, the sprawling Selman Field Warehouse set up as an indoor midway.

The scouts had been working most of the day Friday and until opening time at 2 p.m. Saturday, when they eagerly pushed visitors inside their booths with spells, sideshow sales talk, and excitedly told of their work.

The booths carried such things as live snakes and alligators, papiermache work by Cubs, Royal Mounted Police work, Indian lore, Geology, Forestry, plant life, home care, safety, first aid, chemistry, fishing, boating, camping, life saing marksmanship, and even an antilitterbug campaign.

From Winnsboro came a live repitile exhibit with some scouts handling yard - long snakes with case.

SNAKES

Sabian Gibson, Winnsboro 2nd classer, said, "I like snakes. Fool with them every time I get a chance.

"The spreading adders (he was holding one 3 feet long) are quite harmless." And to prove his point, had the snake to crawl up the reporter's arm.

Among other things in the moderh- day world was a finger - printing exhibit by Troop 34. Scout Jesse Harrison, Buddy Roth, Winn Jefferson, Waynon Winn, and Gary Berry had spent a 5 - week course studying under Ouachita deputy sheriff Warren Seigers to learn basic finger printing techniques and classification.

In the past, scouts here have sponsored a circus, but this year Kirby said they wanted something different.

"But this year," he said, "we think this is probably better. It gives the scouts a better interest."

As one scout said, "I like the exposition better because most of our parents can't go to all our meetings. And here they can see in a few minutes some of all of our work."

The Ouachita Valley Council embraces scout organizations in 15 Northeast Louisiana parishes.

Some 32,906 acres of forests were seeded by airplanes in the Pacific Northwest in 1958, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The Truth About Hormones To Make Skin Look Young

As I write this article, I can look through the doorway and see a woman of 45 waiting in the outer office. The light is good and I see her clearly.

She looks 10 years younger today than she did a month ago. What brought about this amazing change? Estrogenic hormones. Reams have been written about hormones. Will they make women of 75 look 16 again? Absolutely not. Will they make women of 60 feel like they were 20 again? Only in a way I shall explain later.

To know the truth about hormones you need to learn just two simple facts: 1. The beauty of a woman's skin starts breaking down as signs of menopause begin, because the female organs fail to supply enough estrogenic hormones to feed the skin—less and less as you grow older. 2. Estrogenic hormones can be supplied to the skin by rubbing on a penetrating formula containing the hormones.

Here is a test reported in a scientific journal, one of many that showed similarly sensational results: Twenty-five women applied hormones to one side of the face and neck, and to one hand. On the other side and the other hand, a similar preparation containing no hormones was applied the same way.

These are the reports in simple words:

Skin lines (or wrinkles) quickly dimmed or disappeared from sight as creases and hollows filled out.

Blotches and "old-age freckles" faded on hands, face and neck.

Skin was softer, clearer, seemed to lose its chronic dryness, and take on a revived freshness and vitality.

All these amazing things happened on the side where the hormones were used. Meanwhile no changes occurred on the other side. The same withered, lifeless complexion.

Still another scientist reports in effect, improvement in the skin of women past menopause was striking. These women looked like the years had been turned back toward their youthful "prechange" appearance.

I've seen this myself. I have seen the improvement so rapid that in just two days women looked younger. And, what a lift to the spirits! I cannot truthfully say that women of 60 felt like they were 20 again. But I have seen the light come back into their eyes—their chins raised with proud confidence—the zest for living return—because — I presume —to look younger is to feel younger.

Now to select a good estrogenic hormone preparation, here is what you need to know: the strength of the hormone preparations must appear on the label! The recommended daily allotment for the skin is 330 International Units.

The base should be as rich as possible in lanolin and vegetable oils to permit fast penetration and deep absorption and, when "rubbed in" your skin should not feel greasy or sticky. On first application, your skin should feel a radiant glow of revitalized youthfulness and refreshment.

An extra good buy in hormone products today is a preparation called HORMONEX Beauty Serum. It is made by a 36-year-old laboratory that has produced over 80 million packages of pure, fine cosmetics.

What is more, it is guaranteed to bring you joyous, noticeable results or your money back. HORMONEX Beauty Serum is really a bargain, too. Costs less than 4c a day. So, if you want to see if your dreams of a younger-looking skin — with wrinkles dimmed, color and texture improved, can come true, I suggest you get HORMONEX Beauty Serum today—then look for amazing results.

ON HOUSING, OTHER BILLS

Demos In Congress Court Ike's Veto On Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Democrats apparently are heading toward a collision with presidential vetoes that could snarl up housing, airport and depressed areas legislation for many weeks.

A Senate-House conference committee, meeting next week, is likely to agree on a compromise housing bill that President Eisenhower may fire back at Congress with a veto.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, said he can't forecast what the President will do. But Dirksen said if Eisenhower wants to dramatize his campaign to hold down spending, he will find widespread support for a veto.

Democrats will attempt to override such a veto and enact the bill into law. But the odds appear now to be against their mustering the required two-thirds of those voting in both houses.

If an attempt to override fails, Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) said he will urge his Democratic colleagues not to compromise.

"I'm for standing firm," Douglas said in an interview.

"Let the builders come to us. The President is trying to use them against us now in an effort to kill off a small amount of public housing and urban renewal."

Dirksen said that "If there is no housing bill, the Democrats will have to take the responsibility."

Eisenhower asked Congress for an additional six billion dollars in authority for the Federal Housing Administration to insure mortgage loans. The agency is scraping the bottom of the barrel now, with a consequent threat to the nation's home building program.

But Eisenhower has opposed provisions of the bill passed by the House Thursday which would authorize a three-year, 1½-billion-dollar urban renewal or slum clearance program, 400 million dollars for college housing and 100 million for rental dwellings for elderly persons.

The expenditure price tag put on the House bill was $2,100,000,000. The Senate bill passed earlier would cost a half billion more. Neither of these figures takes into account the FHA's insurance authority, since it involves no direct Treasury payment. FHA is self-supporting.

Both Senate and House bills envision outlays so far in excess of Eisenhower's requests that a veto seems inevitable.

There have been indications that Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas would have preferred cutting back the amounts in the hope of avoiding a veto.

But other Democrats who want to challenge the President are pushing for passage of not only the housing bill but an airport aid measure approved by both houses and a Senate-passed depressed areas bill.

These Democrats maintain that vetoes of such measures would lend weight to their contention that the administration is more interested in balancing the budget than in meeting what they regard as the needs of the country.

There obviously will be housing legislation of some sort enacted before Congress quits. Neither party can afford to let it be said that the economic recovery was jolted by a slump in housing construction because of a failure of Congress and the President to get together.

The fate of vetoed airport and depressed areas bills would be less clear.

New Arms Cargo Seized In Miami

shipment was intended for anti-Castro forces in the Dominican Republic.

Augusto Ferrando, the consul general; Jose M. Paulino, 41, Dominican vice consul, and Leonard Trento, 35, Newark, N. J., businessman, were ordered held on $25,000 bonds each. Paulino was held as a material witness.

All three were charged with conspiring to bribe federal officers and with conspiring to export war materials illegally.

Also charged with conspiring to ship arms were Virginia L. Bland, 38, of Miami, attractive copilot of the plane, and two Tampa pilots, Samuel Eugene Poole Jr., 34, and John J. Embry, 38.

They denied any knowledge of the plane's cargo, which included 200,000 rounds of ammunition, 17 machine guns, 38 Garand rifles and parts for 20 carbines.

Chief customs agent Joseph Fortier said the arms were to be flown to the Dominican Republic for delivery to an anti-Castro expeditionary force.

Others arrested as participants in the alleged plot were:

Joseph Liquori, 29, Miami policeman; William Quitman Brookley, 30, University of Miami engineering student; Bartone, 45, Cleveland, Ohio, aircraft broker, and four Cuban nationals, Joseph Andrew Viera Valdes, 41; Elizio Carrado Tirana, 52; Pedro Santana, 39, and Oscar Pages, 35. Their bonds ranged from $5,000 to $500 except Liquori, whose bond was set at $10,000.

Liquori, who previously had served as bodyguard for Rafael Trujillo Jr., son of the Dominican Republic's chief of state, had been stationed at the Dominican consulate in Miami at the request of officials there who said they feared an attack by Castro partisans.

U. S. Atty. James L. Guilmartin said Ferrando gave $1,400 to customs agents William B. Lankford and Wallace D. Shanley not to molest the arms shipment. They turned the case over to superiors.

All 13 denied knowledge of the alleged plot and posted bonds. Arraignment was set for June 8.

Faubus Faces New Test In Recall Vote

had been formed to recall the segregationist board members under the very state law which had been designed purposely to oust school directors suspected of integrationist sympathies.

But segregationist groups backing board President Ed I. McKinley Jr. and members Ben. D. Rowland and Robert W. Laster moved almost as quickly.

They filed petitions seeking recall of the Lamb-Matson-Tucker group a few hours after STOP had filed against the other action.

Members will be voted on individually so they will not necessarily be removed or retained by blocs.

The campaign grew in bitterness after the segregationist cause was taken over and spearheaded by a new group, the Committee to Retain Our Segregated Schools.

Districution of circulars inviting Negroes to attend a rally for white teachers sponsored by STOP resulted in an investigation. Dr. Drew Agar, chairman of STOP, whose name was signed to the pamphlets, said they were fakes. Among those questioned by prosecutor Frank Holt was Laster.

A newspaper advertisement charging that the 44 persons were dismissed for one or more of several listed reasons, some of them grave, has resulted in a $3,900,000-libel suit by the 39 white members of the group against McKinley and the Rev. M. L. Moser Jr., head of CROSS.

Ike Requests Science Push In Education

lence in our educational system."

Asserting that the American educational system, "fine as it is in many respects, can be, and as a whole should be, substantially improved," the report offered these five major conclusions:

1. Americans should attach greater value to intellectual excellence.

2. Every school and college should re-examine its curriculum to make sure that it is giving adequate challenge to the intellectual capacities of its students.

3. The nation's people should do far more to enhance the prestige of the teacher and to provide him with more effective support.

4. The country should move much further toward adapting educational programs to the widely varying competence of students, and seek especially to meet the needs of the most gifted students.

5. As a nation, "we should improve our scientific education at all levels, attempting to give better understanding of science to the nonscientists as well as to discover and stimulate more individuals who have the talents to become scientists and engineers."

Eisenhower, referring to the section devoted to teachers, declared: "Higher salaries are a first requiement, but we need also to recognize the great importance of what teachers do and to accord them the encouragement, understanding, and recognition which will help to make the teaching profession attractive to increasing numbers of first rate people."

Johnson Tops Senate Poll For '60 Race

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas who says he is not a candidate, is the favorite for the 1960 presidential nomination among Democratic senators now willing to declare a choice.

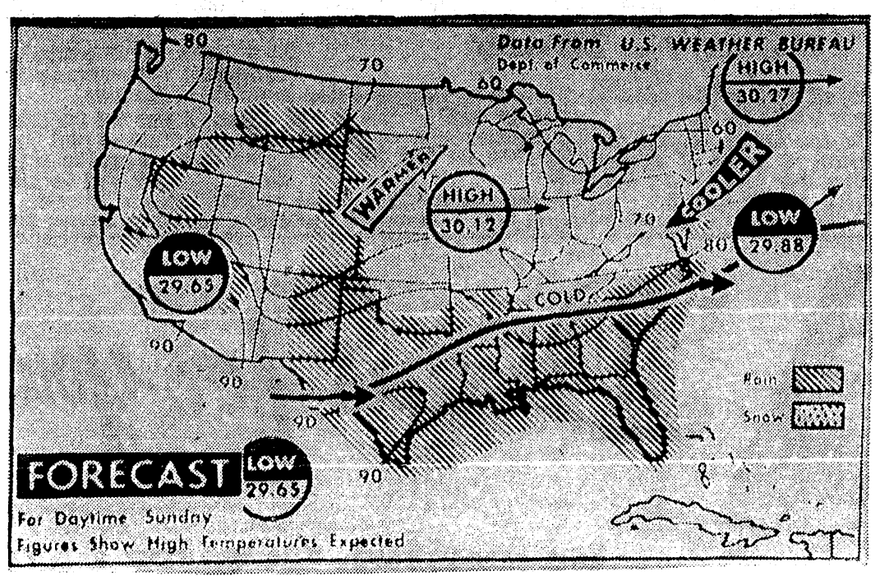

A United Press International survey of the Democratic side of the Senate showed Saturday that a number of other candidates were viewed as acceptable or as second choice. This was particularly true of other senators who are regarded as potential contenders—John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Stuart Symington of Missouri, and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

The four senators, who are considered possible candidates were not polled. Of the 60 others, 56 were contacted, with this result:

Johnson — 17
Kennedy — 4
Humphrey — 2
Gov. G. Mennen Williams (Mich.) — 2
Adlai E. Stevenson — 2
Symington — 1
Gov. Robert B. Meyner (N.J.) — 1
Sen. Albert Gore (Tenn.) — 1

Twenty-six were undecided or unwilling to reveal a preference with the Democratic National Convention still almost 14 months away. Many of those who named their choice asked not to be identified because they did not want to be publicly committed so early or did not want to offend other candidates.

The Democratic side of the Senate is not a cross-section of the party as it speaks at national conventions. It does not reflect the party as it speaks at national conventions. It does not reflect the convention voting power of the heavily populated states in which Johnson's strength is not, yet at least, conspicuous.

BY COMMISSION

Two Hospitals Here Receive Accrediting

St. Francis hospital and E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital have attained accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals—a difficult rating to attain, according to Monroe Physicians.

Announcement was made yesterday of the rating.

The Joint Committee which inspected and graded the hospitals is composed of the American College of Surgeons, the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association.

"Hospital accreditation is the hallmark of patient safety. It is the official recognition of a hospital's voluntary conformation to desirable standards of adequate patient care," pointed out Dr. Robert S. Myers, of Chicago, assistant director of the American College of Surgeons.

Mother M. Gertrude, supervisor at St. Francis hospital stated that inspection was made on April 24 by Dr. Peter A. Ward, a field representative for the Joint Commission.

STUDY

Careful study resulted in the accreditation, which also was garnered by St. Francis in 1958.

Only 3,200 hospitals in the United States and Canada have met the rigid requirements necessary to gain accreditation.

Accreditation requires a competent administration, composed of trained and experienced administrator and a governing board selected for its knowledge, interest and experience in hospital affairs, pointed out Mother Gertrude.

Accreditation requires that the responsibility for medical ethics be placed with the medical staff and administration, to safeguard the patients.

A suitable, sanitary building, protected from fire and explosion hazards is one necessary factor for accreditation.

The hospital also must have proper diagnostic facilities, including x-ray and laboratory departments, the extensive set of instruments for surgery and sterilizing equipment.

Dietitians, highly trained personnel required for adequate care of the patient, and multiple safeguards to protect newborn infants also are found in accreditated hospitals, officials explained.

SHORT POSITION DOWN

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Stock Exchange announced its short position dropped 214,017 shares in the month ended May 15 to a total of 1,168,120 shares. Short interest on the exchange on the same date last year was 72,660 shares.

PLAN NEW FACILITIES

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — Carolina Power & Light Co. has earmarked 125 million dollars for new facilities in the next five years, President and Chairman Louis V. Sutton announced.

Fire Damages Clothing Shop On St. John

Fire, apparently caused by a faulty cable at the back of Allen's Fashion Shop, 108 St. John St., resulted in extensive smoke and flame damage to merchandise in the store last night.

Engine Companies one, 110, ladder 1, and cars 1, 2, and 3 were on the scene within five minutes after the 8:25 alarm.

Mrs. Helen Blanchard, owner of the women's apparel store, stated that she had insurance, but did not know if it would cover the damage. "That's the $64,000 question," she frowned.

Leroy Brown, of Harahan near New Orleans, a visiting Lion attending the state convention here, spotted the fire, when he returned to the Virginia Hotel with his wife and another couple.

"The wives saw the smoke, we all walked over to investigate, and a cable in back of the store just exploded in a flash of fire," he revealed.

He alerted hotel personnel who summoned firemen.

The fire, confined to the back of the hat section of the store, was extinguished from the rear of the building, according to Capt. Henry Riser of company 110.

Deputy Chief Harry Roberts was on the scene, directing firemen in swift extinguishing and then clean-up operations.

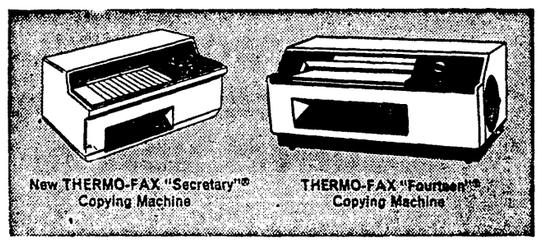

Capts. J. D. Brownlee of engine company one and M. M. Smith of ladder one, took part in the fire-fighting. Firemen were still at the scene at 9:30 p.m.

New Arms Cargo Seized In Miami

shipment was intended for anti-Castro forces in the Dominican Republic.

Augusto Ferrando, the consul general; Jose M. Paulino, 41, Dominican vice consul, and Leonard Trento, 35, Newark, N. J., businessman, were ordered held on $25,000 bonds each. Paulino was held as a material witness.

All three were charged with conspiring to bribe federal officers and with conspiring to export war materials illegally.

Also charged with conspiring to ship arms were Virginia L. Bland, 38, of Miami, attractive copilot of the plane, and two Tampa pilots, Samuel Eugene Poole Jr., 34, and John J. Embry, 38.

They denied any knowledge of the plane's cargo, which included 200,000 rounds of ammunition, 17 machine guns, 38 Garand rifles and parts for 20 carbines.

Chief customs agent Joseph Fortier said the arms were to be flown to the Dominican Republic for delivery to an anti-Castro expeditionary force.

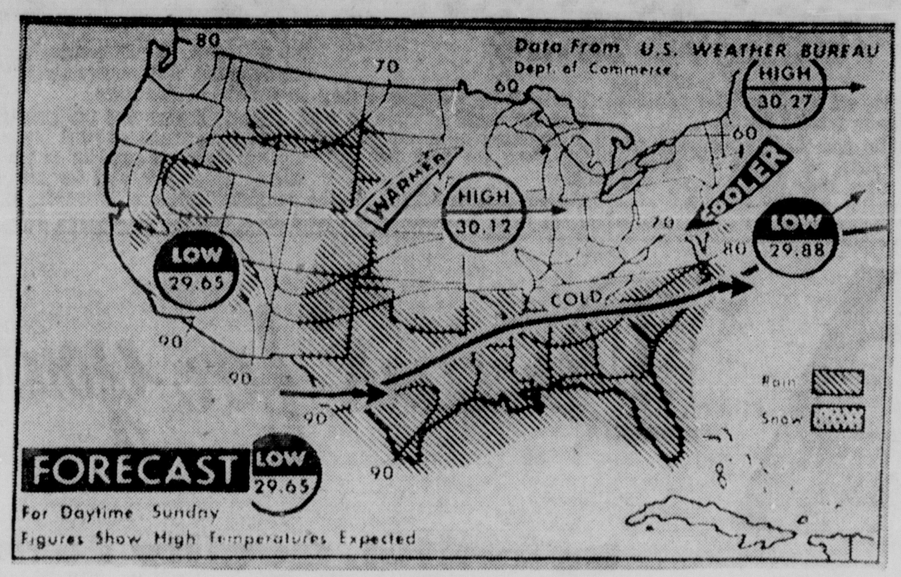

Others arrested as participants in the alleged plot were:

Joseph Liquori, 29, Miami policeman; William Quitman Brookley, 30, University of Miami engineering student; Bartone, 45, Cleveland, Ohio, aircraft broker, and four Cuban nationals, Joseph Andrew Viera Valdes, 41; Elizio Carrado Tirana, 52; Pedro Santana, 39, and Oscar Pages, 35. Their bonds ranged from $5,000 to $500 except Liquori, whose bond was set at $10,000.

Liquori, who previously had served as bodyguard for Rafael Trujillo Jr., son of the Dominican Republic's chief of state, had been stationed at the Dominican consulate in Miami at the request of officials there who said they feared an attack by Castro partisans.

U. S. Atty. James L. Guilmartin said Ferrando gave $1,400 to customs agents William B. Lankford and Wallace D. Shanley not to molest the arms shipment. They turned the case over to superiors.

All 13 denied knowledge of the alleged plot and posted bonds. Arraignment was set for June 8.

Fire Damages Clothing Shop On St. John

Fire, apparently caused by a faulty cable at the back of Allen's Fashion Shop, 108 St. John St., resulted in extensive smoke and flame damage to merchandise in the store last night.

Engine Companies one, 110, ladder 1, and cars 1, 2, and 3 were on the scene within five minutes after the 8:25 alarm.

Mrs. Helen Blanchard, owner of the women's apparel store, stated that she had insurance, but did not know if it would cover the damage. "That's the $64,000 question," she frowned.

Leroy Brown, of Harahan near New Orleans, a visiting Lion attending the state convention here, spotted the fire, when he returned to the Virginia Hotel with his wife and another couple.

"The wives saw the smoke, we all walked over to investigate, and a cable in back of the store just exploded in a flash of fire," he revealed.

Faubus Faces New Test In Recall Vote

had been formed to recall the segregationist board members under the very state law which had been designed purposely to oust school directors suspected of integrationist sympathies.

But segregationist groups backing board President Ed I. McKinley Jr. and members Ben. D. Rowland and Robert W. Laster moved almost as quickly.

They filed petitions seeking recall of the Lamb-Matson-Tucker group a few hours after STOP had filed against the other action.

Members will be voted on individually so they will not necessarily be removed or retained by blocs.

The campaign grew in bitterness after the segregationist cause was taken over and spearheaded by a new group, the Committee to Retain Our Segregated Schools.

Distribution of circulars inviting Negroes to attend a rally for white teachers sponsored by STOP resulted in an investigation. Dr. Drew Agar, chairman of STOP, whose name was signed to the pamphlets, said they were fakes. Among those questioned by prosecutor Frank Holt was Laster.

A newspaper advertisement charging that the 44 persons were dismissed for one or more of several listed reasons, some of them grave, has resulted in a $3,900,000-libel suit by the 39 white members of the group against McKinley and the Rev. M. L. Moser Jr., head of CROSS.

Ike Requests Science Push In Education

lence in our educational system."

Asserting that the American educational system, "fine as it is in many respects, can be, and as a whole should be, substantially improved," the report offered these five major conclusions:

1. Americans should attach greater value to intellectual excellence.

2. Every school and college should re-examine its curriculum to make sure that it is giving adequate challenge to the intellectual capacities of its students.

3. The nation's people should do far more to enhance the prestige of the teacher and to provide him with more effective support.

4. The country should move much further toward adapting educational programs to the widely varying competence of students, and seek especially to meet the needs of the most gifted students.

5. As a nation, "we should improve our scientific education at all levels, attempting to give better understanding of science to the nonscientists as well as to discover and stimulate more individuals who have the talents to become scientists and engineers."

Eisenhower, referring to the section devoted to teachers, declared: "Higher salaries are a first requiement, but we need also to recognize the great importance of what teachers do and to accord them the encouragement, understanding, and recognition which will help to make the teaching profession attractive to increasing numbers of first rate people."

Johnson Tops Senate Poll For '60 Race

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas who says he is not a candidate, is the favorite for the 1960 presidential nomination among Democratic senators now willing to declare a choice.

A United Press International survey of the Democratic side of the Senate showed Saturday that a number of other candidates were viewed as acceptable or as second choice. This was particularly true of other senators who are regarded as potential contenders—John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Stuart Symington of Missouri, and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

The four senators, who are considered possible candidates were not polled. Of the 60 others, 56 were contacted, with this result:

Johnson — 17
Kennedy — 4
Humphrey — 2
Gov. G. Mennen Williams (Mich.) — 2
Adlai E. Stevenson — 2
Symington — 1
Gov. Robert B. Meyner (N.J.) — 1
Sen. Albert Gore (Tenn.) — 1

Twenty-six were undecided or unwilling to reveal a preference with the Democratic National Convention still almost 14 months away. Many of those who named their choice asked not to be identified because they did not want to be publicly committed so early or did not want to offend other candidates.

The Democratic side of the Senate is not a cross-section of the party as it speaks at national conventions. It does not reflect the party as it speaks at national conventions. It does not reflect the convention voting power of the heavily populated states in which Johnson's strength is not, yet at least, conspicuous.

BY COMMISSION

Two Hospitals Here Receive Accrediting

St. Francis hospital and E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital have attained accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals—a difficult rating to attain, according to Monroe Physicians.

Announcement was made yesterday of the rating.

The Joint Committee which inspected and graded the hospitals is composed of the American College of Surgeons, the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association.

"Hospital accreditation is the hallmark of patient safety. It is the official recognition of a hospital's voluntary conformation to desirable standards of adequate patient care," pointed out Dr. Robert S. Myers, of Chicago, assistant director of the American College of Surgeons.

Mother M. Gertrude, supervisor at St. Francis hospital stated that inspection was made on April 24 by Dr. Peter A. Ward, a field representative for the Joint Commission.

STUDY

Careful study resulted in the accreditation, which also was garnered by St. Francis in 1958.

Only 3,200 hospitals in the United States and Canada have met the rigid requirements necessary to gain accreditation.

Accreditation requires a competent administration, composed of trained and experienced administrator and a governing board selected for its knowledge, interest and experience in hospital affairs, pointed out Mother Gertrude.

Accreditation requires that the responsibility for medical ethics be placed with the medical staff and administration, to safeguard the patients.

A suitable, sanitary building, protected from fire and explosion hazards is one necessary factor for accreditation.

The hospital also must have proper diagnostic facilities, including x-ray and laboratory departments, the extensive set of instruments for surgery and sterilizing equipment.

Dietitians, highly trained personnel required for adequate care of the patient, and multiple safeguards to protect newborn infants also are found in accreditated hospitals, officials explained.

Foreign Ministers Can Achieve Little

GENEVA (UPI)—The Foreign Ministers of the United States, Britain, France and Soviet Russia have spent two weeks debating a problem on which they have no real hope of reaching agreement here — reunification of Germany without altering the balance of power in Europe.

On Monday, they begin a new week of talks which may develop into more realistic horse-trading on a matter where some progress is possible — rubbing the rough edges off the East-West relationship in divided Berlin.

The four foreign ministers are prisoners of a set of circumstances they cannot alter. Presumably all four know it.

Their task is to find a face-saving formula for arranging a meeting of the chiefs of state to see if a summit session can do anything about the cold war deadlock.

Neither side is willing at the current talks to consider a German settlement on terms anywhere close to the conditions set by the other. The differences are fundamental and apparently not negotiable at this stage.

Britain, France and the United States have presented what many neutral observers consider an eminently reasonable plan for gradual reunification of Germany by stages, with related security guarantees against resurgent militarism. The United States even offered to swap global troop cuts with Russia.

The Russians rejected the plan out of hand and countered with a warmed-over Soviet plan for a peace treaty which would continue the division of Germany indefinitely. They also still want the Western powers to get out of West Berlin and permit it to become a Red-encircled "free city."

Underneath the mutual recriminations exchanged here lies the basic fear of each side that the other will agree to a reunified Germany only on terms which would give it control of the entire country.

In this stalemate, the task of the foreign ministers is stripped of any broad pretensions and boils down to the relatively simple job of finding a way in which the East and West can live more comfortable with the continued division of Germany.

The famed American magician Harry Houdini was first a trapeze performer.

Sawmill Kept Humming All Night To Produce Rough Lumber For This Church—School In Crossett.

Crossett Chemical Plant, Paper Mills And Sawmill Are At Top Of The Picture, With Old Part Of Residential Section Below.

CROSSETT LOOKS BACK

After 60 Years

By JANICE CLARK
Staff Correspondent

CROSSETT, Ark—The 60 years which have carved a humming industrial community of 6,000 citizens out of the heart of half a million acres of virgin pine forests are bing re-examined this month in Crossett.

On May 16, 1899 the final papers were signed in a lawyer's office in Little Rock for the forming of the Crossett Lumber Company. To mark the progress since that date 60 years ago, the people of the town are looking back at their beginnings. Of all the facets of development—housing, recreation, industrial, schools, and churches, there is one story that stands unique to Crossett—that of Crossett's first school.

The first school wasn't built to be a school, but was built to be a church and not primarily as a place for worship. It was built in 1902 to keep a man from opening a saloon where his property joined Crossett on the northwest edge of town.

RAW, NEW

Crossett was raw and new at that time, with streets no more than rutted tracks over the newly cleared forest floor. Until quite recently Crossett had been a camp town for men building a small sawmill which was intended to saw the lumber to build a larger mill and homes for the workers and their families.

Edward Woodward Gates, affectionately nicknamed, "Cap' Gates," was the manager of the Lumber Company and dynamic heart of the new community. The first wave of women and children had just come into town, and some were living in tents in the clearing around the little sawmill.

Sawmill towns in those days were considered rough places, where men drank up their earnings at local saloons, and women raised children in the midst of squalor and hard work. Cap Gates had other plans for Crossett.

When he learned that a neighboring farmer had applied to the county authorities for a license for the saloon, to be located less than a mile from Crossett he took action. Although it was years before the Prohibition law, there was a state law in Arkansas which provided that if a saloon was within three miles of a church its license would be revoked or denied on the petition of 12 citizens.

Cap Gates announced to the men of the town that a church was to be built—and fast.

Dink Lloyd, who was a child then, says, "It had to be done when Cap said do it! And it was done. Spencer Jarvis recalled that late that summer afternoon, "They sent for Pa's two teams, and Pa and the teams worked all night hauling lumber from the mill to the site of the new church." Without stopping the men sawed and hammered the knotty pine boards. There was no time for paint or stain, and there was no time for such frills as shingles. The roof was "stripping,"—the boards running up and down, with a narrow strip over the cracks.

READY

Early the next morning the church—16 by 32 feet—was ready. Cap Gates sent to the next county for the nearest circuit parson to come dedicate it. He sent his assistant manager, Clark Buchner to Hamburg with a petition, signed by the requisite number of citizens, protesting the proposed saloon, because of the proximity of a church.

"Church?" exclaimed the judge. "Why, that's only a sawmill camp You haven't got a church in Crossett!"

"Oh, yes, your honor, we have a church."

"Since when?"

"Since this morning," said Clark Buchner.

So in June of 1902 church services moved from a tent across from the sawmill to the new building. And that fall Crossett's children started school in the building—with church continuing on Sundays.

Grading was simple in that one-room, one-teacher school of 57 years ago. A child knew where he was in school by what "reader' he was in—whether it was "First Reader," "Second Reader," or Sixth Reader." And the Blueback Speller followed him right through High School. One student of that school remembers, "I had the same speller and slate 'til I finished history, geography, physiology, and numbers." And for spelling, "We had to spell, pronounce, and give the abbreviation before we sat down."

DIRECT

Discipline was direct and uncomplicated. "If you had a fight during recess you got a whipping. Further, a boy "got a lickin' if he played marbles for keeps."

In addition to marbles and sandlot baseball, other games of the day were, "Pile-on!" Two boys would "wrastle;" whichever one threw the other down would yell, "Pile on!" and the gang would do just that. There was also "Goosey-goosey-gander." That game involved sides. One side would prance up to the other and call, "How many ganders you got? The others would scream, "More'n you can catch!!" and run like crazy. There were other games called, "Foot'n a half," "Run Sheep Run," "Crow Hop," and "Ante-over."

The mail came in by wagon the 15 miles from Hamburg, involving three or four hours each way for the trip, depending on the weather which could turn the road into axle-deep mudholes. And, "The road went by everybody's house—it would go by sections, turn by this fence and then by that one."

The Ouachita River didn't play a very important role in the minds of the children. Ever so often they would get in a wagon and ride the several hours' bumpt trip the eight miles to the River, but, "It was just a trickle then for most of the year. You could wade it, and cattle were driven across at some points." Until the building of the locks on the River, boast could come up only during spring and late winter high-water time.

EXCITING

One of the most exciting events for the children in this school was the coming of the Mississippi River-Hamburg and Western Railroad into town. They all remember the day in 1902 when the work car, trailing an empty freight car, crept over the new track right behind the men driving spikes. That empty car was loaded with Crossett lumber that very day and rolled out of town to connect with the St. Louis, Iron Mountain, and Southern at Montrose. Both of those lines have since been bought by Missouri Pacific.

Not long after the coming of the Railroad, the first horseless carriage came over its tracks to Crossett and was unloaded right at the present intersection of Main Street and Highway 82. C. H. Lemmon, the manager of the first Mercantile Store, had seen a Stanley Steamer in St. Louis several years before, when there was only about five in that city. So right on the heels of the means of having it shipped into town, he ordered his car.

REMEMBERS

Everyone remembers the excitement as Lemmon roared off down Main Street in his strange car. "We kids ran up the street behind it." It was made just like a buggy, and cranked from the right side. "You stepped right over the crank, brake lever, and horn to get in." There was a steering lever on the right side instead of a steering wheel, and it had hard rubber wheels. "If you went over five miles an hour you really jolted," as some of the roads went over roots and around stumps.

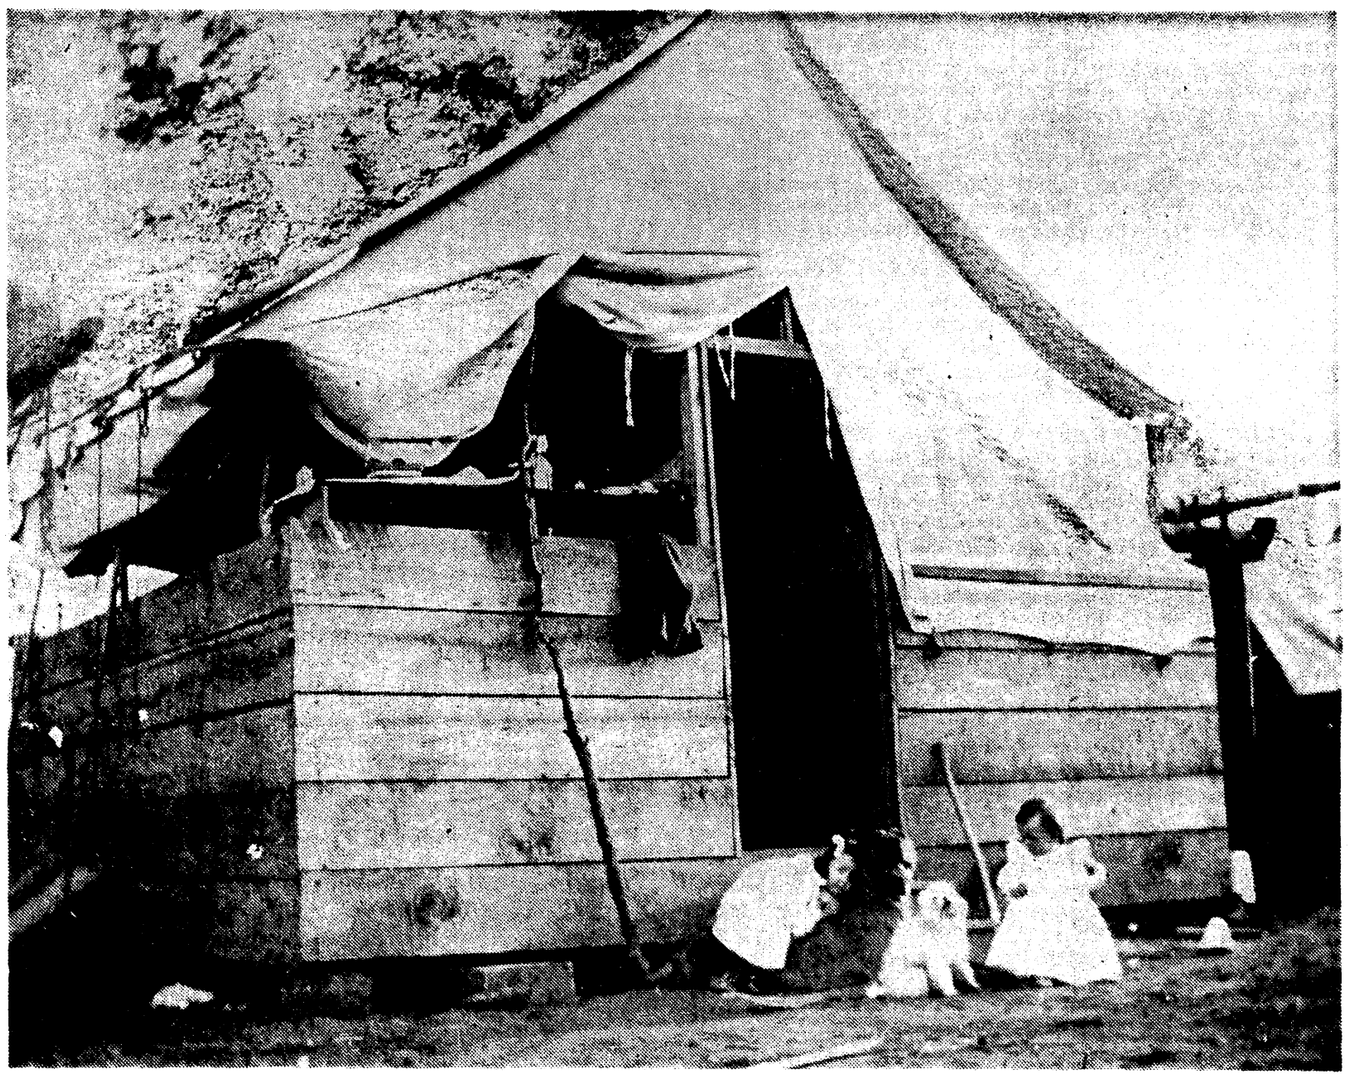

Another big event for those children in the little knotty-pine school was the coming to town of a carnival. What might have proved a passing event turned into years of fun for the young people when the carnival "went broke" and Cap Gates bought the merry-go-round. The steam-run carrouse was kept running in Crossett from 1902 to 1905 and formed the nucleus for a playgound and park which for many years continued to grow and develop behind Rose Inn on Main Street.

The old pupils of that school felt that one contributing factor in the move from the little school to new and bigger buildings was the prank of a high-spirited youngster named Judson Hannibel. In those days there was, of course, no indoor plumbing. Young Judson set fire to the "facilities" building, and it burned to the ground. Shortly thereafter the children (who had undoubtedly outgrown the little one-roomed school) were moved to bigger quarters.

Although that little room, built of rough pine, and overnight, was used as a church and as a school only two years, it set a pattern for Crossett which still bears its mark. It was a symbol of the determination of the men and women who built Crossett that this town should not have the undesirable features of the average mill town. The town of Crossett was to be a good place for men and women to rear their children. It was not to be a town where payday meant drunken men roaring down the streets. And there are still no saloons in Crossett—or nearby. The little church has grown to around 15 churches within the city limits. And the little school has grown into one of the finest and best equipped school systems in the state.

The shadow of Cap Gates and those men and women who pioneered Crossett stretches down the years and still points the way for the growth of a town which has served as a pilot town both in this country and for students and officials from abroad.

There is an old saying that goes something like this, "He who knows not whence he came, cares not where he goes." The people of Crossett feel that the importance of this search for "whence" they came, is in its pointing to where they go.

Great Science Adventure

By LEONARD ENGEL

A flotilla of research ships will meet off San Juan, Puerto Rico, this week in the first step toward one of the great science adventures of history.

Out in the Atlantic 200 miles from Puerto Rico, the flotilla will begin searching for a place to drill a hole through the earth's crust.

The hole is to be at least several miles deep, and will be drilled beneath several miles of water. Hopes are to drive it through a layer within the earth called the moho and into the mantle, the thick, mysterious band of hot rock surrounding the earth's molten core.

NEW TURN

The Mohole — as the big hole has been dubbed — will turn man's efforts to explore the world and space about him in a dramatic new direction. It will furnish a window, man's first, into the interior of the earth.

What is the interior of the earth made of? How did the earth originate? Is it cooling down or warming up? Just how do earthquakes come about? Is there any fossil record from the first billion years of life on earth, a period now a nearly complete blank in the earth's history?

The project takes its name from the lower boundary of the earth's crust, the moho or Mohorovicic discontinuity. The moho is named for the Yugoslav scientist who first identified it in earthquake tracings.

The Mohole will be drilled out in the ocean because the earth's crust is thinner there and the mantle easier to reach than in continental areas. Nevertheless, not all drilling and earth-science experts are convinced the Mohole is feasible. Oil companies have drilled underwater wells as deep as 12,000 feet, but only in sheltered, shallow water. No one has yet attempted to bore a hole — let alone a hole that may go down 18,000 feet — in the open sea beneath waters of true oceanic depth.

SURVEY SHIPS

The four survey ships will investigate an area 200 miles long from east to west and 150 miles wide known as the outer ridge. The latter is a slight rise in the ocean floor north of Puerto Rico. The ridge comes to within 14,000 feet of the ocean surface and lies between deeper parts of the Atlantic called the Abyssal Plain and the Puerto Rican Trench.

The survey will be completed by mid-June. But several months more will be needed to analyze the results and determine whether a likely site for the Mohole has been found. Drilling sites in the Pacific are also being considered.

The entire Mohole project will take several years. Special drilling equipment, much of which doesn't exist yet, will be required. Several smaller holes may be drilled first, partly to gain experience and partly because a single hole is unlikely to yield all the different kinds of information wanted.

The Mohole project was born two years ago in La Jolla, Calif., home of the University of California's Scripps Oceanographic Institution and a leading U.S. center for ocean research. Its authors were Professors Harry Hess of Princeton and Walter Munk of California. They suggested the Mohole as a direct, if seemingly fantastic, way to settle numerous mysteries relating to the inside of the earth.

The project official estimates the Mohole will cost 5 to 10 million dollars, which is expected to come from the government and other sources.

PLAN FOR QUIET OBSERVANCE

Four Dionnes Celebrate 25th Birthday Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The four surviving Dionne Quintuplets will mark the 25th anniversary of their birth next Thursday with simple at-home celebrations. They are planning as unobstrusively as possible to avoid the glare of publicity they have tried for years to escape.

Their way of marking the event, quietly with only their husbands or close friends present, is typical of the efforts the quints have made in recent years to maintain their privacy and live like normal young women.

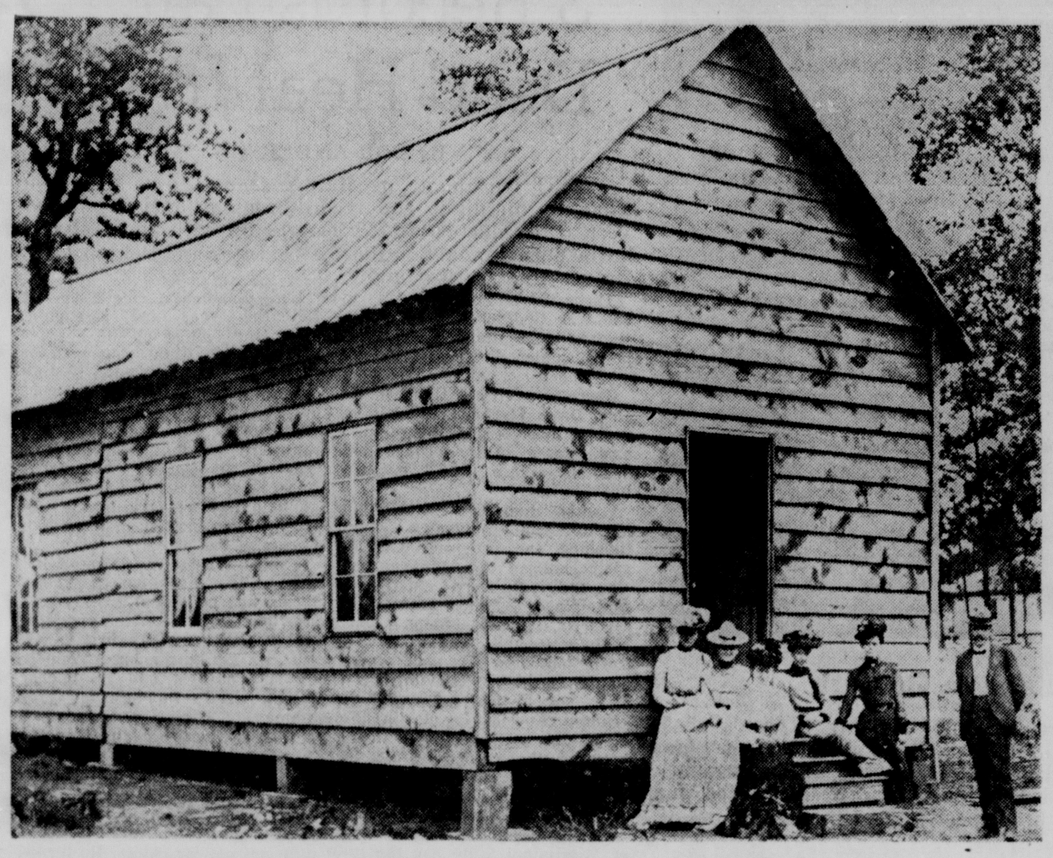

Every recent milestone in their lives has been marked by secrecy, in marked contrast to their childhood years when they were practically on public display.

Nevertheless, even now the quints receive hundreds of letters and birthday cards from important and just ordinary people around the world who remember their birth.

The public finds it difficult to foreget the momentous event that took place in an unpainted six-room farmhouse halfway between the villages of Callander and Corbeil in northern Ontario, May 28, 1934.

Yvonne, Cecile, Marie, Emily and Annette Dionne were brought into the world and kept alive by a simple, country physician, Dr. Allan Dafoe.

CROSSETT LOOKS BACK

After 60 Years

By JANICE CLARK
Staff Correspondent

CROSSETT, Ark—The 60 years which have carved a humming industrial community of 6,000 citizens out of the heart of half a million acres of virgin pine forests are bing re-examined this month in Crossett.

On May 16, 1899 the final papers were signed in a lawyer's office in Little Rock for the forming of the Crossett Lumber Company. To mark the progress since that date 60 years ago, the people of the town are looking back at their beginnings. Of all the facets of development—housing, recreation, industrial, schools, and churches, there is one story that stands unique to Crossett—that of Crossett's first school.

The first school wasn't built to be a school, but was built to be a church and not primarily as a place for worship. It was built in 1902 to keep a man from opening a saloon where his property joined Crossett on the northwest edge of town.

RAW, NEW

Crossett was raw and new at that time, with streets no more than rutted tracks over the newly cleared forest floor. Until quite recently Crossett had been a camp town for men building a small sawmill which was intended to saw the lumber to build a larger mill and homes for the workers and their families.

Edward Woodward Gates, affectionately nicknamed, "Cap" Gates," was the manager of the Lumber Company and dynamic heart of the new community. The first wave of women and children had just come into town, and some were living in tents in the clearing around the little sawmill.

Sawmill towns in those days were considered rough places, where men drank up their earnings at local saloons, and women raised children in the midst of squalor and hard work. Cap Gates had other plans for Crossett.

When he learned that a neighboring farmer had applied to the county authorities for a license for the saloon, to be located less than a mile from Crossett he took action. Although it was years before the Prohibition law, there was a state law in Arkansas which provided that if a saloon was within three miles of a church its license would be revoked or denied on the petition of 12 citizens.

Cap Gates announced to the men of the town that a church was to be built—and fast.

Dink Lloyd, who was a child then, says, "It had to be done when Cap said do it! And it was done. Spencer Jarvis recalled that late that summer afternoon, "They sent for Pa's two teams, and Pa and the teams worked all night hauling lumber from the mill to the site of the new church." Without stopping the men sawed and hammered the knotty pine boards. There was no time for paint or stain, and there was no time for such frills as shingles. The roof was "stripping,"—the boards running up and down, with a narrow strip over the cracks.

READY

Early the next morning the church—16 by 32 feet—was ready. Cap Gates sent to the next county for the nearest circuit parson to come dedicate it. He sent his assistant manager, Clark Buchner to Hamburg with a petition, signed by the requisite number of citizens, protesting the proposed saloon, because of the proximity of a church.

"Church?" exclaimed the judge. "Why, that's only a sawmill camp You haven't got a church in Crossett!"

"Oh, yes, your honor, we have a church."

"Since when?"

"Since this morning," said Clark Buchner.

So in June of 1902 church services moved from a tent across from the sawmill to the new building. And that fall Crossett's children started school in the building—with church continuing on Sundays.

Grading was simple in that one-room, one-teacher school of 57 years ago. A child knew where he was in school by what "reader' he was in—whether it was "First Reader," "Second Reader," or Sixth Reader." And the Blueback Speller followed him right through High School. One student of that school remembers, "I had the same speller and slate 'til I finished history, geography, physiology, and numbers." And for spelling, "We had to spell, pronounce, and give the abbreviation before we sat down."

DIRECT

Discipline was direct and uncomplicated. "If you had a fight during recess you got a whipping. Further, a boy "got a lickin' if he played marbles for keeps."

In addition to marbles and sandlot baseball, other games of the day were, "Pile-on!" Two boys would "wrastle;" whichever one threw the other down would yell, "Pile on!" and the gang would do just that. There was also "Goosey-goosey-gander." That game involved sides. One side would prance up to the other and call, "How many ganders you got? The others would scream, "More'n you can catch!!" and run like crazy. There were other games called, "Foot'n a half," "Run Sheep Run," "Crow Hop," and "Ante-over."

The mail came in by wagon the 15 miles from Hamburg, involving three or four hours each way for the trip, depending on the weather which could turn the road into axle-deep mudholes. And, "The road went by everybody's house—it would go by sections, turn by this fence and then by that one."

The Ouachita River didn't play a very important role in the minds of the children. Ever so often they would get in a wagon and ride the several hours' bumpt trip the eight miles to the River, but, "It was just a trickle then for most of the year. You could wade it, and cattle were driven across at some points." Until the building of the locks on the River, boast could come up only during spring and late winter high-water time.

EXCITING

One of the most exciting events for the children in this school was the coming of the Mississippi River-Hamburg and Western Railroad into town. They all remember the day in 1902 when the work car, trailing an empty freight car, crept over the new track right behind the men driving spikes. That empty car was loaded with Crossett lumber that very day and rolled out of town to connect with the St. Louis, Iron Mountain, and Southern at Montrose. Both of those lines have since been bought by Missouri Pacific.

Not long after the coming of the Railroad, the first horseless carriage came over its tracks to Crossett and was unloaded right at the present intersection of Main Street and Highway 82. C. H. Lemmon, the manager of the first Mercantile Store, had seen a Stanley Steamer in St. Louis several years before, when there was only about five in that city. So right on the heels of the means of having it shipped into town, he ordered his car.

REMEMBERS

Everyone remembers the excitement as Lemmon roared off down Main Street in his strange car. "We kids ran up the street behind it." It was made just like a buggy, and cranked from the right side. "You stepped right over the crank, brake lever, and horn to get in." There was a steering lever on the right side instead of a steering wheel, and it had hard rubber wheels. "If you went over five miles an hour you really jolted," as some of the roads went over roots and around stumps.

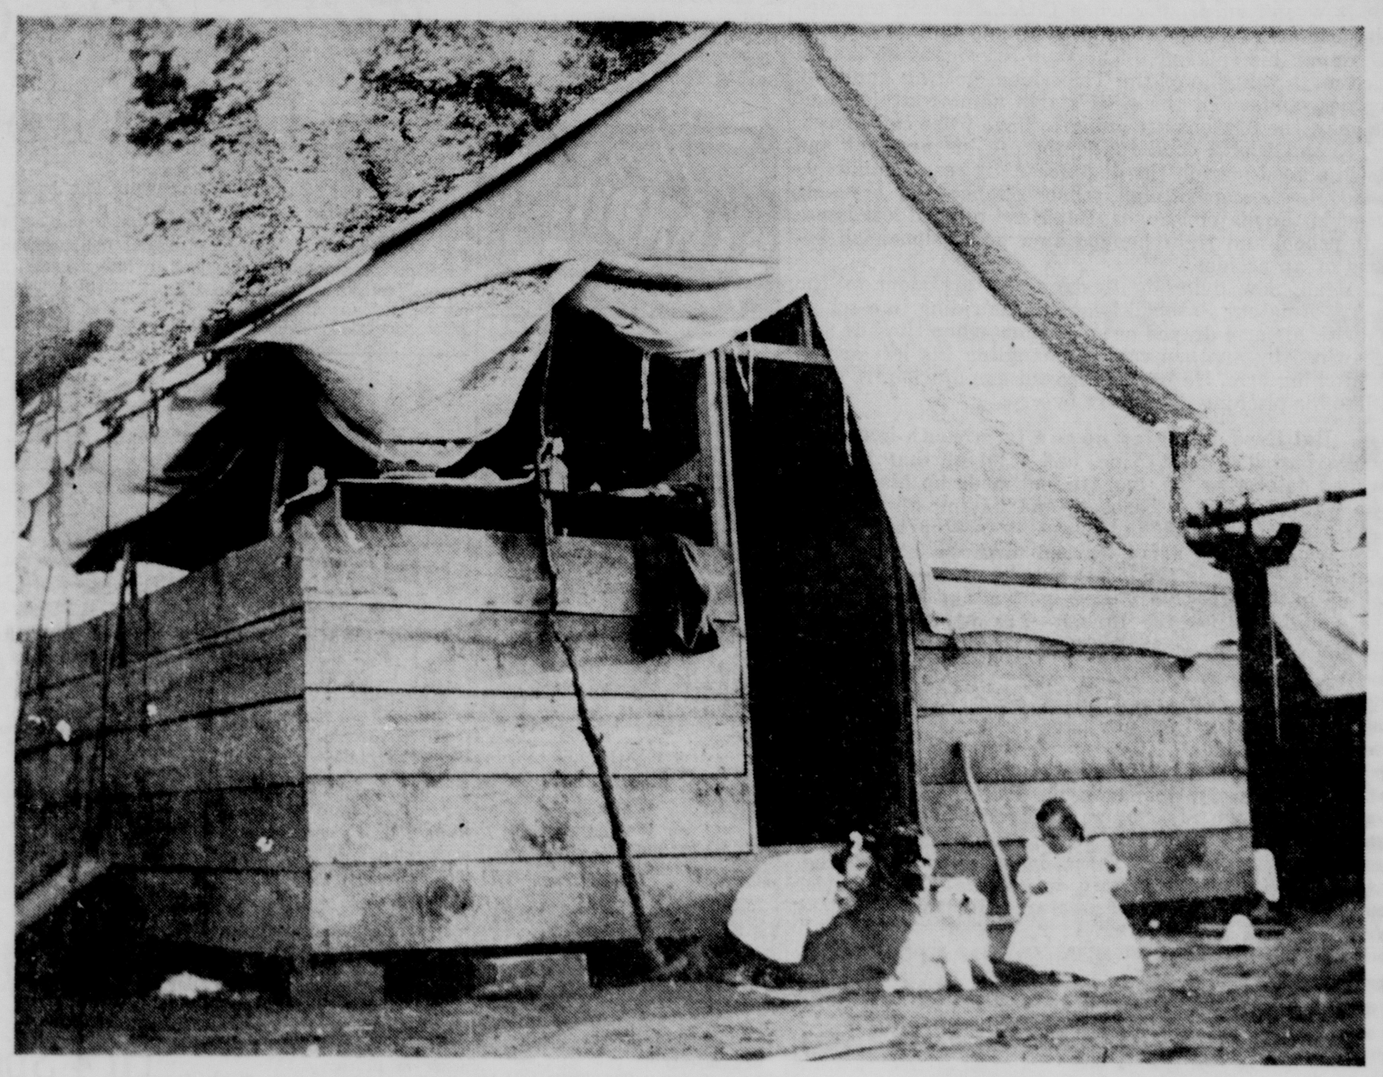

Another big event for those children in the little knotty-pine school was the coming to town of a carnival. What might have proved a passing event turned into years of fun for the young people when the carnival "went broke" and Cap Gates bought the merry-go-round. The steam-run carrouse was kept running in Crossett from 1902 to 1905 and formed the nucleus for a playgound and park which for many years continued to grow and develop behind Rose Inn on Main Street.

The old pupils of that school felt that one contributing factor in the move from the little school to new and bigger buildings was the prank of a high-spirited youngster named Judson Hannibel. In those days there was, of course, no indoor plumbing. Young Judson set fire to the "facilities" building, and it burned to the ground. Northeast Wins SAAU Meet

PAUL MARTIN LOOKS 'EM OVER

When Don "Buddy" Eiland walked across the lawn the other night at an athletic awards outdoor barbecue supper to accept two special awards from his Northeast State track coach, Lew Hartzog, we were impressed with the fact that this boy was able to even be on the track team much less win awards.

Union parish friends of this Farmerville High grad, who have read this far, may be getting dander up and preparing to challenge us, but it's not our though to be little Eiland's running a bit, and if they'll wait a minute and remember that automobile accident they'll understand what we're thinking about.

Eiland made quite an athletic reputation for himself at Farmerville High in football, baseball, track, and basketball. Northeast extended him an athletic scholarship.

Last January he suffered a fractured pelvis in an automobile accident. It was our thought then that the promising track career of the Northeast freshman was at an end.

Medical science, ever on the march to improvement, is doing wonders these days. Then you take a youth like Eiland with a lot of determination, competitive spirit or whatever it is that puts some men ahead of others. The Eiland attitude and the doctor's skill paid off for points in track meets for Northeast's Gulf States Conference champions repeatedly this year.

Eiland, a week ago, set a new conference record for the two-imle run, and ran second in the mile event, helping to win th GSC crown.

Of course, every Northeast track follower knows Don Styron and Dave Styron, the Colorado Comets, were the big guns of the Tribal track performers, but you just have to applaud a little louder when a comeback kid like Eiland makes the grade.

It wasn't surprising when Coach Hartzog awarded Eiland trophies as "most improved" and "hardest worker" among his spikemen. The twin Styrons were lauded as co-most valuable of the Tribesmen, getting duplicate trophies, and when the GSC starts naming athletes of the year, the Styrons are going to have to be considered.

Eiland was a good runner before his accident and is still a good man in the distances. His case reminds us of Ed Head, a good high school pitcher and a no-hit hurler in the major leagues. But Head pitched left handed in school and right handed as a professional, all because of an accident.

Head, now living in Bastrop and president of the La-Ark Amateur Baseball League, was riding in a school bus with his arm draped out a window when the bus was sideswiped by another vehicle, mangling his left arm—his pitching arm. He barely escaped amputation. It looked like his pitching days were over.

But Head, who grew up as a farm youth in Ouachita parish's Ward Nine, had a lot of that being called determination, too. He had made up his mind he wanted to pitch baseball, and having his pitching arm so badly damaged wasn't to stop him. He swapped pitching arms, learned to throw his right, earned a chance in the old Evangeline League, worked up in the Brooklyn Dodger system and once hurled a no-hitter for the Dodgers against the Boston Braves.

Head will tell you today that "I don't know. If I hadn't hurt my left arm I might never have made the major leagues. I might not have been good enough as a lefty."

Head has won his applause as a baseball player and headaches as a club manager, particularly in the dying dys of the Cotton States and Evangeline when he managed the Monroe team. He's willing to watch the youngsters face the challenge these days. Eiland has other challenges. Lots of applause waits the Union parish youngster in three more seasons with Hartzog's harriers.

Big Ten To Modify New Bowl Setup

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Policy-making faculty representatives of the Big Ten Saturday modified the surprising free-for-all Rose Bowl setup they approved Friday.

The current Rose Bowl contract which expires with the 1960 game was dropped in a stalemated 5-5 vote. By the same standoff ballot the faculty representatives refused to remove from their regulations a clause which authorizes Rose Bowl football competition. In effect, this would allow any Big Ten team to accept a Rose Bowl invitation on its own without any conference strings attached.

Saturday, the faculty groups ordered atheletic directors to create a committee to devise controls for the new Rose Bowl arrangement, and appointed a faculty committee to study methods of breaking a tie vote such as caused Tuesday's complications.

Marcus Plant of Michigan explained that both the proponents and opponents of Rose Bowl play wanted to prevent a single conference school from becoming an overly consistent Rose Bowl visitor. More important, he said, they wanted to prevent any single school from "walking home with all the booty."

At present, the visiting team's Rose Bowl share of more than $400,000 is split 12 ways within the Big Ten.

Styron, Garrett Deadlock In Century

3 Records Fall, Dead Heat In 100

By BOB ANDERSON

LSU freshman Joe Harris soared to a 14-7 pole vault to highlight the record-breaking and Louisiana Tech's Pat Garrett finally caught up with Dave Styron in the 66th annual Southern AAU track and field meet at Brown Stadium last night.

Three SAAU records fell and one was tied in the senior division and one mark was bettered in the junior division of the lengthly meet.

Garrett, who has finished behind Dave Styron in 13 century dashed this year, tied the Northeast runner in the 100 as both tied the record of 9.6, set way back in 1931.

Garrett then came back in the 220 to soundly trounce Styron, finishing far in front with the sprint half of the twin combination ending up third behind teammate Roger Beumer.

Harris, former Baton Rouge High star and brother to LSU frosh footballer Wendell Harris, shattered the old SAAU mark of 13-10 set in the pole vault by William Roy of Loyola in 1936.

Bob Harquist, former SLI ace, bettered the record of 216 feet and 10 inches set by Martin Biles of Alabama in 1942 with a heave of 224-8 in the javelin.

Lanky darkhorse Warren Burns of Mississippi State ran the mile in 4:13.8, easily breaking the record of 4:18.9 set by Robert Dunbar of Fort Sam Houston in 1958. Burns also won the 880 with a 1:55.9 time.

In the junior division, Larry Smith of Jackson, Mississippi's Central High School ran the 440 in 48.8, beating the old record set by Richard Sneed of Loyola in 1938 by one-tenth of a second.

Northeast Louisiana Track Club, the Northeast State team plus a few ineligible performers, ran away with the team honors, scoring 227 points for the senior division crown to 68 for runner-up Louisiana Tech.

Mississippi State, sparked by Burns, was third with 20 points, McNeese had 19 and Mississippi Southern 2.

NLTC also won the junior division title with 59 points to 14 for McNeese, 12 for Mississippi College, 11 for Tech and 10 for Mississippi Southern.

Athletes who have never placed in either junior or senior AAU competition are eligible for the junior division.

Tech's Jim Sturdivant joined teammate Garrett in humbling the Styron twins, defeating Don in the highs with a 14.7 clocking.

Don, however, evened the score in the lows by winning over the Tech hurler with a 24.4 time. Don also won the 440 hurdles over teammates Dick Hays and Gene Hagan with a 56.0 clocking.

Dave Styron won the 440 dash, his first race of the night, with a 47.5 time, bettering the Gulf States Conference record of 47.9.

Garrett led all the way in the century except for the last step when Styron caught up with him. Don Reynolds of NLTC trailed the two in third place.

In the 220, Garrett jumped into the lead and never lost it. Styron, left in his blocks and obviously tired, was beaten also by Beumer. Styron won the GSC championship in the event last week with a time of 21.1.

Lud Bandaries, ineligible at LSU this year and competing under the banner of the Shreveport Athletic Club, won both of the night's weight events, beating NLTC's Hoy Rogers in the shot and discus.

Bandaries, Burns and Don Styron were the only performers to win two undisputed first places each. Dave Styron was first in the 440 and tied for first in the 100. Garrett won the 220 and tied with Styron in the 100.

The Styrons were, despite what was a bad night for them, the meet's top individual scorers with 39½ points between them.

Don scored 21 with first in the 440 and 220 hurdles, a second in the 120 hurdles and an anchor leg on NLTC's winning mile relay team.

NLTC's Buddy Eiland won the two mile in 9:42.5 and tied with McNeese's Len Chisholm for second behind Burns in the mile.

Jim Irons, a Canadian now at Mississippi State, ran in the two mile but not for points. He turned in a sparkling 9:24.5.

Mel Champagne of SLI won the high jump with a 6-4 jump and Northeast's Jerry Ivy took the broad jump at 22-8. Independant Sam Ascani won the hop, step and jump with a 45-0 leap.

POUND FIVE PITCHERS

Kansas City Cools Chisox On Daley Four-Hitter, 16-0

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bud Daley shut out the Chicago White Sox Saturday night, allowing only four hits while his Kansas City Athletics teammates pounded Early Wynn and four relief pitchers for a 16-0 victorp.

The lopsided defeat blasted White Sox hopes of moving into first place in the American League. They still trail the Cleveland Indians, who lost to Detroit, by half a game. Kansas City kept its fourth place spot half a game ahead of Washington.

Daley had a perfect game going until pinch hitter John Romano singled with two out in the sixth ing to stretch the hit into a double.

The Kansas City knuckleballer then retired the first two men in the seventh before Jim Landis broke the string of 20 consecutivve putouts.

The Sox didn't get their other two hits until the ninth when Bubba Phillips and Luis Aparicio signed. Daley didn't walk a batter as he had perfect control of his dancing knuckler.

The Athletics went on their most robust hitting spree of the season as they walloped 21 hits including Hector Lopez' fifth home run of the season.

They got to Wynn in the second inning for three hits and a run, which proved enough to saddle the veteran with his third defeat of the year. He has won six.

The A's scored again in the fourth on Dick Williams' double and Frank House's single. Then they chased both Wynn and his first aid, Barry Latman, with a 7-run outburst in the fifth.

Ten Kansas City batters went to the plate as Bill Tuttle and Williams hit doubles to highlight the outburst.

Pre-Season Poll

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Louisiana State and Billy Cannon. . .Auburn and Zeke Smith . . .these are the schools and players picked from a Birmingham News poll of Southeastern Conference schools to be tops in the league at the end of the 1959 campaign.

News sports editor Zipp Newman wrote in Sunday's edition that the pre-season poll gave LSU the nod over Auburn by a mere one point—111 to 110. The poll placed Mississippi third and Georgia Tech fourth.

The other teams in the picked order of finish:

Florida, Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama, Georgia, Vanderbilt, Mississippi State and Tulane.

Cannon, the brilliant halfback from Baton Rouge, La., and Smith, the unknown guard from Uniontown, Ala., who plunged to fame at Auburn last year, headed the predicted SEC all-star lineup. They also placed in the poll on specialists.

The entire first team comes from the South.

Auburn is the only school to place three men on the all-SEC first team. Others besides Smith are center Jackie Burkett of Fort Walton Beach, Fla., and tackle Ken Rice of Bainbridge, Ga.

LSU placed two men on the team—quarterback Warren Rabb of Baton Rouge and Cannon.

The other six first team players, from as many schools:

Florida end Dave Hudson of Pensacola; Alabama guard Don Cochran of Birmingham; Georgia guard Pat Dye of Augusta; Walter Suggs, Mississippi State tackle from Hattiesburg; Kentucky end Dickie Mueller of Louisville, and these backfield men:

Vanderbilt's Tom Moore of Goodlettsville, Tenn., and Charlie Flowers, playing for Ole Miss, from Marianna, Ark.

Smith and teammate Jackie Burkett joined Floyd Faucette of Georgia Tech as double winners in the specialist poll.

The Auburn pair tied for linebacking honors—Buckett taking the offensive lineman honors and Smith the defensive lineman spot.

Faucette tied with Flowers as best blocking back and stood alone as best sideback.

Other specialists:

Passing, Bobby Franklin of Ole Miss; running, Cannon; Safetyman, Charley Britt of Georgia; offensive end, Hudson; defensive end, Mueller punter, Bobby Joe Green, Florida.

Hale Winner Of 4 Speed Bowl Events

H. L. Hale dominated the stock car races at the Monroe Speed Bowl last night as he swept to victory in four events in two types of cars.

He drove Bobby Russell's No. 1 to victory in the sportsmen's feature and also in the sportsman's trophy dash. With Odie Commungs' V-6, he won first place in the feature for "bugs" and the trophy dash for the same type of car.

Red Futch, driving Kennedy's No. 6, was second in the sportsmen's feature, and Jack Bowen was third in V-8, owned by Red Hamm.

The bug feature saw Futch home second in No. 4, owned by Mobley, Owens, and Dickeson, while Billy Bayles placed third in No. 10.

Cattlemen Come To Yanks' Aid With Beef Steak

MILES CITY, Mont. (AP) — Montana cattlemen came to the aid of the New York Yankees baseball team Saturday.

They sent 50 steaks to the 1958 World's Champions, now in last place in the American League. Each steak weighed 2 pounds, 12 ounces.

The steaks were sent by the Montana Stockgrowers Assn., the Montana Beef Council and the Livestock Auction Markets Assn., holding a convention here.

A resolution expressed belief the steaks for breakfast would start the Yankees on their way back to the top of the standings.

Back In Camp

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP)—Ingemar Johansson, Swedish heavyweight challenger, returned to his training camp Saturday. Johansson meets Floyd Patterson for the world heavyweight title at Yankee Stadium June 25.

Johansson reported his back injury suffered in training earlier in the week was minor and he felt 100 per cent recovered.

Soph Sprinter Paces Illinois To Loop Title

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—An unheralded sophomore sprinter led defending champion Illinois to an easy triumph in the 59th Big Ten outdoor track meet which produced two new records on Soggy Ferry Field Saturday. Illinois piled up 65½ points.

Ward Miller streaked to a double victory in the 100 and 220-yard dashes to pace the Illini parade to its 21st outdoor title.

In just the two dashes and 880 yard run, won in record time by George Kerr from Jamaica, the Illini amassed 24 points to kill off whatever chance Michigan might have had for the team crown. At the same time, Michigan's indoor sprint champion Tom Robinson from The Bahamas, pulled up lame in the 100 and was scratched from the 220.

A eight - year - old conference mark was shattered in the mile run as Michigan State's Bob Lake won handily in 4:08.5. This bettered the old record of 4:09.0, set in 1951 by Michigan's Don McEwen.

The 880 conference record fell with a 1:50.1 winning performance by Kerr. The former mark was 1:50.3 established last year by Michigan State's Dave Lean.

The only other double winner was Indiana's Willie May, who retained his 120-yard high hurdles title and dethroned Michigan's Pete Stanger in the 220 lows.

Archers Display Skill For Youth At Jonesboro

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Louisiana archery experts from Bossier City appeared here last night for an exhibition sponsored by the Jackson Parish Jaycees for the benefit of the Jaycees' Children's Archery Club.

Displaying their skill with bow and arrow were Scotty Teague, 17-year-old national field champion; C. E. Pope, Louisiana free style champion; Russell Field, 17-year-old Louisiana Robin Hood Champion; and Mrs. Arnell Hayes, Louisiana women's champion.

Among feats displayed were shooting a flame off a candle and shooting an arrow through a bucket of sand that the shot from a 30-30 rifle wouldn't penetrate.

Giants Nip Bums, Regain Second

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sad Sam Jones showed some polished pitching in the clutch Saturday night as the San Francisco Giants regained second place in the National League by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 before 37,168 Coliseum fans.

Jones, using both his fast ball and curve with fine effect, struck out nine Dodgers and walked only three in going all the way for his fourth victory against five losses. He gave up nine hits.

The Giants got their first two runs in the sixth inning. Orlando Cepeda singled and stole second. Jackie Brandt punched a single up the middle, scoring Cepeda, then darted to third on another single by Darryl Spencer. Hobie Landrith brought in Brandt with a sacrifice fly.

San Francisco got two more in the eighth on singles by Willie Mays and Brandt, a double by Spencer and a bad throw from the outfield by Ron Fairly.

Jones found himself in perilous circumstances in the sixth but worked out of it expertly. Fairly and Duke Snider led off with singles and after one was out Wally Moon scored Fairly with a single that bounced off first base. Jones filled the bases by walking Don Zimmer, then struck out Joe Pignatano and got pinch hitter Don Demeter to hit into a forceout.

In the second Jones had surrendered a leadoff triple to Wally Moon and then struck out the side.

The Dodgers picked up their other run in the eighth when Moon led off with a double and scored on Zimmer's single.

Stan Williams, who started for the Dodgers and went six innings, took the loss and now is 1-1. This was the first time he had been beaten at night in the majors.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fined $75 for a May 20 debate with an umpire, infielder Johnny Temple of Cincinnati Reds said Saturday he has filed a notice of appeal to National League President Warren Giles.

Temple had disputed a strike call by umpire Frank Dascoli against Frank Robinson for the final out in the first game of a doubleheader at Los Angeles.

Allen Defeats Ray Cittadano At Winnfield

WINNFIELD, La. (Special) — Alton Allen, Winnfield welterweight fighting out of Houston, Tex., won his sixth consecutive victory here last night with an easy unanimous decision over Ray Cittandano, New Orleans. Allen weighed 143 and Cittadano 147.

Scorecards read 99-91, 100-88, and 99- 94. The referee was Jimmy Webb of Houston who handled Johnny Busso - Jimmy Brown TV fight recently. Webb gave Allen all rounds except the fourth in the 10 - round scrap. He called two rounds even.

There were no knockdowns, but Cittandano was staggered several times and was holding on the ropes at the bell ending the fifth.

Attendance was estimated at 450 at the rodeo arena of the Winn Parish fair grounds. Inclement weather hurt crowd.

Sherman Roberts, Winnfield, won his first pro bout with six round decision over Leo Higues, Lake Charles, in the card's semifinal.

Calvin Clary, Baton Rouge amateur and former LSU Golden Gloves champ, easily decisioned Walden Hennigan, Alexandria, in an exhibition, and two Winnfield amateurs, Conley Adams and Robert Foshee, fought a no - decision contest. The amateur scraps were three - rounders.

Northeast Wins SAAU Meet

PAUL MARTIN LOOKS 'EM OVER

When Don "Buddy" Eiland walked across the lawn the other night at an athletic awards outdoor barbecue supper to accept two special awards from his Northeast State track coach, Lew Hartzog, we were impressed with the fact that this boy was able to even be on the track team much less win awards.

Union parish friends of this Farmerville High grad, who have read this far, may be getting dander up and preparing to challenge us, but it's not our though to be little Eiland's running a bit, and if they'll wait a minute and remember that automobile accident they'll understand what we're thinking about.

Eiland made quite an athletic reputation for himself at Farmerville High in football, baseball, track, and basketball. Northeast extended him an athletic scholarship.

Last January he suffered a fractured pelvis in an automobile accident. It was our thought then that the promising track career of the Northeast freshman was at an end.

Medical science, ever on the march to improvement, is doing wonders these days. Then you take a youth like Eiland with a lot of determination, competitive spirit or whatever it is that puts some men ahead of others. The Eiland attitude and the doctor's skill paid off for points in track meets for Northeast's Gulf States Conference champions repeatedly this year.

Eiland, a week ago, set a new conference record for the two-imle run, and ran second in the mile event, helping to win th GSC crown.

Of course, every Northeast track follower knows Don Styron and Dave Styron, the Colorado Comets, were the big guns of the Tribal track performers, but you just have to applaud a little louder when a comeback kid like Eiland makes the grade.

It wasn't surprising when Coach Hartzog awarded Eiland trophies as "most improved" and "hardest worker" among his spikemen. The twin Styrons were lauded as co-most valuable of the Tribesmen, getting duplicate trophies, and when the GSC starts naming athletes of the year, the Styrons are going to have to be considered.

Eiland was a good runner before his accident and is still a good man in the distances. His case reminds us of Ed Head, a good high school pitcher and a no-hit hurler in the major leagues. But Head pitched left handed in school and right handed as a professional, all because of an accident.

Head, now living in Bastrop and president of the La-Ark Amateur Baseball League, was riding in a school bus with his arm draped out a window when the bus was sideswiped by another vehicle, mangling his left arm—his pitching arm. He barely escaped amputation. It looked like his pitching days were over.

But Head, who grew up as a farm youth in Ouachita parish's Ward Nine, had a lot of that being called determination, too. He had made up his mind he wanted to pitch baseball, and having his pitching arm so badly damaged wasn't to stop him. He swapped pitching arms, learned to throw his right, earned a chance in the old Evangeline League, worked up in the Brooklyn Dodger system and once hurled a no-hitter for the Dodgers against the Boston Braves.

Head will tell you today that "I don't know. If I hadn't hurt my left arm I might never have made the major leagues. I might not have been good enough as a lefty."

Head has won his applause as a baseball player and headaches as a club manager, particularly in the dying dys of the Cotton States and Evangeline when he managed the Monroe team. He's willing to watch the youngsters face the challenge these days. Eiland has other challenges. Lots of applause waits the Union parish youngster in three more seasons with Hartzog's harriers.

Big Ten To Modify New Bowl Setup

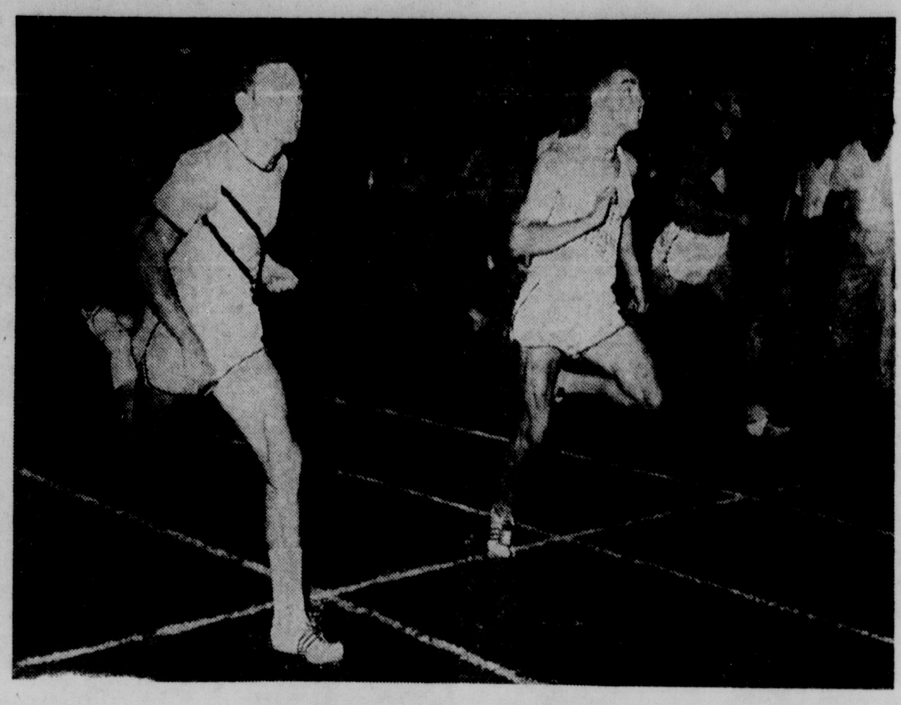

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Policy-making faculty representatives of the Big Ten Saturday modified the surprising free-for-all Rose Bowl setup they approved Friday.

The current Rose Bowl contract which expires with the 1960 game was dropped in a stalemated 5-5 vote. By the same standoff ballot the faculty representatives refused to remove from their regulations a clause which authorizes Rose Bowl football competition. In effect, this would allow any Big Ten team to accept a Rose Bowl invitation on its own without any conference strings attached.

Saturday, the faculty groups ordered atheletic directors to create a committee to devise controls for the new Rose Bowl arrangement, and appointed a faculty committee to study methods of breaking a tie vote such as caused Tuesday's complications.

Marcus Plant of Michigan explained that both the proponents and opponents of Rose Bowl play wanted to prevent a single conference school from becoming an overly consistent Rose Bowl visitor. More important, he said, they wanted to prevent any single school from "walking home with all the booty."

At present, the visiting team's Rose Bowl share of more than $400,000 is split 12 ways within the Big Ten.

Styron, Garrett Deadlock In Century

3 Records Fall, Dead Heat In 100

By BOB ANDERSON

LSU freshman Joe Harris soared to a 14-7 pole vault to highlight the record-breaking and Louisiana Tech's Pat Garrett finally caught up with Dave Styron in the 66th annual Southern AAU track and field meet at Brown Stadium last night.

Three SAAU records fell and one was tied in the senior division and one mark was bettered in the junior division of the lengthly meet.

Garrett, who has finished behind Dave Styron in 13 century dashed this year, tied the Northeast runner in the 100 as both tied the record of 9.6, set way back in 1931.

Garrett then came back in the 220 to soundly trounce Styron, finishing far in front with the sprint half of the twin combination ending up third behind teammate Roger Beumer.

Harris, former Baton Rouge High star and brother to LSU frosh footballer Wendell Harris, shattered the old SAAU mark of 13-10 set in the pole vault by William Roy of Loyola in 1936.

Bob Harquist, former SLI ace, bettered the record of 216 feet and 10 inches set by Martin Biles of Alabama in 1942 with a heave of 224-8 in the javelin.

Lanky darkhorse Warren Burns of Mississippi State ran the mile in 4:13.8, easily breaking the record of 4:18.9 set by Robert Dunbar of Fort Sam Houston in 1958. Burns also won the 880 with a 1:55.9 time.

In the junior division, Larry Smith of Jackson, Mississippi's Central High School ran the 440 in 48.8, beating the old record set by Richard Sneed of Loyola in 1938 by one-tenth of a second.

Northeast Louisiana Track Club, the Northeast State team plus a few ineligible performers, ran away with the team honors, scoring 227 points for the senior division crown to 68 for runner-up Louisiana Tech.

Mississippi State, sparked by Burns, was third with 20 points, McNeese had 19 and Mississippi Southern 2.

NLTC also won the junior division title with 59 points to 14 for McNeese, 12 for Mississippi College, 11 for Tech and 10 for Mississippi Southern.

Athletes who have never placed in either junior or senior AAU competition are eligible for the junior division.

Tech's Jim Sturdivant joined teammate Garrett in humbling the Styron twins, defeating Don in the highs with a 14.7 clocking.

Don, however, evened the score in the lows by winning over the Tech hurler with a 24.4 time. Don also won the 440 hurdles over teammates Dick Hays and Gene Hagan with a 56.0 clocking.

Dave Styron won the 440 dash, his first race of the night, with a 47.5 time, bettering the Gulf States Conference record of 47.9.

Garrett led all the way in the century except for the last step when Styron caught up with him. Don Reynolds of NLTC trailed the two in third place.

In the 220, Garrett jumped into the lead and never lost it. Styron, left in his blocks and obviously tired, was beaten also by Beumer. Styron won the GSC championship in the event last week with a time of 21.1.

Lud Bandaries, ineligible at LSU this year and competing under the banner of the Shreveport Athletic Club, won both of the night's weight events, beating NLTC's Hoy Rogers in the shot and discus.

Bandaries, Burns and Don Styron were the only performers to win two undisputed first places each. Dave Styron was first in the 440 and tied for first in the 100. Garrett won the 220 and tied with Styron in the 100.

The Styrons were, despite what was a bad night for them, the meet's top individual scorers with 39½ points between them.

Don scored 21 with first in the 440 and 220 hurdles, a second in the 120 hurdles and an anchor leg on NLTC's winning mile relay team.

NLTC's Buddy Eiland won the two mile in 9:42.5 and tied with McNeese's Len Chisholm for second behind Burns in the mile.

Jim Irons, a Canadian now at Mississippi State, ran in the two mile but not for points. He turned in a sparkling 9:24.5.

Mel Champagne of SLI won the high jump with a 6-4 jump and Northeast's Jerry Ivy took the broad jump at 22-8. Independant Sam Ascani won the hop, step and jump with a 45-0 leap.

Soph Sprinter Paces Illinois To Loop Title

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—An unheralded sophomore sprinter led defending champion Illinois to an easy triumph in the 59th Big Ten outdoor track meet which produced two new records on Soggy Ferry Field Saturday. Illinois piled up 65½ points.

Ward Miller streaked to a double victory in the 100 and 220-yard dashes to pace the Illini parade to its 21st outdoor title.

In just the two dashes and 880 yard run, won in record time by George Kerr from Jamaica, the Illini amassed 24 points to kill off whatever chance Michigan might have had for the team crown. At the same time, Michigan's indoor sprint champion Tom Robinson from The Bahamas, pulled up lame in the 100 and was scratched from the 220.

A eight - year - old conference mark was shattered in the mile run as Michigan State's Bob Lake won handily in 4:08.5. This bettered the old record of 4:09.0, set in 1951 by Michigan's Don McEwen.

The 880 conference record fell with a 1:50.1 winning performance by Kerr. The former mark was 1:50.3 established last year by Michigan State's Dave Lean.

The only other double winner was Indiana's Willie May, who retained his 120-yard high hurdles title and dethroned Michigan's Pete Stanger in the 220 lows.

Giants Nip Bums, Regain Second

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sad Sam Jones showed some polished pitching in the clutch Saturday night as the San Francisco Giants regained second place in the National League by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 before 37,168 Coliseum fans.

Jones, using both his fast ball and curve with fine effect, struck out nine Dodgers and walked only three in going all the way for his fourth victory against five losses. He gave up nine hits.

The Giants got their first two runs in the sixth inning. Orlando Cepeda singled and stole second. Jackie Brandt punched a single up the middle, scoring Cepeda, then darted to third on another single by Darryl Spencer. Hobie Landrith brought in Brandt with a sacrifice fly.

San Francisco got two more in the eighth on singles by Willie Mays and Brandt, a double by Spencer and a bad throw from the outfield by Ron Fairly.

Jones found himself in perilous circumstances in the sixth but worked out of it expertly. Fairly and Duke Snider led off with singles and after one was out Wally Moon scored Fairly with a single that bounced off first base. Jones filled the bases by walking Don Zimmer, then struck out Joe Pignatano and got pinch hitter Don Demeter to hit into a forceout.

In the second Jones had surrendered a leadoff triple to Wally Moon and then struck out the side.

The Dodgers picked up their other run in the eighth when Moon led off with a double and scored on Zimmer's single.

Stan Williams, who started for the Dodgers and went six innings, took the loss and now is 1-1. This was the first time he had been beaten at night in the majors.

Archers Display Skill For Youth At Jonesboro

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — Louisiana archery experts from Bossier City appeared here last night for an exhibition sponsored by the Jackson Parish Jaycees for the benefit of the Jaycees' Children's Archery Club.

Displaying their skill with bow and arrow were Scotty Teague, 17-year-old national field champion; C. E. Pope, Louisiana free style champion; Russell Field, 17-year-old Louisiana Robin Hood Champion; and Mrs. Arnell Hayes, Louisiana women's champion.

Among feats displayed were shooting a flame off a candle and shooting an arrow through a bucket of sand that the shot from a 30-30 rifle wouldn't penetrate.

Johnny Temple To Appeal Fine

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fined $75 for a May 20 debate with an umpire, infielder Johnny Temple of Cincinnati Reds said Saturday he has filed a notice of appeal to National League President Warren Giles.

Temple had disputed a strike call by umpire Frank Dascoli against Frank Robinson for the final out in the first game of a doubleheader at Los Angeles.

Allen Defeats Ray Cittadano At Winnfield

WINNFIELD, La. (Special) — Alton Allen, Winnfield welterweight fighting out of Houston, Tex., won his sixth consecutive victory here last night with an easy unanimous decision over Ray Cittandano, New Orleans. Allen weighed 143 and Cittadano 147.

Scorecards read 99-91, 100-88, and 99- 94. The referee was Jimmy Webb of Houston who handled Johnny Busso - Jimmy Brown TV fight recently. Webb gave Allen all rounds except the fourth in the 10 - round scrap. He called two rounds even.

There were no knockdowns, but Cittandano was staggered several times and was holding on the ropes at the bell ending the fifth.

Attendance was estimated at 450 at the rodeo arena of the Winn Parish fair grounds. Inclement weather hurt crowd.

Sherman Roberts, Winnfield, won his first pro bout with six round decision over Leo Higues, Lake Charles, in the card's semifinal.

Calvin Clary, Baton Rouge amateur and former LSU Golden Gloves champ, easily decisioned Walden Hennigan, Alexandria, in an exhibition, and two Winnfield amateurs, Conley Adams and Robert Foshee, fought a no - decision contest. The amateur scraps were three - rounders.

POUND FIVE PITCHERS

Kansas City Cools Chisox On Daley Four-Hitter, 16-0

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bud Daley shut out the Chicago White Sox Saturday night, allowing only four hits while his Kansas City Athletics teammates pounded Early Wynn and four relief pitchers for a 16-0 victorp.

The lopsided defeat blasted White Sox hopes of moving into first place in the American League. They still trail the Cleveland Indians, who lost to Detroit, by half a game. Kansas City kept its fourth place spot half a game ahead of Washington.

Daley had a perfect game going until pinch hitter John Romano singled with two out in the sixth ing to stretch the hit into a double.

The Kansas City knuckleballer then retired the first two men in the seventh before Jim Landis broke the string of 20 consecutivve putouts.

The Sox didn't get their other two hits until the ninth when Bubba Phillips and Luis Aparicio signed. Daley didn't walk a batter as he had perfect control of his dancing knuckler.

The Athletics went on their most robust hitting spree of the season as they walloped 21 hits including Hector Lopez' fifth home run of the season.

They got to Wynn in the second inning for three hits and a run, which proved enough to saddle the veteran with his third defeat of the year. He has won six.

The A's scored again in the fourth on Dick Williams' double and Frank House's single. Then they chased both Wynn and his first aid, Barry Latman, with a 7-run outburst in the fifth.

Ten Kansas City batters went to the plate as Bill Tuttle and Williams hit doubles to highlight the outburst.

Bengals Tops In Pre-Season Poll

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Louisiana State and Billy Cannon. . .Auburn and Zeke Smith . . .these are the schools and players picked from a Birmingham News poll of Southeastern Conference schools to be tops in the league at the end of the 1959 campaign.

News sports editor Zipp Newman wrote in Sunday's edition that the pre-season poll gave LSU the nod over Auburn by a mere one point—111 to 110. The poll placed Mississippi third and Georgia Tech fourth.

The other teams in the picked order of finish:

Florida. Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama, Georgia, Vanderbilt, Mississippi State and Tulane.

Cannon, the brilliant halfback from Baton Rouge, La., and Smith, the unknown guard from Uniontown, Ala., who plunged to fame at Auburn last year, headed the predicted SEC all-star lineup. They also placed in the poll on specialists.

The entire first team comes from the South.

Auburn is the only school to place three men on the all-SEC first team. Others besides Smith are center Jackie Burkett of Fort Walton Beach, Fla., and tackle Ken Rice of Bainbridge, Ga.

LSU placed two men on the team—quarterback Warren Rabb of Baton Rouge and Cannon.

The other six first team players, from as many schools:

Florida end Dave Hudson of Pensacola; Alabama guard Don Cochran of Birmingham; Georgia guard Pat Dye of Augusta; Walter Suggs, Mississippi State tackle from Hattiesburg; Kentucky end Dickie Mueller of Louisville, and these backfield men:

Vanderbilt's Tom Moore of Goodlettsville, Tenn., and Charlie Flowers, playing for Ole Miss, from Marianna, Ark.

Smith and teammate Jackie Burkett joined Floyd Faucette of Georgia Tech as double winners in the specialist poll.

The Auburn pair tied for linebacking honors—Buckett taking the offensive lineman honors and Smith the defensive lineman spot.

Faucette tied with Flowers as best blocking back and stood alone as best sideback.

Other specialists:

Passing, Bobby Franklin of Ole Miss; running, Cannon; Safetyman, Charley Britt of Georgia; offensive end, Hudson; defensive end, Mueller punter, Bobby Joe Green, Florida.

Hale Winner Of 4 Speed Bowl Events

H. L. Hale dominated the stock car races at the Monroe Speed Bowl last night as he swept to victory in four events in two types of cars.

He drove Bobby Russell's No. 1 to victory in the sportsmen's feature and also in the sportsman's trophy dash. With Odie Commungs' V-6, he won first place in the feature for "bugs" and the trophy dash for the same type of car.

Red Futch, driving Kennedy's No. 6, was second in the sportsmen's feature, and Jack Bowen was third in V-8, owned by Red Hamm.

The bug feature saw Futch home second in No. 4, owned by Mobley, Owens, and Dickeson, while Billy Bayles placed third in No. 10.

Rudolph Sent To Havana Club

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds Saturday sent pitcher Don Rudolph to their farm club at Havana in the International League. It was an outright release.

Rudolph was obtained recently along with Lou Skizas from the Chicago White Sox in a trade for outfielder Del Ennis. Skizas also was sent to Havana.

Rudolph had an 11-12 record with Indianapolis of the American Assn. last year and was 1-0 in short stay with the White Sox. He had made only a few relief pitching appearances with Cincinnati.

Cattlemen Come To Yanks' Aid With Beef Steak

MILES CITY, Mont. (AP) — Montana cattlemen came to the aid of the New York Yankees baseball team Saturday.

They sent 50 steaks to the 1958 World's Champions, now in last place in the American League. Each steak weighed 2 pounds, 12 ounces.

The steaks were sent by the Montana Stockgrowers Assn., the Montana Beef Council and the Livestock Auction Markets Assn., holding a convention here.

A resolution expressed belief the steaks for breakfast would start the Yankees on their way back to the top of the standings.

COMBINED AGES TOTAL 310

Oldtimers Tour Municipal Links

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

Time and age do not always dampen the enthusiasm of an avid golfer. A look at the Municipal golf course a few times a week would convince even the most skeptical.

An unusual foursome, representing a total of 310 years of age, regularly tours the local fairways—and turns in creditable scores. too. Composing this striking quartet are Will Washburn, Harry E. Roberts, Joe Washburn and Jack W. Warren, all of Monroe.

Dean of the Monroe links, and probably of northeast Louisiana golfing circles,is eighty-six year old Will Washburn, now in his thirtieth year as a golf enthusiast. Born in 1873 shortly after the end of the Civil War, Washburn, who still leads an active life as secretary for a supply company, plays with an 18-stroke handicap. He was secretary-treasurer for the old Monroe Grocer Company from 1903 to 1939.

Joe Washburn, brother of Will, is 78 years old and has been at the game for the past 25 years. A retired banker, Joe has a 16-stroke handicap and won first place in a handicap tournament at Bayou DeSiard Country Club in 1951.

Another 78-year-old swinger, Warren started playing golf in 1930 and carries a 16-stroke handicap. He retired in 1946 as district manager for the telephone company here.

Roberts, the "youngster" of the group at 68, began playing golf at Municipal 30 years ago and has a low eight-stroke handicap.

Assistant fire chief for the city of Monroe, Roberts has won three tournament trophies.

The city has awarded each of the four an honorary membership at Municipal, according to club professional Hugh A. Britt.

HEBERT SECOND

Veech Maintains Memphis Lead

MEMPHIS (AP)—Tom Veech, the barrel-waisted rookie pro from Milwaukee, clung to the lead in the $25,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament Saturday with a clutch 1-under-par 69 for a 36-hole total of 132.

The 265-pound 3-time winner of the Wisconsin Open kept the gallery tense with a birdie - bogie style that saw him in and out of traps and rough and barely able to summon up those crucial putts.

Veech, 29, toured the 6,501-yard, 34-36—70 Colonial Country Club course in 34-35, erasing five birdies with five bogies but rallying for another bird on the 16th. He three-putted the 18th to miss a seventh bird.

Veech had seized the lead in the first round with a 7-under-par 63 that equaled the course record. He was on the 18th green and lying 4-under-par Friday when a rainstorm washed out all scores.

Jay Hebert of Lafayette, La., his normally ecentric putter under control, hung in second place, one stroke off the pace. He added a neat 34-34—68 to his first round 66 for 133.

Al Besselink of Grossinger, N.Y. pulled in third with a 33-36—69 to complement a first-round 65 and total 134.

Money-man Art Wall Jr. of Paradise, Fla., who has stored up more prize money this year than any other pro on the circuit, stayed in position for a big run with a 34-35—69. His first round was a 66.

The rainout proved to be a reprieve for some of the pros. Doug Ford of Paradise, Fla., who had blown to a 76 Friday, settled down to a 35-35—70 which put him at the 136 bracket with Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla.

Sanders, playing smoothly consistent golf, fired a 34-34—68 to match his first round 68.

Bunched at 138 were South Africa's Gary Player, Mason Dudolph, Al Balding of Markham, Ont., Canada, Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., and Don Whitt of Borrego Spring, Calif.

Player, the 23-year-old former Australian Open champion, took advantage of the reply to wipe out the memory of Friday's 77 with a 35-33—68. He had a first-round 69.

MONROE HOSTS DUBACH

La-Ark Baseball League Openers Reset For Today

Stymied again by rain Friday night, the La-Ark amateur baseball league will open action with a full slate of games this afternoon in three towns.

Originally scheduled to begin play on May 15 and later set back to May 22, the league, somewhat a novelty in that all players hold amateur status, had opening contests Friday in Bastrop, West Monroe and Dubach washed out by rain and wet grounds.

Today's pairings send Crossett, Ark., to Bastrop, Dubach to Monroe at Legion Stadium and West Monroe to Oak Grove. Starting times for the games at Monroe and Oak Grove are 2:30 with the opener at Bastrop slated to begin at 3 p.m.

The Crossett- Bastrop affair a scheduled home game for the Arkansas team, will be played in Bastrop since a new stadium has not been completed. The club is expected to play all its games on the road until June 1.

Bastrop's elaborate opening ceremonies, featuring hundreds of free prizes to fans in attendance, has been moved back to today. Numbered among the gifts are balls autographed by major league players, free tickets and several automobiles.

Delma Ray Thompson, a right-handed flinger from the old West Carroll League, has been tagged for mound duties by Bastrop manager Leon Langston. Opposing him on the hill for Crossett is expected to be righthander Bill Withers.

Coach Bob Carter's Monroe nine, expected to be a leading contender for first place honors due to a host of fine college material, will go with ex - Northeast hurler Carroll George.

Rounding out the probable opening lineup for the locals will be Buddy O'Conner, catcher; George Bryan, first base; Eddie McGowan, second base; Phil Petras, shortstop; Ike McMullen, third base; James Mock, left field; Don Stewart, centerfield; and Louis Kincaid, right field.

Jelly Norris of Dubach will counter with righty Curtis Tubbs, a veteran of the Big Eight League.

West Monroe, a dark horse entry under Dave McKenzie, will send righthander Wayne Hendrix against Oak Grove's Charley Jarnivitch.

In next Friday's games, Dubach is at West Monroe, Monroe at Crossett and Bastrop at Oak Grove.

Petitbon Drafted; To Skip Final Year At Tulane

CHICAGO (AP) — Richie Petitbon, Tulane's versatile back, Saturday signed with the Chicago Bears.

Petitbon, the Bears' No. 2 National Football League draft choice, gave up a final season of collegiate eligibility.

He was drafted by the Bears as a "future." He attended Loyola of New Orleans in 1955 before transferring to Tulane and normally would have graduated next month although having a year of eligibility remaining.

Maureen Connolly, former U. S. and Wimbledon tennis champion, retired from tournament play after a leg injury received while horseback riding.

Junior Bowling Program Slated During Summer

Registrations are now being accepted for the first annual junior bowling program for six-to-17-year-olds who will form 12 leagues for boys and girls in "bowler" and "novice" classes and three age groups, The program, running through June, July, and August, is being conducted jointly by Bowlero Bowling Lanes and Monroe Bowling Center.

The entry deadline is June 1.

BUNNING HURLS SIX-HITTER

Tigers Take 6-4 Win Over Indians

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Bunning gave up only six hits and was backed by four home runs as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Cleveland Indians 6-4 Saturday.

Lou Berberet, Frank Bolling, Al Kaline and Rocky Bridges hit homers to help Bunning to his fifth victory against three defeats. The 27 - year - old right - hander struck out six and walked two. The blasts by Kaline and Bridges each came with a man on base in the sixth inning.

Jim Baxes, who reported to the Indians From Spokane before the game, and Minnie Minoso hit home runs for Cleveland.

Cal McLish, the first of four Cleveland pitchers, was the victim of the Tigers' home run barrage and lost his first game in six decisions.

He was lifted with none out in the sixth after Detroit had scored four runs. Charley Maxwell led off with a single and scored on Kaline's ninth homer, a drive into the left field stands. A single by Gail Harris was followed by Bridges' homer over the left field fence. Bud Podbielan, acquired by the Indians this week from San Diego, replaced McLish on the mound and retired the next three batters in order.

Berberet's homer in the third inning gave the Tigers their first run and they added another on Bolling's round-tripper in the fifth.

Baxes' homer in the seventh inning gave the Indians their first run. They added the other three in the ninth on doubles by Jim Piersall and Vic Power and Minoso's homer.

Yanks Skip Bat Practice, Snap Slump

BALTIMORE (AP) — How to break out of a batting slump is one of the unanswered questions of baseball.

The New York Yankees, in a prolonged team slump, tried the gimmick Saturday of skipping pre-game batting practice.

And if the immediate results are any indication of what is to follow, the Yanks may be ready to rise out of the American League cellar, where they were dumped last Wednesday for the first time in 19 years.

New York batters rapped four Baltimore pitchers for 16 hits, including two homers and five doubles, on their way to a 13-5 victory.

Going into the game the Yanks were batting .239 as a team, next to the lowest average in the major leagues.

Manager Casey Stengel credited Coach Frank Crosetti with promoting the idea to by-pass the batting drills.

"He's been after me for some time to let the hitters skip batting practice," Stengel said. "I almost tried it once this year up at Yankee Stadium, but the players came out early and hit anyway."

Casey said he figured the team didn't have much to lose by the experiment after Baltimore's Hoyt Wilhelm blanked them on one-hit Friday night.

It was the first time this year the Yanks had deliberately skipped batting drills, but the Yankee manager said they did the same thing a couple of years ago when the players weren't hitting and the weather was hot.

Veech Maintains Memphis Lead

MEMPHIS (AP)—Tom Veech, the barrel-waisted rookie pro from Milwaukee, clung to the lead in the $25,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament Saturday with a clutch 1-under-par 69 for a 36-hole total of 132.

The 265-pound 3-time winner of the Wisconsin Open kept the gallery tense with a birdie - bogie style that saw him in and out of traps and rough and barely able to summon up those crucial putts.

Veech, 29, toured the 6,501-yard, 34-36—70 Colonial Country Club course in 34-35, erasing five birdies with five bogies but rallying for another bird on the 16th. He three-putted the 18th to miss a seventh bird.

Veech had seized the lead in the first round with a 7-under-par 63 that equaled the course record. He was on the 18th green and lying 4-under-par Friday when a rainstorm washed out all scores.

Jay Hebert of Lafayette, La., his normally ecentric putter under control, hung in second place, one stroke off the pace. He added a neat 34-34—68 to his first round 66 for 133.

Al Besselink of Grossinger, N.Y. pulled in third with a 33-36—69 to complement a first-round 65 and total 134.

Money-man Art Wall Jr. of Paradise, Fla., who has stored up more prize money this year than any other pro on the circuit, stayed in position for a big run with a 34-35—69. His first round was a 66.

The rainout proved to be a reprieve for some of the pros. Doug Ford of Paradise, Fla., who had blown to a 76 Friday, settled down to a 35-35—70 which put him at the 136 bracket with Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla.

Sanders, playing smoothly consistent golf, fired a 34-34—68 to match his first round 68.

Bunched at 138 were South Africa's Gary Player, Mason Dudolph, Al Balding of Markham, Ont., Canada, Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., and Don Whitt of Borrego Spring, Calif.

Player, the 23-year-old former Australian Open champion, took advantage of the reply to wipe out the memory of Friday's 77 with a 35-33—68. He had a first-round 69.

MONROE HOSTS DUBACH

La-Ark Baseball League Openers Reset For Today

Stymied again by rain Friday night, the La-Ark amateur baseball league will open action with a full slate of games this afternoon in three towns.

Originally scheduled to begin play on May 15 and later set back to May 22, the league, somewhat a novelty in that all players hold amateur status, had opening contests Friday in Bastrop, West Monroe and Dubach washed out by rain and wet grounds.

Today's pairings send Crossett, Ark., to Bastrop, Dubach to Monroe at Legion Stadium and West Monroe to Oak Grove. Starting times for the games at Monroe and Oak Grove are 2:30 with the opener at Bastrop slated to begin at 3 p.m.

The Crossett- Bastrop affair a scheduled home game for the Arkansas team, will be played in Bastrop since a new stadium has not been completed. The club is expected to play all its games on the road until June 1.

Bastrop's elaborate opening ceremonies, featuring hundreds of free prizes to fans in attendance, has been moved back to today. Numbered among the gifts are balls autographed by major league players, free tickets and several automobiles.

Petitbon Drafted; To Skip Final Year At Tulane

CHICAGO (AP) — Richie Petitbon, Tulane's versatile back, Saturday signed with the Chicago Bears.

Petitbon, the Bears' No. 2 National Football League draft choice, gave up a final season of collegiate eligibility.

He was drafted by the Bears as a "future." He attended Loyola of New Orleans in 1955 before transferring to Tulane and normally would have graduated next month although having a year of eligibility remaining.

Maureen Connolly, former U. S. and Wimbledon tennis champion, retired from tournament play after a leg injury received while horseback riding.

Junior Bowling Program Slated During Summer

Registrations are now being accepted for the first annual junior bowling program for six-to-17-year-olds who will form 12 leagues for boys and girls in "bowler" and "novice" classes and three age groups, The program, running through June, July, and August, is being conducted jointly by Bowlero Bowling Lanes and Monroe Bowling Center.

The entry deadline is June 1.

Delma Ray Thompson, a right-handed flinger from the old West Carroll League, has been tagged for mound duties by Bastrop manager Leon Langston. Opposing him on the hill for Crossett is expected to be righthander Bill Withers.

Coach Bob Carter's Monroe nine, expected to be a leading contender for first place honors due to a host of fine college material, will go with ex - Northeast hurler Carroll George.

Rounding out the probable opening lineup for the locals will be Buddy O'Conner, catcher; George Bryan, first base; Eddie McGowan, second base; Phil Petras, shortstop; Ike McMullen, third base; James Mock, left field; Don Stewart, centerfield; and Louis Kincaid, right field.

Jelly Norris of Dubach will counter with righty Curtis Tubbs, a veteran of the Big Eight League.

West Monroe, a dark horse entry under Dave McKenzie, will send righthander Wayne Hendrix against Oak Grove's Charley Jarnivitch.

In next Friday's games, Dubach is at West Monroe, Monroe at Crossett and Bastrop at Oak Grove.

BUNNING HURLS SIX-HITTER

Tigers Take 6-4 Win Over Indians

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Bunning gave up only six hits and was backed by four home runs as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Cleveland Indians 6-4 Saturday.

Lou Berberet, Frank Bolling, Al Kaline and Rocky Bridges hit homers to help Bunning to his fifth victory against three defeats. The 27 - year - old right - hander struck out six and walked two. The blasts by Kaline and Bridges each came with a man on base in the sixth inning.

Jim Baxes, who reported to the Indians From Spokane before the game, and Minnie Minoso hit home runs for Cleveland.

Cal McLish, the first of four Cleveland pitchers, was the victim of the Tigers' home run barrage and lost his first game in six decisions.

He was lifted with none out in the sixth after Detroit had scored four runs. Charley Maxwell led off with a single and scored on Kaline's ninth homer, a drive into the left field stands. A single by Gail Harris was followed by Bridges' homer over the left field fence. Bud Podbielan, acquired by the Indians this week from San Diego, replaced McLish on the mound and retired the next three batters in order.

Berberet's homer in the third inning gave the Tigers their first run and they added another on Bolling's round-tripper in the fifth.

Baxes' homer in the seventh inning gave the Indians their first run. They added the other three in the ninth on doubles by Jim Piersall and Vic Power and Minoso's homer.

Yanks Skip Bat Practice, Snap Slump

BALTIMORE (AP) — How to break out of a batting slump is one of the unanswered questions of baseball.

The New York Yankees, in a prolonged team slump, tried the gimmick Saturday of skipping pre-game batting practice.

And if the immediate results are any indication of what is to follow, the Yanks may be ready to rise out of the American League cellar, where they were dumped last Wednesday for the first time in 19 years.

New York batters rapped four Baltimore pitchers for 16 hits, including two homers and five doubles, on their way to a 13-5 victory.

Going into the game the Yanks were batting .239 as a team, next to the lowest average in the major leagues.

Manager Casey Stengel credited Coach Frank Crosetti with promoting the idea to by-pass the batting drills.

"He's been after me for some time to let the hitters skip batting practice," Stengel said. "I almost tried it once this year up at Yankee Stadium, but the players came out early and hit anyway."

Casey said he figured the team didn't have much to lose by the experiment after Baltimore's Hoyt Wilhelm blanked them on one-hit Friday night.

It was the first time this year the Yanks had deliberately skipped batting drills, but the Yankee manager said they did the same thing a couple of years ago when the players weren't hitting and the weather was hot.

16-HIT ATTACK

Slumbering Yanks Ignite For 13-5 Win Over Orioles

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP) — The slumbering World Champion New York Yankees issued an ominous warning from the American League basement Saturday in crushing the Baltimore Orioles 13-5 behind a 16-hit barrage.

After skipping pre-game batting practice for the first time this season, the Yanks looked like the bombers of old with five doubles and homers by Bill Skowron and Mickey Mantle included in the attack.

The Yanks chased Oriole starter Milt Pappas with a four-run first inning rally and whacked Jack Harshman for seven more runs in the next two frames for an 11-0 lead.

The Orioles trailed 13-0 before rookie Willie Tasby hit the first of his two homers off winning pitcher Don Larsen in the fifth inning. Tasby hit another homer—his fifth of the year—after Joe Ginsberg singled in the seventh.

Larsen, a former Oriole, upped his record to 4-0 as he scored his 11th straight victory over Baltimore. In the past 18 games as New York tumbled to the cellar, Larsen has been the only pitcher to go the distance. This time he came out after seven innings after the game was wrapped up.

Larsen, Mantle and Elston Howard led the persistent attack with three hits each, and each drove in a pair of runs. Skowron, Tony Kubek and Yogi Berra each had two hits.

Skowron, who returned to action Friday after being out two weeks with an injured leg, hit a three-run homer in the second. That was Skowron's sixth. Mantle's solo blast, his seventh of the year, finished the Yankee scoring in the fifth.

Despite the rollicking victory which ended a four-game losing streak, the Yanks remained in the basement as seventh-place Detroit beat Cleveland 6-4.

Except for Tasby's personal assault—he drove in a fourth run when he grounded out in the ninth—the Orioles had trouble generating a rally despite 10 hits and four walks.

Oriole Manager Paul Richards was ejected from the game in the first inning by plate umpire Frank Tabacchi after disputing a pitch to Kubek. It was the second time this year Richards has been thrown out.

COACH OF YEAR

Hinton Has Won 7 Titles At Tech

RUSTON LA. (Special)—Louisiana Tech baseball coach Berry Hinton, who was named Gulf States conference coach of the year for the second straight time, has won seven championships in the 15 years he has been at the helm of Tech baseball teams.

The 1959 team compiled the best record in Hinton's tour with an 18-6 record and 12 wins and three losses in winning the GSC title.

Hinton, a former Tech basketball and baseball star, has won 164 games and lost only 97 for a good .628 percentage while at the Tech helm.

His conference record is even better, having won 123 against only 55 losses for a .691 percentage.

His teams won the old Louisiana Intercollegiate conference titles in 1945, 46, 47, and 48 and have copped first place in the GSC in 1954, 58 and 59. Only three members of his present club graduate, with the rest due back for another year.

Hinton refuses to compare his team when asked which is the best he ever coached. He will admit that J. W. Mercer (1.71 ERA), Sonny Parker (1.98 ERA), and Gareth Methvin (3.08 ERA) gave him about as good a mound staff as anybody could ask.

His 1958 club had a team batting average of .345 and his 1959 crew hit an overall .284. However, the 1959 aggregation was loaded with power hitters, as Bulldog batsmen slammed 30 homers in 24 games.

Mercer, the hard-throwing right-hander, went to bat only 28 times, but had 12 hits for a .426 batting average, including five homers, a triple and double.

Jim Orton, sophomore second baseman, hit .327 and slammed eight homers, a new Tech record. Third Sacker Wade Scott hit .345 and hit six homers. Mercer had five homers, Centerfielder Charlie Garris six, some the tape-measure type, and First Baseman Jack Moreland four.

Before the season ended, it reached the point that the top row of the bleachers behind the plate became known as the scouts' row. As many as nine major league ivory hunters were present at one game.

Hot Cardinals Take 5-1 Win Over Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Larry Jackson tied up the Chicago Cubs on four hits Saturday in steering the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-1 victory, their sixth in their last seven games.

Ken Boyer contributed his ninth home run, a blast to the left field catwalk with Stan Musial aboard in the fourth.

Loser Dave Hillman took his third setback in five games. It was Jackson's third win against five losses.

The Cardinals, who have won 21 of their last 28 with the Cubs, clobbered Bob Porterfield, Hillman's successor, for three more runs in the sixth.

Musial singled for the first run off Porterfield before Joe Cunningham's safety off lefty Seth Morehead, Porterfield's successor, powered in the final pair.

Irv Noren, secured earlier in the week by the Cubs fom St. Louis in exchange for Chick King, made his first start for Chicago in center field. He stroked the Cubs' first extra base hit in 29 innings, a two-out double in the sixth.

BILL BARNEY

MONDAY NIGHT

Zybysko, Barney Clash For Crown

After a short layoff from ring action, West Monroe's Bill Barney tangles with Louisiana Champion Firpo Zybysko in a battle for the crown at the B&B Arena Monday night.

The attractive wrestling card also features a semifinal match between a couple of female grapplers, China Mira and Cecile Blievens, and a 20-minute opener matching Frankie Kovak and Duke Scarbo.

Zybysko, running rampant in wrestling circles of late, was challenged by Barney last week after the West Monroe mechanic became irritated with tactics he used to win.

Scarbo, formerly known as the Black Menace, appeared to give Zybysko a helping hand as the referee in last week's bout with Kovac and will be replaced by Al Massey, a mat veteran, in the official's role.

Calmed down somewhat after his verbal blast last week, Barney said yesterday he may have acted "a bit hasty" in his challenge for the title match and is not so confident now. However he feels with the backing of his local fan contingent to boost his confidence he may show the champ a thing or two.

Zybysko has brought on the wrath of fans in recent appearances and in addition to the championship at stake, he wants the chance to make Bill eat his words of last week.

The main event will be scheduled over a 90-minute time limit with the semifinal women's scrap slated for 60 minutes. Both will be the best of three falls. The Kovak and Scarbo will be a one-fall bout.

Six-Run 11th Gives Nats 10-4 Decision

BOSTON (AP) — Washington scored six runs in the 11th inning Saturday, two of them on Jim Lemon's homer, for a 10-4 victory over Boston.

Murray Wall, who had been untouchable since relieving Frank Sullivan in the eighth, was the victim of the Washington outburst which halted a Senators' losing streak at five.

Red Sox shortstop Don Buddin hit a solo homer with one out in the last of the ninth to prolong the contest.

Bob Allison, who had hit his ninth homer in the fourth inning, opened the 11th with a single. Harmon Killebrew followed with a single but Ted Williams threw Allison out at second when the latter rounded the bag too far.

Then it was a Lemon homer, back to back doubles by Julio Becquer and Faye Throneberry and a walk to Ron Samford before Mike Fornieles replaced Wall with just one out.

Ed FitzGerald promptly doubled, winning pitcher Tex Clevenger tagged a sacrifice fly and Reno Bertoia singled before Allison struck out as the 10th senator to bat in the inning.

Trailing 4-0, Boston got to starter Pete Ramos in the seventh for one run on a single by Pete Daley and two more in the eighth on a double by Williams and Jensen's single.

With the potential tying run on base and two out in the eighth, Clevenger replaced Ramos and fanned Dick Gernert — the Sox leading hitter.

Pirates Poke Long Balls To Nip Reds, 6-5

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates got their home run bats booming Saturday for a 6-5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. It was the third straight triumph for the Pirates since Manager Danny Murtaugh reshuffled his starting line-up in St. Louis this week.

The Pirates got their scores in the first two innings and just managed to hang on.

A tremendous catch by Bill Virdon on a drive to deep center by Frank Robinson was the bases full in the Cincinnati seventh was the game-saver.

Virdon earlier had produced the winning tallies with a three-run homer to the right in the second inning. It was his second of the season.

Before that, the Pirates had counted in the first on a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly, for one run, and Bob Skinner's No. 5 homer for two more.

Cincinnati also got some home run mileage, with Robinson stroking his ninth in the fourth.

Two more Cincinnati runs came home in the seventh of a triple, single and an infield out. With three men aboard, Robinson unlimbered a tremendous drive that Virdon caught racing at full speed.

Vada Pinson tripled in the ninth and scored on Jerry Lynch's single before Ron Blackburn took over the Pittsburgh pitching for the final two outs.

OWENS GAINS WIN

Phillies Topple Milwaukee, 4-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Light-hitting Jim Hegan drove in three runs and Jim Owens scattered five hits Saturday to give cellar dwelling Philadelphia a 4-2 over the Nation League leading Milwaukee Braves.

Hegan, batting only .133 before the game, doubled home Willie Jones and Sparky Anderson in the second inning after both had walked. Then Anderson, Jones and Hegan singled in succession in the fourth for the third and clinching run.

The Phillies wrapped it up in the fifth on Ed Bouchee's double and Harry Anderson's single.

Milwaukee led only once, on Johnny Logan's solo home run, his fourth of the year, in the top of the second. The Other Braves' score came in the sixth on Billy Bruton's single, Ed Mathews' double and a fielder's choice by Hank Aaron.

Aaron, the league's leading hitter, got only an infield single in four cracks at Owens.

Milwaukee southpaw Warren Spahn was driven from the mound in the fourth inning after giving up five hits and the first three Phillie tallies.

All told, Hegan had a double and two singles and Bouchee two doubles and single. The Phils backed up their 13-hit attack with three double plays and were errorless afield.

Bucs' Clemente Out Indefinitely

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Outfielder Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates has been ordered to carry his right arm in a sling and is out of action for an indefinite period.

The Puerto Rican was examined Saturday by club physician Dr. Joseph Finegold and Dr. A.B. Ferguson. His arm was X-rayed and the tests showed he has a swollen and thickened capsule, which is the soft tissue at the elbow joint. It causes severe pain and prevents complete mobility of the arm.

ANNOUNCING . . .
MONROE'S FIRST ANNUAL
JUNIOR BOWLING PROGRAM
For BOYS And GIRLS
Starting JUNE 1st—Ending AUG. 21st

- Junior Leagues, ages 6 thru 17, are now being formed in both of Monroe's Bowling Establishments to begin June 1st. Instructors will be on duty at all times to teach the junior bowlers who do not know how to bowl and also to help those that do.
- Each month bowlers in these leagues will be eligible to enter a twosome tournament with an adult partner. This partner can be a member of the family or any adult that the junior bowler may select. The junior bowlers will be divided into three divisions:
  - the BANTAM DIVISION, ages 6 thru 9
  - the JUNIOR DIVISION, ages 10 thru 13
  - the SENIOR DIVISION, ages 14 thru 17
- It is not necessary that the adult be an experienced bowler because within each division there will be two classes, the novice and bowler class. The adult determines which class the junior will bowl in, depending on whether or not the adult has a 1958-59 average or is a novice. First and second place trophies will be awarded to the winners in each division and each class.
- The winners of the three monthly twosome tournaments will bowl in a house tournament on August 22nd. The winners of the house tournament will receive trophies and be eligible to enter the City Tournament, September 12th to establish the city champions. First and second place trophies will also be awarded in each class within each division to the winners of the city tournament.
- Winners of all tournaments will be decided on pins bowled above their average, thus making it possible for low average bowlers to compete against bowlers with higher averages.

All Boys and Girls who are interested in bowling in this program fill out the form below and take it to the Bowling Establishment in which you desire to bowl. Out of town entries are invited!

16-HIT ATTACK

Slumbering Yanks Ignite For 13-5 Win Over Orioles

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP) — The slumbering World Champion New York Yankees issued an ominous warning from the American League basement Saturday in crushing the Baltimore Orioles 13-5 behind a 16-hit barrage.

After skipping pre-game batting practice for the first time this season, the Yanks looked like the bombers of old with five doubles and homers by Bill Skowron and Mickey Mantle included in the attack.

The Yanks chased Oriole starter Milt Pappas with a four-run first inning rally and whacked Jack Harshman for seven more runs in the next two frames for an 11-0 lead.

The Orioles trailed 13-0 before rookie Willie Tasby hit the first of his two homers off winning pitcher Don Larsen in the fifth inning. Tasby hit another homer—his fifth of the year—after Joe Ginsberg singled in the seventh.

Larsen, a former Oriole, upped his record to 4-0 as he scored his 11th straight victory over Baltimore. In the past 18 games as New York tumbled to the cellar, Larsen has been the only pitcher to go the distance. This time he came out after seven innings after the game was wrapped up.

Larsen, Mantle and Elston Howard led the persistent attack with three hits each, and each drove in a pair of runs. Skowron, Tony Kubek and Yogi Berra each had two hits.

Skowron, who returned to action Friday after being out two weeks with an injured leg, hit a three-run homer in the second. That was Skowron's sixth. Mantle's solo blast, his seventh of the year, finished the Yankee scoring in the fifth.

Despite the rollicking victory which ended a four-game losing streak, the Yanks remained in the basement as seventh-place Detroit beat Cleveland 6-4.

Except for Tasby's personal assault—he drove in a fourth run when he grounded out in the ninth—the Orioles had trouble generating a rally despite 10 hits and four walks.

Oriole Manager Paul Richards was ejected from the game in the first inning by plate umpire Frank Tabacchi after disputing a pitch to Kubek. It was the second time this year Richards has been thrown out.

COACH OF YEAR

Hinton Has Won 7 Titles At Tech

RUSTON LA. (Special)—Louisiana Tech baseball coach Berry Hinton, who was named Gulf States conference coach of the year for the second straight time, has won seven championships in the 15 years he has been at the helm of Tech baseball teams.

The 1959 team compiled the best record in Hinton's tour with an 18-6 record and 12 wins and three losses in winning the GSC title.

Hinton, a former Tech basketball and baseball star, has won 164 games and lost only 97 for a good .628 percentage while at the Tech helm.

His conference record is even better, having won 123 against only 55 losses for a .691 percentage.

His teams won the old Louisiana Intercollegiate conference titles in 1945, 46, 47, and 48 and have copped first place in the GSC in 1954, 58 and 59. Only three members of his present club graduate, with the rest due back for another year.

Hinton refuses to compare his team when asked which is the best he ever coached. He will admit that J. W. Mercer (1.71 ERA), Sonny Parker (1.98 ERA), and Gareth Methvin (3.08 ERA) gave him about as good a mound staff as anybody could ask.

His 1958 club had a team batting average of .345 and his 1959 crew hit an overall .284. However, the 1959 aggregation was loaded with power hitters, as Bulldog batsmen slammed 30 homers in 24 games.

Mercer, the hard-throwing right-hander, went to bat only 28 times, but had 12 hits for a .426 batting average, including five homers, a triple and double.

Jim Orton, sophomore second baseman, hit .327 and slammed eight homers, a new Tech record. Third Sacker Wade Scott hit .345 and hit six homers. Mercer had five homers, Centerfielder Charlie Garris six, some the tape-measure type, and First Baseman Jack Moreland four.

Before the season ended, it reached the point that the top row of the bleachers behind the plate became known as the scouts' row. As many as nine major league ivory hunters were present at one game.

Hot Cardinals Take 5-1 Win Over Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Larry Jackson tied up the Chicago Cubs on four hits Saturday in steering the St. Louis Cardinals to a 5-1 victory, their sixth in their last seven games.

Ken Boyer contributed his ninth home run, a blast to the left field catwalk with Stan Musial aboard in the fourth.

Loser Dave Hillman took his third setback in five games. It was Jackson's third win against five losses.

The Cardinals, who have won 21 of their last 28 with the Cubs, clobbered Bob Porterfield, Hillman's successor, for three more runs in the sixth.

Musial singled for the first run off Porterfield before Joe Cunningham's safety off lefty Seth Morehead, Porterfield's successor, powered in the final pair.

Irv Noren, secured earlier in the week by the Cubs fom St. Louis in exchange for Chick King, made his first start for Chicago in center field. He stroked the Cubs' first extra base hit in 29 innings, a two-out double in the sixth.

BILL BARNEY

MONDAY NIGHT

Zybysko, Barney Clash For Crown

After a short layoff from ring action, West Monroe's Bill Barney tangles with Louisiana Champion Firpo Zybysko in a battle for the crown at the B&B Arena Monday night.

The attractive wrestling card also features a semifinal match between a couple of female grapplers, China Mira and Cecile Blievens, and a 20-minute opener matching Frankie Kovak and Duke Scarbo.

Zybysko, running rampant in wrestling circles of late, was challenged by Barney last week after the West Monroe mechanic became irritated with tactics he used to win.

Scarbo, formerly known as the Black Menace, appeared to give Zybysko a helping hand as the referee in last week's bout with Kovac and will be replaced by Al Massey, a mat veteran, in the official's role.

Calmed down somewhat after his verbal blast last week, Barney said yesterday he may have acted "a bit hasty" in his challenge for the title match and is not so confident now. However he feels with the backing of his local fan contingent to boost his confidence he may show the champ a thing or two.

Zybysko has brought on the wrath of fans in recent appearances and in addition to the championship at stake, he wants the chance to make Bill eat his words of last week.

The main event will be scheduled over a 90-minute time limit with the semifinal women's scrap slated for 60 minutes. Both will be the best of three falls. The Kovak and Scarbo will be a one-fall bout.

Six-Run 11th Gives Nats 10-4 Decision

BOSTON (AP) — Washington scored six runs in the 11th inning Saturday, two of them on Jim Lemon's homer, for a 10-4 victory over Boston.

Murray Wall, who had been untouchable since relieving Frank Sullivan in the eighth, was the victim of the Washington outburst which halted a Senators' losing streak at five.

Red Sox shortstop Don Buddin hit a solo homer with one out in the last of the ninth to prolong the contest.

Bob Allison, who had hit his ninth homer in the fourth inning, opened the 11th with a single. Harmon Killebrew followed with a single but Ted Williams threw Allison out at second when the latter rounded the bag too far.

Then it was a Lemon homer, back to back doubles by Julio Becquer and Faye Throneberry and a walk to Ron Samford before Mike Fornieles replaced Wall with just one out.

Ed FitzGerald promptly doubled, winning pitcher Tex Clevenger tagged a sacrifice fly and Reno Bertoia singled before Allison struck out as the 10th senator to bat in the inning.

Trailing 4-0, Boston got to starter Pete Ramos in the seventh for one run on a single by Pete Daley and two more in the eighth on a double by Williams and Jensen's single.

With the potential tying run on base and two out in the eighth, Clevenger replaced Ramos and fanned Dick Gernert — the Sox leading hitter.

Pirates Poke Long Balls To Nip Reds, 6-5

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates got their home run bats booming Saturday for a 6-5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. It was the third straight triumph for the Pirates since Manager Danny Murtaugh reshuffled his starting line-up in St. Louis this week.

The Pirates got their scores in the first two innings and just managed to hang on.

A tremendous catch by Bill Virdon on a drive to deep center by Frank Robinson was the bases full in the Cincinnati seventh was the game-saver.

Virdon earlier had produced the winning tallies with a three-run homer to the right in the second inning. It was his second of the season.

Before that, the Pirates had counted in the first on a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly, for one run, and Bob Skinner's No. 5 homer for two more.

Cincinnati also got some home run mileage, with Robinson stroking his ninth in the fourth.

Two more Cincinnati runs came home in the seventh of a triple, single and an infield out. With three men aboard, Robinson unlimbered a tremendous drive that Virdon caught racing at full speed.

Vada Pinson tripled in the ninth and scored on Jerry Lynch's single before Ron Blackburn took over the Pittsburgh pitching for the final two outs.

OWENS GAINS WIN

Phillies Topple Milwaukee, 4-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Light-hitting Jim Hegan drove in three runs and Jim Owens scattered five hits Saturday to give cellar dwelling Philadelphia a 4-2 over the Nation League leading Milwaukee Braves.

Hegan, batting only .133 before the game, doubled home Willie Jones and Sparky Anderson in the second inning after both had walked. Then Anderson, Jones and Hegan singled in succession in the fourth for the third and clinching run.

The Phillies wrapped it up in the fifth on Ed Bouchee's double and Harry Anderson's single.

Milwaukee led only once, on Johnny Logan's solo home run, his fourth of the year, in the top of the second. The Other Braves' score came in the sixth on Billy Bruton's single, Ed Mathews' double and a fielder's choice by Hank Aaron.

Aaron, the league's leading hitter, got only an infield single in four cracks at Owens.

Milwauke southpaw Warren Spahn was driven from the mound in the fourth inning after giving up five hits and the first three Phillie tallies.

All told, Hegan had a double and two singles and Bouchee two doubles and single. The Phils backed up their 13-hit attack with three double plays and were errorless afield.

Bucs' Clemente Out Indefinitely

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Outfielder Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates has been ordered to carry his right arm in a sling and is out of action for an indefinite period.

The Puerto Rican was examined Saturday by club physician Dr. Joseph Finegold and Dr. A.B. Ferguson. His arm was X-rayed and the tests showed he has a swollen and thickened capsule, which is the soft tissue at the elbow joint. It causes severe pain and prevents complete mobility of the arm.

ANNOUNCING . . .
MONROE'S FIRST ANNUAL
JUNIOR BOWLING PROGRAM
For BOYS And GIRLS
Starting JUNE 1st—Ending AUG. 21st

- Junior Leagues, ages 6 thru 17, are now being formed in both of Monroe's Bowling Establishments to begin June 1st. Instructors will be on duty at all times to teach the junior bowlers who do not know how to bowl and also to help those that do.
- Each month bowlers in these leagues will be eligible to enter a twosome tournament with an adult partner. This partner can be a member of the family or any adult that the junior bowler may select. The junior bowler will be divided into three divisions:
  - the BANTAM DIVISION, ages 6 thru 9
  - the JUNIOR DIVISION, ages 10 thru 13
  - the SENIOR DIVISION, ages 14 thru 17
- It is not necessary that the adult be an experienced bowler because within each division there will be two classes, the novice and bowler class. The adult determines which class the junior will bowl in, depending on whether or not the adult has a 1958-59 average or is a novice. First and second place trophies will be awarded to the winners in each division and each class.
- The winners of the three monthly twosome tournaments will bowl in a house tournament on August 22nd. The winners of the house tournament will receive trophies and be eligible to enter the City Tournament, September 12th to establish the city champions. First and second place trophies will also be awarded in each class within each division to the winners of the city tournament.
- Winners of all tournaments will be decided on pins bowled above their average, thus making it possible for low average bowlers to compete against bowlers with higher averages.

All Boys and Girls who are interested in bowling in this program fill out the form below and take it to the Bowling Establishment in which you desire to bowl. Out of town entries are invited!

Grambling To Play 2 Foes In Shreveport

GRAMBLING, LA (Special) — Grambling College will play two games in Shreveport during the 1959 season, Coach Eddie Robinson announced Saturday.

The Tigers tangle with Wiley Oct. 19 and grapple Prairie View in the annual Louisiana State Fair classic Oct. 26.

Robinson said each game will serve as a prolog to the other.

Talent-laden Paririe View makes its initial appearance in the state fair contest. The defending national Negro champions are expected to add cross-state spice to a spirited rivalry already steeped in tradition.

Robinsin said he regretted the late schedule change, but added that it became necessary when the Louisiana State Fair announced new exposition dates. Wiley has been Grambling's state fair opponent for eight years. The 1959 game will be played a week later.

Story lines for both games are sufficiently different to warrant good suspense. They will probably be the subject of a lot of tongue wagging during the sultry summer minths, he averred.

Grambling is anxious to make amends for the 44-6 drubbing it took from the Panthers last fall.

As usual. Wiley will have championship expereince and contender type talent.

New Wildcat Coaches

Gene Knecht, left, head coach and athletic director, and Ed Thompson, first assistant coach, have been employed by Winnsboro High School to replace Philip Poole and Glyn Ebarb who resigned last week. Knecht was coach at Coushatta High School 1952 through 1958 where his teams had a record of 56 wins against 14 defeats. Coushatta also copped the 1-B title in 1956 and 1957, then moved up to district 1-A where they swept top honors last year. Thompson has been assistant coach under Knecht since 1956. Both coaches plan to move to Winnsboro soon. (Photo by Otis Hassel)

Fishing Contest Scheduled Here

The fifth annual Louisiana Fresh - Water Fishing Rodeo, conducted statewide by the Louisiana State Council of Knights of Columbus, will be held at Black Bayou Lakes near here June 13 - 14, it has been announced by George Tonore, Monroe, rodeo chairman.

The contest, exclusive for KC members, will work out of Shorty Payne's boat dock on Black Bayou, Tonore said, and the list of awards include grand prize for the largest catch of all type of game fish with points awarded for each fish caught and each pound of weight; the three largest catches of bass, bream, and white perch, the largest catfish, and the heaviest gar.

A liar's contest will be a feature after - fishing program with a special award for the "tallest tale of fishing adventure." The windies will be told at a buffet supper the night of June 13.

"The Monroe council is inviting brother Knights from all over the state to our fishing grounds over the 3,000 acres of beautiful Black Bayou Lake," declared Frank Anzalone, grand knight of the Monroe KC. "No stone has been left unturned to provide the necessary ingredients for a successful fishing event."

The Ouachita Unit of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation will assist in sponsoring the event, Tonore reported.

The KC fishing rodeo program was announced by Tonore as follows:

June 13 — Registration at KC Home on Oliver Road, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; fishing begins at Black Bayou, 12 noon; fishing ends for the day, 7 p.m.; buffet supper and "tall tales" contest at KC Home, 8:30.

June 14 — Mass, Church of Jesus, the Good Shepherd, KC Home, 4 a.m.; breakfast at KC Home, 5 a.m.; fishing begins for day, 5:30 a.m.; fishing officially ends and all participants must be at the weighing station, 12 noon; barbecue dinner, KC Home, 1 p.m.

Louisiana fishing laws must be followed, and all contestants must register with the rodeo committee before taking any fish.

Intentionally Cops First In Withers Mile

NEW YORK (AP)—Intentionally, a black colt owned by the Brookfield Farms of Harry Isaacs, overtook the pace-setting Crafty Skipper on the turn for home Saturday and went on to capture the $90,650 Withers Mile at Belmont Park by 3 lengths.

Emil Dolce's Manassa Mauler, who upset First Landing in the Wood Memorial last month, finished second. Howard F. Keck's Bagdad, an invader from California tracks, came up from far back to collect third money, 4½ lengths back of Manassa Mauler. The Charfran Stable's Crafty Skipper, the favorite of the crowd of 37,337, finished seventh after setting the early pace.

Manuel Ycaza, the Panamanian jockey who replaced the suspended Bill Hartack, rode Intentionally.

Thirteen 3-year-olds started in the 84th running of the Withers.

Intentionally and Crafty Skipper broke in front from the gate, but Bobby Ussery soon had The Skipper in front as they scooted down the backstretch. Robert S. Lytle's Sundown 2nd was third back of Intentionally.

Going into the far turn with about a half-mile remaining, Crafty Skipper still led by about 2 lengths over Intentionally, but the Rokeby Stable's Seven Corners had moved into third.

Ycaza then sent Intentionally around Crafty Skipper turning for home with about a quarter of a mile to travel, and the speedy son of Intent-My Recipe, by Discovery, drew off to win in a snappy 1:35 3-5, making this the fastest Withers ever run.

The winner, who carried 126 pounds, paid $7.50, $4.40 and $3.60. Manassa Mauler returned $11.20 and $7.10, and Bagdad, coupled with Seven Corners, returned $6.90.

LOHMAN BREAKS HAND

Cook, Boudreaux To Clash Tuesday

Clarence Cook, who won a unanimous decision over state welter champ Johnny McKoin two weeks ago in a non-title bout, has agreed to meet Al Boudreaux in Tuesday's main event at B & B Arena, co - promoter Joe Knighten announced yesterday.

Cook, who won an unanimous decision over Louisiana welterweigh champion Johnny McKoin in a non - title bout a couple of weeks ago, will replace Lou Lohman of Yountstown, Ohio, as Boudreaux's foe.

Lohman broke a bone in a hand Saturday morning, Knighten said, and would be unable to fight.

Knighten said the Cook - Boudreaux match is scheduled for 10 rounds instead of the 12 Al and Lohman were slated to go.

The winner will meet Tony Dupas here in two weeks, Knighten said.

"I have Dupas' promise that he'll fight here," Knighten said, "although he hasn't signed a contract yet."

Dupas, of New Orleans, is considered one of the top young welterweights in the South.

The 28 - year - old Cook, his career on the upswing again after his impressive win over McKoin, said he was glad to get another crack at Boudreaux and expected to win convincingly.

Cook won a unanimous decision over Boudreaux at the local arena several months ago. He is expected to come in at around 150 pounds to Boudreaux's 147.

Dewayne Garris of Monroe, who scored a TKO over Ken Gray of Cotton Valley in his last start here, will meet Leon Langley of Greenville, Miss., in a six - round rematch in the Tuesday night semifinal. Both boys are light heavyweights.

A trio of four - round prelims complete the card, promoted by Knighten and A. R. Scott. Unbeaten Ladell Pate, looking for his 17th straight after whipping Dennis Boney in an unpopular decision two weeks ago, takes on capable Jimmy Herman of New Orleans in the feature prelim, a battle of lightweights.

Winnfield's Sherman Roberts making his second pro start after a distinguished amateur career, will meet another New Orleans boy, Carlas Sarvdra, in a welterweight clash.

Two colored middleweights, Alex Hall of Monroe and James Fountion of Baton Rouge, tangle in the other four - rounder.

Advance tickets are currently on sale at B & B Arena and at Finks Men's Store on DeSiard street. Ringside seats will sell for $3.00, reserved seats for $2.50 general admission for $1.50 and children under 12 will be admitted for 50 cents.

About 20 million tons of fish are caught in the world each year for commercial purposes.

Church Debt Liquidated

The Rev. Wayne Gray, pastor of the Covenant Presbyterian Church, left, and H. D. Touchstone, treasurer, burn mortgage on building which congregation had paid in full in five year period.

Loan Payment Celebrated At Local Church

A mortgage - burning ceremony indicating the initial loan had been paid in full, was held last week at the Covenant Presbyterian Church, according to the Rev. Wayne Gray, pastor.

The ceremony, held at the Wednesday evening fellowship supper, commemorated payment of the last installment of $60,000 which was borrowed in 1954 at the time the first units of the church building were constructed. Rev. Gray and H. D. Touchstone, church treasurer, presided at the burning of the note — a certified true copy of the document.

With the payment of the mortgage completed, further plans are underway for the church's expansion program, Rev. Gary said. He noted new pews had been added to the present sanctuary and construction had already begun on a vestibule, additional Sunday School space and a fellowship hall.

In addition, larger parking lots are being constructed on the church property which includes two city blocks at 1901 Milton street in Monroe.

Virgin Birth Controversy Flares Anew

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

The long controversy surrounding the 100-year-old Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., flamed anew at the Southern Baptist Convention's annual meeting during the past week.

The seminary, oldest in the denomination, made news last year when 13 of its 44 professors were fired in an apparently insoluble disagreement with its president, the Rev. Dr. Duke K. McCall.

As a result, the seminary faces loss of its accreditation by the American Assn. of Theological Schools, and Southern Baptists are thinking of withdrawing all six of their seminaries from the association.

Last week, at the denomination's Louisville convention, the Rev. James S. Bulman of East Spencer, N.C., a frequent critic of Southern Baptist procedures, leveled a new charge against the embattled seminary.

He said he has "what I consider clear and conclusive evidence" that the seminary is teaching that Christ's virgin birth and resurrection may be looked upon as myths — a contradiction of Southern Baptist doctrine.

Dr. McCall has denied that the seminary departs from the orthodox theological position.

Meanwhile the United Presbyterian Cruch in the U. S. A., meeting in Indianapolis, announced plans to evangelize an unspecified Midwestern city through the use of newspaper advertising.

Dr. Glenn Warner Moore, secretary of the denomination's general council, said the same type of project was tried on a nondenominational basis in Rochester, N.Y., with gratifying results.

"We want to interest people in Christianity — not just the Presbyterian church," he said. "in planning these ads we are thinking of people we never see in church."

Monroe District Winners Named In Essay Contest

W. B. Glover, state chairman of the Methodist essay contest, on the topic "What I Expect of a Christian College," said that he had been notified by Norman Rushing, district lay leader of Monroe, that three Winnsboro High school seniors had won the three top places in the Monroe district.

Harriet Kincaid won the first place award of $50, and her essay will be entered in the state contest; Tommy Hatfield won the second place prize of $30, and June Wiley won third place and $20. The state winner will receive a $450 scholarship to Centenary College at Shreveport.

This essay contest is sponsored by the Louisiana Conference of the Methodist church in cooperation with the commission on higher education.

BISHOP FRANKLIN

Will Address Conference

Bishop Marvin Franklin of Jackson, Mississippi, president of the Council of Bishops of the worldwide Methodist Church will be conference preacher at the 114th annual session of the Louisiana Conference of the Methodist Church, to be held May 26-29 at Centenary College, Shreveport, according to Bishop Paul E. Martin, Little Rock, Arkansas, who will preside over the conference sessions.

The 65-year-old Bishop Franklin was elected bishop of the Jackson area, comprising both the Mississippi and north Mississippi conferences, 1948.

He is president of the board of trustees of Millsaps College in Jackson ;and a member of the boards of trustees of Emory University in Atlanta, Ga., and Rust College in Holly Springs, Mississippi.

He also is a member of the Methodist General Board of Education; The Methodist Television, Radio and Film Commission and the Commission on Promotion and Cultivation of the Methodist Church.

In 1947, Bishop Franklin visited India, Southern Europe and the Holy Land on an official tour of Methodist work. On July 1, he and Mrs. Franklin will begin a tour of Europe and North Africa.

Dr. Joe J. Mickle, Centenary College president; Dr. Leonard Cooke, vice - president; and Dr. Jolly B. Harper of Shreveport, district superintendent, will be hosts for the conference.

Pre - conference meetings of boards, commissions, and the bishop's cabinet are scheduled tomorrow, beginning at 6:00 p.m. The conference will convene for organization and preliminary business at 9:00 a.m. Tuesday. Business sessions and reports are scheduled for each day. All business sessions will be held in the Brown Memorial Chapel on the Centenary College campus, and evening services will be held at the First Methodist Church. Host pastor is Dr. D. L. Dykes, Jr.

St. Vincent's Fund Drive Is Approved Here

A city-wide campaign for funds for the new St. Vincent's Mother House in Shreveport has been authorized by Bishop Charles P. Greco, Bishop of Alexandria, and the Righ Reverend Msgr. J. C. Marsh, dean.

A campaign for the new St. Vincent's Academy is presently being conducted in the Shreveport area where the buildings will be located. Plans are to build a new high school, and a new Mother House at a cost of $1,200,000. The present building at St. Vincent's, which will be abandoned, houses the high school, grade school, and living quarters for the Sisters and boarders. Funds for the new high school are being donated by the Catholics residing in the Shreveport-Bossier City area, and by the Alumnae of St. Vincent's, and other localities where the Daughters of the Cross furnish teachers for schools, namely in Marksville, Lake Providence, Moureauville, and Monroe. The congregation of the Daughters of the Cross, which dates from the 17th century in France and which was founded for the work of education, came to Monroe in 1866 to take charge of St. Hyacinth's Academy, which is now St. Matthew Parochial School.

New Project Initiated By Episcopalians

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Episcopal churches across the nation will take a special offering Sunday (May 24) for a missionary project that would have given Dr. Livingston quite a start.

The dimes and dollars contributed by thousands of individual Americans will be used to buy an atomic research reactor for a Japanese University.

The project was authorized by the Episcopal general convention last October. It has caught the imagination of many people who are not ordinarily interested in missionary work. A number of prominent scientists, educators and high government officials have volunteered their services to help carry it out.

Dr. William G. Pollard, director of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, an ordained Episcopal priest who spends his week ends as pastor of a small Tennessee church, made a special trip to Japan to work out details of the gift.

The reactor will be presented to St. Paul's University in Tokyo, an 80-year-old Christian institution sponsored by the Anglican Church of Japan. A U. S. firm, the General Dynamics Corp., will build and install the reactor at a cost of $360,000.

St. Paul's University, which has a distinguished physics department plans to use the reactor for research and for production of radioisotopes which are valuable in treatment of cancer and many other diseases. But its primary use will be educational—to train young technicians for the atomic power industry which the Japanese government is trying to launch. Because conventional electric power is expensive in Japan, the country is one of the few in which atomic power is already economically feasible.

The State Department and the Atomic Energy Commission have enthusiastically endorsed the whole idea as a major contribution to the U. S. "Atoms for peace" program.

But is it proper for a church to make such a gift? Is this really the sort of thing that can be called a christian missionary project?

Episcopal leaders anticipated those questions, and prepared a pamphlet to answer them.

"In the judgment of those in the mission field," it says, "this is the single most dramatic and valuable contribution our church could make to the missionary work in Japan and in the Far East.

"Through this gift, American Christians have an opportunity to share the potential and realized blessings of atomic energy with a people who in the past have known little of its blessing but much of its curse.

"Through this gift, our Christian brethren in Japan will be enabled to render a vitally important service to all their countrymen, Christian and non-Christian alike, and a Christian university will be given a unique means to meet a pressing need of the whole nation which she serves. This project will make many friends for the church in a region of the world where it needs friends."

Break Ground For Sanctuary At Brownville

Formal groundbreaking ceremonies were held last week for a new building at the Brownville Methodist Church, 1301 Alvin Street in West Monroe, according to the pastor, The Rev. Paul Durbin.

The new sanctuary which will cost approximately $25,000 is expected to be completed by August. Seating capacity will be available for 260 persons and there will be additional space for a pastor's study and three Sunday School rooms.

Construction will be brick veneer and plans call for central heating and air conditioning.

Serving on the building committee for the church project were O. E. Leehy. Sr., chairman; Walter Works, James Hightower, C. E. Ponder, Mrs. Irene Richardson, Mrs. E. J. Moffett, Talmadge Robinson and Mrs. Pat Leehy, who served as treasurer.

The pastor expressed his gratitude to the committee and to cooperation of the entire congregation at the Brownville church for seeing the project through.

New Sanctuary Approved For Ridge Avenue

Ridge Avenue Baptist Church of West Monroe, in a special business meeting of the church called by the pastor, Rev. A. T. Mitchell, voted to proceed with plans to build a new and much larger church sanctuary.

Hugh B. Balfour, chairman of the deacons of the church and chairman of a building steering committee presented the resolution to the church.

A special planning committee headed by F. A. Brown, Sr. will begin to draw plans for the building. Other members of the committee are A. C. Saxon, co-chairman, Mrs. Gerald Pool, secretary, Robert Holtzclaw, architect, Mrs. Gene Muckleroy, L. T. Swanner, Fred R. Hayton, W. A. Pennington and Mrs. John Barber.

Albert Bayles is chairman of a finance committee that will lead the church in the finance program for the building.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: I find myself in a state of constant fear because of the world situation. What is the way for true peace of heart and mind? I.L.

ANSWER: There is but one way for true peace of mind and heart. Do not try to reason yourself into it. Do not think you can cultivate such an attitude by some mental exercise. True peace of mind and heart comes solely through faith in Jesus Christ. Because of sin there is a barrier, an enmity between God and man, but through faith in Jesus Christ and that which He has done for us we have peace with God. When this peace comes. then the peace of God is in our heart, and that is the peace which continues regardless of the situations in which we may find ourselves. In the gospel of Luke, Jesus tells us, "Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more than they can do. But I will forward you whom you shall fear; fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, fear him." Once you have accepted Christ as Savior and let Him take possession of your heart and life, these fears will disappear. When the God of the future is your God, you can put your hand in His and leave it all to Him.

Remember, God is sovereign—He will ultimately triumph — His Kingdom is coming!

Church Debt Liquidated

The Rev. Wayne Gray, pastor of the Covenant Presbyterian Church, left, and H. D. Touchstone, treasurer, burn mortgage on building which congregation had paid in full in five year period.

Loan Payment Celebrated At Local Church

A mortgage - burning ceremony indicating the initial loan had been paid in full, was held last week at the Covenant Presbyterian Church, according to the Rev. Wayne Gray, pastor.

The ceremony, held at the Wednesday evening fellowship supper, commemorated payment of the last installment of $60,000 which was borrowed in 1954 at the time the first units of the church building were constructed. Rev. Gray and H. D. Touchstone, church treasurer, presided at the burning of the note — a certified true copy of the document.

With the payment of the mortgage completed, further plans are underway for the church's expansion program, Rev. Gary said. He noted new pews had been added to the present sanctuary and construction had already begun on a vestibule, additional Sunday School space and a fellowship hall.

In addition, larger parking lots are being constructed on the church property which includes two city blocks at 1901 Milton street in Monroe.

Virgin Birth Controversy Flares Anew

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

The long controversy surrounding the 100-year-old Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky., flamed anew at the Southern Baptist Convention's annual meeting during the past week.

The seminary, oldest in the denomination, made news last year when 13 of its 44 professors were fired in an apparently insoluble disagreement with its president, the Rev. Dr. Duke K. McCall.

As a result, the seminary faces loss of its accreditation by the American Assn. of Theological Schools, and Southern Baptists are thinking of withdrawing all six of their seminaries from the association.

Last week, at the denomination's Louisville convention, the Rev. James S. Bulman of East Spencer, N.C., a frequent critic of Southern Baptist procedures, leveled a new charge against the embattled seminary.

He said he has "what I consider clear and conclusive evidence" that the seminary is teaching that Christ's virgin birth and resurrection may be looked upon as myths — a contradiction of Southern Baptist doctrine.

Dr. McCall has denied that the seminary departs from the orthodox theological position.

Meanwhile the United Presbyterian Cruch in the U. S. A., meeting in Indianapolis, announced plans to evangelize an unspecified Midwestern city through the use of newspaper advertising.

Dr. Glenn Warner Moore, secretary of the denomination's general council, said the same type of project was tried on a non-denominational basis in Rochester, N.Y., with gratifying results.

"We want to interest people in Christianity — not just the Presbyterian church," he said. "In planning these ads we are thinking of people we never see in church."

Monroe District Winners Named In Essay Contest

W. B. Glover, state chairman of the Methodist essay contest, on the topic "What I Expect of a Christian College," said that he had been notified by Norman Rushing, district lay leader of Monroe, that three Winnsboro High school seniors had won the three top places in the Monroe district.

Harriet Kincaid won the first place award of $50, and her essay will be entered in the state contest; Tommy Hatfield won the second place prize of $30, and June Wiley won third place and $20. The state winner will receive a $450 scholarship to Centenary College at Shreveport.

This essay contest is sponsored by the Louisiana Conference of the Methodist church in cooperation with the commission on higher education.

BISHOP FRANKLIN

Will Address Conference

Bishop Marvin Franklin of Jackson, Mississippi, president of the Council of Bishops of the worldwide Methodist Church will be conference preacher at the 114th annual session of the Louisiana Conference of the Methodist Church, to be held May 26-29 at Centenary College, Shreveport, according to Bishop Paul E. Martin, Little Rock, Arkansas, who will preside over the conference sessions.

The 65-year-old Bishop Franklin was elected bishop of the Jackson area, comprising both the Mississippi and north Mississippi conferences, 1948.

He is president of the board of trustees of Millsaps College in Jackson ;and a member of the boards of trustees of Emory University in Atlanta, Ga., and Rust College in Holly Springs, Mississippi.

He also is a member of the Methodist General Board of Education; The Methodist Television, Radio and Film Commission and the Commission on Promotion and Cultivation of the Methodist Church.

In 1947, Bishop Franklin visited India, Southern Europe and the Holy Land on an official tour of Methodist work. On July 1, he and Mrs. Franklin will begin a tour of Europe and North Africa.

Dr. Joe J. Mickle, Centenary College president; Dr. Leonard Cooke, vice - president; and Dr. Jolly B. Harper of Shreveport, district superintendent, will be hosts for the conference.

Pre - conference meetings of boards, commissions, and the bishop's cabinet are scheduled tomorrow, beginning at 6:00 p.m. The conference will convene for organization and preliminary business at 9:00 a.m. Tuesday. Business sessions and reports are scheduled for each day. All business sessions will be held in the Brown Memorial Chapel on the Centenary College campus, and evening services will be held at the First Methodist Church. Host pastor is Dr. D. L. Dykes, Jr.

St. Vincent's Fund Drive Is Approved Here

A city-wide campaign for funds for the new St. Vincent's Mother House in Shreveport has been authorized by Bishop Charles P. Greco, Bishop of Alexandria, and the Righ Reverend Msgr. J. C. Marsh, dean.

A campaign for the new St. Vincent's Academy is presently being conducted in the Shreveport area where the buildings will be located. Plans are to build a new high school, and a new Mother House at a cost of $1,200,000. The present building at St. Vincent's, which will be abandoned, houses the high school, grade school, and living quarters for the Sisters and boarders. Funds for the new high school are being donated by the Catholics residing in the Shreveport-Bossier City area, and by the Alumnae of St. Vincent's, and other localities where the Daughters of the Cross furnish teachers for schools, namely in Marksville, Lake Providence, Moureauville, and Monroe. The congregation of the Daughters of the Cross, which dates from the 17th century in France and which was founded for the work of education, came to Monroe in 1866 to take charge of St. Hyacinth's Academy, which is now St. Matthew Parochial School.

New Project Initiated By Episcopalians

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Episcopal churches across the nation will take a special offering Sunday (May 24) for a missionary project that would have given Dr. Livingston quite a start.

The dimes and dollars contributed by thousands of individual Americans will be used to buy an atomic research reactor for a Japanese University.

The project was authorized by the Episcopal general convention last October. It has caught the imagination of many people who are not ordinarily interested in missionary work. A number of prominent scientists, educators and high government officials have volunteered their services to help carry it out.

Dr. William G. Pollard, director of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, an ordained Episcopal priest who spends his week ends as pastor of a small Tennessee church, made a special trip to Japan to work out details of the gift.

The reactor will be presented to St. Paul's University in Tokyo, an 80-year-old Christian institution sponsored by the Anglican Church of Japan. A U. S. firm, the General Dynamics Corp., will build and install the reactor at a cost of $360,000.

St. Paul's University, which has a distinguished physics department plans to use the reactor for research and for production of radio-isotopes which are valuable in treatment of cancer and many other diseases. But its primary use will be educational—to train young technicians for the atomic power industry which the Japanese government is trying to launch. Because conventional electric power is expensive in Japan, the country is one of the few in which atomic power is already economically feasible.

The State Department and the Atomic Energy Commission have enthusiastically endorsed the whole idea as a major contribution to the U. S. "Atoms for peace" program.

But is it proper for a church to make such a gift? Is this really the sort of thing that can be called a christian missionary project?

Episcopal leaders anticipated those questions, and prepared a pamphlet to answer them.

"In the judgment of those in the mission field," it says, "this is the single most dramatic and valuable contribution our church could make to the missionary work in Japan and in the Far East.

"Through this gift, American Christians have an opportunity to share the potential and realized blessings of atomic energy with a people who in the past have known little of its blessing but much of its curse.

"Through this gift, our Christian brethren in Japan will be enabled to render a vitally important service to all their countrymen, Christian and non-Christian alike, and a Christian university will be given a unique means to meet a pressing need of the whole nation which she serves. This project will make many friends for the church in a region of the world where it needs friends."

Break Ground For Sanctuary At Brownville

Formal groundbreaking ceremonies were held last week for a new building at the Brownville Methodist Church, 1301 Alvin Street in West Monroe, according to the pastor, The Rev. Paul Durbin.

The new sanctuary which will cost approximately $25,000 is expected to be completed by August. Seating capacity will be available for 260 persons and there will be additional space for a pastor's study and three Sunday School rooms.

Construction will be brick veneer and plans call for central heating and air conditioning.

Serving on the building committee for the church project were O. E. Leehy. Sr., chairman; Walter Works, James Hightower, C. E. Ponder, Mrs. Irene Richardson, Mrs. E. J. Moffett, Talmadge Robinson and Mrs. Pat Leehy, who served as treasurer.

The pastor expressed his gratitude to the committee and to cooperation of the entire congregation at the Brownville church for seeing the project through.

New Sanctuary Approved For Ridge Avenue

Ridge Avenue Baptist Church of West Monroe, in a special business meeting of the church called by the pastor, Rev. A. T. Mitchell, voted to proceed with plans to build a new and much larger church sanctuary.

Hugh B. Balfour, chairman of the deacons of the church and chairman of a building steering committee presented the resolution to the church.

A special planning committee headed by F. A. Brown, Sr. will begin to draw plans for the building. Other members of the committee are A. C. Saxon, co-chairman, Mrs. Gerald Pool, secretary, Robert Holtzclaw, architect, Mrs. Gene Muckleroy, L. T. Swanner, Fred R. Hayton, W. A. Pennington and Mrs. John Barber.

Albert Bayles is chairman of a finance committee that will lead the church in the finance program for the building.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: I find myself in a state of constant fear because of the world situation. What is the way for true peace of heart and mind? I.L.

ANSWER: There is but one way for true peace of mind and heart. Do not try to reason yourself into it. Do not think you can cultivate such an attitude by some mental exercise. True peace of mind and heart comes solely through faith in Jesus Christ. Because of sin there is a barrier, an enmity between God and man, but through faith in Jesus Christ and that which He has done for us we have peace with God. When this peace comes. then the peace of God is in our heart, and that is the peace which continues regardless of the situations in which we may find ourselves. In the gospel of Luke, Jesus tells us, "Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more than they can do. But I will forward you whom you shall fear; fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, fear him." Once you have accepted Christ as Savior and let Him take possession of your heart and life, these fears will disappear. When the God of the future is your God, you can put your hand in His and leave it all to Him.

Remember, God is sovereign—He will ultimately triumph — His Kingdom is coming!

Scouts Take Fingerprints

U.S. Radar Picks Up Soviet Planes

TOKYO (UPI) — U.S. radar screens "frequently" pick up Soviet jet bombers and fighters flying missions off the coast of Japan, a U.S. Air Force spokesman said Saturday.

"Sometimes we even see them visually," he added.

But, he added that "unless they come in a lot closer than they have been coming there's no problem."

The spokesman emphasized that such flights are "a routine deal, the same kind of flying we've been seeing for years from the Russians and the Chinese Communists."

The Soviet aircraft, he said, have kept over international waters just as U.S. planes flying weather and other missions off the Soviet and Chinese coasts keep over international waters.

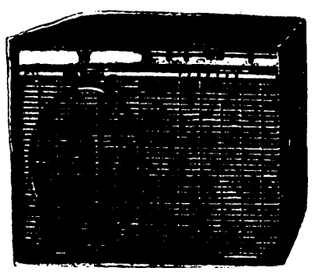

"They pretty well keep on their side and we keep on ours," he said.

Asked if U.S. Air Force pilots had issued warnings in recent months to Soviet planes against coming in too close, he replied: "There have been no warnings in recent months that I know of."

A Japanese government spokesman earlier was quoted as saying that MIG-17 and MIG-19 fighters, IL-29 Beagle light jet bombers, and TU-16 Badger medium jet bombers had been spotted close to the coast of Japan.

The Japanese official said the jet fighters had been sighted as far south as the waters east of Tokyo, while the bombers were seen 110 miles southwest of Hokkaido Island over the Japan Sea.

OTHER LOW-PRICED CARS WOULDN'T BE LOW PRICED IF THEY HAD WHAT CHEVY HAS!

Model for model the leading low-priced three are pretty close together on cost. But—when you start figuring what you get for your money—Chevy parts company from the other two in a hurry. Look over the list of Chevrolet exclusives below, then make a conservative estimate of how much they're worth to you. We'll leave it to your own arithmetic. How long would the other two be in the low-price field if they gave you what Chevy does?

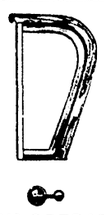

CHEVROLET

SAFETY PLATE GLASS IN EVERY WINDOW
This extra's a real eye-saver. Chevy's the only low-priced car that gives you Safety Plate Glass—not just Safety Glass—all around.
$_____

OVERHEAD CURVING WINDSHIELD
And here's a neck-saver, especially for looking at overhead traffic lights. Chevy's got greatest overall visibility area in its field, too.
$_____

CRANK-OPERATED VENTIPANES
Ever try to open a ventipane without this little convenience? Then you know what fingernail-savers those cranks can be.
$_____

HYDRAULIC VALVE LIFTERS
You won't find another low-priced car that gives you this oil-hushed assurance of smooth, quiet performance on all standard engines.
$_____

LINED LUGGAGE COMPARTMENT
Chevy gives you this luggage-saver on all models. But you'll find it only on a few of the most expensive competitive models.
$_____

UNMISTAKABLY MODERN DESIGN
We'll leave it to your own good taste to decide what this is worth (plus the extra allowance it'll draw at trade-in time).
$_____

BIGGEST BRAKES IN THE FIELD
Chevy's new brakes are built for up to two-thirds longer life. There's more lining area than on many heavier, higher priced cars.
$_____

FULL COIL SUSPENSION
Take a trial ride before you put a price tag on this. No other leading low-priced car cushions you with coil springs at all four wheels.
$_____

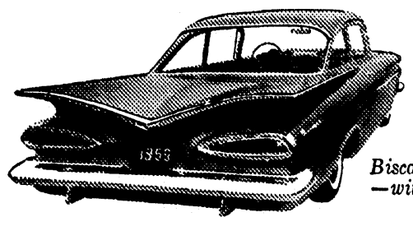

GREATER ROOMINESS
More seating room than any other low-priced car. And more front seat head room than any other low- or medium-priced sedan.
$_____

HIGHER RESALE VALUE
Consistently highest of the leading low-priced three. Right now '57 Chevies are averaging up to $128 more in the used car market.*

OFF COAST OF JAPAN

U.S. Radar Picks Up Soviet Planes

TOKYO (UPI) — U.S. radar screens "frequently" pick up Soviet jet bombers and fighters flying missions off the coast of Japan, a U.S. Air Force spokesman said Saturday.

"Sometimes we even see them visually," he added.

But, he added that "unless they come in a lot closer than they have been coming there's no problem."

The spokesman emphasized that such flights are "a routine deal, the same kind of flying we've been seeing for years from the Russians and the Chinese Communists."

The Soviet aircraft, he said, have kept over international waters just as U.S. planes flying weather and other missions off the Soviet and Chinese coasts keep over international waters.

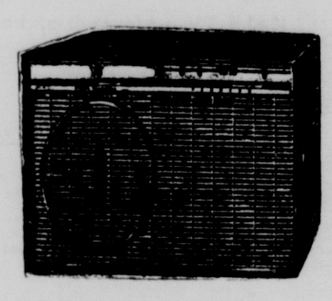

"They pretty well keep on their side and we keep on ours," he said.

Asked if U.S. Air Force pilots had issued warnings in recent months to Soviet planes against coming in too close, he replied: "There have been no warnings in recent months that I know of."

A Japanese government spokesman earlier was quoted as saying that MIG-17 and MIG-19 fighters, IL-29 Beagle light jet bombers, and TU-16 Badger medium jet bombers had been spotted close to the coast of Japan.

The Japanese official said the jet fighters had been sighted as far south as the waters east of Tokyo, while the bombers were seen 110 miles southwest of Hokkaido Island over the Japan Sea.

PRICELESS MARBLE

Greece Wants Sculpture Back

LONDON (AP) — Greece wants Britain to return priceless marble sculptures that were carted away to England from the Parthenon, the ruined temple embodying the glories of ancient Greece.

The stone fragments, depicting the heroic deeds of Greek warriors in the centuries before Christ, have been lodged in the British Museum for nearly 150 years.

And Britain appears eager to hang on to them — if possible.

The Parthenon, proudly looking down on Athens from the heights of the rocky Acropolis, surrendered its treasures to the English noble Lord Elgin in 1801. He brought them to Britain, where they were promptly dubbed the "Elgin Marbles."

Now the Greeks want them back in the surroundings that inspired their creation.

"It is about time our plundered ancestral treasures were returned to us," says Education Minister George Voyadzis, who supervises archeological affairs in Greece.

He also called for the return through an international body — presumably UNESCO —of the Venus de Milo and the Winged Victory in the Paris Louvre and the Mausoleum of Halicarnassus in the Berlin Museum.

"Their proper place is here under the diaphanous sky of Greece," Voyadzis argued.

"Away from their natural setting they lose their sheen and aesthetic worth and degenerate into mere antiques."

The whole story started 2300 years ago.

The Parthenon was built in the 5th Century before Christ. In its stone the greatest names in Athenian sculputre recorded for the ages battles of gods and giants, Greeks and Amazons, the birth of Athena and her contest with Poseidon for the land of Attica.

In successive centuries the Greek temple became a Christian church — after some of the pagan sculptures had been removed — and then a Turkish mosque, with a minaret added on top.

When the Venetians bombarded Athens in 1687, the Turks used the Parthenon as a powder magazine and much of the building was destroyed in an explosion.

In 1801 the Earl of Elgin, British envoy in Constantinople, and a long - time art lover, collected all the chipped and eroded sculptures lying on the ground and removed remains from the sections still standing.

The great works of classical art, he said, would eventually be destroyed forever unless someone took action to preserve them.

As he brought the marbles to Britain, Elgin was bitterly accused of vandalism. Lord Byron, the romantic poet, wrote a scathing denunciation.

Finally in 1816 parliament grudgingly voted to buy the fragments — but for less than half what Elgin had spent of his own money to rescue them.

A spokesman for the British Museum stated firmly that the fragments are not suffering from dampness as charged by the Greek education minister, and that their condition is constantly being checked.

Nor is the museum too worried that it may lose its prize exhibit.

"The marbles were deposited with us by act of parliament," the spokesman explained, "and it would take another act of parliament to remove them."

"As far as we know no such action is being contemplated."

RUNNING THE SCALES

With JOHN CALE

Along with the big plans for next season in the world of music and drama in the area, high priority goes to the proposed new playhouse for Little Theatre.

The Carolyn Rose Strauss Foundation has offered $50,000 in the direction of the new building if the Little Theatre Board of Directors can match it. Naturally, the board has already gotten its committees on the streets and telephone lines.

In this part of the act, Necessity — a local, muchly overworked young girl — is being cast as the Mother of Invention. She has played the part for years at the Selman Field Playhouse from the backstage green room to the wall coverings out front.

Now, after squeezing far more than was ever thought possible from the small, GI theatre, she will devise the means of raising funds. Certainly, Necessity, when faced with the problem of fund raising, can come through in much the same manner as she did when she thought of paper plates as ceiling tiles and a painted rectangle on the floor as an arena stage.

The old building has served as a challenge for many a mind's imagination by posing problems only pooled local genius could overcome. But the time has come to seek new quarters in the interests of safety and better productions. Best of luck!

WORLD PREMIERE

That Civil War epic, "The Horse Soldiers," which was filmed in Natchitoches Parish last year, will have its world premiere Shreveport on June 17.

It will be recalled, John Wayne and Bill Holden braved the Cane River mosquotos and snakes to play their parts in a deep south location. This is as it should be, and it follows that the premiere should be staged in north Louisiana.

On the other hand, another film company found it better from an economic point of view to film a movie with a Mississippi Delta setting on the Hudson River in New York State. Claim was that the interiors were being designed by a New York firm and it would be too much expense to ship them south.

The title of this screen opus will be "The Fugitive Kind," said to be an adaptation of Tennessee Williams' "Oprheus Descending."

BACK TO OPERA

With such originality as a Yankee Mississippi Delta on the Hudson thrown into the brew, it should also be noted the title of the original play, "Orpheus Descending," is not original either.

"Orpheus in the Underworld" is the name of a whimsical piece of tommyiot by Jaques Offenbach which is still fresh after nearly a century on the musical comedy boards.

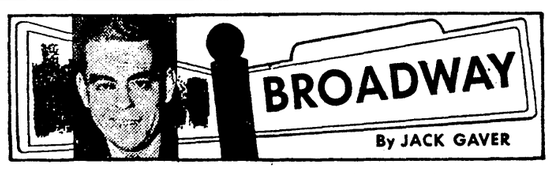

In fact, the very first opera ever contrived was on the Orpheus theme. The loosely federated piece of chorus and solo work was composed by the Italian Monteverdi long before the Hudson or the Mississippi were taken over from the Indians. As for rivers, in all cases Orpheus had to cross the Styx to get where he was going.

FESTIVALS

Among the listings of summer festivals, the New Orleans Experimental Opera, which will present a series of operas in English during July and early August, enjoys a prominent position.

Seeing the Louisiana city among the parade of American, English and European cities long famous for summer musical seasons is indeed a mark of distinction.

On the otherside of the picture, a recent telecast from Baton Rouge has been awarded some sort of "medal" for the top unrehearsed comedy act of the year by TV men. Just when we thought we were coming out of the "sticks . . ."

NEW YORK (UPI) — Something like 12 years of preparation and practice went into the creation of one of this season's most admired characterizations — that of Hal Holbrook as Mark Twain.

Holbrook, now 34, is the star and sole cast member of "Mark Twain Tonight" at the off - Broadway 41st Street Theater. Made up to resemsemble remarkably the famous author at the age of 70, when he was a popular figure on the lecture circuit, Holbrook offers a fascinating two hours of "readings" from Twain's works.

The actor ranges widely through Twain's material, from jokes to long passages, and almost all of it is fascinating. That Holbrook is able to give such fine impersonation of Twain is the icing on the cake.

Holbrook has been on his Twain kick almost since he was a school boy. He has read everything Twain wrote over and over, analyzing it as to appeal and platform treatment. He has talked to many old - timers who saw Twain perform.

He has played the role many times in many cities across the country during the years, but this is the first time he has brought his "show" to New York.

The actor, who has made a living working in TV soap operas, requires three hours to get into his Twain makeup. He has a performing knowledge of about five hours of the material, uses about two at a performance. He is eminently worth seeing.

Now that the idea of starting the midweek matinees in Broadway theaters at 2 instead of 2:30 p.m. has caught on, the League of New York Theaters has decided to experiment in the fall with a 7:30 instead of an 8:30 evening curtain.

The test will begin sometime in September by arranging for 7:30 curtains one evening a week. Presumably this might be expanded if the public takes to it.

The decision to make the experiment followed a canvass of playgoers in theaters over a short period. The League said that of 4,341 written opinions turned in, 3,449 favored the earlier start. Opposed were 892.

Resident of the five New York boroughs were four-to-one for the change, the ratio among commuters was five-to-one and out-of-towners were a little better than two-to-one.

The main reasons offered by those favoring the change were that it would enable them to get home for an earlier bedtime and that it would shorten the waiting period between the end of the working day and time to go to theeter.

London's theaters adopted a 7 to 7:30 starting time out of necessity during World War II, and this proved so popular that it was retained.

Maurice Evans will be back on Broadway next season, starring in a revival of Bernard Shaw's "Heartbreak House." He will play Captain Shotover. Evans also will be co - producer with Robert L. Joseph.

CHEVALIER EXTRAVAGANZA

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Holiday With Cheavlier," a special one - hour "Gallic exuberanza" starring Maurice Chevalier, will be presented by CBS-Radio in mid - September.

The broadcast, which will originate in Paris, is expected to include such entertainers as Jacqueline Francois, Jean Sablon, Sascha Distel and Les Compagnons de la Chanson. Michel Le Grand, one of France's foremost young compoesrs and conductors, will supply the musical background with a 48-piece orchestra and a chorus.

RODEO STARS IN FILM

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ten real bronco busters play themselves in "Bron Reckless," starring Mamie Van Doren.

The rodeo champions are Wag Blessing, Dee Cooper, Ray Thomas, LeRoy Johnson, Bob Burrows, Bill Williams, Frank Ellis, Vern Goodrich, Erwin Neal and Wallace Brooks.

GUIDE TO GOOD READING

In Book Field Trend Studied

By FRANCES FLANDERS
Ouachita Parish Librarian

Library administration has many features in common with the merchandising field. We are not selling our wares, but we want the public to use them. In selecting books for a library collection, we study the trends and interests of the public and attempt to purchase the books that they need and that we think they will enjoy. One of the trends which has developed in recent years is the increase in the amount of non-fiction material borrowed by the patrons of public libraries. We feel that in the Ouachita Parish Public Library this trend has been encouraged by the fact that we purchase as much non-fiction as we do fiction. The term non-fiction is really amisnomer, for it covers so many different types of material. Some of it is very practical and some is vastly entertaining.

Let's take a look at some of the new titles added during the past week and see what a variety of material they cover. The Status Seekers" is the new book by Vance Packard who wrote "The Hidden Persuaders" last year. It is a discussion of why people purchase certain objects.

"Dream and Reality" by Louis J. Halle is a discussion of our foreign police since the close of World War II. "How to Exploit Amenities and Hidden Values in Selling Real Estate" by Arthur Brown Sherman, should be read by every person in the real estate business. "Watch Your Language" by Theodore Bernstein is a guide to better speaking and writing. "Elements of Physics" by Alpheus Smith and John Cooper is a very practical book on the subject. "Radio activity and Radioactive Substances" is a very fine treatise by James Chadwick. "Manual of Elementary Practical Chemistry" by R. D. Brown is a valuable addition to our science collection. "Hearing" by Norton Canfield is a valuable book for those who do not hear well. "Fast and Fancy Cookery" by J. P. Cranwell is another of the excellent cookbooks which we like to have. "Book of the Lathe" by C. T. Bower is a most useful book. 'How to Become a Top Executive" by Harold Whitehead is a practical and interesting title. The other nonfiction titles added this week are more recreational in nature and less utilitarian.

"Life Studies" is a book of poems by Robert Lowell. "The pleasure of his company is a delightful comedy by Samuel Taylor and Cornelia Otis Skinner, a very interesting account of the American Revolution is "The Family Quarrel" by Elswyth Thane, while a most timely biography is "Fidel Castro" by Jules Dubois. A delightful biography is "Kenneth Grahame" by Peter Green.

In the field of fiction most of the new titles are mystery stories. They are "The Last Escape" by E.C.R. Lorac; "A Penknife in my Heart" by Nicholas Blake, "Man Overboard" by Monica Dickens; "For Old Crime's Sake" by Ames Delano, "Dead Man Dead" by David Alexander and "Duo" by Charlotte Armstrong.

Young adults have been well taken care of this week. "Jet Navigator" by Rutherford Montgomery, "Ride the White Tiger" by Roger W. Clark, "Menace From the Moon" by Hugh Walters, and "Palace Under the Sea" by Elizabeth P. Heppner are all books of fiction for this group. "Atoms Today and Tomorrow" by Margaret Hyde is an extremely practical book. "Tomorrow the Moon" by A. Marcus will appeal to all those who are interested in space travel. "The Land and People of Finland" by Erick Berry is an informative travel book, while three new biographies are Discoverer of Insulin" by I. E. Levine, the life of Dr. Frederick Banting "Doctor Who Dared", the biography of Sir William Osler; "The Man Who Was Don Quixote" by Rafaello Busoni and "Tecumseh; Destiny's Warrior" by David Cooke.

Battle Tune Stays On Top Second Week

CHICAGO (UPI) — "The Battle of New Orleans" was on top of the United Press International top twenty tune list Saturday for the second straight week.

The fast-rising disc by Johnny Horton was followed by "Dream Lover" in second place and Wilbert Harrison's "Kansas City" in third.

"Quiet Village" was in fourth place for its third week in a row, but had to share the spot with Lloyd Price's "Personality," climbing fast from 11th.

(1-1-3) Battle of New Orleans Johnny Horton. (Columbia)

(2-3-4) Dream Lover. Bobby Darin. (Atco)

(3-2-6) Kansas City. Wilbert Harrison. (Fury)

THE SEVENTH DAY

Creation Story Is In Reverse

THE SEVENTH DAY. By Hans Hellmut Kirst. Translated from German by Richard Graves. Doubleday. $4.95.

The place is Warsaw, the time is — when?, and the speaker is the head of government who has just returned from Moscow and declares:

"We are nearer than ever to world peace."

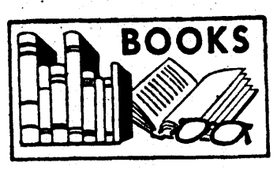

His country must submit to the presence of Soviet troops 50 yeares more, and still other sanctions are imposed on the Poles. But it means peace, the people are reassured, according to this new novel by the author of that popular and spirited trilogy about "Gunner Asch."

The news sent out by radio and press affects, though they are not all immediately aware of it to the same degree, a considerable cross section of German life: Reiners, a diplomat who yearns to unite his country; Constance the artist he loves, who seeks a divorce from capitalist Wolf Beck; Ruth Winters, whom Beck hopes to make his next wife, and Bernhardt who blackmails her; Henry Engel, inventor with a role in the development of our deadliest bombs, whom both the Russians and the Americans scheme to kidnap; Isolde, daughter of Constance's housekeeper, and her naive beau Peter; the young lovers Maria and Martin, separated by the division of Germany; and finally Charley, who is The Associated Press correspondent in Warsaw and wanders in and out of these pages collecting information for Kirst, you and me.

Charley is a ludicrously unbelievable character, but so are the other individuals in this novel. This is no longer the work specifically of the creator of "Gunner Asch;" Kirst has another goal here. He doesn't care whether we accept his people, his interest now centers on plot. As Nevil Shute fictionalized almost too realistically in "On the Beach" about the extinction of the human race after the next war, Kirst fictionalizes about the steps by which that ultimate catastrophe will be brought down on our heads.

In fact it's very like the start of World War I, or like the start of any argument between two peppery antagonists; each one has a chip on his shoulder, each thinks the other gets an unfair advantage by his every move, each is scared to call it quits. So the Poles riot against the new Red impositions, the Reds demand an end to violence, an end is promised, the Reds have set troops in motion, the promise is promptly qualified, Germans begin to riot, someone throws a stone, someone pulls a trigger and all at once these peoples, Germans and Poles, Reds and Yanks, have backed themselves right into World WarII, the atomic war. Lovers rush to a rendezvous and poof! a bomb leaves nothing but ashes; the fugitive in the plane is blasted out of the sky; all the air over Europe is contaminated, millions die in a flash, American and Russian cities are wiped out, and man on the seventh day blots out the earth the Lord took seven days to create for him.

This is the creation in reverse, and a spine-tingling account it is. Kirst's plot moves faster and faster, and crackles like fireworks; his tale is terrifyingly plausible.

Forge Of Liberty, by Leonare Falkner (Dutton): In the spring and summer of 1775, the Redcoats got the surprise of their lives. A ragtag - andbobtail group of farmers, mechanics, artisans and shopkeepers stood up against the British regulars, shot them down and became the nucleus of Washington's forces. With immeasurable help from the ignorance and follies of Britain's generals, they went on to win a war that changed the world. This well - researched book tells how it all began on a showery day in April when Paul Revere took his famous ride, how the provincials routed the British at Concord Bridge, and how they repulsed frontal charges of the "Lobsterbacks" at Breed's and Bunker Hills until they had used up their ammunition. Falkner introduces no fictions in this splendid retelling of the first big and awesome achievement of the United States in the making.

The Scandalous Scamps, by Harold Mehling (Holt): A tour through a rogues gallery of swindlers. Here are Richard Whitney, who embezzled millions while president of the New York Stock Exchange; William Franklin "520 per cent" Miller, who promised to pay 10 per cent weekly interest and did — for a while; John Romulus "Goat-Gland" Brinkley, a medical faker who nearly became governor of Kansas; and others who concocted hoaxes that fairly begged to be believed. The author gives all these devils their due as magicians and artists. Nor is he harsh on their victims for being so credulous, pointing out the difficulty sometimes of distinguishing reality from fantasy. Too much skepticism can also be misleading, he warns. For example what would we have said five years ago if someone had proposed to place a new planet in orbit?

Don't Get Personal with a Chicken, by H. Allen Smith (Little Brown) Humorist Smith, who rose to fame with such adult books as "Life In A Putty Knife Factory," now turns his attention to children. This is a collection of their witticisms, some culled from books and magazines, some sent to Smith by the authors (now in their later years) and some by doting parents. Included are letters written home from summer camp: "Dear Mom, Vacation is all most over. See you soon, your love child, Charles." The book's title comes from a letter by an unhappy child who made friends with a chicken destined for the dinner table.

The Jury Is till Out, by Irwin D. Davison and Richare Gehman (Harper): A reconstruction of the trial of seven youths for the slaying of 15 - year - old Michael Farmer in New York. Davidson was the trial judge; Gehman is a professional writer. Davidson gives his thoughts and reasoning at various stages of the trial. He also advances a plan for "incipient" delinquents.

Book Mirror Of Wilderness And Bushmen

THE HARMLESS PEOPLE By Elizabeth Marshall Thomas. Knopf. $4.75.

The Kalahari Desert, some 400 by 600 miles at the widest points, lies in Africa between the Molopo and Okovango rivers, between South West Africa, Bechuanaland and the Parched and inhospitable, this waste grows enormous baobab trees but little else except spiny shrub and bush, besides of course dangerous snakes like mamba, adder and water pythons, lions, leopards, giraffes.

Who would live there if he could find any other place? No one. Thus it is the home of the Bushmen, numbering at the most 50,000, the Gikwe Bushmen in the south a few hundred miles northwest of Johannesburg, and the Kung in the north. A few inches shorter than whites, wearing loin cloths or shawl-like squares of ragged material but little more, the soles of their feet so calloused they whet their knives on them, they have been visited recently by scientific expeditions; and the author of this memorable book, during three trips, spent two years among them. To be sure, she had a truck and jeep and water bags for emergencies. and even a tent. But in effect she lived with these natives, she observed them with fascination, and she has written a remarkable record of her unique experence.

The Bushmen are a shy people, whose heroes, instead of being brave, win admiration by cleverness and trickery. So they are the "harmless people." They may be brave, as is Short Kwi with gangrene eating away all the flesh on one lower leg; they find the agony of the animals on which they prey funny and even hilarious; but they do not kill one another. Abysmally poor, they share all their possessions, for otherwise they might all perish. During the dry season they scratch a wretched living out of roots, or feed on wild melons, they eat a beast down to its hoofs, they find some kinds of ants not only substantial food but delectable.

It is Mrs. Thomas' complete involvement in these people and their affairs that makes this book irresistible. She sees them in the shallow hollows roofed with bent grasses which are their constantly shifting homes; she is bitten by the bees they rout out for the sake of the wild honey; she sees the young wife walk off into the bushes to drop her baby and return nursing it; she endures the stench of the corpses rotting in the water hole where the urchins stir up the putrescent flesh with sticks; she sucks on their tobacco pipes, and on the straw that draws stinking water up from the cavity in the tree.

Mrs. Thomas passes no judgment on the Bushmen's mode of life, but she reports it all in the most realistic detail — the appalling butchery of the gemsbok.

Her book is full of wonderful evocative pictures of this distant, strange people and their hard, worthy life. With

HAD ALL YOUR POLIO SHOTS?

Polio isn't licked yet . . . and the 1959 polio season is just around the corner. Millions of Americans are still unprotected against this feared disease.

Paralytic polio cases actually increased in 1958 over 1957 among those not vaccinated. Play safe . . . make sure you and your family get all your shots. Remember—polio strikes all ages. See your doctor or health department NOW.

DON'T TAKE A CHANCE—
TAKE YOUR POLIO SHOTS!

PRICELESS MARBLE

Greece Wants Sculpture Back

LONDON (AP) — Greece wants Britain to return priceless marble sculptures that were carted away to England from the Parthenon, the ruined temple embodying the glories of ancient Greece.

The stone fragments, depicting the heroic deeds of Greek warriors in the centuries before Christ, have been lodged in the British Museum for nearly 150 years.

And Britain appears eager to hang on to them — if possible.

The Parthenon, proudly looking down on Athens from the heights of the rocky Acropolis, surrendered its treasures to the English noble Lord Elgin in 1801. He brought them to Britain, where they were promptly dubbed the "Elgin Marbles."

Now the Greeks want them back in the surroundings that inspired their creation.

"It is about time our plundered ancestral treasures were returned to us," says Education Minister George Voyadzis, who supervises archeological affairs in Greece.

He also called for the return through an international body — presumably UNESCO —of the Venus de Milo and the Winged Victory in the Paris Louvre and the Mausoleum of Halicarnassus in the Berlin Museum.

"Their proper place is here under the diaphanous sky of Greece," Voyadzis argued.

"Away from their natural setting they lose their sheen and aesthetic worth and degenerate into mere antiques."

The whole story started 2300 years ago.

The Parthenon was built in the 5th Century before Christ. In its stone the greatest names in Athenian sculputre recorded for the ages battles of gods and giants, Greeks and Amazons, the birth of Athena and her contest with Poseidon for the land of Attica.

In successive centuries the Greek temple became a Christian church — after some of the pagan sculptures had been removed — and then a Turkish mosque, with a minaret added on top.

When the Venetians bombarded Athens in 1687, the Turks used the Parthenon as a powder magazine and much of the building was destroyed in an explosion.

In 1801 the Earl of Elgin, British envoy in Constantinople, and a long - time art lover, collected all the chipped and eroded sculptures lying on the ground and removed remains from the sections still standing.

The great works of classical art, he said, would eventually be destroyed forever unless someone took action to preserve them.

As he brought the marbles to Britain, Elgin was bitterly accused of vandalism. Lord Byron, the romantic poet, wrote a scathing denunciation.

Finally in 1816 parliament grudgingly voted to buy the fragments — but for less than half what Elgin had spent of his own money to rescue them.

A spokesman for the British Museum stated firmly that the fragments are not suffering from dampness as charged by the Greek education minister, and that their condition is constantly being checked.

Nor is the museum too worried that it may lose its prize exhibit.

"The marbles were deposited with us by act of parliament," the spokesman explained, "and it would take another act of parliament to remove them."

"As far as we know no such action is being contemplated."

RUNNING THE SCALES

With JOHN CALE

Along with the big plans for next season in the world of music and drama in the area, high priority goes to the proposed new playhouse for Little Theatre.

The Carolyn Rose Strauss Foundation has offered $50,000 in the direction of the new building if the Little Theatre Board of Directors can match it. Naturally, the board has already gotten its committees on the streets and telephone lines.

In this part of the act, Necessity — a local, muchly overworked young girl — is being cast as the Mother of Invention. She has played the part for years at the Selman Field Playhouse from the backstage green room to the wall coverings out front.

Now, after squeezing far more than was ever thought possible from the small, GI theatre, she will devise the means of raising funds. Certainly, Necessity, when faced with the problem of fund raising, can come through in much the same manner as she did when she thought of paper plates as ceiling tiles and a painted rectangle on the floor as an arena stage.

The old building has served as a challenge for many a mind's imagination by posing problems only pooled local genius could overcome. But the time has come to seek new quarters in the interests of safety and better productions. Best of luck!

WORLD PREMIERE

That Civil War epic, "The Horse Soldiers," which was filmed in Natchitoches Parish last year, will have its world premiere Shreveport on June 17.

It will be recalled, John Wayne and Bill Holden braved the Cane River mosquotos and snakes to play their parts in a deep south location. This is as it should be, and it follows that the premiere should be staged in north Louisiana.

On the other hand, another film company found it better from an economic point of view to film a movie with a Mississippi Delta setting on the Hudson River in New York State. Claim was that the interiors were being designed by a New York firm and it would be too much expense to ship them south.

The title of this screen opus will be "The Fugitive Kind," said to be an adaptation of Tennessee Williams' "Oprheus Descending."

BACK TO OPERA

With such originality as a Yankee Mississippi Delta on the Hudson thrown into the brew, it should also be noted the title of the original play, "Orpheus Descending," is not original either.

"Orpheus in the Underworld" is the name of a whimsical piece of tommyiot by Jaques Offenbach which is still fresh after nearly a century on the musical comedy boards.

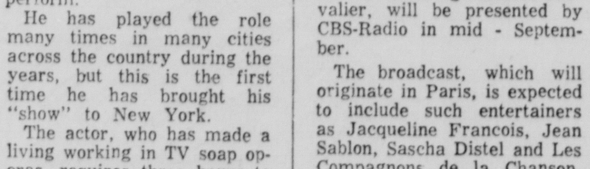

In fact, the very first opera ever contrived was on the Orpheus theme. The loosely federated piece of chorus and solo work was composed by the Italian Monteverdi long before the Hudson or the Mississippi were taken over from the Indians. As for rivers, in all cases Orpheus had to cross the Styx to get where he was going.

FESTIVALS

Among the listings of summer festivals, the New Orleans Experimental Opera, which will present a series of operas in English during July and early August, enjoys a prominent position.

Seeing the Louisiana city among the parade of American, English and European cities long famous for summer musical seasons is indeed a mark of distinction.

On the otherside of the picture, a recent telecast from Baton Rouge has been awarded some sort of "medal" for the top unrehearsed comedy act of the year by TV men. Just when we thought we were coming out of the "sticks . . ."

NEW YORK (UPI) — Something like 12 years of preparation and practice went into the creation of one of this season's most admired characterizations — that of Hal Holbrook as Mark Twain.

Holbrook, now 34, is the star and sole cast member of "Mark Twain Tonight" at the off - Broadway 41st Street Theater. Made up to resemsemble remarkably the famous author at the age of 70, when he was a popular figure on the lecture circuit, Holbrook offers a fascinating two hours of "readings" from Twain's works.

The actor ranges widely through Twain's material, from jokes to long passages, and almost all of it is fascinating. That Holbrook is able to give such fine impersonation of Twain is the icing on the cake.

Holbrook has been on his Twain kick almost since he was a school boy. He has read everything Twain wrote over and over, analyzing it as to appeal and platform treatment. He has talked to many old - timers who saw Twain perform.

He has played the role many times in many cities across the country during the years, but this is the first time he has brought his "show" to New York.

The actor, who has made a living working in TV soap operas, requires three hours to get into his Twain makeup. He has a performing knowledge of about five hours of the material, uses about two at a performance. He is eminently worth seeing.

Now that the idea of starting the midweek matinees in Broadway theaters at 2 instead of 2:30 p.m. has caught on, the League of New York Theaters has decided to experiment in the fall with a 7:30 instead of an 8:30 evening curtain.

The test will begin sometime in September by arranging for 7:30 curtains one evening a week. Presumably this might be expanded if the public takes to it.

The decision to make the experiment followed a canvass of playgoers in theaters over a short period. The League said that of 4,341 written opinions turned in, 3,449 favored the earlier start. Opposed were 892.

Resident of the five New York boroughs were four-to-one for the change, the ratio among commuters was five-to-one and out-of-towners were a little better than two-to-one.

The main reasons offered by those favoring the change were that it would enable them to get home for an earlier bedtime and that it would shorten the waiting period between the end of the working day and time to go to theeter.

London's theaters adopted a 7 to 7:30 starting time out of necessity during World War II, and this proved so popular that it was retained.

Maurice Evans will be back on Broadway next season, starring in a revival of Bernard Shaw's "Heartbreak House." He will play Captain Shotover. Evans also will be co - producer with Robert L. Joseph.

CHEVALIER EXTRAVAGANZA

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Holiday With Cheavlier," a special one - hour "Gallic exuberanza" starring Maurice Chevalier, will be presented by CBS-Radio in mid - September.

The broadcast, which will originate in Paris, is expected to include such entertainers as Jacqueline Francois, Jean Sablon, Sascha Distel and Les Compagnons de la Chanson. Michel Le Grand, one of France's foremost young compoesrs and conductors, will supply the musical background with a 48-piece orchestra and a chorus.

RODEO STARS IN FILM

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ten real bronco busters play themselves in "Bron Reckless," starring Mamie Van Doren.

The rodeo champions are Wag Blessing, Dee Cooper, Ray Thomas, LeRoy Johnson, Bob Burrows, Bill Williams, Frank Ellis, Vern Goodrich, Erwin Neal and Wallace Brooks.

GUIDE TO GOOD READING

In Book Field Trend Studied

By FRANCES FLANDERS
Ouachita Parish Librarian

Library administration has many features in common with the merchandising field. We are not selling our wares, but we want the public to use them. In selecting books for a library collection, we study the trends and interests of the public and attempt to purchase the books that they need and that we think they will enjoy. One of the trends which has developed in recent years is the increase in the amount of non-fiction material borrowed by the patrons of public libraries. We feel that in the Ouachita Parish Public Library this trend has been encouraged by the fact that we purchase as much non-fiction as we do fiction. The term non-fiction is really amisnomer, for it covers so many different types of material. Some of it is very practical and some is vastly entertaining.

Let's take a look at some of the new titles added during the past week and see what a variety of material they cover. The Status Seekers" is the new book by Vance Packard who wrote "The Hidden Persuaders" last year. It is a discussion of why people purchase certain objects.

"Dream and Reality" by Louis J. Halle is a discussion of our foreign police since the close of World War II. "How to Exploit Amenities and Hidden Values in Selling Real Estate" by Arthur Brown Sherman, should be read by every person in the real estate business. "Watch Your Language" by Theodore Bernstein is a guide to better speaking and writing. "Elements of Physics" by Alpheus Smith and John Cooper is a very practical book on the subject. "Radio activity and Radioactive Substances" is a very fine treatise by James Chadwick. "Manual of Elementary Practical Chemistry" by R. D. Brown is a valuable addition to our science collection. "Hearing" by Norton Canfield is a valuable book for those who do not hear well. "Fast and Fancy Cookery" by J. P. Cranwell is another of the excellent cookbooks which we like to have. "Book of the Lathe" by C. T. Bower is a most useful book. 'How to Become a Top Executive" by Harold Whitehead is a practical and interesting title. The other nonfiction titles added this week are more recreational in nature and less utilitarian.

"Life Studies" is a book of poems by Robert Lowell. "The pleasure of his company is a delightful comedy by Samuel Taylor and Cornelia Otis Skinner, a very interesting account of the American Revolution is "The Family Quarrel" by Elswyth Thane, while a most timely biography is "Fidel Castro" by Jules Dubois. A delightful biography is "Kenneth Grahame" by Peter Green.

In the field of fiction most of the new titles are mystery stories. They are "The Last Escape" by E.C.R. Lorac; "A Penknife in my Heart" by Nicholas Blake, "Man Overboard" by Monica Dickens; "For Old Crime's Sake" by Ames Delano, "Dead Man Dead" by David Alexander and "Duo" by Charlotte Armstrong.

Young adults have been well taken care of this week. "Jet Navigator" by Rutherford Montgomery, "Ride the White Tiger" by Roger W. Clark, "Menace From the Moon" by Hugh Walters, and "Palace Under the Sea" by Elizabeth P. Heppner are all books of fiction for this group. "Atoms Today and Tomorrow" by Margaret Hyde is an extremely practical book. "Tomorrow the Moon" by A. Marcus will appeal to all those who are interested in space travel. "The Land and People of Finland" by Erick Berry is an informative travel book, while three new biographies are Discoverer of Insulin" by I. E. Levine, the life of Dr. Frederick Banting "Doctor Who Dared", the biography of Sir William Osler; "The Man Who Was Don Quixote" by Rafaello Busoni and "Tecumseh; Destiny's Warrior" by David Cooke.

Battle Tune Stays On Top Second Week

CHICAGO (UPI) — "The Battle of New Orleans" was on top of the United Press International top twenty tune list Saturday for the second straight week.

The fast-rising disc by Johnny Horton was followed by "Dream Lover" in second place and Wilbert Harrison's "Kansas City" in third.

"Quiet Village" was in fourth place for its third week in a row, but had to share the spot with Lloyd Price's "Personality," climbing fast from 11th.

THE SEVENTH DAY

Creation Story Is In Reverse

THE SEVENTH DAY. By Hans Hellmut Kirst. Translated from German by Richard Graves. Doubleday. $4.95.

The place is Warsaw, the time is — when?, and the speaker is the head of government who has just returned from Moscow and declares:

"We are nearer than ever to world peace."

His country must submit to the presence of Soviet troops 50 yeares more, and still other sanctions are imposed on the Poles. But it means peace, the people are reassured, according to this new novel by the author of that popular and spirited trilogy about "Gunner Asch."

The news sent out by radio and press affects, though they are not all immediately aware of it to the same degree, a considerable cross section of German life: Reiners, a diplomat who yearns to unite his country; Constance the artist he loves, who seeks a divorce from capitalist Wolf Beck; Ruth Winters, whom Beck hopes to make his next wife, and Bernhardt who blackmails her; Henry Engel, inventor with a role in the development of our deadliest bombs, whom both the Russians and the Americans scheme to kidnap; Isolde, daughter of Constance's housekeeper, and her naive beau Peter; the young lovers Maria and Martin, separated by the division of Germany; and finally Charley, who is The Associated Press correspondent in Warsaw and wanders in and out of these pages collecting information for Kirst, you and me.

Charley is a ludicrously unbelievable character, but so are the other individuals in this novel. This is no longer the work specifically of the creator of "Gunner Asch;" Kirst has another goal here. He doesn't care whether we accept his people, his interest now centers on plot. As Nevil Shute fictionalized almost too realistically in "On the Beach" about the extinction of the human race after the next war, Kirst fictionalizes about the steps by which that ultimate catastrophe will be brought down on our heads.

In fact it's very like the start of World War I, or like the start of any argument between two peppery antagonists; each one has a chip on his shoulder, each thinks the other gets an unfair advantage by his every move, each is scared to call it quits. So the Poles riot against the new Red impositions, the Reds demand an end to violence, an end is promised, the Reds have set troops in motion, the promise is promptly qualified, Germans begin to riot, someone throws a stone, someone pulls a trigger and all at once these peoples, Germans and Poles, Reds and Yanks, have backed themselves right into World WarII, the atomic war. Lovers rush to a rendezvous and poof! a bomb leaves nothing but ashes; the fugitive in the plane is blasted out of the sky; all the air over Europe is contaminated, millions die in a flash, American and Russian cities are wiped out, and man on the seventh day blots out the earth the Lord took seven days to create for him.

This is the creation in reverse, and a spine-tingling account it is. Kirst's plot moves faster and faster, and crackles like fireworks; his tale is terrifyingly plausible.

BOOKS

Forge Of Liberty, by Leonare Falkner (Dutton): In the spring and summer of 1775, the Redcoats got the surprise of their lives. A ragtag - andbobtail group of farmers, mechanics, artisans and shopkeepers stood up against the British regulars, shot them down and became the nucleus of Washington's forces. With immeasurable help from the ignorance and follies of Britain's generals, they went on to win a war that changed the world. This well - researched book tells how it all began on a showery day in April when Paul Revere took his famous ride, how the provincials routed the British at Concord Bridge, and how they repulsed frontal charges of the "Lobsterbacks" at Breed's and Bunker Hills until they had used up their ammunition. Falkner introduces no fictions in this splendid retelling of the first big and awesome achievement of the United States in the making.

The Scandalous Scamps, by Harold Mehling (Holt): A tour through a rogues gallery of swindlers. Here are Richard Whitney, who embezzled millions while president of the New York Stock Exchange; William Franklin "520 per cent" Miller, who promised to pay 10 per cent weekly interest and did — for a while; John Romulus "Goat-Gland" Brinkley, a medical faker who nearly became governor of Kansas; and others who concocted hoaxes that fairly begged to be believed. The author gives all these devils their due as magicians and artists. Nor is he harsh on their victims for being so credulous, pointing out the difficulty sometimes of distinguishing reality from fantasy. Too much skepticism can also be misleading, he warns. For example what would we have said five years ago if someone had proposed to place a new planet in orbit?

Don't Get Personal with a Chicken, by H. Allen Smith (Little Brown) Humorist Smith, who rose to fame with such adult books as "Life In A Putty Knife Factory," now turns his attention to children. This is a collection of their witticisms, some culled from books and magazines, some sent to Smith by the authors (now in their later years) and some by doting parents. Included are letters written home from summer camp: "Dear Mom, Vacation is all most over. See you soon, your love child, Charles." The book's title comes from a letter by an unhappy child who made friends with a chicken destined for the dinner table.

The Jury Is till Out, by Irwin D. Davison and Richare Gehman (Harper): A reconstruction of the trial of seven youths for the slaying of 15 - year - old Michael Farmer in New York. Davidson was the trial judge; Gehman is a professional writer. Davidson gives his thoughts and reasoning at various stages of the trial. He also advances a plan for "incipient" delinquents.

Book Mirror Of Wilderness And Bushmen

THE HARMLESS PEOPLE By Elizabeth Marshall Thomas. Knopf. $4.75.

The Kalahari Desert, some 400 by 600 miles at the widest points, lies in Africa between the Molopo and Okovango rivers, between South West Africa, Bechuanaland and the Parched and inhospitable, this waste grows enormous baobab trees but little else except spiny shrub and bush, besides of course dangerous snakes like mamba, adder and water pythons, lions, leopards, giraffes.

Who would live there if he could find any other place? No one. Thus it is the home of the Bushmen, numbering at the most 50,000, the Gikwe Bushmen in the south a few hundred miles northwest of Johannesburg, and the Kung in the north. A few inches shorter than whites, wearing loin cloths or shawl-like squares of ragged material but little more, the soles of their feet so calloused they whet their knives on them, they have been visited recently by scientific expeditions; and the author of this memorable book, during three trips, spent two years among them. To be sure, she had a truck and jeep and water bags for emergencies, and even a tent. But in effect she lived with these natives, she observed them with fascination, and she has written a remarkable record of her unique experence.

The Bushmen are a shy people, whose heroes, instead of being brave, win admiration by cleverness and trickery. So they are the "harmless people." They may be brave, as is Short Kwi with gangrene eating away all the flesh on one lower leg; they find the agony of the animals on which they prey funny and even hilarious; but they do not kill one another. Abysmally poor, they share all their possessions, for otherwise they might all perish. During the dry season they scratch a wretched living out of roots, or feed on wild melons, they eat a beast down to its hoofs, they find some kinds of ants not only substantial food but delectable.

It is Mrs. Thomas' complete involvement in these people and their affairs that makes this book irresistible. She sees them in the shallow hollows roofed with bent grasses which are their constantly shifting homes; she is bitten by the bees they rout out for the sake of the wild honey; she sees the young wife walk off into the bushes to drop her baby and return nursing it; she endures the stench of the corpses rotting in the water hole where the urchins stir up the putrescent flesh with sticks; she sucks on their tobacco pipes, and on the straw that draws stinking water up from the cavity in the tree.

Mrs. Thomas passes no judgment on the Bushmen's mode of life, but she reports it all in the most realistic detail — the appalling butchery of the gemsbok.

Her book is full of wonderful evocative pictures of this distant, strange people and their hard, worthy life. With

Paul Newman Heads Cast In New Picture

Paul Newman demonstrates his varied approaches the the opposite sex in "The Young Philadelphians," the new Warner Bros. picture in which he traces a youthful Philadelphia lawyer's trail through the city's Main Line "high society."

Newman's social adventures bring him face-to-face with Barbara Rush, a socialite beauty; Alexis Smith, portraying an emotion-starved matron, and Helen Jay in the role of a cafe "pick-up." In each case, Mr. Newman reveals a different style.

The actor, who is currently starring on the Broadway stage in Tennessee Williams' "Sweet Bird of Youth," heads the cast of "The Young Philadelphians," which also stars Brian Keith, Diane Brewster, Billie Burke and John Williams.

Directed by Vincent Sherman, "The Young Philadelphians," coming next Sunday to the Paramount Theatre, is based on Richard Powell's best-selling novel, "The Philadelphian."

NO LONGER DUMB

Outlooks Change For Vegas Girls

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Remember the days when showgirls were beautiful but dumb and thought that a degree was something the police gave you?

Times have changed drastically sad to say, and the average chorine in this gambling mecca is quite likely to be armed with a college education to protect her against the nightly onslaught of fast-talking Romeos.

A highly unofficial but very pleasant survey reveals that about 40 per cent of the showgirls in Las Vegas have had a college education, with the long-stemmed beauties at the Tropicana Hotel scoring the highest percentage.

Money and the expectation of excitement induced most of the college girls to come here a dressing-room seminar between shows at the Tropicana revealed. They earn from $150 to $200 a week for doing barely more than walking on stage and off twice a night.

Diedre Kelly, a blonde, 24-year-old Irish lass who attended Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pa., was typical. She said: "Show business is secondary to me. I studied creative writing and painting, and I needed the money to sustain me."

Dark-haired Joy Blaine, 22, said she was studying to be a teacher at the University of Nevada when somebody told her she was a real looker and should take advantage of it to make some money.

"It was the money, I guess," she said. "So I did it. I'm happy here, but I'm kind of sorry. I would have liked to finish college."

The list of college-educated Tropicana girls is indicative of the new trend. A few examples:

Twins Alice and Rhae Bielfeldt were honor students at Thornton Junior College in Thornton, Ill., and attended speech school at Northwestern University; Patti Throop attended Lewis and Clark College and Portland State; Kathy Wakefield, the University of Washington in Seattle; Marilyn Johnson, Long Beach (Calif.) City College; Kitty Dolan, Marymount College, Tarrytown N. Y.

Also Phyllis Paul, University of Pennsylvania; Helen Williams, St. Mary's College, Xavier, Kan.; Towena Buttenweiser, San Francisco State College; twins Marcia and Marilyn Darcy, Western State College, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Joyce Roberts, Southwest Missouri State; Dotty Harmony, Los Angeles City College, and Sandra Jo Drummond, Valley Junior College, Van Nuys, Calif. Miss Drummond is now married to Philip Crosby, son of the crooner.

Even those girls who didn't attend college consider themselves far removed from the image of the scatterbrained chorus hoofer of days gone by.

PROJECTING A NEW IMAGE

After selling movie projectors for years, you expect them to have a certain size and shape. Then along comes something altogether new like the Brownie 8 Movie Projector and you have to reorganize your thinking. Believe it or not the new Brownie 8 is just about the size of a portable radio. (If you want to be exact, about it, its dimensions are 8⅞ inches long, 4¾ inches wide, and 6½ inches high. Weighs all of 5½ pounds.)

We ran off some of our favorite movies on it and the Brownie 8 gave us one pleasant surprise after another.

It can hold a 220-foot reel of film so you can see fifteen minutes of movies without an interruption. Threading couldn't be simpler. There are no sprockets to fuss with. You just slip the film over smooth snubbers and behind the film gate. It's so easy you can do it while the projector is running.

At a distance of only twelve feet the Brownie 8 gave us a screen image that was three feet wide! And the picture was as bright and steady as you could want. When it came to rewinding, it took this little Brownie Projector just 30 seconds flat to rewind 200 feet of film.

Did I hear somebody out there say, "How much?" Well, that's the happy ending to this story. The price is only $44.50. If that sounds like a bargain—you're right!

Marilyn Head Big Cast For Picture Here

The hottest attraction in years, starring as it does, Marilyn Monroe, Tony Curtis and Jack Lemmon, "Some Like It Hot," will have its local premier at the Paramount Theatre today through United Artists release. This hilarious comedy from the Mirisch Company was directed by Billy Wilder who also wrote the screenplay in collaboration with I.A.L. Diamond. Appearing in the picture with the aforementioned stars are such film favorites as George Raft, Pat O'Brien and Joe E. Brown.

Wilder and Diamond have evolved a comedy set against the gangster-ridden late 1920's in Chicago and Miami. Tony Curtis and Jack Lemmon portray two musicians who inadvertently witness a gangland murder. In order to hide out from the gangland leader responsible for the crime, they disguise themselves as women and land a job with an all-girl orchestra whose vocalist and ukulele player is portrayed by Marilyn Monroe. This gives her several opportunities to warble song hits of the period. Marilyn wears her hair a platinum blonde and all the other girls in the band are blonde too, including Curtis and Lemmon who don blonde wigs — with bangs. "Some Like It Hot" reunites Academy Award winner Billy Wilder with Marilyn (they made "The Seven Year Itch).

The music, including the assembling of the all-girl orchestra, (18 shapely, luscious dames) was supervised by composer-musician Matty Malneck. Miss Monroe's gowns and those of "Miss" Jack Lemmon and "Miss" Tony Curtis as well, were designed by Orry Kelly.

Joe E. Brown is cast as a multimillionaire middle-aged wolf who falls for one of the girl musicians and invites her aboard his yacht — never suspecting the "she" is really Jack Lemmon. George Raft plays the gangster from whom the "girls" are hiding out. And Pat O'Brien plays the cop who is in hot pursuit of Raft and his cronies.

Riotous Scene From Movie

LITTLE THEATRE

This is the week of the opening of our last play of the season. Hasn't it been a grand year? "Country Girl", a good play with a grand cast, will make you wish that our plays could go on through the summer. You may telephone FA 3-4263 from 2 to 7 p.m. for reservations beginning Thursday, May 28, and continuing through Wednesday, June 3, the last performance. Remember, gentlemen, to wear cool sports shirts and leave your coats at home.

Memberships and patron tickets for the 1959-60 season will be sold in the lobby each play night. Even if we succeed in getting our new theater, we are going to have to use the Selman Field Playhouse for several more months. You know how small it is. That is why we have to limit our membership to one thousand. When (and if) we get our new building, we shall probably sell single admissions but not part-season tickets. And listen to this: those who buy their season tickets during May will have the privilege of using the new ticket as admission to Country Girl. It's just like the Book-of-the-Month. You get a bonus if you're a new member. Where else could you buy five Broadway plays for $8.50 and have an extra one thrown in? Sounds like the bargain of the decade. Jean Hamilton (Mrs. Doyle), that hard working, talented, and efficient girl, is chairman of our membership drive. Why not just mail her your check — 1705 Auburn Avenue.

Did you know that Paul Stewart, one of Monroe's leading young architects, has offered to design our new building — free? Marvelous gift! We need your help, too.

From an article in the Shreveport Times last week, we learned more about the summer theater in Dallas called The State Fair Musicals. There will be four musical comedies. one operetta, and a one-man show by Maurice Chevalier, each show running for two weeks. The Monroe group that drove over for the tryouts had a very interesting and exciting time. Everybody was thrilled when Nat Santora was chosen to dance in the five musicals — and somewhat amused that the first play, opening on June 8th, is Pajama Game. We think we'll just trip over to Dallas this summer and see some of those plays.

See you Friday night at Country Girl!

Paul Newman Heads Cast In New Picture

Paul Newman demonstrates his varied approaches the the opposite sex in "The Young Philadelphians," the new Warner Bros. picture in which he traces a youthful Philadelphia lawyer's trail through the city's Main Line "high society."

Newman's social adventures bring him face-to-face with Barbara Rush, a socialite beauty; Alexis Smith, portraying an emotion-starved matron, and Helen Jay in the role of a cafe "pick-up." In each case, Mr. Newman reveals a different style.

The actor, who is currently starring on the Broadway stage in Tennessee Williams' "Sweet Bird of Youth," heads the cast of "The Young Philadelphians," which also stars Brian Keith, Diane Brewster, Billie Burke and John Williams.

Directed by Vincent Sherman, "The Young Philadelphians," coming next Sunday to the Paramount Theatre, is based on Richard Powell's best-selling novel, "The Philadelphian."

ROME (UPI) — Youthful neo-Fascists threw a smoke bomb into a crowded movie house Thursday night and interrupted the showing of a film about the Nuremburg war crimes trials.

NO LONGER DUMB

Outlooks Change For Vegas Girls

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Remember the days when showgirls were beautiful but dumb and thought that a degree was something the police gave you?

Times have changed drastically sad to say, and the average chorine in this gambling mecca is quite likely to be armed with a college education to protect her against the nightly onslaught of fast-talking Romeos.

A highly unofficial but very pleasant survey reveals that about 40 per cent of the showgirls in Las Vegas have had a college education, with the long-stemmed beauties at the Tropicana Hotel scoring the highest percentage.

Money and the expectation of excitement induced most of the college girls to come here a dressing-room seminar between shows at the Tropicana revealed. They earn from $150 to $200 a week for doing barely more than walking on stage and off twice a night.

Diedre Kelly, a blonde, 24-year-old Irish lass who attended Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pa., was typical. She said: "Show business is secondary to me. I studied creative writing and painting, and I needed the money to sustain me."

Dark-haired Joy Blaine, 22, said she was studying to be a teacher at the University of Nevada when somebody told her she was a real looker and should take advantage of it to make some money.

"It was the money, I guess," she said. "So I did it. I'm happy here, but I'm kind of sorry. I would have liked to finish college."

The list of college-educated Tropicana girls is indicative of the new trend. A few examples:

Twins Alice and Rhae Bielfeldt were honor students at Thornton Junior College in Thornton, Ill., and attended speech school at Northwestern University; Patti Throop attended Lewis and Clark College and Portland State; Kathy Wakefield, the University of Washington in Seattle; Marilyn Johnson, Long Beach (Calif.) City College; Kitty Dolan, Marymount College, Tarrytown N. Y.

Also Phyllis Paul, University of Pennsylvania; Helen Williams, St. Mary's College, Xavier, Kan.; Towena Buttenweiser, San Francisco State College; twins Marcia and Marilyn Darcy, Western State College, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Joyce Roberts, Southwest Missouri State; Dotty Harmony, Los Angeles City College, and Sandra Jo Drummond, Valley Junior College, Van Nuys, Calif. Miss Drummond is now married to Philip Crosby, son of the crooner.

Even those girls who didn't attend college consider themselves far removed from the image of the scatterbrained chorus hoofer of days gone by.

PROJECTING A NEW IMAGE
After selling movie projectors for years, you expect them to have a certain size and shape. Then along comes something altogether new like the Brownie 8 Movie Projector and you have to reorganize your thinking. Believe it or not the new Brownie 8 is just about the size of a portable radio. (If you want to be exact, about it, its dimensions are 8⅞ inches long, 4¾ inches wide, and 6½ inches high. Weighs all of 5½ pounds.)
We ran off some of our favorite movies on it and the Brownie 8 gave us one pleasant surprise after another.
It can hold a 220-foot reel of film so you can see fifteen minutes of movies without an interruption. Threading couldn't be simpler. There are no sprockets to fuss with. You just slip the film over smooth snubbers and behind the film gate. It's so easy you can do it while the projector is running.
At a distance of only twelve feet the Brownie 8 gave us a screen image that was three feet wide! And the picture was as bright and steady as you could want. When it came to rewinding, it took this little Brownie Projector just 30 seconds flat to rewind 200 feet of film.
Did I hear somebody out there say, "How much?" Well, that's the happy ending to this story. The price is only $44.50. If that sounds like a bargain—you're right!

Summer Schools To Open June 1

Due to the distance separating the parish high schools, West Monroe and Ouachita will hold separate summer schools, instead of combining for the summer session as heretofore operated. Registration for the summer session for Ouachita Parish High School will begin at 8 a.m. Monday, June 1, in the high school auditorium. West Monroe's registration will begin the same day at 9 a.m. in the auditorium.

Classes will be held from 7 a.m. until 1 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday at Ouachita. Closing date has been set for July 31. West Monroe is adopting a six-day week, from 7 a.m. until 1 p.m. closing July 24. Holidays for the summer session are July 3-4.

High school students may register for a maximum of three one-half units of work. One-half unit may be obtained in grammar and one-half in literature, thereby giving one full unit in English. Two semesters of social studies may be taken.

Ouachita courses offered include general mathematics, algebra, plane geometry, advanced arithmetic, English, I, II, III, IV, civics, world history, America history, biology I and II, general science I and II, and possibly typing.

West Monroe definitely will teach typing, and has added drivers Education to the above list.

Mrs. Daisey F. Bergeron will direct the West Monroe summer session, and Robert C. Ellen will direct the Ouachita summer school.

Although the chief purpose of the summer session is to allow students to bring up work, those wishing to expand their subject matter fields will be allowed to do so.

Open House At Salvation Army Today

In connection with the observance of Salvation Army Week in Monroe, Major Louis Mockabee has issued an invitation to the community to view, first hand, the facilities of work here.

The doors of the Salvation Army Corps of Monroe will be open from 2 to 5 p. m. to an informal open house today. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Dell Lassiter, Mrs. Nethel McDermott, Mrs. P. N. Edwards and Mrs. Avis Gray, and they will be assisted by Mrs. Mockabee and ladies of the Salvation Army Home League.

On hand to greet guests will be Hugh Balfour, chairman of the Advisory Board, Vice Chairman Claud Metcalf, and members of the Advisory Board: Harry Arthur, H. M. James, Arthur Johnson, Al Lassiter, W. O. Smith, Lester Carr, Walter Gray, Bill Latham, P. E. Massey, Frank McDermott, Vernon McCoy, Tom Mulhearn, Irvin Kilpatrick, Dale Martha, George Moses, Charles Penn, J. W. Roberson, George Rorex, Travis Wood, Rev. W. H. Also, to be seen for the first time, will be a prespective drawing of the proposed buildings to the Salvation Army center at 510 Harrison Street.

Officers Arrest Bolivian Leader

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Chilean police arrested Enrique Acha, a leading member of the Bolivian Socialist Falange party, Saturday at the request of the Bolivian government.

A Bolivian note said Acha has been accused of murdering Falangist chief Oscar Unzaga de la Vega, who died shortly after the failure of the April 19 revolt in La Paz.

Police Believe Shooting Result Of Love Affair

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — A family man with a criminal record was shot to death in a dead-end alley Saturday as the culmination of what police believed to be an illicit love affair.

Shot below the right ear and in the chest, Richard R. Battaglia, 30, a Town of Tonawanda resident, was found lying on the ground with his feet still inside the car he had been driving.

A neighborhood resident discovered the slaying after hearing shots about midnight.

Police theorized at first it was a gangland-type slaying of the still-unsolved type that took the lives of the two Buffalo Aquino brothers and a Niagara Falls man last fall. But they dropped this belief later.

After checking the evidence at hand and questioning relatives and acquaintances of the victim, authorities said they were seeking two women in connection with the case. One was said to be an entertainer.

Police also were checking out the report of an anonymous telephone caller who said Battaglia had been keeping company with a married woman.

The father of five, Battaglia was reported to be unemployed at the time and a former construction worker. He was attired in smart clothing when found with five bullet holes in him.

Union Leaders Vote To Support Missile Strike

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —AFL-CIO Union leaders in the Cape Canaveral - Cocoa Beach-Patrick AFB area voted "solid support" Saturday to a strike by carpenters at the Air Force Missile Test Center.

Some 500 carpenters are on strike in a wage and contract dispute. About 1,000 other union workers have refused to cross their picket lines, and it was not known what effect Saturday's action would have on other union workers. There are about 5,300 union workers at the test basc and at Patrick.

A statement by the union leaders called for a "mass rally" of all union workers at Cape Canaveral and Patrick AFB early next week.

It said that the labor group adopted a resolution Saturday calling upon Grover Carter, chairman of the Associated General Contractors group, to deal "in good faith" with the Carpenters Union "as have other contractors throughout Brevard County."

Summer Schools To Open June 1

Due to the distance separating the parish high schools, West Monroe and Ouachita will hold separate summer schools, instead of combining for the summer session as heretofore operated. Registration for the summer session for Ouachita Parish High School will begin at 8 a.m. Monday, June 1, in the high school auditorium. West Monroe's registration will begin the same day at 9 a.m. in the auditorium.

Classes will be held from 7 a.m. until 1 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday at Ouachita. Closing date has been set for July 31. West Monroe is adopting a six-day week, from 7 a.m. until 1 p.m. closing July 24. Holidays for the summer session are July 3-4.

High school students may register for a maximum of three one-half units of work. One-half unit may be obtained in grammar and one-half in literature, thereby giving one full unit in English. Two semesters of social studies may be taken.

Ouachita courses offered include general mathematics, algebra, plane geometry, advanced arithmetic, English, I, II, III, IV, civics, world history, America history, biology I and II, general science I and II, and possibly typing.

West Monroe definitely will teach typing, and has added drivers Education to the above list.

Mrs. Daisey F. Bergeron will direct the West Monroe summer session, and Robert C. Ellen will direct the Ouachita summer school.

Although the chief purpose of the summer session is to allow students to bring up work, those wishing to expand their subject matter fields will be allowed to do so.

Open House At Salvation Army Today

In connection with the observance of Salvation Army Week in Monroe, Major Louis Mockabee has issued an invitation to the community to view, first hand, the facilities of work here.

The doors of the Salvation Army Corps of Monroe will be open from 2 to 5 p. m. to an informal open house today. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Dell Lassiter, Mrs. Nethel McDermott, Mrs. P. N. Edwards and Mrs. Avis Gray, and they will be assisted by Mrs. Mockabee and ladies of the Salvation Army Home League.

On hand to greet guests will be Hugh Balfour, chairman of the Advisory Board, Vice Chairman Claud Metcalf, and members of the Advisory Board: Harry Arthur, H. M. James, Arthur Johnson, Al Lassiter, W. O. Smith, Lester Carr, Walter Gray, Bill Latham, P. E. Massey, Frank McDermott, Vernon McCoy, Tom Mulhearn, Irvin Kilpatrick, Dale Martha, George Moses, Charles Penn, J. W. Roberson, George Rorex, Travis Wood, Rev. W. H. McFadden, Judge Jesse Heard, Mesdames E. A. Porter, Hattie Strauss, Anna Mae Breese, and P. N. Edwards, and Semmie Heninger.

Also, to be seen for the first time, will be a prespective drawing of the proposed buildings to the Salvation Army center at 510 Harrison Street.

Officers Arrest Bolivian Leader

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Chilean police arrested Enrique Acha, a leading member of the Bolivian Socialist Falange party, Saturday at the request of the Bolivian government.

A Bolivian note said Acha has been accused of murdering Falangist chief Oscar Unzaga de la Vega, who died shortly after the failure of the April 19 revolt in La Paz.

Police Believe Shooting Result Of Love Affair

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — A family man with a criminal record was shot to death in a dead-end alley Saturday as the culmination of what police believed to be an illicit love affair.

Shot below the right ear and in the chest, Richard R. Battaglia, 30, a Town of Tonawanda resident, was found lying on the ground with his feet still inside the car he had been driving.

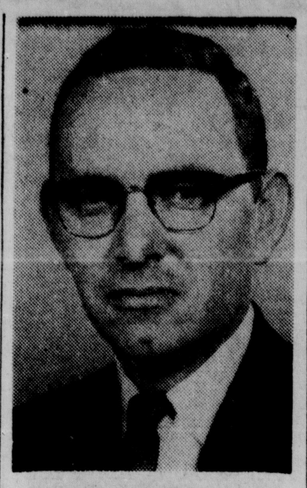

A neighborhood resident discovered the slaying after hearing shots about midnight.

Police theorized at first it was a gangland-type slaying of the still-unsolved type that took the lives of the two Buffalo Aquino brothers and a Niagara Falls man last fall. But they dropped this belief later.

After checking the evidence at hand and questioning relatives and acquaintances of the victim, authorities said they were seeking two women in connection with the case. One was said to be an entertainer.

Police also were checking out the report of an anonymous telephone caller who said Battaglia had been keeping company with a married woman.

The father of five, Battaglia was reported to be unemployed at the time and a former construction worker. He was attired in smart clothing when found with five bullet holes in him.

Bridal Shower Honors Miss Sturdivant

Miss Frankie Sturdivant, bride-elect of Lester Singleton, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower by Mrs. A. A. Wallace, Mrs. Marie Wallace and Mrs. E. C. Roark.

Miss Sturdivant's white carnation corsage presented her by her hostess complimented her blue cotton dress. A color theme of pink and white was used. On the gift table was a party umbrella covered with pink and white silk and opened over gifts representing a shower.

The table was covered with a white cutwork cloth over pink satin. A centerpiece of pink flowers was placed on the table with three branched candelabra holding white tapers on either side of the arrangement. A punch bowl stood on one end of the table holding tinted pink punch and silver trays holding petit flowers were on the opposite end. Mrs. Jean Wallace presided at the punch bowl.

Among the guests present were the bride's mother, Mrs. Fred Sturdivant and the groom's mother, Mrs. W. P. Singleton Sr., Mrs. V. D. Carver, Miss Gail Carver and Mrs. W. P. Singleton Jr. Approximately thirty guests were present.

Thomas-Strong Wedding Held May 9 In Dunn

Miss Merle Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Strong, of Dunn, and Arthur Edward Thomas, Jr., son of Arthur Thomas of Dunn, and Mrs. W. M. Mitchell of Utica, Mississippi, were united in marriage at 7:00 o'clock on Saturday evening, May 9th, at the Dunn Baptist Church.

The Reverend Glenn Phillips performed the double ring ceremony under an ivy covered arch placed between candles and baskets overflowing with ivy and white gladioli.

Mrs. Clayton Cooper at the piano accompanied Mrs. Kelly Ray Patrick, soloist, who sang, "Always," and "I Love You Truly."

Immediately after lighting the candles the young ushers, Jimmy Strong, and Shelby Gilley, seated the bride's mother, the groom's mother, and his father and Mrs. Thomas.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a street length white brocaded taffeta dress with princess lines and a jacket with long sleeves that came down to a point on her wrist. The net veil was attached to a band of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with a white orchid in the center.

Miss Delores Robinson, maid of honor, wore a sleeveless teal blue embroidered cotton dress made on the same pattern as the bride's dress but with a low neckline. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and ivy.

The bridesmaids, Miss Joyce Patrick and Miss Jane McKibbens, wore identical dresses to that of the maid of honor.

The groom chose for his best man, L. E. Mitchel.

The reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Roses and white gladioli were used throughout the living room. The table, covered with a lace cloth over blue, held the crystal punch bowl, presided over by Mrs. S. V. McKibbens. On the other end of the table the bride's tiered cake, decorated with pastel pink roses and a miniature bride and groom, was served by Mrs. Fred Dixon. Miss Gloria Best registered the guests.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left for a short wedding trip. For traveling, Mrs. Thomas chose a brown linen dress with beige accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. On their return the young couple will be at home at Dunn.

PTA Council Endorses Code Of Ethics

The Monroe City Council of P. T. A. endorsed the acceptance of a study to be made of a working plan of a Code of Ethics for the elementary age child. Mrs. Fred Beckett, Community Welfare Chairman, in the Council will start the study with questionnaires and survey sheets circulating throughout the areas of the five elementary schools that make up the Council. Many parents need fortification to combat the pressure, exerted by the plea of their young people that "everybody does it, why can't I?" With this first step being made to prepare a suggested code for Monroe's young people it is imperative that parents, youth, school personnel and other community leaders remember that a Code of Ethics is a set of guiding principals developed to achieve cooperation for a safe and acceptable program of social activities for youngsters with the thought of lessening and perhaps avoiding problems that arise as a child grows in the community.

Other business taking place at the Councils meeting held this month at Sherrouse Elementary School with Mrs. J. A. Faucet, president, presiding were reports of the state P. T. A. Convention held in New Orleans. Fifth District director, Mrs. Cortland McCoy reported on highlights of the Reading Rocket workshop held at the convention under Miss Eloise Cann. principal of Plum Street School and the third vice president of Louisiana State P. T. A. Mrs. Nell Simms of Sherrouse school gave a report on the impressions and gain from a teachers viewpoint in attending a convention. The informal meeting continued with the discussion of the Council undertaking an active program in helping the local units of P. T. A. with strengthening good programs to interest parents. Mrs. W. S. Vincent announced the Louisiana P. T. A. Workshop to be held at N. E. S. College beginning on July 17th and urged interested persons to attend. A lovely coffee hour was presided over by the Sherrouse Elementary P. T. A. with delegates from Georgia Tucker P. T. A., Lexington P. T. A., Lida Benton P. T. A. and Plum Street School P. T. A. as their guests.

National Music Week was started 36 years ago by a musician, Mr. C. M. Termain who is now over eighty years of age. This special week of music is sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs. It's purpose is for all music lovers to join in emphasizing the pleasure to be derived from all kinds of music, in this manner opened the Musical program held at Plum Street School with Mrs. Montez Smith giving the opening address, titled "Music More Meaningful." The Music Chairman of Plum Street School P. T. A., Mrs. Ann Harper, assisted by Miss Marie Minard, led the assembly in group singing of the following old favorites with young and old alike, first on the program was "The More We Get Together," followed by "This Old Man." "Home on the Range," then with all children rising to their feet to sing "America." Mrs. Agnes Millers' fifth grade sang "Oh, Susanna" with the other four grades joining in on the chorus. Over five hundred happy small voices sang out the tune, "Oh Little Liza," ending the song fest with "God Bless America." As the assembly left the auditorium to return to their classes they marched out humming "Anchors Away" in rhythm as a tribute music plays in a child's world.

Miss Janis Hilburn Futrell, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Lieutenant John Henry Wendell, son of Mrs. John Henry Wendell and the late Mr. Wendell of Houma, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Virgil Futrell. The marriage will be solemnized at the First Methodist Church on June 13 at four o'clock in the afternoon.

The groom chose for his best man, L. E. Mitchel.

The reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Roses and white gladioli were used throughout the living room. The table, covered with a lace cloth over blue, held the crystal punch bowl, presided over by Mrs. S. V. McKibbens. On the other end of the table the bride's tiered cake, decorated with pastel pink roses and a miniature bride and groom, was served by Mrs. Fred Dixon. Miss Gloria Best registered the guests.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left for a short wedding trip. For traveling, Mrs. Thomas chose a brown linen dress with beige accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. On their return the young couple will be at home at Dunn.

PTA Council Endorses Code Of Ethics

The Monroe City Council of P. T. A. endorsed the acceptance of a study to be made of a working plan of a Code of Ethics for the elementary age child. Mrs. Fred Beckett, Community Welfare Chairman, in the Council will start the study with questionnaires and survey sheets circulating throughout the areas of the five elementary schools that make up the Council. Many parents need fortification to combat the pressure, exerted by the plea of their young people that "everybody does it, why can't I?" With this first step being made to prepare a suggested code for Monroe's young people it is imperative that parents, youth, school personnel and other community leaders remember that a Code of Ethics is a set of guiding principals developed to achieve cooperation for a safe and acceptable program of social activities for youngsters with the thought of lessening and perhaps avoiding problems that arise as a child grows in the community.

Other business taking place at the Councils meeting held this month at Sherrouse Elementary School with Mrs. J. A. Faucet, president, presiding were reports of the state P. T. A. Convention held in New Orleans. Fifth District director, Mrs. Cortland McCoy reported on highlights of the Reading Rocket workshop held at the convention under Miss Eloise Cann, principal of Plum Street School and the third vice president of Louisiana State P. T. A. Mrs. Nell Simms of Sherrouse school gave a report on the impressions and gain from a teachers viewpoint in attending a convention. The informal meeting continued with the discussion of the Council undertaking an active program in helping the local units of P. T. A. with strengthening good programs to interest parents. Mrs. W. S. Vincent announced the Louisiana P. T. A. Workshop to be held at N. E. S. College beginning on July 17th and urged interested persons to attend. A lovely coffee hour was presided over by the Sherrouse Elementary P. T. A. with delegates from Georgia Tucker P. T. A., Lexington P. T. A., Lida Benton P. T. A. and Plum Street School P. T. A. as their guests.

National Music Week was started 36 years ago by a musician, Mr. C. M. Termain who is now over eighty years of age. This special week of music is sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs. It's purpose is for all music lovers to join in emphasizing the pleasure to be derived from all kinds of music, in this manner opened the Musical program held at Plum Street School with Mrs. Montez Smith giving the opening address, titled "Music More Meaningful." The Music Chairman of Plum Street School P. T. A., Mrs. Ann Harper, assisted by Miss Marie Minard, led the assembly in group singing of the following old favorites with young and old alike, first on the program was "The More We Get Together," followed by "This Old Man." "Home on the Range," then with all children rising to their feet to sing "America." Mrs. Agnes Millers' fifth grade sang "Oh, Susanna" with the other four grades joining in on the chorus. Over five hundred happy small voices sang out the tune, "Oh Little Liza," ending the song fest with "God Bless America." As the assembly left the auditorium to return to their classes they marched out humming "Anchors Away" in rhythm as a tribute music plays in a child's world.

Miss Janis Hilburn Futrell, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Lieutenant John Henry Wendell, son of Mrs. John Henry Wendell and the late Mr. Wendell of Houma, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Virgil Futrell. The marriage will be solemnized at the First Methodist Church on June 13 at four o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. M. J. Fontana wore a twilight blue crepe sheath dress with the neckline of the dress trimmed in tiny beads. She also wore ebony accessories.

Guests were Miss Anna Marie Danna, Miss Dorothy Garrett, Mrs. Ronald Stratton, Mrs. Julian Fontana, Mrs. Hugh Britt, mother of the bride - elect, the honoree and the hostesses.

The honoree was presented with a corsage of pale yellow carnations framed with leaves of gold. She was also given a gift of an electrical appliance by Mrs. Sampognaro and Mrs. Fontana.

Proper Base For Life In Christian Home

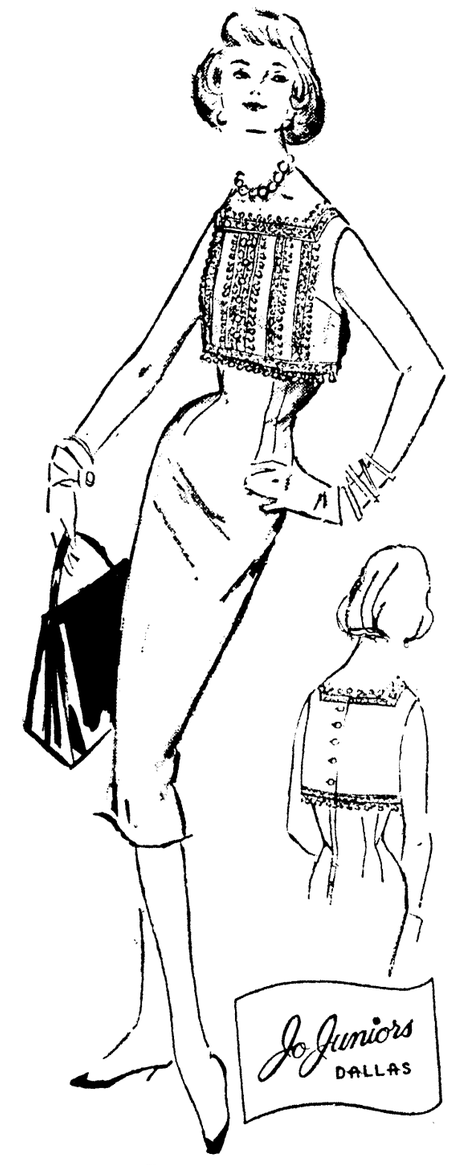

"Children have proper base for life if we have Christian principles in the home" stated Rev. Leon Sims, pastor of the Pleasant Hill Congregational Church, as he addressed members of the Woodlawn HDC and their families and friends at a church service and social in obsercance of National HDC week. The Rev. Sims further insisted that "Homes just don't happen, they are built, and their foundation must be built upon something indestructible, firm, and solid. Homes build ties and strengthen individuals, and no man's life is any better of stronger than his ideals"

Community singing was led by Mrs. Albert Kilpatrick, assisted by Miss Ann Beard at the Piano. Mrs. Leon Sims had arranged a most attractive grouping of red amarylis lilies and greenery in the shape of a V and placed it in front of the altar.

Te group then enjoyed a fine hour of fellowship, roasting weiners over a huge bonfire on the church grounds.

Announcement Party Is Given Marie K. Pierron

The announcement of the engagement and coming marriage of Miss Marie Kilbourne Pierron and David Eugene Watson was formally made Saturday afternoon at a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lowry, cohostess for the event was Mrs. Louis Moschette of Baton Rouge, Mrs. Lowry and Mrs. Moschette are aunts of the bride-elect.

In the receiving line with the honoree were her mother, Mr. Watson's mother, and the two hostesses.

Decorative notes appropriate for a pre - nuptial party were noted about the reception rooms of the old family home of Miss Pierron's mother and aunts, where the guests called during the appointed hours. Arrangements of white and pink gladioli, roses, stock, and delphinium were used on the mantel, piano and desk, where the guests registered. Mrs. F. J. Ensminger and Mrs. Allen Cruce of Wisner, alternated in registering the guests.

The dining table was covered with a cloth of linen - filet lace imported from China. A silver antique Georgian candelabrum centered the table, holding white candles with lilies of the valley and nosegays tied with white and green streamer ribbons, cascading to the table.

The buffet held an arrangement of roses and gladioli and this was centered with a bride - doll on a pedestal.

For the occasion Miss Pierron chose a pink chiffon organdy with a large bertha collar appliqued with white flowers. The hostesses presented her with a pink and white rose bud corsage.

Assisting in the house party were Mrs. B. Seiber Landis, Jr., and Mrs. J. Oswald Henry of Winnsboro, who were asked to pour. Also pouring were Mrs. R. Segrest Roach and Mrs. William A. Tucker of Wisner. Mrs. Walter J. Pierron, Jr., sister - in - law of the bride - elect, and Mrs. Duncan Cook of Monroe, Mrs. Ronald Coco, Mrs. Thomas Watson, Jr., sister - in - law, and Mrs. Laurence Prichard, sister of the groom of Baton Rouge, Miss Vance Lynn Shultz of New Orleans, Mrs. Malcolm Stone and Mrs. Russell Sprague of Tallulah and Misses Elizabeth and Marguerite Landis, Miss Rowena Ramage, and Mrs. Jarrell Godfrey of Winnsboro.

"The world is too dangerous for anything but truth; the world is too small for anything but love."

These words, the most quotable quote of the week, were part of the talk made last Sunday by Dr. PRESTON BRADLEY. The internationally known lecturer and author, with his wife, was in Monroe last weekend as the guest of RUBY MITCHELL. He was invited to speak at Ruby's church, Covenant Presbyterian, and 'twas a memorable experience for those lucky enough to hear him. The Bradleys left Monday for Mississippi, where Dr. Bradley delivers the baccalaureate address at Piney Woods school each year.

Also guests in Ruby's home were two ladies, members of Dr. Bradley's church in Chicago, MRS. HARRY D. STONE, and MRS. WILBUR A. WINBAUGH. Mrs. Stone, who is BILL JACKSON'S sister, will be here the rest of the month.

LORA CARSON and Ruby entertained Tuesday morning with a coffee in honor of the Chicago visitors. The party was held at the Bayou DeSiard country club, where MARY LEE MILAM and ALLYNE PETTY received the guests in the hall. Magnolias were used in the entrance, and in the lounge.

The refreshment table was set up on the club porch. Magnolias centered the table. CHRISTINE GRAY and HORTENSE TOUCHSTONE alternated at the silver coffee service. Bottled soft drinks were served from an ice-filled silver punch bowl at the other end of the table. LUCY KNAPP and VERNE JACKSON assisted with the courtesies. About seventy - five friends called to meet the visitors.

And speaking of quotable quotes consider this one by a teen-ager: "It's tragic, growing old . . . Now that I'm tall enough to reach the cookie jar, I don't like cookies so much any more." . . . So young, so wise.

With graduation time upon us, there are parties daily for those finishing high school. Monday morning. MERLE ADAMS and JUNE EBY were hostesses at a conversational hour at the Adams home, honoring SANDRA KNOWLES, EVELYN AMMAN, PATTY PROPHIT, and LUCYLU TURPIN.

Magnolias and Confederate jasmine were the flowers in the dining room, while daylilies and variegated foliage were used in the family room. Bottled soft drinks were served from a black pot ringed with ivy and jasmine. Assorted sandwiches, cookies and tiny hot doughnuts completed the menu. Thirty graduates and the mothers of the four honorees were guests.

BOBBY GILL was named guest of honor when the CLAY WILSONS entertained with a swimming party at their home on Thursday night. Following the swim, the young people were served supper on the patio, which was hung with Japanese lanterns. An arrangement of hydrangeas in palm fronds centered the buffet table. Spaghetti was the main dish of the meal served to about thirty.

A picnic is scheduled for Wednesday at the Woods' camp, with LIB MILLER and DES ATKINSON as hostesses. Some thirty graduates are invited to come at 10:30 and stay for lunch. The party honors CONNIE WHEELER, SUZANNE KELLOGG, CLAIRE SOLOMON, EVELYN AMMAN, ANN TROUSDALE, and LANDREA DUCOTE.

On Friday night the JOHN MULLENS and the JOHN HARTS honored the JOE POWELLS and the SLADE BROWNS with a farewell dinner at the Mullens home. It was a "Texas - style" party, suggesting the honorees' destination. Red checked cloths were used on the tables, which were centered with arrangements of daylilies and cactus with their yellow blooms. Barbecued beef, black pots of beans, cole slaw, and sliced onions and tomatoes were on the Texas - style menu served to forty guests.

VERA BROWN and MARIE BENDEL have returned from a trip to visit relatives. They drove first to McComb, Mississippi, where Marie stopped with her sister, MRS. ALTON BRIDGES. Vera went on to visit in New Orleans and Belle Chasse. From the latter, she took a boat trip to Grand Ecaille, second largest sulphur dome in the world.

Home for the weekend was JO MARIE ELLETT, who is now teaching in Lake Charles. Coming up with her were her guests PEGGY ROBERTS and LEIGH BOUDREAUX. Jo Marie was hostess Saturday night at a supper party on Noe's Ark. Thirty friends were invited to share the boat ride and the supper which was served later. Included on the menu were barbecued turkey, cheese grits, relishes, and chocolate cake.

A number of Monroyans are attending a convention at the Buena Vista in Biloxi this weekend. Among those on the coast are LOUISE and JOHN THEUS, DOT and KENT BREARD, BARBARA and HAYNES HARKEY, and LOUISE and THOMAS LEIGH.

MRS. JAMES GARDNER of Cleveland, Ohio, is the guest here this week of her sister, JEANNETTE CHAMBERS. A home luncheon on Tuesday was the compliment of SARA RHYMES for this visitor. A typically Southern menu was served, including fried chicken, lady peas, potatoes, aspic, and lemon pie. Roses and Queen Anne's lace centered the table for six.

ENOLA ROGERS was also hostess at a small luncheon for Mrs. Gardner. Green and white calladium were used on the table, which was set up on a gallery overlooking the bayou — one of our most charming Southern scenes.

Colorful travel posters greeted guests as they stepped from the elevator at the Frances Hotel to embark on the Cotillion Club's "Caribbean cruise" formal Saturday night. The dance floor itself was converted into the deck of the "S. S. Cotillion." Ships' flags, serpentine, and life preservers contributed to the atmosphere. We spied some lovely dance frocks, including MARGUERITE JONES' tangerine and LOUISE KLAM's pale blue organza . . . LAVERNE BODRON's floor-length white net was trimmed with gold lace . . . A print in shades of blue and lavender was worn by RUTH HENRY . . . ALICE CARBREY wore a print of yellow roses on a beige ground . . . A pale blue sash set off BARBARA SUGAR's bouffant white . . . GERRY SPERRY's dress featured a print in several heavenly shades of blue . . . and apricot chiffon was most becoming to JEAN DIXON.

The biggest dance the Twin Cities have seen for blows and stretches was scheduled for last night at the West Monroe fairgrounds. It was being held in connection with the state Lions' convention. Tony Amarico and his orchestra come from New Orleans to play for dancing.

An Hawaiian party was held at the Highland Park Country Club last Saturday night, celebrating the club's first birthday as well as the formal opening of the swimming pool for this year. Near the entrance a large cutout figure of a girl in a grass skirt under a palm tree set the theme. Lanterns wree hung around the pool, and screens of magnolia foliage used as a background. Hula dancers performed for the club members; and a water ballet was presented in the pool.

An island menu, beginning with Hawaiian punch and continuing through roast suckling pig, salmon, ham with sweet potatoes and other Polynesian dishes, was served. Inside the club, individual tables were centered with pineapples ringed with leis which were given as favors. The bandstand was decorated with fishnet and sea shells. The Mixmasters played for dancing from eight until midnight.

A number of local golfers attended the Arlington Open golf tournament in Hot Springs, Arkansas, last weekend. Going up were the LESTER HIGHS, the AMOS SMELSERS, the CURTIS COOKS, the OWEN M'CLEARYS, and the WINNIE COLES.

MRS. J. M. CULPEPPER from Bridgeport, Texas, visited in the home of her daughter, MRS. E. I. BEESON. While she was here, she was honored at an informal morning coffee hour hosted by MRS. J. E. TRIPP, JR.

ANN MURPHY celebrated her tenth birthday with a skating party last Saturday. The group played Stop - the - Music, with SUSAN WILLIAMS and PAULA MEEK winning the prizes. Fans were given as favors to the girls, and sacks of marbles to the boys. CUPCAKES and soft drinks were the refreshments served to some forty-five boys and girls.

Since we seem to be full of quotes today, let us quote from some of Winston Churchill's masterly speeches in this, our poetry corner. He is most famous for "I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears, and sweat" and for "Let us so conduct ourselves that if Britain and her Empire last for a thousand years, men will still say 'This was their finest hour'." . . .

This week marks the eighteenth anniversary of the evacuation of Dunkirk, the most remarkable retreat in military history. We quote from Churchill's words to Commons: "We shall prove ourselves once again able to defend our island home, to ride out the storm of war, and to outlive the menace of tyranny, if necessary for years, if nesessary alone . . . We shall not flag or fail. We shall go on to the end, we shall fight in France, we shall fight on the seas and oceans, we shall fight with growing confidence and growing strength in the air, we shall defend our island, we shall fight may be, we shall fight on the beaches, we shall fight on the landing grounds, we shall fight in the fields and in the streets, we shall fight in the hills; we shall never surrender."

May-Blanket Storage Time

Moths like wool but tend to shun fresh, clean blankets. So, for the humid, moth-thriving summer months ahead, homemakers should make sure that their blankets are properly laundered.

The traditional dirt-eliminating standbys - scrubbing and hot water—are taboo for cleaning blankets. Both of these factors will lead to felting or matting of the fabric.

Special equipment and control-that assure cleanliness without shrinking or matting are used by profesional laundries. In addition, blankets undergo a mothproofing process in the last rinse. Blankets are then brushed or "carded" after they have dried. The carding raises the nap so that air can get between the fibers to make the blankets softer and warmer.

A good help - yourself thirst-quenching snack to leave for the refrigerator raiders is a whole pared pineapple (covered with transparent plastic film) — everyone is invited to cut a slice.

THE RENDEZVOUS WAS THE SETTING for the meeting on Monday of the Welcome Garden Club when they held their installation for new officers for the coming year. Seated left to right are Mrs. O. O. Cummings, president; Mrs. Frank Pettit, vice-president; standing, Mrs. R. M. Kettenring, treasurer; Mrs. W. R. Laing, recording secretary.

Announcement Party Is Given Marie K. Pierron

The announcement of the engagement and coming marriage of Miss Marie Kilbourne Pierron and David Eugene Watson was formally made Saturday afternoon at a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lowry, cohostess for the event was Mrs. Louis Moschette of Baton Rouge, Mrs. Lowry and Mrs. Moschette are aunts of the bride-elect.

In the receiving line with the honoree were her mother, Mr. Watson's mother, and the two hostesses.

Decorative notes appropriate for a pre - nuptial party were noted about the reception rooms of the old family home of Miss Pierron's mother and aunts, where the guests called during the appointed hours. Arrangements of white and pink gladioli, roses, stock, and delphinium were used on the mantel, piano and desk, where the guests registered. Mrs. F. J. Ensminger and Mrs. Allen Cruce of Wisner, alternated in registering the guests.

The dining table was covered with a cloth of linen - filet lace imported from China. A silver antique Georgian candelabrum centered the table, holding white candles with lilies of the valley and nosegays tied with white and green streamer ribbons, cascading to the table.

The buffet held an arrangement of roses and gladioli and this was centered with a bride - doll on a pedestal.

For the occasion Miss Pierron chose a pink chiffon organdy with a large bertha collar appliqued with white flowers. The hostesses presented her with a pink and white rose bud corsage.

Assisting in the house party were Mrs. B. Seiber Landis, Jr.. and Mrs. J. Oswald Henry of Winnsboro, who were asked to pour. Also pouring were Mrs. R. Segrest Roach and Mrs. William A. Tucker of Wisner. Mrs. Walter J. Pierron, Jr., sister - in - law of the bride - elect, and Mrs. Duncan Cook of Monroe, Mrs. Ronald Coco, Mrs. Thomas Watson, Jr., sister - in - law, and Mrs. Laurence Prichard, sister of the groom of Baton Rouge, Miss Vance Lynn Shultz of New Orleans, Mrs. Malcolm Stone and Mrs. Russell Sprague of Tallulah and Misses Elizabeth and Marguerite Landis, Miss Rowena Ramage, and Mrs. Jarrell Godfrey of Winnsboro.

Dinner Party Honors Miss Rhodes- P. Collins

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennett were hosts at the Highland Park Country Club in the private dining room for a dinner party honoring Miss Jo Rhodes and her fiance, Patrick Collins. Miss Rhodes was becomingly dressed in a pink dress with full skirt and the sleeves and waist were bound in white embroidery.

The dinner table held an arrangement of Picardy gladioli and purple stock, lighted tapers were used on either side of this arrangement.

The couple was presented an electric clock by their hosts.

Those present were Miss Margaret Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Givens, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Rhodes, the honorees and the hosts.

REHEARSAL PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Collins were hosts for a buffet supper for the Rhodes - Collins wedding party. This was held at the Highland Park Country Club.

The bridal party table was decorated with magnolias and white candles the full length. Other tables were centered with a single white candle, encircled with variegated pittosporum and bay leaves. Miss Rhodes looked lovely in an aqua silk organza, embroidered in white. The bridal couple took this opportunity to present their attendants and each other with gifts.

A champagne toast was drunk to the couple.

Besides hosts and bride and groom, guests included: Miss Margaret Hunter, Miss Carol Collins, Miss Carolyn Sparkman, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin B. King, Mr. and Mrs. George Broussard, Miss Sidair Womack, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Luncheon Fetes Three W. M. H. S. Graduates

Misses Linda Faye Atkins, Charlotte Pankey, and Frances Phillips were the hostesses at a luncheon given in their honor by their parents, Mrs. Oren H. Atkins, Mrs. C. L. Pankey, and Mrs. F. A. Phillips. This event, one of the numerous parties given for the graduates of West Monroe High School, was held Thursday, May 21 at the Highland Park Country Club.

The table carried out the traditional graduation theme. Each guest's place was marked by a tiny box with a figure in cap and gown on top, filled with after-dinner mints. Catching everyone's eye was the clever centerpiece, a cake rolled in the shape of a diploma tied with a blue ribbon centered on the top of a mortar board in the class colors of blue and white. The base of the cap was surrounded by gardenias, the class flower.

The honorees were dressed in lovely summer frocks. Miss Atkins wore a white sheath with white accessories. Miss Pankey was dressed in a black and white sheath with a roll collar and black patent accessories. A billowing white dress with red and blue polka dots accented with a wide red obi sash was worn by Miss Phillips.

Guests for the noon affair were Misses Linda Carol Bledsoe, Judy Carter, Ann Duncan, JaNell Gentry, Mary Elizabeth Heard, Sandra Houston, Martha Golson, Amy Hood, Linda Griggs, Sheila Watson, Mary Beth Rogers, Brenda Younse, Charlotte Guillory, Virginia Watson, Louise Lester, Carol Ann May, Becky Vance, Pat Tompkins, Glenda Sue Young, Sue Taylor, Linda Lavendar, Joanna Massey, Tywannia White, and Mrs. Coralie Heard White and Mrs. Linda McCormick Lewis.

Sewing Trick

Cut off the crotch of baby's outgrown rompers and hem across the bottom. In just a few moments you have a shirt in this manner that baby can continue wearing for usually the rompers get too short before getting too small elsewhere.

For best results when whipping cream have it 24 hours old and thoroughly chilled.

B.M.I. GRADUATE

FAY BULLOCK

Miss Fay Bullock was graduated from Central High School in May, 1958. Immediately after her graduation, she entered BMI for the Complete General Business course.

While in school Miss Bullock proved to be a very capable and cooperative student. She completed her course and received her diploma May 15. On May 16, she went to work as stenographer for Louisiana Training Institute, Monroe.

Miss Bullock says: "I feel that I have accomplished many things during my training at B M I. It offers so many opportunities toward advancement in the business field."

Morning Ceremony Unites Julia Olive Rhodes Patrick Babin Collins

St. Paschal's Catholic Church was the setting for a beautiful wedding on Saturday, May 16th, at eleven o'clock in the morning, at which Miss Julia Olive Rhodes only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Joshau Rhodes, became the bride of Patrick Babin Collins at a Nuptial Mass. The impressive double ring ceremony was conducted by Rev. Father Vitus Duschinsky, pastor. Mr. Collins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo A. Collins, of Houston, Texas.

Candelabra were placed behind stately arrangements of white stock and Majestic daisies on either side of the main altar and on each side altar, Floor vases of similar arrangements were on each side of the altar steps. Preceding the ceremony the candles were lighted by the altar boys, Robert Kemp and Danny Fox.

While the guests were being seated, and during the service, Mrs. D. B. Albritton rendered organ selections, and accompanied the soloist, Miss Gertrude Sandrock, who sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day," "Oh Beautiful Mother."

The bride walked down the white - carpeted aisle with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her bridal gown was of peau de soie. The closely fitted bodice, short sleeves, and scoop neckline were appliqued with embroidered imported Alencon lace, which also accented the midriff and followed the back - swept lines of the beautiful barouche skirt. A two - tiered obi sash topped the back skirt fullness which ended in a wide chapel train. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a coronet of beaded pearls. Her only ornament was a string of matched pearls, a gift from the groom. Her bouquet was of white roses and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

The bride's attendants were Miss Margaret Hunter, maid of honor, Miss Carol Collins and Miss Carolyn Sparkman, of Houston, and Mrs. Franklin B. King, of Homer. They wore identical sea Nile green silk organza models with silk chantilly lace yoke, short sleeves, and scoop neckline. The short bell skirt, swirled to the back, was caught with an organza bow at the back of the high waistline and trailed to the hem. They wore matching bandeau hats with a single green rose at the back, and carried crescent bouquets of lemon yellow carnations. Each wore a gold chain and drop pearl.

Thomas E. Collins served his brother as best man. Ushers were George Broussard, George Truitt, and Herbert Krischke, all of Houston.

Mrs. Rhodes, mother of the bride, wore a beige chantilly lace dress, with scalloped hemline, matching hat and pumps, and white accessories. Mrs. Collins, the groom's mother, was attired in a two piece grey silk sheath dress, with blue hat. Both had on corsages of cymbedium orchids.

The reception was at Highland Park Country Club. Miss Carol Wenzel, of Little Rock, cousin of the bride, registered the guests. Beside the bride's book was a lighted memory candle, entwined with green and white ivy, with a white orchid at its base.

The bride's table, covered with a Madeira cloth, had at one end the three - tiered wedding cake, topped with stephanotis and a white orchid. Variegated pittosporum and yucca florets surrounded the base. At the opposite end of the table was an old English silver epergne which held arrangements of stock, white crinum lilies, Esther Reed daisies, feverfew, hosta and lady fern. A five - branched silver candelabra centered the table, which also had silver compotes of wedding mints.

The punch bowl, circled with Hahn's ivy and yucca florets, centered a smaller table.

Mrs. Allen Givens and Mrs. F. C. McConnell cut the wedding cake, and Mrs. Sam Humphries and Mrs. C. G. Pearce, Jr. poured punch. Miss Sidair Womack, of Houston, Miss Mary Virginia Parker, and Mrs. Richard Cook assisted in the courtesies.

For traveling, the bride wore a beige and grey dress with matching short jacket, bone colored accessories, and a beige and white straw hat. The orchid from her bridal bouquet was pinned at her shoulder. After a wedding trip to Sea Island, Georgia, the couple will be at home in Houston.

The bride is a graduate of Louisiana State University and is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Out of town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wenzel, Miss Carol Wenzel, Eugene Wenzel, Oscar Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bell, of Little Rock; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Griffith, of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, Hot Springs; Mrs. Sid Fuller, Ruston; Mrs. Cyril Babin, Miss Mercedes Babin, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Babin, Mrs. George Broussard, Miss Karen Babin, Mrs. H. L. Krischke, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mulvey, Mr. and Mrs. James McConn, of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Turner, Kathleen and Tim Turner of San Antonio; Richard Holt, of Dallas; Jerry Neil of Tulsa; Charles Walker, of Baton Rouge; Franklin King, of Homer.

Mr and Mrs. Jessie L. Griffis of Bastrop announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Colleene Griffis of Monroe to Thomas E. Irwin of Franklin, Virginia, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Irwin of Tallulah, Mississippi. A June 16 wedding is planned.

Baton Rouge Parties Fete Miss Lee And Fiance, Randall Goodwin

Miss Margaret Ann Lee and her fiance, Randall Goodwin were honor guests when Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Beall entertained for them on Friday with a cocktail party in their home on Government Street in Baton Rouge. The hours were from 6:30 to 9:00 o'clock.

The bride-elect was becomingly dressed in a green silk organza cocktail dress. Her hostess presented her with a corsage of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Bealle greeted guests at the door. Numerous arrangements of gladioli, roses and magnolias were used in the house decorations.

The party table in the dining room was covered with an imported cut work cloth and the centerpiece was a mass arrangement of red roses.

COUPLE HONORED

Mrs. John A. Smith and her daughter, Miss Marge Smith in Baton Rouge entertained in their home on Terrace Avenue with a cocktail party honoring Miss Margaret Ann Lee and Randall Goodwin who will be married on June 6.

This was held on Saturday afternoon between the hours of 7 and 9 in the evening.

The honoree looked lovely in a printed chiffon. Her corsage of yellow mums complimented her ensemble. Mrs. Smith received with her guests in a green silk shantung and Miss Smith in a yellow printed silk.

All decorations were carried out in yellow and white daisies and gladioli and yellow mums were used on the dining table, these were flanked by silver candelabra with burning tapers.

Approximately 50 guests attended including Mr. and Mrs. Culbert Lee, parents of the bride -elect of this city.

Plan enough leftovers when boiling potatoes to make a family dish of creamed or au gratin potatoes and hot or cold potato salad.

Baton Rouge Parties Fete Miss Lee And Fiance, Randall Goodwin

Miss Margaret Ann Lee and her fiance, Randall Goodwin were honor guests when Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Beall entertained for them on Friday with a cocktail party in their home on Government Street in Baton Rouge. The hours were from 6:30 to 9:00 o'clock.

The bride-elect was becomingly dressed in a green silk organza cocktail dress. Her hostess presented her with a corsage of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Bealle greeted guests at the door. Numerous arrangements of gladioli, roses and magnolias were used in the house decorations.

The party table in the dining room was covered with an imported cut work cloth and the centerpiece was a mass arrangement of red roses.

COUPLE HONORED

Mrs. John A. Smith and her daughter, Miss Marge Smith in Baton Rouge entertained in their home on Terrace Avenue with a cocktail party honoring Miss Margaret Ann Lee and Randall Goodwin who will be married on June 6.

This was held on Saturday afternoon between the hours of 7 and 9 in the evening.

The honoree looked lovely in a printed chiffon. Her corsage of yellow mums complimented her ensemble. Mrs. Smith received with her guests in a green silk shantung and Miss Smith in a yellow printed silk.

All decorations were carried out in yellow and white daisies and gladioli and yellow mums were used on the dining table, these were flanked by silver candelabra with burning tapers.

Approximately 50 guests attended including Mr. and Mrs. Culbert Lee, parents of the bride -elect of this city.

Plan enough leftovers when boiling potatoes to make a family dish of creamed or au gratin potatoes and hot or cold potato salad.

Beach - Curry Vows Repeated On February 21

A beautiful and impressive wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Bertha Mae Curry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Curry, of Wisner and Frank Andrew Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beach, of Wisner, was solemnized on February 21, at 10:30 in the morning in the First Baptist Church of Wisner by the Rev. Carlton Vance.

An arch and four candelabra decorated with green ivy and two large baskets of white gladioli formed the background for the impressive double-ring ceremony.

Miss Alice Ruth Herrington randered a program of traditional wedding music during the pledging of the vows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white ballerina length gown of white satin with a white lace bodice and a neckline of inward scallops. Her finger tip veil of silk illusion fell from a pearl crown. her bouquet, centered with a white orchid surrounded by lilies of the valley, was tied with white satin ribbons to a white bridal Bible. A single strand of pearls and tiny pearl earringswere the bride's only ornaments. She wore white gloves.

The bride chose her sister, Miss Annie Mable Curry, as her maid of honor. She wore a pale green, taffeta street length gown, with capped sleeves, sweetheart neckline, and full skirt. Three large self bows, each centered with a large rose, of the same material ornamented the gown. Her hat was a halo of green net topped with a large bow of green taffeta to match the dress. She wore short white gloves and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Dale Carroll of Wisner served the groom as best man. He and the groom each wore the regulation navy uniform.

The petite little flower girl, Miss Aline Curry, sister of the bride, wore a street length dress of pink slipper satin, and carried the traditional basket of rose petals. Carlie Ray Beach, brother of the groom, was ring bearer and carried a beautiful satin and lace covered pillow.

The three bridesmaids, Misses Gaye Bond and Patricia Mullinnix, both of New Orleans, and Miss Robin Hammons, of Wisner wore gowns and hats identical to the maid of honor, but they were lavender. Each carried a bouquet of white carnations and wore a chain necklace with one seed pearl, gift of the bride.

The three groomsmen, Kenneth Thornhill, David McLemore, and Billy Ferrington, also served as ushers, and wore identical maroon ties, gift of the groom.

Little Miss Kitty Curry, sister of the bride, wore a red, street length taffeta dress, with white corsage, and presided at the guest book, placed on a table in the church lobby decorated with a minature bride doll on a lace table cloth over green.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding, a light blue taffeta faille dress trimmed with Navy lace with navy accessories. The groom's mother wore a suit of navy, with a navy faille duster and navy accessories. Each wore shoulder corsages of white carnation.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the church parlor. Receiving with the bridal couple were their mothers and the bride's attendants.

The bride's table, covered with a linen cut work cloth, and decorated with crystal candle holders and the bride's and attendant's bouquets, held the crystal punch bowl, cakes topped with pink rosebuds and the lovely tiered bridal cake decorated in pink and white roses with a minature bride and groom on top. Alternating in serving the cake and punch were Misses Mona Brooks, Joy Ferrington, Elizabeth Farley and Arlene Parker, all of Wisner.

The bride chose for travel a light spring suit, with a peach and white plaid skirt and a solid peach shirt waist jacket, a white nylon blouse and black patent accessories. Her hat was covered with flat flowers of all colors, including the shade in her suit. She wore the white orchid as they left on their short wedding trip.

The bride is a student in Wisner High School and the groom is a graduate of Wisner High School and is now in the United States of Sicily Island.

MISS BARBARA ANN EADY'S approaching marriage to Bruce Collins Busbice is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adron Eady of this city. The parents of the groom-elect are Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Busbice of Rayville. Rev. John O. Stewart will officiate at the ceremony on May 30, at seven o'clock at the First Christian Church. Miss Eady graduated from Ouachita Parish High School and attended Northeast Louisiana State College. Mr. Busbice graduated from Mangham High School and is now attending Northeast Louisiana State College.

Book Club Holds A Supper Party

The Final Meeting of La Tertulia Book Club was a supper party hostessed by Mrs. Fay Jackson, Mrs. Charles Lobrano, and Mrs. Joe Roges. The T shape table was centered with a beautiful May Pole of pink over varicolored chrysantheums with streamers of pastel ribbon leading to individual corsages making a circle of colors around the base. As each member arrived she chose the flower best suited for her.

The meeting was opened with the Club Collect led by Mrs. Charles Lobrano. Then a Most Inspirational installation program was given by our president Mrs. Fay Jackson. The theme being Music. The Club the orchestra and the officers: President, Mrs. Fred Brownlee; Vice President, Mrs. James Daniels; Secretary, Mrs. R. C. Pittard; Treasurer, Miss Clara Johnston; Parliamentarian, Mrs. R. H. Clark; Reporter, Mrs. Bruce Roth, the leaders. Each was presented with the minature musical instruments representative of her office. May our music spread loud and clear.

Mrs. Earl Hamm returned thanks. The meal and fellowship was enjoyed by: Mrs. Oren Atkins, Mrs. E. S. Blackmon, Mrs. Fred Brownlee, Mrs. R. H. Clark, Mrs. James Daniels, Mrs. Victor Davis, Mrs. Earl Hamm, Mrs. Kenneth Holt, Mrs. Fay Jackson, Mrs. Charles Lobrano, Mrs. Eugene Lutz, Mrs. Jennette Mahaffey, Mrs. R. C. Pittard, Mrs. Joe Rogers, Mrs. Bruce Roth, Mrs. Howard Williams.

Piano Recital Given By Mrs. Martin

Piano pupils of Mrs. Leonar Martin were presented in recital at the Woodlawn Elementary School gymnasium Thursday evening.

Students participating were Chales Beard, Beverly Brown, Charles Parish, Johnny Douglas, Susan Wade, Sharon Evans, Wanda Jones, Phillip Sims, and Rebecca Cobb. Also Velma Sanderson, Carol Hudson, Alex McMullen Connie Crawley, Elaine Smith, Janet Nalback, Dianne Opiel, Brenda Arrant, Charlotte Smith, Tommie Sue Pritchett, Shirley Jean Martin, Sharon Pritchett, Judy Fuller, Shirley Pace, Alex McMullen, Carol Ann Hudson, Michael Crawley, Diane Williams, Patricia Cosey, Betty Williamson, Jean Carey, Walter Kelly, Charlene Carey, Violet King.

House plants all sticky from aphids? The perennial picnic pests can help you there. Just place the pots on an ant hill, preferable with red ants, and watch the insects do a cleanup job. Then, all that's left for you is to take the pots back indoors and wash them.

Clam broth seasoned with catsup, celery salt and Worcestershire sauce makes an excellent before - dinner cocktail.

If you have found it difficult to make popovers from scratch, you may have more success with a mix from the grocery shelf.

Your family will praise you for serving up corn fritters from left-over corn cut from the cob.

Girl Scout Camping And Platdays Held Pine Wood

Troop camping every weekend and two recent playdays have made Pine Wood a busy place. For the postponed playday for younger Brownies there were about 175 girls adults representing 10 troops. Several troops cooked their noon meal, following kaper charts like experienced Scouts, and turnng out well-cooked meals. Troops 83, 37 and 96 cooked the ever-popular campfire stew and ate every bite of it, their leaders say. Of course, every group went on hikes to the river and explored the camp grounds. Most of all, they seemed to enjoy just being out of doors on a pretty spring day. Five Intermediates of Troop 24, Robbie Hicks, Susan Benton, Becky Middleton, Barbara Suomi, and Mickie Varnado, came out to help leaders with activities for the younger girls, a help that was needed and appreciated.

Under the leadership of Mrs. B. O. Yeldell, Mrs. C. H. Bird, and Miss Virginia Wolfe, Troop 48 spent Friday night of the Brownie playday at camp, doing many of the usual things—and also fulfilling some of the First Class requirements. When asked what they enjoyed most, the girls said, "sleeping at camp." Most of them are veterans of day camping, but had had little troop camping. Don't laugh at the word "sleeping" used in this way. Scout campers do sleep; nine hours is the rule, in order that they may be able to have fun the next day.

The following girls went on Troop 48's overnight: Linda Battistone, Kathryn Bird, Brenda Carso, Jean Carter, Marilyn Denoux, Kay Joyce, Janet Kiper, Ann Hanks, Pat Pickett, Mary Polk, Pamela Pomeroy, Mary Reynolds, Kaki Stone, Dianne Womack, Mary Alice Yeldell.

Troop 42 took advantage of a school holiday to spend Wednesday night and Thursday morning at Pine Wood for their first overnight. according to their leaders, Mrs. Lester High and Mrs. Robert Smith, the girls had done good planning at their meetings and were prepared. In fact, the leaders continued, the food was good, the fires were just right for cooking, the girls did kapers well and had fun doing them, and they stayed in bed and were quiet until the alarm went off at 7:00. That's not so easy to do when the sun comes up and wakes people who are not used to sleeping on a porch. It's part of that nine hour sleep rule, however.

Leaders and girls got a thrill out of cooking their first breadtwists Thursday morning. They all were cooked to golden brown and the hole filled with butter and jelly and they tasted delicious, we heard. Campfire was fun, with original dramatics as the entertainment and marshmallows to toast. Afterward, the girls went into the building and learned how to light and clean and take care of an oil lamp. Turning out the electric light to see how the lamplight looked, the girls started singing the pretty goodnight songs they knew. Then bed on the porch for a restful night.

Thirteen girls enjoyed the experience. Kay Anzalone, Kathy Blau, Susan High, Susie Inzina, Carol Gene Jones, Kathy Jones, Mary Lou Reljac, Maria Scalia, Judy Smith, Dana Tucker, Vickie Trichel, Cheryl Walker, and Diana White.

Bridal Shower Given Miss Melba Anding

Miss Melba Anding, bride-elect, of Willie May was honored recently with a bridal shower given by Mrs. Arlene Copeland at the home of her mother, Mrs. Arnie Greer, in West Monroe.

For the occasion, the honoree wore a strapless, pink linen dress accented by white lace at the top. The honoree's mother wore a black brocade dress accented with red accessories.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. Copeland and were registered by Miss Barbara Greer.

Upon arriving, the guests placed their gifts in a lovely decorated box of white and silver paper, topped with colorful bows of shimmering silver glitter.

A beautiful centerpiece of red roses on the round table, overlaid with a damask cloth, made the brides' table a picture of loveliness.

Among the guests enjoying the bridal shower were: Mrs. Nell Manning, Mrs. C. A. Lenard, Mrs. Johnny Odom, Mrs. R. C. Frazier, Mrs. E. E. Clark, Mrs. Claude Humble, Mrs. Ray Shackleford, Mrs. Nalda Gilmore, Mrs. V. A. Phillips, Mrs. John Humble, Mrs. Nathan Copeland, Mrs. Daisy Anding, Mrs. J. W. Anding, Miss Dale Anding, Miss Thresa Hanes, Miss Patsy Banks, Miss Kitty Price, Miss Lynn Anding, Miss Barbara Greer, Miss Gayle Evans, Miss Ira Faye Owens, Miss Glenda Owens and Mrs. JoAnn Anding.

Rub split or quartered chicken with French dressing before broiling; frying - chicken pieces may be marinated in French dressing a couple hours and then broiled.

Spice fried chicken by adding paprika, dry mustard and garlic or onion powder to the dipping flour.

Use chicken livers the next time you hanker for that time honored dish of liver and onions.

Girl Scout Camping And Platdays Held Pine Wood

Troop camping every weekend and two recent playdays have made Pine Wood a busy place. For the postponed playday for younger Brownies there were about 175 girls adults representing 10 troops. Several troops cooked their noon meal, following kaper charts like experienced Scouts, and turnng out well-cooked meals. Troops 83, 37 and 96 cooked the ever-popular campfire stew and ate every bite of it, their leaders say. Of course, every group went on hikes to the river and explored the camp grounds. Most of all, they seemed to enjoy just being out of doors on a pretty spring day. Five Intermediates of Troop 24, Robbie Hicks, Susan Benton, Becky Middleton, Barbara Suomi, and Mickie Varnado, came out to help leaders with activities for the younger girls, a help that was needed and appreciated.

Under the leadership of Mrs. B. O. Yeldell, Mrs. C. H. Bird, and Miss Virginia Wolfe, Troop 48 spent Friday night of the Brownie playday at camp, doing many of the usual things—and also fulfilling some of the First Class requirements. When asked what they enjoyed most, the girls said, "sleeping at camp." Most of them are veterans of day camping, but had had little troop camping. Don't laugh at the word "sleeping" used in this way. Scout campers do sleep; nine hours is the rule, in order that they may be able to have fun the next day.

The following girls went on Troop 48's overnight: Linda Battistone, Kathryn Bird, Brenda Carso, Jean Carter, Marilyn Denoux, Kay Joyce, Janet Kiper, Ann Hanks, Pat Pickett, Mary Polk, Pamela Pomeroy, Mary Reynolds, Kaki Stone, Dianne Womack, Mary Alice Yeldell.

Troop 42 took advantage of a school holiday to spend Wednesday night and Thursday morning at Pine Wood for their first overnight. according to their leaders, Mrs. Lester High and Mrs. Robert Smith, the girls had done good planning at their meetings and were prepared. In fact, the leaders continued, the food was good, the fires were just right for cooking, the girls did kapers well and had fun doing them, and they stayed in bed and were quiet until the alarm went off at 7:00. That's not so easy to do when the sun comes up and wakes people who are not used to sleeping on a porch. It's part of that nine hour sleep rule, however.

Leaders and girls got a thrill out of cooking their first breadtwists Thursday morning. They all were cooked to golden brown and the hole filled with butter and jelly and they tasted delicious, we heard. Campfire was fun, with original dramatics as the entertainment and marshmallows to toast. Afterward, the girls went into the building and learned how to light and clean and take care of an oil lamp. Turning out the electric light to see how the lamplight looked, the girls started singing the pretty goodnight songs they knew. Then bed on the porch for a restful night.

Thirteen girls enjoyed the experience. Kay Anzalone, Kathy Blau, Susan High, Susie Inzina, Carol Gene Jones, Kathy Jones, Mary Lou Reljac, Maria Scalia, Judy Smith, Dana Tucker, Vickie Trichel, Cheryl Walker, and Diana White.

'Luau' Dinner Served At Hawaiian Dance

Highland Park Country Club celebrated the opening of the pool Saturday night with a lovely Hawaiian party. The patio was decorated with potted plants, and banked with pink roses and Japanese lanterns were hung from the ceilings. The small pool was filled with floating magnolia blossoms, and at the far end of the pool where the guests were delightfully entertained by a water ballet and Hawaiian dancers, roses and greenery were used on a background of bamboo screens. Inside the club fish nets covered with tropical fish and flowers were used on the walls of the dining room, where a "Luau" dinner was served featuring roasted pig.

Approximately 150 members and guests enjoyed this delightful event.

Holiday Inn Luncheon Fetes NHS Seniors

Mrs. Jack M. Knowles and Mrs. Millard H. Williams gave aluncheon at the Holiday Inn, Tuesday at noon, honoring their daughters, Saundra Knowles and Jenny Williams, graduates of Neville High School. Saundra was dressed in a blue and white check dress with high waist and wide belt and a jacket with three quarter length sleeves. Jenny's dress was a black linen sheath trimmed with white shantung.

The "U" shaped table in the private dining room, overlooking the pool, was beautifully decorated with pink and white hydrangeas and lilies.

Place cards with pink forget-me-nots were used to mark the places for the following guests:

Dian Collet, Sherree Harrist, Linda Robison, Ruth Anne Boggs, Cindy Guilky, Claire Solomon, Mildred Levi, Betty Rose Haddad, Susan Stewart, Diane Sanchez,

Connie Wheeler, Suzonne Kellogg, Lucy Turpin, Francis Yeldell, Linda Reeves, Betsy Blackman, Patty Prophit, Shelia Townley, Landrea Ducote, Sandy Dean, Suzanne Smith,

Millsaps PTA Installs The New Officers

Highlighting the regular monthly meeting of the Millsaps Parent-Teacher Association was the installation of new officers for 1959-60.

Mrs. Courtland McCoy, fifth district director, installed Mrs. C. M. Eaker as president; Mrs. Durwood Simpson, 1st vice president; Mrs. Don Elliott, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Don Williams, secretary; and Mrs. James H. Kelly, treasurer.

Mrs. R. R. Procell, the outgoing president, presented Mrs. C. M. Eaker with the president's pin, and Mrs. Eaker then presented Mrs. Procell with the past president's pin.

The convention delegates, Mrs. C. M. Eaker, Mrs. Durwood Simpson, Mrs. R. R. Procell, Mrs. E. B. Garrett, and Mrs. Ralph Murphy gave interesting reports of the state P.-T. A. convention held in New Orleans April 23rd through 25th.

Recognition was given to the parents of the sixth grade graduating class, who would not be with Millsaps School next year. Also, Mrs. Procell told of the opportunities open to adults who have been unfortunate in not acquiring a high school diploma, and can now do so at the Ouachita Vocational School.

Refreshments were served by the first grade mothers.

Magnolia Study Club Meets For Luncheon

Magnolia Study Club members gathered in the home of Mrs. Ed Hislop, Jr., in West Monroe for a luncheon concluding a year of interesting activity.

Mrs. Hislop was assisted by five other former club presidents, Mrs. R. N. Dozier, Mrs. C. C. Lucky, Mrs. Frank Reitzel, Mrs. A. T. White and Mrs. L. N. Copes, in the hospitalities.

The hostesses used the club flower, the magnolia, to adorn the home for the occasion.

During a business period, it was voted to make a donation to CARE, and it was announced that the club year book, received first place in the state.

Mrs. Hislop installed the new club officers for 1951-60.

Present for the concluding meeting were Mrs. Charles Hayes, a guest, and Mesdames Aline Banister, Dozier, Copes, Lucky, Floyd Mathewes, Henry Poulan, Reitzel, W. E. Young, L. T. Harper, John Osterland, Harold Gill, a new member, Mrs. W. R. Moseley, Miss Athlene Connell and Miss Ola Mae Pennington, and a former member welcomed back, Mrs. W. N. Reynolds.

Woodlawn PTA Presents Gifts To Mrs. Christy

Mrs. T. C. Christy, Jr., outgoing president of the Woodlawn PTA, was presented a lovely gift Thursday afternoon at the last meeting of the unit for this school session held in the all-purpose room of the Woodlawn School. Mrs. C. L. Crowell made the presentation and elaborated on the fine leadership by Mrs. Christy during her term as president.

Arrangement Work Shop By Garden Club

The May meeting of College Heights Garden Club was in the form of an arrangement work shop at the Bayou DeSiard home of Mrs. M. L. Johnson. Mrs. Max Kulcke was the guest specialist who gave a brief talk on line arrangements with emphasis on the use of color.

She pointed out that the container color is very important and should harmonize with the whole. Green is considered a neutral color for a container. One color should dominate with transition from light color at top of arrangement to darker shade at bottom. Mrs. Kulcke stressed that the type of light in which an arrangement is to be displayed has a great deal to do with color values. An arrangement in day light will look entirely different under artificial light. Each person then made a line arrangement which was analyzed by Mrs. Kulcke.

In June the club will have a home show at Mrs. W. W. Steven's home on Columbia Avenue. Assignments will be made and Mrs. Kulcke with analyze these arrangements according to their conformity with the schedule.

Guests present were Mrs. W. W. Hathorn and Mrs. J. E. Braley. Members present were Mrs. John Reitzell, Mrs. C. E. Pickering, Mrs. John Tolar, Mrs. Faheam Cannon, Mrs. H. W. Morton, Mrs. Wayne Warren, Mrs. John Keller, Jr., Mrs. Herbert Walker, Mrs. E. M. Babe, and Mrs. Edwin Rowan.

Sprig - Twig Garden Club Holds Meeting

The Sprig and Twig Garden Club of Monroe met in their monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Neil Butler with Mrs. W. M. Rasberry as co-hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. R. F. Wilson. The horticulture report was given by Mrs. J. W. Keller.

Arrangements brought to the meeting were displayed as follows. Mrs. R. F. Wilson designed an arrangement of calla lilies in a classic black compote. A line of white calla blooms diminishing in size formed the center of the design. Another vertical line of blooms graded in size were placed on the right with a similar placement just a little lower on the left. Calla foliage placed in the background and over the rim of the container provided the third dimension. Mrs. J. W. Keller and Mrs. Wade Kennedy combined their talents creating a line-mass design in red - violet color harmony using an amethyst compost. The triangle design was established with a line of stock, shading from white to deep rose. Sweet peas and annual phlox shading from pink to red - violet created the line. Polyanta and pink radiance roses were the center of interest. An arrangement in the Victorian manner was designed by Mrs. B. L. Talton and Mrs. W. M. Rasberry. It was an opulent arrangement using bold, richly colored flowers of many varieties. The background was white, rose and lavender stock. Yellow native iris, calendulas and snapdragons were used with pink roses, sweet williams, red bottle brush, mixed larkspur, salvia and purple vetch.

A lesson in corsage making was given by Mrs. Max Kulcke. The door prize was won by Mrs. B. L. Talton.

OPENING NIGHT for Little Theater's forthcoming production, "The Country Girl" by Clifford Odets, is Friday, May 29, at Selman Field Playhouse. 8:15 is curtain time. The three leads are pictured left to right Bid Causey, Beth Breese and Bill Hatten.

Your child's discarded Davy Crockett hat is not ready for the junk heap yet. Placed in a conspicuous spot in the garden, it can serve as a decoy cat to scare off birds that would otherwise gorge themselves on your garden or lawn seeds.

Fun for the kiddies! Children delight in fancying up fresh fruit cups for the whole family by cutting melon balls with a French ball cutter and serving themselves a plate of their handiwork for afternoon snacks.

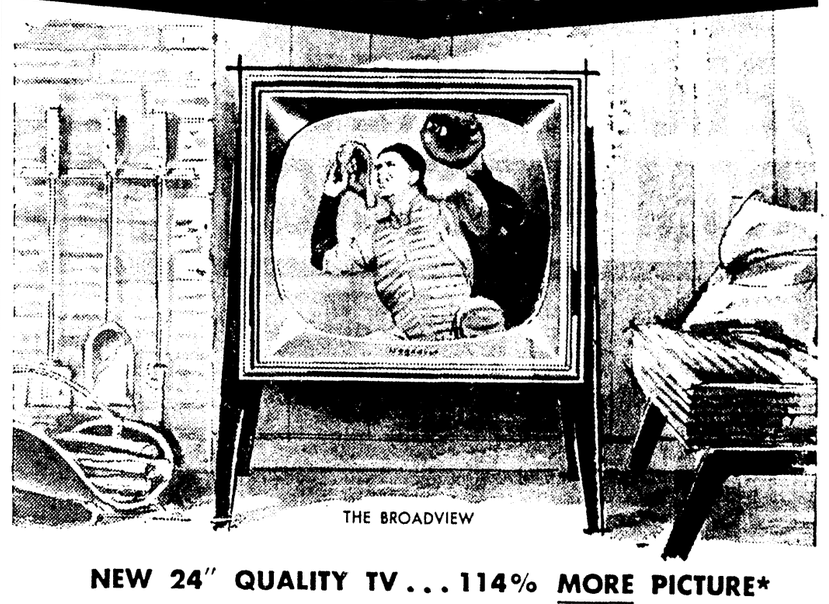

Save good flavor — keep whole corn in the husks and fresh peas in the pod and refrigerate until ready to use.

Save the liquid from canned fruits to use as a sweetener for fresh fruit juice drinks.

R. J. H. Auxiliary Meets In Post Home

The Rodney J. Hobbs Auxiliary 1809 held their regular meeting at the post home with the president, Odie Lee Gossett, presiding.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Rose Bartlett and Mrs. Lois Nick were elected as delegates to the state department convention which will be held in New Orleans during June. All members were encouraged to try to attend the convention.

Mrs. Gossett announced that the auxiliary would assist the Rodney J. Hobbs Post 1809 in a Memorial Day Service on Sunday, May 31, 1959 at the Riverview Cemetery at 7 a.m. The public is invited to attend the ceremony. Each auxiliary member was encouraged to attend the memorial day service as a family unit.

Plans were completed for institution of the Junior Girls' Unit, Post 1809. The state departmtnt president, Mrs. June Moore, will be the installing officer.

The auxiliary will be hostess for the next 14th district meeting and plans were made accordingly.

Annual Picnic Fish Fry At Albright Home

The Dixieland Daylily Society held an annual picnic, fish fry, on Sunday afternoon, May 17 at the home of Mrs. Beaulah Albright on White's Ferry Road. The garden has many shrubs, daylilies and over 10,000 heirloom bulbs over 50 years old handed down from great grandparents. There are six giant magnolias in ful bloom in the garden where the picnic was held.

Out - of - town guests were Mrs. O. L. Dawson and Mrs. H. G. Baker, frm Homer, Mrs. J. T. Maddey, Athens. Members and guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Gates, Glenda and Judy Gates, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Mangham, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Savage, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Pylant, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kilpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Irving, Mr. and Mrs. Collier Murphrey, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Smith Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Albright, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gates, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pylant, Mrs. Warren McGee. Mrs. Wiley A. Roach, Sr., Mrs. E. C. Davidson, Mrs. June Hill, Mrs. H. M. Morgan, Mrs. Pattie Carr, Mrs. Ernest Turner, Mrs. Suzee Gorman, Mrs. Julia Maddux, Mrs. C. D. Henderson and Mrs. Georgia Williams.

Mon Ami Newcomers Club Hold Monthly Meeting

The Mon Ami Newcomers Club met for their monthly meeting on Thursday at noon in the Flamingo Room of the Hollywood. The luncheon table held an arrangement of spring flowers. After lunch bridge and canasta were enjoyed. High score for bridge was won by Mrs. John McLeod. High in canasta was won by Mrs. Troy Francis and low by Mrs. E. L. Carter. Mrs. W. T. Hill won the door prize.

Members present were Mrs. Fred Baker, Mrs. Phil Beggs, Mrs. Ed Daigle, Mrs. Fred Dillard, Mrs. C. S. Edgar, Mrs. Betty Engstrom, Mrs. Dwight Hansen, Mrs. V. B. Marsh, Mrs. Robert Mohr, Mrs. W. D. Nash, Mrs. Charles Overton, Mrs. Douglas Smith, Mrs. Ray Solomon, Mrs. Frank Stadler, Mrs. John Summerfield, Mrs. Robert Whitelaw, Mrs. W. A. Wheeler, Mrs. Laverne Burgess, Mrs. E. L. Carter, Mrs. L. T. Murphey, Mrs. Robert E. Harvey, Mrs. James Ellis and Mrs. Malcolm Keith.

Guests present were Mrs. W. T. Hill, Mrs. Rene Broussard, Mrs. T. Warren Brown, Mrs. Frances K. Breedlove, Mrs. Troy Francis, Mrs. John McLeod, Mrs. A. S. Oliver, Mrs. Roger Reynolds and Mrs. B. G. Egerton.

Sprig - Twig Garden Club Holds Meeting

The Sprig and Twig Garden Club of Monroe met in their monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Neil Butler with Mrs. W. M. Rasberry as co-hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. R. F. Wilson. The horticulture report was given by Mrs. J. W. Keller.

Arrangements brought to the meeting were displayed as follows. Mrs. R. F. Wilson designed an arrangement of calla lilies in a classic black compote. A line of white calla blooms diminishing in size formed the center of the design. Another vertical line of blooms graded in size were placed on the right with a similar placement just a little lower on the left. Calla foliage placed in the background and over the rim of the container provided the third dimension. Mrs. J. W. Keller and Mrs. Wade Kennedy combined their talents creating a linemass design in red - violet color harmony using an amethyst compost. The triangle design was established with a line of stock, shading from white to deep rose. Sweet peas and annual phlox shading from pink to red - violet created the line. Polyanta and pink radiance roses were the center of interest. An arrangement in the Victorian manner was designed by Mrs. B. L. Talton and Mrs. W. M. Rasberry. It was an opulent arrangement using bold, richly colored flowers of many varieties. The background was white, rose and lavender stock. Yellow native iris, calendulas and snapdragons were used with pink roses, sweet williams, red bottle brush, mixed larkspur, salvia and purple vetch.

A lesson in corsage making was given by Mrs. Max Kulcke. The door prize was won by Mrs. B. L. Talton.

Members present were Mrs. Wade Kennedy, Mrs. B. L. Talton, Mrs. Max Kulcke, Mrs. Neil Butler, Mrs. J. W. Keller, Mrs. R. F. Wilson and Mrs. W. M. Rasberry.

'Importance Of Music' Is P. T. A. Theme

The Lida Benton P.-T. A. met Thursday, May 14 at 7:30 p.m., with Mrs. E. O. Williams, president, presiding. The invocation was given by Mrs. Lee Baxter. Mrs. Williams then turned the meeting over to the program chairman, Mrs. C. H. Standard. Mrs. Standard introduced Miss Hermoine Driskell, music director of the city elementary schools, who gave a short talk on "The Importance of Music in our Elementary Schools". Miss Driskell, along with the assistance of Mrs. Bob Dupree and her first grade, presented a pantomime entitled "The Boy and The Three Billy Goats". Miss Driskell also accompanied the fifth grade chorus in the singing of "Jacob's Ladder", "Mental Arithmetic", "Swinging on a Star", and "I Can Do the Sum".

After the program the meeting was turned back over to the president. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. W. O. Fisher. The minutes were read and approved by Mrs. W. P. Marine, secretary. Mrs. Standard gave the auditing report, in which she thanked Mrs. Jack Pogue for her efficient manner in the handling of the books.

Mrs. Williams named the chairmen of her various committees as following: Mr. J. C. Holloway, budget and finance; Mrs. L. L. Nash, magazines; Mrs. George Robertson, hospitality; and Mrs. R. E. Nelson, general room mother.

Mrs. James N. Riddle, principal, gave a short talk thanking the P.-T. A., and parents for their splendid cooperation throughout the school year. The room count was won by Mrs. Bob Dupree's first grade and Mrs. W. C. Buchanan's fifth grade, after which the meeting adjourned.

Atheneum Club Has Luncheon And Program

The concluding program of the Atheneum Club was a luncheon at the Flamingo Room, Hollywood Restaurant. Mrs. Hugh Hyman was chairman of the luncheon and she used a table arrangement of pink roses with daisies for decorations. Invocation was given by Mrs. Hyman.

Mrs. D. F. Dennis, installed the following to serve as officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. W. B. Hedgepeth; vice president, Mrs. H. H. Walters; secretary, Mrs. Lee Buatt; treasurer, Mrs. Vaughn Watson; reporter, Mrs. Jack Edwards and parliamentarian, Mrs. W. H. Steen, Jr.

The following were in attendance for the luncheon and installation of the new officers: Mesdames: Lee Buatt, D. F. Dennis, Jack Edwards, T. Gallien, Fred M. Grant, W. B. Hedgepeth, C. D. Henderson, Hugh Hyman, W. H. Steen, Jr., H. H. Walters and Vaughn Watson.

OPENING NIGHT for Little Theater's forthcoming production, "The Country Girl" by Clifford Odets, is Friday, May 29, at Selman Field Playhouse. 8:15 is curtain time. The three leads are pictured left to right Bid Causey, Beth Breese and Bill Hatten.

Your child's discarded Davy Crockett hat is not ready for the junk heap yet. Placed in a conspicuous spot in the garden, it can serve as a decoy cat to scare off birds that would otherwise gorge themselves on your garden or lawn seeds.

Fun for the kiddies! Children delight in fancying up fresh fruit cups for the whole family by cutting melon balls with a French ball cutter and serving themselves a plate of their handiwork for afternoon snacks.

Save good flavor — keep whole corn in the husks and fresh peas in the pod and refrigerate until ready to use.

Save the liquid from canned fruits to use as a sweetener for fresh fruit juice drinks.

THE HOME SHIFT

Rainbow Hues From Annuals

By MILDRED SWIFT

About this time of year we begin to think of annuals so as to have cut flowers for the house. Just a few packages of seed will give you hundreds of feet of rainbow colors, from early July until frost.

Annuals are so easy to grow. They're encouraging for the new gardener.

CARE

Plenty of sun is necessary or your annuals will get long and leggy and will bloom very little. They should have sun at least half the day.

Prepare the beds well. Spade deep, work in some humus and pulverize well. If you put out annual plants, set in small holes and firm the soil gently about the roots-water.

If you sew seed, when they come up, be sure to thin the plants to the distance recommended on the package. Water all annuals well while the plants are small.

While in Baton Rouge I saw "Serenade" marigold in bloom. It grows only nine inches high. Haven't checked to see if seed and plants are available here. Among the hot weather annuals that can be planted now are: Vinca, salvia, celosia, zinnia, marigold, torenia, tithonia, castor bean, snow on the mountain, balsam, portulaca, sweet alyssum, nicotinia.

GARDEN JOBS

Soon cannons will be blooming. As the flower stems bloom, cut them back to the ground. This will encourage new growth and additional blooms.

Don't forget the canna leaf roller can ruin your foliage on this plant. Dust once a week with cryolite or DDT to control this pest. After he rolls up the leaf, remember he's down in the "roll." You'll have to get the poison all the way down to him.

Mr. Cockerham, entomologist with LSU Extension, says use oil emulsion now for spraying for scale. Malathion was fine for early spring when the scale was in it's infancy. Now it's hardened and you'll need any one of the oil emulsions on the market. Read instructions and mix accordingly. Be sure to get under the leaves because that's where your scale stays.

Continue your weekly rose spray or dust program.

Now is a good time to set out your dahlia roots or potatoes. They'll come in bloom after the hot suns have gone, and your blossoms will last longer.

If you haven't divided and reset your chrysanthemums, do this job now.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Did you see the demonstration on covering shoes given by Maxine Reeves? We have the instructions — so call our office FA 3-2251 for one of these if you're interested. You can take your old shoes, cover them and have a pair to match your dress.

Women who have for years disliked the odor of some shoe polishes will be pleased to learn that there's a perfume in an entire line of women's shoe polish. The blends were perfected after long research and testing by chemists and perfumers.

Current fashions should be causing panic across the oyster beds of the world. Never in a single season has there been such a run on the pearl fisheries. Not since the turn of the century have pearl buttons been such a basic high style item. Smart and new looking too are mother-of-pearl belt buckles.

The home seamstress can give last season's navy dress an up-to-the-minute look by making, or buying, a new wide collar and a wide belt. Both are in high fashion this season.

Here's an outstanding bit of information from a famous stylist. She says that matching jewelry is smart — but not if you overdo it. Bracelet, necklace and earrings to match are too much. She says coordination has its limits. Just match earrings with one other item — bracelet, necklace or pin.

A new knife on the market has a cutting blade of tungsten carbide, said to keep itself so sharp that it never needs resharpening. It comes in an 8 inch carver with black handle of plasticized birch veneer that is impervious to heat, water and acids.

Protect your table by taking steps to prevent scratches. One way is to glue felt to the bases of your flower dishes and vases. Felt comes in different colors and can be bought by the yard.

There's always something new under the sun, isn't there? One bit of news to intrigue the homemaker is a silver polish said to replate with pure silver as it polishes.

DO YOU LIKE IT?

Do you like the new pale lipsticks? For a while I thought people were looking sick, then it suddenly occurred to me that this was something new. It's the continental pastels. Shades range from pinks to apricots. These are slightly whitened shades. Then, there's a wide range of colors, including the white and off white toners which may be applied either under or over the other shades. You can call Grandma Mildred old fashioned, but really, I don't think the light shades do a thing for you.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Your Open House programs for next week are: Monday, Bess Bain will select glassware; Tuesday, Jackie Mitchell will show us new closet accessories; Wednesday, Mrs. Jardine and flower arrangements; Thursday and Friday marketing with Mildred.

See you next Sunday.

Successful Gardening Is Constant Job

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. — There are joys of gardening which are hard to explain to those who are merely interested in exterior decoration to match the interior decoration of their homes.

A cloud of golden daffodils is a heartening sight on an early April day but an even greater delight to the gardener who worked like a galley slave to produce it is an old forsythia heavy with yellow bloom for the first time in years.

That clipped and manicured lawn may bring compliments from passers - by but the gardener's affections may be tied up with a regraded, reseeded patch of grass over which he fussed an entire weekend, rubbing compost through a screen, loosening hard-packed soil, raking, seeding and watering.

The lush bloom of a perfect rose draws exclamations but the gardener who nurtured it may receive his prime satisfaction from the rich earth around the bush and the green perfection of the unmarred leaves, a personal triumph over the pest population.

And a mulberry tree, with its berries making a gory mess of one area, might lead some to wonder why a householder chose such a dirty tree, but the gardener, knowing how the berries attract insect - eating birds, regards it as one of his very favorite plantings.

When one does all his own outside work, there is never enough time to do everything, even if the yard is small and the weekend weather holds. By sundown Sunday there are still plenty of weeds to be pulled, edges to be trimmed, equipment to be cleaned. The gardener with a written list is likely to be more efficient because there are many chores which cannot be postponed successfully.

It is of course, important to transplant annuals into the open ground as soon as the weather and ground have permanently warmed up. But it is also important, for instance, to spray the birch clump with malathion or lindane as soon as the first telltale blotches on the leaves indicate that the disfiguring leaf miner is back at work. You may be able to spread over a three-week period your transplanting job — but you can't postpone spraying.

Pruning is another job that can't be postponed. Spring - blooming shrubs should be cut back, if necessary, when they have come to the end of their flowering period if one expects them to produce color the following year. These shrubs produce their next year's bloom on this year's growth, so the timetable of pruning is important.

But then, all of gardening runs on the timetables of the seasons, and it would be a pretty dull hobby if one could pick it up and set it down at any time. And it would also be a more tiring one if there were not such a galaxy of jobs to be done; working a trombone sprayer used entirely different muscles than those utilized in hand - weeding a cold-frame.

RIDING IN STYLE

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) —Passengers at the Chantilly Airport for Washington, near here, will be whisked from the terminal to planes in moving "mobile lounges." Walkways no longer will be necessary. The lounges, tabou 15 by 60 feet, will have a passenger capacity of 80. The passenger misses the fumes and roar of jet planes, entering the lounge through a sealed connection with the terminal and leaves it through a pneumatic connection with his plane.

Ensembles Top Summer Style

By AUDREY DAWSON

Farm Bureau ladies, your chairman, Mabel Anderson, asked me to remind you of the coffee hour Thursday, May 28th at 10:00 o'clock at 3223 Louisville Avenue. There will be a short business session and officers for next year will be elected. Be sure to come and help make your organization better.

SUMMER FASHIONS

The ensemble theme is big news in summer fashions. It appears in sportswear, daytime clothes and evening designs. Long patio skirts, in identical fabric as the bathing suit gives almost an evening look to the swim suit. Slim daytime dresses team up with their own shortened jackets. Three quarter length cotton tweed coats are shown with black novelty cotton jacket dresses.

CHECK HANG TAG

Mrs. Homemaker when buying decorative fabrics be sure to check the label or ang tag for the following information: special finishes, colorfastness and shrinkage control to within 2 per cent. Look for the guarantee which comes with some fabrics having special finishes. Additional helpful information printed on some labels states how often the pattern is repeated on the fabric. This is useful when figuring the amount of fabric to purchase.

FREEZING

We are all getting those food freezers filled again. Here are a few reminders: Make sure the water is boiling vigorously before vegetables are placed in blancher. Blanching time differs for each vegetable. Check timetable. Completely cool vegetable after blanching to prevent formation of flat sour. Bite into a piece to test for coolness. Flat sour condition is not poisonous but creates bad flavor and is not palatable.

Store foods no longer than recommended. Too long storage of frozen foods causes deterioration such as dehydration, discoloration, loss of texture and flavor. Recommended varieties of vegetables and fruits for freezing will give best results.

Use a metal (rigid) perforated basket, or colander, to emmerse vegetables when blanching.

If you would like to have a copy of our freezing bulletin, call FA 3-2251. This is a free service from your Agricultural Extension Office.

LONGER LIFE

AD ten point, "Do it yourself" program was suggested by Dr. Edward Bostz of Philadelphia. The program emphasizes nutrition which is designed to help the average healthy man or woman live to a ripe old age — a balanced diet including more proteins, vitamins and fluids, less fats and calories — adequate rest of both mind and body, a sense of humor which is best antidote for tension, pride in a job, avoid excessive emotional tension — mutual loyalty of friends and family — participation in community affairs — interesting and specific recreational activities — regular elimination of waste products and expansion of knowledge, wisdom, and experience which adds to maturity.

GARDENING

To aid in developing buds for next year's blooms, remove the spent flowers of azaleas and lilacs. Oak leaves, sawdust and peat moss make good summer mulches for azaleas. Put on 2 to 3 inches thick. If any weeds come through, pull them out. Never cultivate azaleas, as the roots are right on top of the ground.

Prune rambling or running roses as soon as blooming is over. Such large flowering types as Paul's Scarlet Climber should have one or two of the oldest cones removed and remaining branches cut back slightly.

To make zinnia plants bushier and stronger, pinch out the center bud as soon as 2 sets of leaves have formed.

THOUGHT FOR GRADUATES

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Twilight Club Displays Work

By MARY JARDINE

The Twilight Garden Club of Ruston staged a charming flower show at the Garden Center this week.

Members selected the themes for their designs, which added interest to the show. The theme of Mrs. J. M. Patterson's design was "Put 'Em In A Bottle." A dark green fruit juice bottle, oval in shape was selected for the vertical arrangement. Green dock formed the vertical line and was brought down inside to the bottom of the bottle making a strong design. Green Buford holly berries, stripped of foliage were the secondary placements and flared chrysanthemums increasing in size from buds to full blooms were used to accent the pattern. This attractive arrangement would be suitable for a family room or living porch. All the materials had long lasting qualities.

SOFT PINK

Mrs. A. G. Hornsby selected as her theme, "Come Dance With Me." The composition was staged against a soft pink background plared on a curced wood base finished in natural oak. A small silver compote held the graceful triangular nesign of gray green eucalyptus and pink carnations. A small ballerina figurine wearing a pink costume was placed on the light. The color harmony was most pleasing with the pink of the carnations picking up the pink in the ballerina's skirt. The delightful composition could be used as a conservation piece in the living room or on a buffet in the dining room.

Mrs. J. C. Hilton designed a horizontal arrangement for an informal dinner table. A low milk glass bowl was selected for this design. Horizontal pattern was delineated with nandina bud sprays. Dainty cluster roses shading from lavender into pink and into deep rose red were worked into the design. The color blending was most attractive. The relation between plant materials and container excellent. This would also be suitable for a marble top table in the living room as well as the dining table.

In the horticulture section blue ribbons were awarded to Mrs. B. Hogg for lavender stock and red gerbera. A red ribbon for native iris, cameron blue.

DAYLILY NEWS

Members of the American Hemerocallis society, in Region Thirteen (state of Lousiana) cordially invite you to visit their gardens which are coming into their full glory this month. Now is the time of year when "Hem Fever" is most contagious. But unlike other fevers, this is one they hope their friends will catch. Mrs. Alvin Sholar, Baton Rouge, writes that they are planning tours, Saturday and Sunday, Mr. W. B. MacMillan, Abbeville has some very fine new introductions and a large number of his own seedlings. Mrs. Robert Ehrhardt, Shreveport states that members of the Hemerocallis Gardenetts will open their gardens between May 15 and July 3. Fourth Annual Show will be held, Thursday, May 28, 2:30 to 6 p.m. Open to the public. Mrs. L. L. Robinson, Shreveport, informs us that Shreveport Hemerocallis Society will present their Sixth Annual Show, Tuesday, June 9, 2 to 6 p.m. Everyone is invited.

Mrs. John Kerper, Alexandria-Pineville Hemerocallis Society, invites you to visit gardens of members. Best blooms expected last two weeks in May.

If you are touring the state at any of these times get in touch with the above mentioned persons and they will be happy to give you details of their various functions. The Garden Center is a member of the American Hemerocallis Society. We have their journals in our library for your pleasure.

THE SOUTHERN GARDENER

Hollyhocks Like Drought

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

The tall spires of hollyhocks somehow lift one's spirits. These large plants are about the tallest perennials we can grow in the South. They are tough and very drouth resistant. Perhaps it is the thick coat of fuzz that Nature has put on the leaves that makes hollyhocks so drouth resistant Whatever the reason, they seem to grow almost everywhere, and they stand up to our drouths and heat.

AS SHRUBS

Hollyhocks can be used like large shrubs in the landscape. In gardens, they give accent and height to the picture. Too many of them will make a small garden look too small, but a few well placed ones lend character to a lay-out that may be too flat and low.

Large gardens can well use the big perennials like hollyhocks. No flowering shrub can out-do them as far as a show of blossoms is concerned.

In most old-fashioned gardens, hollyhocks have long since gone wild and sown themselves across the fences into the orchards and fence corners. They are apt to stay around old places long after weeds and honeysuckle have smothered out everything else, and small children like to play hide-and-go-seek amongst the huge-leaved plants when they are in flower.

There are many good colors in hollyhocks. Since the plants grow very readily from seed, you can choose your colors from the catalogues and grow the colors you like. Almost any color scheme you may happen to have in the garden can be augmented with these plants. Some of the soft yellows are extremely beautiful. The whites can be used to excellent effect in the late spring and early summer garden where colors are apt to run riot.

If your summer shrubbery is without flowers, plant a few clumps of hollyhocks amongst it for color. They are amongst the few perennials that can hold their own in shrubbery.

DUST FOR RUST

Rust is about the only thing that bothers hollyhocks. If it attacks your plants, pick off the affected leaves and burn them. Then dust the plants — especially on the undersides of the leaves with sulphur. Usually, a case of rust will disappear after a short time if it is not allowed to run rampant. Even if rust knocks out all your plants in one season, do not think that you cannot grow these plants. Try again, and be sure to burn the old leaves every winter.

There are hollyhocks that will flower the first year from seeds planted right now. They will be small this year but normal next year. The plants can be propagated by taking off the side shoots in August and September. In this way, you can propagate the colors you like best. Fig-leaved hollyhocks do not come in separate colors in the catalogues, so you will have to grow the mixture and then select the colors you like best and destroy the rest. The foliage of this old plant is a thing of great beauty.

HANDY GADGET

LIVINGSTON, N.J. (AP) —Ellis M. Zacharias Jr. invented a cultivator attachment for rotary blade lawn mowers which tears up the ground, uproots plants, weeds and crab grass and softens the earth for planting.

Zacharias, who says he invented his device "out of necessity," works as an electronics research and development specialist.

Tiny Tree Louse Cause Of Gooey Spray On Autos

From May to October, a tiny insect he doesn't even see is the bane of the motorist. It's the aphid, a tiny sap-sucking plant louse that secretes the sticky stuff known as "honey dew."

The honey dew bath that puts goo over so many autos frequently drops from rows of maples or elms infested with millions of the pests. But almost any street tree, particularly lindens and plane trees, can also provide the annoying shower. The aphid is a general feeder and makes itself at home on almost any host plant, according to E. A. Dahlgren, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

While the motorist abhors the honey dew, which spells out extra work washing down the car with warm water and a mild soap, ants go dotty over the stuff. They like it so much they sometimes domesticate the aphids, often called ant cows.

Over the Winter, ants have been observed caring for the eggs of the corn root aphid, which has the impressive scientific name of Maid-radicus Forbes. It is believed the corn root aphid is almost dependent upon the ants for survival.

Aphid populations grow in stupendous numbers and are parthenogenetic, which means the female broods can reproduce without mating. As a result, effective control calls for repeated applications of a good contact spray over the growing season.

Annoying infestations deplete trees since the drain on them may be so great leaves dry up and fall. Leaves are the food manufacturing centers of the tree and premature leaf fall affects growing vigor.

Food For Trees May Be Served With Spray Gun

You can feed your trees as you rid the landscaping of the tree feeders.

Those extra victuals so important to woody pets at certain times in the growing season can be dished out conveniently in a combination spray that also routs insect enemies, points out Homer L. Jacobs, research director of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

Foliar feeding is recommended for such special spray situations as the second brood of elm leaf beetles in mid - summer, Jap beetle applications or control of mid - summer scale crawlers. Experience has shown many plants can absorb nutrient elements, such as nitrogen, through their leaves. This is provided by adding a soluble crystalline compound, called urea, to sprays for insects and disease.

Foliar feeding must be considered the side dish to the "main course." Reason is some six to eight sprays are needed to equal one standard soil application. There is value in foliar feeding to help replace the nitrates leached out of the soil and the foliage itself by the spring rains. This kind of chow is helpful at a time when leaves may appear peaked — a bit frayed and wan looking.

In general, trees repond best when their meals are served below the ground level. The perforation or drill method of feeding offers the most benefits. It improves soil, assures proper aeration of roots and helps in moisture retention. And adding peat moss or shredded manure at every opportunity provides needed organic matter.

NO SIGN OF LET-UP

Boom In Housing Hits Record Pace

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Inflation could crimp the housing boom. This is the warning from two savings and loan industry leaders.

The boom, which carried housing starts in April to a record high, is "young and robust — with a life expectancy of at least two more years," according to James E. Bent of Hartford, Conn., president of the National League of Insured Savings Associations.

"There is no visible sign of a let-up in soaring housing output which began in 1958," Bent told the Texas Savings and Loan League in Galveston, Tex. "Rather there is every indication that the upsurge in home construction will continue well into 1960."

But he added: "There is no doubt that the potential home buyers are extremely price conscious and that industry must be guided accordingly if we are to realize the full potentials of the current boom in housing."

An even blunter warning came from C. R. Mitchell of Kansas City, Mo., president of the U.S. Savings and Loan League. He told the New Jersey Savings and Loan League that "'continued inflation in land and construction costs will adversely affect the big building boom anticipated in the 1960's."

Mitchell said the toll of rising land and construction costs is reflected in savings and loan institutions' inability to finance an appreciably greater number of home purchases than five years ago, despite heavy gains in deposits.

"Inflation is causing the average size of our mortgage loans to rise so rapidly that, year after year, an ever - increasing number of dollars must be poured into the market to take care of essentially the same number of home buyers," Mitchell said.

"In 1954," he continued, "savings associations financed the construction or purchase of 810,000 houses with a total mortgage volume of nine billion dollars. In 1958, we financed 830,000 new or existing homes with a mortgate volume of $12,300,000,000.

"To put it another way, in 1958 we financed 3 per cent more homes in number, but with a mortgage volume that was 38 per cent higher than in 1954. The average new loan put on the books in 1954 was $11,000; in 1958, it was $14,000."

Mitchell acknowledged that part of this increase "can be traced to the fact that the typical 1958 house is slightly larger and better equipped than its 1954 counterpart. But by far the greatest part of the increase must be traced to the sharp rise in construction costs and in the cost of land."

Other experts have pointed out still another danger of inflation for home buyers: If people lose confidence in the value of the dollar, they may be inclined to save less, thereby cutting into the volume of funds available for home loans.

He also urged savings and loan officials to pay more attention to financing medium-priced houses. He said a "sustained high level of sales of homes depends to a large extent on the availability of moderately priced housing within the reach of the average American family."

Nine Governors Plan For Visit To Soviet Union

NEW YORK (AP)—Nine state governors are going to learn at first hand what goes on inside the Soviet Union.

Five Republican and four Democratic governors are scheduled to leave here June 23 for a three-week tour of the Soviet Union to study how regional government is handled.

They will visit Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev, Tiflis and Tashkent.

The nine governors are: Leroy Collins of Florida, Democrat, chairman of the National Governor's Conference and head of the mission; George D. Clyde, Republican, Utah; John E. Davis, Republican, North Dakota; Luther H. Hodges, Democrat, North Carolina; Robert B. Meyner, Democrat, New Jersey; Stephen L. R. McNichols. Democrat, Colorado; Robert E. Smylie, Republican, Idaho; William G. Stratton. Republican, Illinois, and Cecil H. Underwood, Republican, West Virginia.

They will explore the possibility of setting up a program to exchange visits of Soviet and American state and local government officials.

The Institute of International Education in New York and New York University invited the Executive Committee of the National Governors Conference to make the survey, a spokesman for the institute said.

Money for the tour was provided by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund and the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation.

THE HOME SHIFT

Rainbow Hues From Annuals

By MILDRED SWIFT

About this time of year we begin to think of annuals so as to have cut flowers for the house. Just a few packages of seed will give you hundreds of feet of rainbow colors, from early July until frost.

Annuals are so easy to grow. They're encouraging for the new gardener.

CARE

Plenty of sun is necessary or your annuals will get long and leggy and will bloom very little. They should have sun at least half the day.

Prepare the beds well. Spade deep, work in some humus and pulverize well. If you put out annual plants, set in small holes and firm the soil gently about the roots-water.

If you sew seed, when they come up, be sure to thin the plants to the distance recommended on the package. Water all annuals well while the plants are small.

While in Baton Rouge I saw "Serenade" marigold in bloom. It grows only nine inches high. Haven't checked to see if seed and plants are available here. Among the hot weather annuals that can be planted now are: Vinca, salvia, celosia, zinnia, marigold, torenia, tithonia, castor bean, snow on the mountain, balsam, portulaca, sweet alyssum, nicotinia.

GARDEN JOBS

Soon cannons will be blooming. As the flower stems bloom, cut them back to the ground. This will encourage new growth and additional blooms.

Don't forget the canna leaf roller can ruin your foliage on this plant. Dust once a week with cryolite or DDT to control this pest. After he rolls up the leaf, remember he's down in the "roll." You'll have to get the poison all the way down to him.

Mr. Cockerham, entomologist with LSU Extension, says use oil emulsion now for spraying for scale. Malathion was fine for early spring when the scale was in it's infancy. Now it's hardened and you'll need any one of the oil emulsions on the market. Read instructions and mix accordingly. Be sure to get under the leaves because that's where your scale stays.

Continue your weekly rose spray or dust program.

Now is a good time to set out your dahlia roots or potatoes. They'll come in bloom after the hot suns have gone, and your blossoms will last longer.

If you haven't divided and reset your chrysanthemums, do this job now.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Did you see the demonstration on covering shoes given by Maxine Reeves? We have the instructions — so call our office FA 3-2251 for one of these if you're interested. You can take your old shoes, cover them and have a pair to match your dress.

Women who have for years disliked the odor of some shoe polishes will be pleased to learn that there's a perfume in an entire line of women's shoe polish. The blends were perfected after long research and testing by chemists and perfumers.

Current fashions should be causing panic across the oyster beds of the world. Never in a single season has there been such a run on the pearl fisheries. Not since the turn of the century have pearl buttons been such a basic high style item. Smart and new looking too are mother-of-pearl belt buckles.

The home seamstress can give last season's navy dress an up-to-the-minute look by making, or buying, a new wide collar and a wide belt. Both are in high fashion this season.

Here's an outstanding bit of information from a famous stylist. She says that matching jewelry is smart — but not if you overdo it. Bracelet, necklace and earrings to match are too much. She says coordination has its limits. Just match earrings with one other item — bracelet, necklace or pin.

A new knife on the market has a cutting blade of tungsten carbide, said to keep itself so sharp that it never needs resharpening. It comes in an 8 inch carver with black handle of plasticized birch veneer that is impervious to heat, water and acids.

Protect your table by taking steps to prevent scratches. One way is to glue felt to the bases of your flower dishes and vases. Felt comes in different colors and can be bought by the yard.

There's always something new under the sun, isn't there? One bit of news to intrigue the homemaker is a silver polish said to replate with pure silver as it polishes.

DO YOU LIKE IT?

Do you like the new pale lipsticks? For a while I thought people were looking sick, then it suddenly occurred to me that this was something new. It's the continental pastels. Shades range from pinks to apricots. These are slightly whitened shades. Then, there's a wide range of colors, including the white and off white toners which may be applied either under or over the other shades. You can call Grandma Mildred old fashioned, but really, I don't think the light shades do a thing for you.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Your Open House programs for next week are: Monday, Bess Bain will select glassware; Tuesday, Jackie Mitchell will show us new closet accessories; Wednesday, Mrs. Jardine and flower arrangements; Thursday and Friday marketing with Mildred.

See you next Sunday.

Successful Gardening Is Constant Job

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. — There are joys of gardening which are hard to explain to those who are merely interested in exterior decoration to match the interior decoration of their homes.

A cloud of golden daffodils is a heartening sight on an early April day but an even greater delight to the gardener who worked like a galley slave to produce it is an old forsythia heavy with yellow bloom for the first time in years.

That clipped and manicured lawn may bring compliments from passers - by but the gardener's affections may be tied up with a regraded, reseeded patch of grass over which he fussed an entire weekend, rubbing compost through a screen, loosening hard-packed soil, raking, seeding and watering.

The lush bloom of a perfect rose draws exclamations but the gardener who nurtured it may receive his prime satisfaction from the rich earth around the bush and the green perfection of the unmarred leaves, a personal triumph over the pest population.

And a mulberry tree, with its berries making a gory mess of one area, might lead some to wonder why a householder chose such a dirty tree, but the gardener, knowing how the berries attract insect - eating birds, regards it as one of his very favorite plantings.

When one does all his own outside work, there is never enough time to do everything, even if the yard is small and the weekend weather holds. By sundown Sunday there are still plenty of weeds to be pulled, edges to be trimmed, equipment to be cleaned. The gardener with a written list is likely to be more efficient because there are many chores which cannot be postponed successfully.

It is of course, important to transplant annuals into the open ground as soon as the weather and ground have permanently warmed up. But it is also important, for instance, to spray the birch clump with malathion or lindane as soon as the first telltale blotches on the leaves indicate that the disfiguring leaf miner is back at work. You may be able to spread over a three-week period your transplanting job — but you can't postpone spraying.

Pruning is another job that can't be postponed. Spring - blooming shrubs should be cut back, if necessary, when they have come to the end of their flowering period if one expects them to produce color the following year. These shrubs produce their next year's bloom on this year's growth, so the timetable of pruning is important.

But then, all of gardening runs on the timetables of the seasons, and it would be a pretty dull hobby if one could pick it up and set it down at any time. And it would also be a more tiring one if there were not such a galaxy of jobs to be done; working a trombone sprayer used entirely different muscles than those utilized in hand - weeding a cold-frame.

RIDING IN STYLE

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) —Passengers at the Chantilly Airport for Washington, near here, will be whisked from the terminal to planes in moving "mobile lounges." Walkways no longer will be necessary. The lounges, tabou 15 by 60 feet, will have a passenger capacity of 80. The passenger misses the fumes and roar of jet planes, entering the lounge through a sealed connection with the terminal and leaves it through a pneumatic connection with his plane.

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Twilight Club Displays Work

By MARY JARDINE

The Twilight Garden Club of Ruston staged a charming flower show at the Garden Center this week.

Members selected the themes for their designs, which added interest to the show. The theme of Mrs. J. M. Patterson's design was "Put 'Em In A Bottle." A dark green fruit juice bottle, oval in shape was selected for the vertical arrangement. Green dock formed the vertical line and was brought down inside to the bottom of the bottle making a strong design. Green Buford holly berries, stripped of foliage were the secondary placements and flared chrysanthemums increasing in size from buds to full blooms were used to accent the pattern. This attractive arrangement would be suitable for a family room or living porch. All the materials had long lasting qualities.

SOFT PINK

Mrs. A. G. Hornsby selected as her theme, "Come Dance With Me." The composition was staged against a soft pink background plared on a curced wood base finished in natural oak. A small silver compote held the graceful triangular nesign of gray green eucalyptus and pink carnations. A small ballerina figurine wearing a pink costume was placed on the light. The color harmony was most pleasing with the pink of the carnations picking up the pink in the ballerina's skirt. The delightful composition could be used as a conservation piece in the living room or on a buffet in the dining room.

Mrs. J. C. Hilton designed a horizontal arrangement for an informal dinner table. A low milk glass bowl was selected for this design. Horizontal pattern was delineated with nandina bud sprays. Dainty cluster roses shading from lavender into pink and into deep rose red were worked into the design. The color blending was most attractive. The relation between plant materials and container excellent. This would also be suitable for a marble top table in the living room as well as the dining table.

In the horticulture section blue ribbons were awarded to Mrs. B. Hogg for lavender stock and red gerbera. A red ribbon for native iris, cameron blue.

DAYLILY NEWS

Members of the American Hemerocallis society, in Region Thirteen (state of Lousiana) cordially invite you to visit their gardens which are coming into their full glory this month. Now is the time of year when "Hem Fever" is most contagious. But unlike other fevers, this is one they hope their friends will catch. Mrs. Alvin Sholar, Baton Rouge, writes that they are planning tours, Satuurday and Sunday, Mr. W. B. MacMillan, Abbeville has some very fine new introductions and a large number of his own seedlings. Mrs. Robert Ehrhardt, Shreveport states that members of the Hemerocallis Gardenetts will open their gardens between May 15 and July 3. Fourth Annual Show will be held, Thursday, May 28, 2:30 to 6 p.m. Open to the public. Mrs. L. L. Robinson, Shreveport, informs us that Shreveport Hemerocallis Society will present their Sixth Annual Show, Tuesday, June 9, 2 to 6 p.m. Everyone is invited.

Mrs. John Kerper, Alexandria-Pineville Hemerocallis Society, invites you to visit gardens of members. Best blooms expected last two weeks in May.

If you are touring the state at any of these times get in touch with the above mentioned persons and they will be happy to give you details of their various functions. The Garden Center is a member of the American Hemerocallis Society. We have their journals in our library for your pleasure.

THE SOUTHERN GARDENER

Hollyhocks Like Drought

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

The tall spires of hollyhocks somehow lift one's spirits. These large plants are about the tallest perennials we can grow in the South. They are tough and very drouth resistant. Perhaps it is the thick coat of fuzz that Nature has put on the leaves that makes hollyhocks so drouth resistant Whatever the reason, they seem to grow almost everywhere, and they stand up to our drouths and heat.

AS SHRUBS

Hollyhocks can be used like large shrubs in the landscape. In gardens, they give accent and height to the picture. Too many of them will make a small garden look too small, but a few well placed ones lend character to a lay-out that may be too flat and low.

Large gardens can well use the big perennials like hollyhocks. No flowering shrub can out-do them as far as a show of blossoms is concerned.

In most old-fashioned gardens, hollyhocks have long since gone wild and sown themselves across the fences into the orchards and fence corners. They are apt to stay around old places long after weeds and honeysuckle have smothered out everything else, and small children like to play hide-and-go-seek amongst the huge-leaved plants when they are in flower.

There are many good colors in hollyhocks. Since the plants grow very readily from seed, you can choose your colors from the catalogues and grow the colors you like. Almost any color scheme you may happen to have in the garden can be augmented with these plants. Some of the soft yellows are extremely beautiful. The whites can be used to excellent effect in the late spring and early summer garden where colors are apt to run riot.

If your summer shrubbery is without flowers, plant a few clumps of hollyhocks amongst it for color. They are amongst the few perennials that can hold their own in shrubbery.

DUST FOR RUST

Rust is about the only thing that bothers hollyhocks. If it attacks your plants, pick off the affected leaves and burn them. Then dust the plants — especially on the undersides of the leaves with sulphur. Usually, a case of rust will disappear after a short time if it is not allowed to run rampant. Even if rust knocks out all your plants in one season, do not think that you cannot grow these plants. Try again, and be sure to burn the old leaves every winter.

There are hollyhocks that will flower the first year from seeds planted right now. They will be small this year but normal next year. The plants can be propagated by taking off the side shoots in August and September. In this way, you can propagate the colors you like best. Fig-leaved hollyhocks do not come in separate colors in the catalogues, so you will have to grow the mixture and then select the colors you like best and destroy the rest. The foliage of this old plant is a thing of great beauty.

HANDY GADGET

LIVINGSTON, N.J. (AP) —Ellis M. Zacharias Jr. invented a cultivator attachment for rotary blade lawn mowers which tears up the ground, uproots plants, weeds and crab grass and softens the earth for planting.

Zacharias, who says he invented his device "out of necessity," works as an electronics research and development specialist.

Tiny Tree Louse Cause Of Gooey Spray On Autos

From May to October, a tiny insect he doesn't even see is the bane of the motorist. It's the aphid, a tiny sap-sucking plant louse that secretes the sticky stuff known as "honey dew."

The honey dew bath that puts goo over so many autos frequently drops from rows of maples or elms infested with millions of the pests. But almost any street tree, particularly lindens and plane trees, can also provide the annoying shower. The aphid is a general feeder and makes itself at home on almost any host plant, according to E. A. Dahlgren, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

While the motorist abhors the honey dew, which spells out extra work washing down the car with warm water and a mild soap, ants go dotty over the stuff. They like it so much they sometimes domesticate the aphids, often called ant cows.

Over the Winter, ants have been observed caring for the eggs of the corn root aphid, which has the impressive scientific name of Maid-radicus Forbes. It is believed the corn root aphid is almost dependent upon the ants for survival.

Aphid populations grow in stupendous numbers and are parthenogenetic, which means the female broods can reproduce without mating. As a result, effective control calls for repeated applications of a good contact spray over the growing season.

Annoying infestations deplete trees since the drain on them may be so great leaves dry up and fall. Leaves are the food manufacturing centers of the tree and premature leaf fall affects growing vigor.

Food For Trees May Be Served With Spray Gun

You can feed your trees as you rid the landscaping of the tree feeders.

Those extra victuals so important to woody pets at certain times in the growing season can be dished out conveniently in a combination spray that also routs insect enemies, points out Homer L. Jacobs, research director of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

Foliar feeding is recommended for such special spray situations as the second brood of elm leaf beetles in mid - summer, Jap beetle applications or control of mid - summer scale crawlers. Experience has shown many plants can absorb nutrient elements, such as nitrogen, through their leaves. This is provided by adding a soluble crystalline compound, called urea, to sprays for insects and disease.

Foliar feeding must be considered the side dish to the "main course." Reason is some six to eight sprays are needed to equal one standard soil application. There is value in foliar feeding to help replace the nitrates leached out of the soil and the foliage itself by the spring rains. This kind of chow is helpful at a time when leaves may appear peaked — a bit frayed and wan looking.

In general, trees repond best when their meals are served below the ground level. The perforation or drill method of feeding offers the most benefits. It improves soil, assures proper aeration of roots and helps in moisture retention. And adding peat moss or shredded manure at every opportunity provides needed organic matter.

NO SIGN OF LET-UP

Boom In Housing Hits Record Pace

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Inflation could crimp the housing boom. This is the warning from two savings and loan industry leaders.

The boom, which carried housing starts in April to a record high, is "young and robust — with a life expectancy of at least two more years," according to James E. Bent of Hartford, Conn., president of the National League of Insured Savings Associations.

"There is no visible sign of a let-up in soaring housing output which began in 1958," Bent told the Texas Savings and Loan League in Galveston, Tex. "Rather there is every indication that the upsurge in home construction will continue well into 1960."

But he added: "There is no doubt that the potential home buyers are extremely price conscious and that industry must be guided accordingly if we are to realize the full potentials of the current boom in housing."

An even blunter warning came from C. R. Mitchell of Kansas City, Mo., president of the U.S. Savings and Loan League. He told the New Jersey Savings and Loan League that "'continued inflation in land and construction costs will adversely affect the big building boom anticipated in the 1960's."

Mitchell said the toll of rising land and construction costs is reflected in savings and loan institutions' inability to finance an appreciably greater number of home purchases than five years ago, despite heavy gains in deposits.

"Inflation is causing the average size of our mortgage loans to rise so rapidly that, year after year, an ever - increasing number of dollars must be poured into the market to take care of essentially the same number of home buyers," Mitchell said.

"In 1954," he continued, "savings associations financed the construction or purchase of 810,000 houses with a total mortgage volume of nine billion dollars. In 1958, we financed 830,000 new or existing homes with a mortgate volume of $12,300,000,000.

"To put it another way, in 1958 we financed 3 per cent more homes in number, but with a mortgage volume that was 38 per cent higher than in 1954. The average new loan put on the books in 1954 was $11,000; in 1958, it was $14,000."

Mitchell acknowledged that part of this increase "can be traced to the fact that the typical 1958 house is slightly larger and better equipped than its 1954 counterpart. But by far the greatest part of the increase must be traced to the sharp rise in construction costs and in the cost of land."

Other experts have pointed out still another danger of inflation for home buyers: If people lose confidence in the value of the dollar, they may be inclined to save less, thereby cutting into the volume of funds available for home loans.

He also urged savings and loan officials to pay more attention to financing medium-priced houses. He said a "sustained high level of sales of homes depends to a large extent on the availability of moderately priced housing within the reach of the average American family."

EXTENSION NEWS AND VIEWS

Ensembles Top Summer Style

By AUDREY DAWSON

Farm Bureau ladies, your chairman, Mabel Anderson, asked me to remind you of the coffee hour Thursday, May 28th at 10:00 o'clock at 3223 Louisville Avenue. There will be a short business session and officers for next year will be elected. Be sure to come and help make your organization better.

SUMMER FASHIONS

The ensemble theme is big news in summer fashions. It appears in sportswear, daytime clothes and evening designs. Long patio skirts, in identical fabric as the bathing suit gives almost an evening look to the swim suit. Slim daytime dresses team up with their own shortened jackets. Three quarter length cotton tweed coats are shown with black novelty cotton jacket dresses.

CHECK HANG TAG

Mrs. Homemaker when buying decorative fabrics be sure to check the label or ang tag for the following information: special finishes, colorfastness and shrinkage control to within 2 per cent. Look for the guarantee which comes with some fabrics having special finishes. Additional helpful information printed on some labels states how often the pattern is repeated on the fabric. This is useful when figuring the amount of fabric to purchase.

FREEZING

We are all getting those food freezers filled again. Here are a few reminders. Make sure the water is boiling vigorously before vegetables are placed in blancher. Blanching time differs for each vegetable. Check timetable. Completely cool vegetable after blanching to prevent formation of flat sour. Bite into a piece to test for coolness. Flat sour condition is not poisonous but creates bad flavor and is not palatable.

Store foods no longer than recommended. Too long storage of frozen foods causes deterioration such as dehydration, discoloration, loss of texture and flavor. Recommended varieties of vegetables and fruits for freezing will give best results.

Use a metal (rigid) perforated basket, or colander, to emmerse vegetables when blanching.

If you would like to have a copy of our freezing bulletin, call FA 3-2251. This is a free service from your Agricultural Extension Office.

LONGER LIFE

AD ten point, "Do it yourself" program was suggested by Dr. Edward Bostz of Philadelphia. The program emphasizes nutrition which is designed to help the average healthy man or woman live to a ripe old age — a balanced diet including more proteins, vitamins and fluids, less fats and calories — adequate rest of both mind and body, a sense of humor which is best antidote for tension, pride in a job, avoid excessive emotional tension — mutual loyalty of friends and family — participation in community affairs — interesting and specific recreational activities — regular elimination of waste products and expansion of knowledge, wisdom, and experience which adds to maturity.

GARDENING

To aid in developing buds for next year's blooms, remove the spent flowers of azaleas and lilacs. Oak leaves, sawdust and peat moss make good summer mulches for azaleas. Put on 2 to 3 inches thick. If any weeds come through, pull them out. Never cultivate azaleas, as the roots are right on top of the ground.

Prune rambling or running roses as soon as blooming is over. Such large flowering types as Paul's Scarlet Climber should have one or two of the oldest cones removed and remaining branches cut back slightly.

To make zinnia plants bushier and stronger, pinch out the center bud as soon as 2 sets of leaves have formed.

Miss Fitch Becomes Bride Of Ted Roeling

In a 4:00 p.m. ceremony Saturday, May 23, at the Fisher Memorial Garden on the Campus of Southwestern in Memphis, Tennessee, Alice Ruth Fitch became the bride of Ted W. Roeling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Roeling of New Orleans. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Fitch of North Third Street in Monroe. Dr. Robert P. Richardson, vice-president of Southwestern officiated.

The garden formed a beautiful setting where Mrs. Anders J. Kaufmann at the organ accompanied Miss Sandra Calmer, soloist, who sang "Wedding Prayer" by Fern Glasgow Dunlap; "The Pledge" by Jennie Prince Black and "Seal Us O Holy Spirit."

The bride given in marriage by her father looked lovely in a gown of Camillia white, Swiss embroidered organdy, the basque waist, and portrait neckline were trimmed with embroidery. The sleeves were elbow length and the full floor length skirt was double flounced and scalloped along the edges. Tiny covered buttons were used down the back of the bodice. Her veil of illusion was fingertip length and attached to a caplet of seed pearls. Her cascade bouquet was of white feathered carnations. She carried an heirloom family handkerchief carried by four generations. Her only jewelry was a single drop pearl necklace, a gift of the groom.

Miss Francia Roeling of New Orleans, a sister of the groom, served as maid of honor. Her gown of pale pink was embroidered organdy of street length, with an extremely full skirt, over cotton - satin, a bolero of embroidery completed the ensemble. The matron of honor, Mrs. Eugene Daniel Witherspoon Jr. of Andrews, North Carolina, is a sister of the bride. Her dress was identical only yellow in color. Miss Nadine McKinley of Shreveport in a dress of pale green and Miss Bobbie Carney of Texarkana, Arkansas, in a pale lavender dress, served as bridesmaids. They all wore white shoes and white gloves, a gift of the bride, and each carried crescent shaped bouquets of daisies accenting the yellow of the matron of honor's dress; yellow button pom-poms fixed in a bandeau for their hair. The groom's father served his son as best man while Jim Fitch, the bride's brother, and Michael Roeling, the groom's brother of New Orleans, and Larry Kennon of Memphis, served as groomsmen.

The bride's mother wore a dress of dusty pink raw silk with white accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses. The groom's mother was dressed in beige cotton lace, a flowered pink milan hat, white accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

RECEPTION

A reception followed immediately in the Delta Delta Delta Sorority lodge. The bridesmaids' bouquets were used on the tables.

Miss Jean Stock assisted at the punch bowl, Miss Bette Baumgarten cut the tiered wedding cake and Miss Chris Reveley invited guests to sign the guest book.

The couple will spend their honeymoon in Hardy, Arkansas.

The bride chose for traveling a light avocado green, two piece, cotton suit with a scooped neckline and rounded collar. Her accessories were bone color. At her shoulder were cymbidium orchids.

The couple will make their home in Baton Rouge.

The bride is a graduate of Byrd High School in Shreveport and will receive her B. A. from Southwestern in Memphis in June. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. The groom graduated from McDonough High in New Orleans and will resume his studies at L. S. U. this summer.

Out of town guests were the brides family from here; the groom's family from New Orleans; Mrs. Agnes M. Obitz (groom's grandmother); Mrs. William H. Roeling, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Ewing; Miss Henrietta C. Keitz, Mrs. Robert D. Cummiskey, David and Ann; Mrs. Pierre Pujol, Mrs. William J. McNamee; Mrs. Harold Howat; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Bilich; Mr. and Mrs. William P. Oster Theodore of Chalmette; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wellmeyer, New Orleans and Miss Jean Stock.

A small piece of preserved ginger chopped and mixed with cream cheese makes an interesting tea sandwich filling; use nut bread for these.

Broil crackers that have lost their crispness until lightly brown; or spread with butter, and toast in the oven.

A SECRET WEAPON

LONDON (UPI)—The Russians have developed a secret weapon, one model of which doubles as a refrigerator. The device was said to produce "artificial winds of great destructive power." Radio Moscow said one portable model created a stream of air with a temperature of minus 22 degrees fahrenheit, which "costs only 1-20th as much as the cheapest refrigerator on the market."

Serve a plate of watercress, romaine, lettuce and sliced cucumbers on the picnic spot to perk up those hearty sandwiches.

GUEST OF MRS. GEORGE W. POMEROY, seated right, is Dr. Irma Highbaugh of Coffeyville, Kansas, who served as a missionary to China for thirty two years and worked under the Missionary Council in eight countries of southeast Asia for eight years. Dr. Highbaugh is a world traveler and a specialist in the area of the Christian family.

Miss Fitch Becomes Bride Of Ted Roeling

In a 4:00 p.m. ceremony Saturday, May 23, at the Fisher Memorial Garden on the Campus of Southwestern in Memphis, Tennessee, Alice Ruth Fitch became the bride of Ted W. Roeling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Roeling of New Orleans. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Fitch of North Third Street in Monroe. Dr. Robert P. Richardson, vice-president of Southwestern officiated.

The garden formed a beautiful setting where Mrs. Anders J. Kaufmann at the organ accompanied Miss Sandra Calmer, soloist, who sang "Wedding Prayer" by Fern Glasgow Dunlap; "The Pledge" by Jennie Prince Black and "Seal Us O Holy Spirit."

The bride given in marriage by her father looked lovely in a gown of Camillia white, Swiss embroidered organdy, the basque waist, and portrait neckline were trimmed with embroidery. The sleeves were elbow length and the full floor length skirt was double flounced and scalloped along the edges. Tiny covered buttons were used down the back of the bodice. Her veil of illusion was fingertip length and attached to a caplet of seed pearls. Her cascade bouquet was of white feathered carnations. She carried an heirloom family handkerchief carried by four generations. Her only jewelry was a single drop pearl necklace. a gift of the groom.

Miss Francia Roeling of New Orleans, a sister of the groom, served as maid of honor. Her gown of pale pink was embroidered organdy of street length, with an extremely full skirt, over cotton - satin, a bolero of embroidery completed the ensemble. The matron of honor, Mrs. Eugene Daniel Witherspoon Jr. of Andrews, North Carolina, is a sister of the bride. Her dress was identical only yellow in color. Miss Nadine McKinley of Shreveport in a dress of pale green and Miss Bobbie Carney of Texarkana, Arkansas, in a pale lavender dress, served as bridesmaids. They all wore white shoes and white gloves, a gift of the bride, and each carried crescent shaped bouquets of daisies accenting the yellow of the matron of honor's dress; yellow button pom-poms fixed in a bandeau for their hair. The groom's father served his son as best man while Jim Fitch, the bride's brother, and Michael Roeling, the groom's brother of New Orleans, and Larry Kennon of Memphis, served as groomsmen.

The bride's mother wore a dress of dusty pink raw silk with white accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses. The groom's mother was dressed in beige cotton lace, a flowered pink milan hat, white accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

IN SENATE SHOWDOWN VOTE

Confirmation Of Strauss For Cabinet Not Certain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate repudiation of Presideit Eisenhiwer's nomination of 63-year-old Lewis L. Strauss as secretary of commerce moved into the realm of possibility this week.

The Senate Commerce Committee approved the nominee by only a one vote margin—9 to 8, with three Democrats siding with Republicans to prevent an adverse vote.

But the controversial former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission still must win Senate confirmation. To do this he must once again survive the withering Democratic senatorial fires which seared him in 16 days of acrimonious committee hearings.

When the showdown vote comes this time — probably two weeks hence — the fires will be bigger and at white heat.

Democratic antipathies for Strauss, businessman, financier and wartime rear admiral, date from his stormy tenure as AEC chairman. In that capacity he offended the Senate public power block by advocating private development of nuclear power. He also was accused of arrogance and a "be damned" attitude toward the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee and of turning the bi-partisan AEC into a one-man show.

As of now, the odds seem to favor Strauss, but a close vote is certain. If he is repudiated it would be the first time a Cabinet officer has been rejected since the Senate refused to confirm Calvin Coolidge's nomination of Charles B. Warren of Michigan, as attorney general. Democrats linked Warren with the "Sugar trust".

The way the vote goes could depend upon the position Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson takes — for or against the nomination. The Texan said in effect that there would be no leadership movement for or against confirmation—"the confirmation of any man should be based on each senator's judgment." But Johnson said he wanted to read the committee record before making his own decision.

Another element certain to weigh heavily in the showdown is the president's traditional right to chose his Cabinet officers without hindrance from the legislative branch. Some Democratic senators, even though their dislike of Strauss amounts almost to hate, are nonetheless loath to impinge upon Ike's freedom of choice.

Johnson himself took note of this. He said he felt that with "very rare exceptions" a presidential nomination should be accepted.

Strauss, a native of West Virginia, could retire to his 1500 acre Brandy Rock farm at Culpepper, Va. But he also is one of the testiest and most belligerent fighters ever to come before the committee and has shown no signs of wilting.

Ike nominated Strauss to the commerce post last October after it became obvious that he could not win confirmation for a second term as AEC chairman. He had made too many enemies in that job.

Committee hearings began in March and that was when Democratic antipathies—and some in science field—exploded with considerable ferocity. Strauss thus became the first cabinet nominee to be challenged since former Vice President Henry A. Wallace was confirmed for Secretary of Commerce in 1945. Wallace won out, after one Senate repudiation, when it was agreed that he should be shorn of federal lending powers.

Eisenhower admitted "bafflement" in the turn of events surrounding the hearings on Strauss' nomination. Not only was his close friend and adviser running the senatorial gauntlet, but some of the President's other top-level appointments — notably Clare Boothe Luce as ambassador to Brazil—were having rough going.

Mrs. Luce resigned after winning confirmation with a torrid attack on Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) her chief foe. She said her usefulness in Brazil had been destroyed.

Bell Employes Get Pay Hikes

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Southern Bell Telephone Co. said Friday its 9,000 employes in Louisiana will get wage increases totaling about $1,300,000 under the new contract.

The contract, agreed to Thursday night by the Communications Workers of America, affected 50,000 union members in nine states.

Ike Sounds New Warning On Economy

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (UPI)—President Eisenhower said Friday the United States might become "powerless abroad" if it fails to maintain a healthy economy and a sound dollar.

In an implied warning to the Democratic - controlled Cognress, the President declared that "unnecessary" government spending, a high tariff trade policy and an "outdated," surplus-inducing farm program could undermine America's world position.

"We have learned that the fate of our own nation is bound up with the fate of others," he said in a speech dedicating three new buildings at historic St. John's College.

"Our whole position in world economic affairs is determined by the health of our economy and the soundness of our money. If we should neglect these at home we could soon become powerless abroad — our prosperity, our security, our freedom could be in jeopardy."

The President also pleaded that Americans keep themselves informed so they can play a larger role in determining national policy and not leave all the decisions to "ambitious politicians."

He said these questions must be answered by "an informed citizenry:"

"How does a free society organize effectively to prepare for an indefinite period of armed uneasiness; how, within a framework of free decision-making, can our economy be best developed to meet this challenge; how can our educational and other social institutions be best shaped to develop mind and spirit; how can individual initiative be nutured within a framework of national determination for survival — in short, how can we meet the world challenge while still preserving our way of life and enhancing the opportunities for all?"

Eisenhower flew here by helicopter from the White House lawn. After the dedication ceremonies he flew on to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm for the weekend.

Civil Defense Manual Being Prepared Now

A manual which outlines procedures for utilization of the 23 Civil Defense emergency hospitals allocated Louisiana will be issued under auspices of the Louisiana Hospital association.

B. W. Brown, Homer, president of the association of hospital administrators announced that the manual will be prepared by a committee of Disaster Planning headed by Joseph W. Hinsley, Lake Charles.

Federal Civil Defense emerhave been assigned to various hospitals throughout the state as a result of a program initiated by state Civil Defense agency and the Louisiana department of Hospitals.

IN SENATE SHOWDOWN VOTE

Confirmation Of Strauss For Cabinet Not Certain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate repudiation of Presideit Eisenhiwer's nomination of 63-year-old Lewis L. Strauss as secretary of commerce moved into the realm of possibility this week.

The Senate Commerce Committee approved the nominee by only a one vote margin—9 to 8, with three Democrats siding with Republicans to prevent an adverse vote.

But the controversial former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission still must win Senate confirmation. To do this he must once again survive the withering Democratic senatorial fires which seared him in 16 days of acrimonious committee hearings.

When the showdown vote comes this time — probably two weeks hence — the fires will be bigger and at white heat.

Democratic antipathies for Strauss, businessman, financier and wartime rear admiral, date from his stormy tenure as AEC chairman. In that capacity he offended the Senate public power block by advocating private development of nuclear power. He also was accused of arrogance and a "be damned" attitude toward the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee and of turning the bi-partisan AEC into a one-man show.

As of now, the odds seem to favor Strauss, but a close vote is certain. If he is repudiated it would be the first time a Cabinet officer has been rejected since the Senate refused to confirm Calvin Collidge's nomination of Charles B. Manager

J. W. Free, above, arrived in Monroe last week from Beaumont, Texas to become the manager of the Monroe Morgan and Lindsay store. Mrs. Free and their three children will join him at the close of school. He has been manager of the Beaumont downtown store for the past five years and has been with the firm for more than 20 years.

Stock Prices Show Gains During Week

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market churned irregularly to another gain this week amid signs that it was tiring.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks touched a new record of $230.20 on the final session and had a net gain of $1.00 on the week despite a couple of losing sessions.

But the week's volume slipped to 15,969,910 shares compared with the previous week's 18,115,455 and was the lowest in six weeks.

A selling squall slashed the huge gains of spaceiage stocks. Tobaccos were hit by a new lung cancer scare. Sugars declined on news of the agrarian reform program in Cuba. Drugs were upset by a brokerage house advisory.

Rails, however, staged their biggest one-day rally since October 1957. Industrials showed selective strength.

Wall Street technicians noted that for several weeks there has been a tendency for volume to diminish on upward moves and to increase while prices are falling. Some brokers report a considerable number of customers with large credit balances, meaning that they are largely out of the market, possibly until such time as a decline makes stock prices attractive to them again.

The U.S. government bond market posted its first advance in seven weeks this week but corporates continued to slide lower for the eighth straight week.

Observers called the government market's slight rise a technical adjustment rather than a rally.

Trading for the week declined to $26,099,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange from $30,000,000 the previous week and $28,525.200 for the corresponding week in 1958.

Building Costs Cutting Heighth Of Skyscrapers

NEW YORK (AP)—Skyscrapers are getting smaller.

That is the contention of Robert V. Tishman, executive vice president of Tishman Realty & Construction Co. Inc.

Tishfan said Saturday 40 stories has become pretty much the upper limit on "noninstitutional structures" (those not built by a single institution, such as a bank).

"The higher you go," Tishman said, "the greater the proportionate increase in the cost of labor and materials."

It costs almost twice as much to build the 40th floor of a typical New York office building as the second floor, he added.

Joe Venuti, composer-violinist with Paul Whiteman's orchestra for eight years, wrote "Ain't Doin' Bad Doin' Nothin". He can't give a birthplace address because he was born at sea.

Grain Futures Close Week On Declining Note

CHICAGO (AP)—Several grain futures contracts which only a few weeks ago were near high prices for the season finished this week closer to their season lows.

The entire list declined this week with wheat and rye leading the setbacks, all over two cents a bushel. July rye was down four cents and wheat more than three.

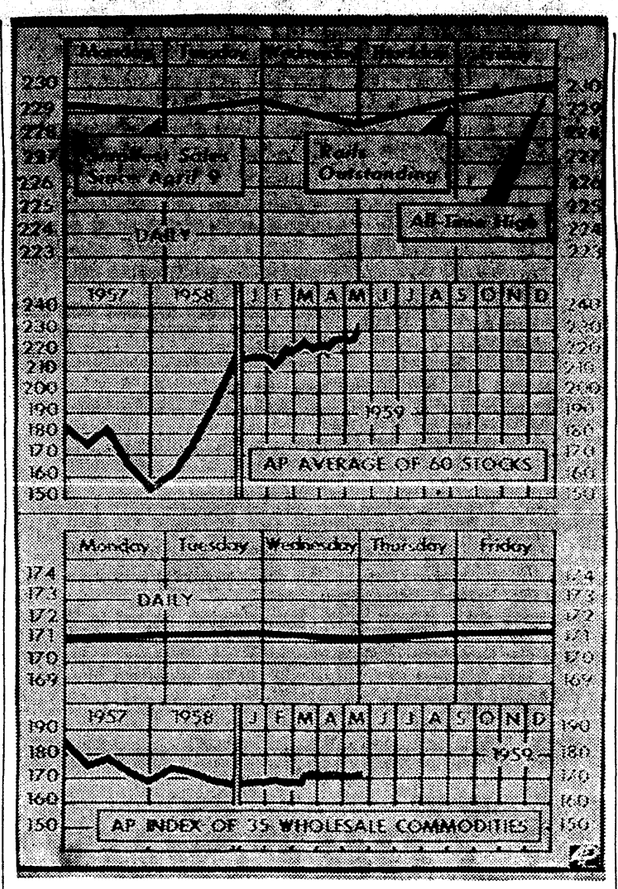

The steadiest grain was corn, as it has been for the past several weeks. Corn declined mostly minor fractions as did the new crop soybeans.

The weakness was ascribed mainly to crop and weather reports, both increasingly bearish near the end of the week. But there also was a notable slackening of bo'h domestic and export' buying.

Comprehensive private surveys showed small grain crops to be generally in excellent condition even before reports of good rainfall over most of the Great Plains.

Wheat futures closed the week 2⅝-3¼ cents a bushel lower, July $1.83¾-⅝; corn ⅛-⅝ lower, July $1.26⅛-¼; oats c-1⅞ lower, July old type contract 63⅜-½; rye 2½-4¼ lower, July $1.22¼-22; soybeans ⅛-1 cent lower, July $2.28¾.

The schooner is said to get its name from a boy in 1713 who saw one of the boats skimming atop the waves. Instead of saying skimming, he shouted "Look, she schroons!"

Stocks Hit All-Time High

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced for the second straight week, closing Friday at 230.2 — a new all-time high—from 229.2 a week ago. The commodity index also pushed higher for the second week in a row, closing at 171.5 from 171.1 in the preceding period. Industrials and foods were good gainers. (AP Wirephoto Chart)

AT OIL EXPOSITION

History Is Mixed With Cash Deals

By MAX B. SKELTON

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — History was mixed with million dollar deals at the 14th International Petroleum Exposition.

Many exhibitors at the giant of industrial shows paid tribute in some firm to Col. Edwin L. Drake, the New Haven, Conn., businessman who drilled the world's first commercial oil well.

Drake found oil at 69½ feet on Aug. 27, 1859, at Titusville, Pa.

Equipment sales completed at the 10-day Tulsa show that ended yesterday ran into the millions of dollars. Most of the deals dwarfed the total cost of Drake's discovery well—an estimated $5,000.

Items inspected by the thousands of oilmen at the exposition included pipe valves costing over five times as much as the Drake well.

Drake paid $4 each for his drill bits. The oilman of today pays from $100 to $1,600.

Two men who aided Drake at Titusville received a combined salary of $2.50 a day. The average pay of the modern oil field workers is $2.81 an hour.

Drake's drilling equipment was crude and made by hand. The tools suppliers displayed here have carried the modern driller to depts over 364 times that of 1859 Titusville. The record is 25,340 feet. Predictions of 30,000 feet and more are frequent.

The oilman of today envies Drake on one point. Crude from the first commercial producer sold at $20 a barrel. The current average price for domestic crude is $3.04.

Dr. Paul H. Giddens, former curator of the Drake Museum in Titusville, says the $5,000 estimate for the well that made history 100 years ago includes Drake's salary of $1,000 a year and other sums advanced him by Seneca Oil Co.

Giddens says Drake paid $500 for a steam engine. The original set of tools cost $47, but later additions ran the total bill to $76.50.

Studies made by Giddens, now president of Hamline University at St. Paul, Minn., indicate Drake's well was an expensive project compared to other early day producers.

An 800-foot well drilled near Titusville in 1860 had a cost estimate of $4,000. Another of only 200-foot cost $557.50, including $75 for tools, $20 for a wooden derrick, and $125 for a pump. Hard formations jumped the rate to more than $2 a foot.

Giddens was the principal speaker at exposition ceremonies honoring the oil pioneer.

He said the Drake well proved that oil lay beneath the earth's surface.

"It was the first oil well to be drilled, not dug, for the specific purpose of obtaining petroleum," he said. "It immediately set in motion the forces that created a new industry, one that was to have a revolutionary effect upon society, here and abroad."

No Improvement Shown By Dulles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Foster Dulles continued Saturday to wage a grim fight against cancer and pneumonia.

The condition of the 71-year-old former secretary of state was reported unchanged. He is under heavy sedation at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

Last formal reports said Dulles had weakened. Members of his family have been gathered in Washington for more than a week.

SMILE AWHILE

CHATHAM, N. J. (AP) — Giggling girls and cackling hens always come to no good end, says the old almanac. How about giggling couples?

Five married couples had such a hilarious time at a dinner party recently that they formed a "giggle club" and will twitter and chuckle over dinner once every two months.

ECONOMIST DECLARES

Soaring Car Sales To Continue Climb

By JACK VENDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI) — Next year probably will not be another 1955 for the auto industry but it could be the next thing to it.

An unexpected boom in auto industry sales this spring sent the spirits of usually conservative auto industry economists soaring but they still retain enough conservatism to refrain from predicting another 1955.

The auto industry recalls 1955 with fond memories. That was the year the industry set a record of 7,200,000 domestic car sales.

"That was an abnormal year for its time," said Ford Motor Co., economist Ross Hanse. "It is possible we could hit those peaks again next year but there are too many variables still to be determined to safely predict it."

But Hansen admitted that he and all other auto industry economists were pleasantly surprised by sales so far in 1959.

"An upturn in sales in the spring is a normal situation," Hansen said. "But the boom we experienced this spring was bigger than anyone in the industry expected. We, and everyone else, had to hike our estimates of how many cars we expected to sell this year."

Hansen's latest estimate for 1959 is "right around six-million." That would make it a better year than 1956 and almost as good as 1957.

And Hansen foresaw a big improvement over this year in 1960.

"I don't want to rule out the possiblity that we could match 1955 in 1960," he said. "But, while I think it is possible, I don't think it is probable."

Hansen expected the big stimulus in 1960 to be "the new products we will offer to the public."

The "new products," he said, included the new smaller cars the industry would offer but also included drastically restyled standard models with some startlingly new engineering innovations.

Much of the auto industry's success in 1960 will depend upon the reception the smaller cars get, he said.

"We don't know how many persons buying smaller cars will be buying them as a substitute for standard cars or how many will be buying them in addition to the cars they now buy," he said. "If the smaller car market doesn't cut into sales of existing models very much, we could have a really big year in 1960."

Hansen agreed the 1955 record would probably not remain intact long but he doubted that it would be wiped out by a one-year flash in the pan.

PETROLEUM REPORT

Four New Completions Reported In Monroe Area

Two oil producers and two new gas well completions were reported last week to the Monroe District office of the state department of conservation's minerals division.

Eleven new locations over the 14 - parish Monroe District were also reported to Duncan S. Cook, local office manager.

One of the new oil wells completed is in Grant parish. It is Bert and Glen Loe's Urania Lumber Co. "B" No. 5 and is pumping 35 barrels of petroleum per day from perforations at 1816 - 18 feet. The well, completed May 12, is in section 32, township 9, range 1 east of Selma Field.

On May 18 Harter Oil Company's Hartner Edenborn "C" No. 10 in LaSalle parish was completed to pump 5 barrels of oil per day from perforations at 1510 -15 feet. This completion is located in section 18, township 10, range 2 east of the productive Tullos Urania Field.

Both of the new gas producers are in Union parish's Monroe Field.

Louisiana Gas Producing Company's Reppond No. 1 was brought in on May 16 and gauged at 237 million cubic feet before acid. Rock pressure was measured at 950 pounds. This well is in section 11, township 22, range 3 east, and depth is 2183 feet.

Last Wednesday Olin Gas Transmission Co. gauged their Fe Gas No. 424 in section 33, township 21, range 3 east at 374 million cubic feet before acid. Rock pressure was 535 pounds. The well's total depth is 2,177 feet.

Last week four holes were plugged and abandoned and 28 rigs were active.

These were the new locations staked last week:

OILMEN WATCHING WILDCATS

Pan-Am Testing Gas Pool Opener

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Pan American Petroleum Corp. has opened a new deep gas condensate pool in Jefferson Davis County.

The well is the wildcat Jeff Holloway No. 1, sec. 24-8n-20w, eight miles northwest of Prentiss and six miles southwest of Gwinville field.

The well flowed 2,736,000 cubic feet of gas and 24 barrels of condensate daily from perforations at 13,264-70 feet.

Meanwhile, oilmen are watching three other wildcats for possible developments.

Sinclair Oil and Gas Co. has run electric log to 14,063 feet in the Jones County wildcat Masonite Corp. No. 1, sec. 15-9n-10w. Oil shows were logged in sands at 14,012-16 feet and at 14,016-50 feet. Operators are attempting to evaluate the shows' commercial worth.

In Forrest County, southeast of Hattiesburg, Louisiana Drilling and Exploration Co. is below 11,700 feet in the wildcat Carter No. 1, sec. 9-3n-12w. Electric log was run at 11,000 feet and operators are releasing no information. Contract depth is 12,800 feet.

In Wayne County, Jett Drilling Co. is below 12,130 feet in the wildcat GM&O No. 1, sec. 21-8n-9w. Slight shows were logged at 11,900 feet.

Skelly Oil Co. is below 13,100 feet in the Simpson County wildcat Mississippi No. 1 sec. 1-10n-18w near Sanitorium. Contract depth is 14,800 feet.

In Covington County, near Mount Olive, Gulf Coast Drilling Co. is below 10,700 feet in the week No. 1, sec. 18-9n-16w. Contract depth is 14,200 feet.

Lagrange Petroleum Co. is running electric log in the Pike County wildcat Kenna No. 1, sec. 6-4n-7e, two miles northwest of Summit field. A core at 10,917-24 feet logged no shows.

East of Summit Field in Pike County, Cordell and Ballard are below 8,100 feet in the wildcat McCullough No. 1, sec. 15-4n-9e. Contract depth is 11,000 feet.

In Smith County, 10 miles north of Raleigh Field, Skelly Oil Co. is near contract depth of 14,000 feet in the wildcat Brown No. 1, sec. 1-4n-7e. No shows were reported.

Two new oil wells were brought in at Little Creek Field this week:

Tidewater Oil Co. completed Felder No. 1, sec. 1-4n-8e on the Pike County side of the field. The well flowed 404 barrels of 38 gravity oil daily from perforations at 10,806-30 feet.

Skelly Oil Co. completed the McCullough No. 1-B. sec. 36-5n-8e, on the Lincoln County side of the field. The well flowed 72 barrels of oil daily from a sand at 10,814-18 feet.

Abandoned wells:

Adams County: Petersen Exploration Co. abandoned the wildcat board of supervisors No. 1, sec. 16-5n-w, dry at 6,12 feet.

Adams County: Callon and Callon abandoned the wildcat Green No. 1, sec. 6-7n-1w, dry at 5,940 feet.

Amite County: Drilling and Exploration and Argo Oil abandoned the wildcat Gerald No. 1, sec. 19-4n-6e, dry at 11,375 feet.

Franklin County: Marlin Exploration Co. abandoned the wildcat USA No. 2, sec. 29-6n-2e, dry at 6,711 feet.

Jefferson County: Calto - Gulmon Co. abandoned the wildcat Miller No. 1, sec. 27-8n-1w, dry at 5,860 feet.

Madison County: Clyde Moss Co. abandoned the well.

Madison County: Clyde Moss Co. abandoned the wildcat board of supervisors No. 1, sec. 16-9n-1w, dry at 6,207 feet.

NEW CAR INVENTORY RISES

Nation's Industry Is Roaring Ahead

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's industrial machine was still roaring along under a full head of steam this week, with steel strike jitters contributing mightily to the fast tempo.

Auto makers kept on turning out cars at a clip that plainly indicated they were betting on a steel strike.

On May 1 tbe inventory of unsold new cars stood at more than 750,000; by mid-June it should pass the 900,000-mark. Question bothering dealers is: suppose the steel workers don't go on strike, and Detroit keeps right on producing? What will we do with all those cars? Early introduction of the Big Three's new "compact" economy cars (Ford's Falcon, Chrysler's Valiant and General Motors' Corvair) could bring added complications.

All three of the big automakers have now announced officially that they'll have their small cars on the market this fall.

Too much gasoline and too much oil — that's the complaint you could hear almost anywhere in the higher echelons of the petroleum industry this week. Oil company executives complained that prices are soft while costs are up. Texas rose to the occasion by ordering a sharp cutback in the state's "allowable" oil production in June.

Business activity will reach new highs this year. But the second half may not equal the record-smashing performance of the first six months. So said top leaders of industry and finance at the 43rd annual convention of the National Industrial Conference Board. George Champion, presidents of the Chase Manhattan Bank, told the meeting that money is bound to tighten up later in the year.

Briefly over the business scene: Department store sales made a stronger showing last year than retail sales in general.... Two Saudi Arabian shieks were elected to the board of directors of Arabian American Oil. Co. The company is owned by four U.S. firms —Standard Oil Co. (N.J.), Texaco Inc., Standard Oil Co. of California and Socony Mobil Oil Co. . . . Department store sales in the same week scored a nine per cent increase over last year. . . . The trend toward self-service in the five-and-dime store continues to gain momentum. F.W. Woolworth says 933 of its more than 2,000 stores are now operating on a serve-yourself basis. . . . International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. is getting a new president Leavey, who will soon retire. He's youthful H. S. Geneen, executive vice president of Raytheon Mfg. Co. . . . BALTIMORE (AP) — Nominee for the frankest high school graduate of the year: Charles Bostian of Baltimore City College High.

Named "most likely to succeed" by his classmates, his farewell message to the school said:

"Content many times to take the easy way out, I was satisfied during my earlier years with work that could have been done much better. I managed to make fairly good grades but it was not until my senior year that I began to work in earnest."

Cotton Mart Closes On Mixed Trend

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures prices charted an irregular course this week and closed with mixed net changes. Active contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange finished at prices $1.55 a bale higher to $2.75 a bale lower than a week ago.

Demand for the nearer months was strengthened by mill price fixing and short covering in July, and the possibility of a tight supply of certain qualities of cotton at the end of the current crop year.

While nearby July scored a net gain for the week, it was under pressure at times because of its premium over new crop months.

Selling in the other positions reflected Washington developments, light profit taking and some hedging.

Traders at first placed a bearish interpretation on House approval of an agricultural appropriations bill which would put a $50,000 on the first price support a grower could receive on any single crop. Later opinion veered ti the view that this ceiling was too high to have much of an effect on cotton farmers.

On Friday, however, the Senate revised an amendment to the bill and set the limit at $35,000 for any one farmer or any one farm. This brought selling into distant October.

Demand for the nearby July contract was spurred by a new government report on domestic consumption of cotton during April. The rate — 35,800 bales per day — compared with a daily average of 34,500 in March and 29,200 in April last year.

Exports of U.S. cotton continue to lag far behind last year. The total for the week ended Tuesday was estimated by the exchange at only 50,000 bales. This compares with 57,000 the previous week and 118,000 bales in the same week last year.

The total for the season through Tuesday is estimated at 2,274,000 bales, vs. 4,624,000 at the same time last year.

Stock Prices Show Gains During Week

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market churned irregularly to another gain this week amid signs that it was tiring.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks touched a new record of $230.20 on the final session and had a net gain of $1.00 on the week despite a couple of losing sessions.

But the week's volume slipped to 15,969,910 shares compared with the previous week's 18,115,455 and was the lowest in six weeks.

A selling squall slashed the huge gains of spaceiage stocks. Tobaccos were hit by a new lung cancer scare. Sugars declined on news of the agrarian reform program in Cuba. Drugs were upset by a brokerage house advisory.

Rails, however, staged their biggest one-day rally since October 1957. Industrials showed selective strength.

Wall Street technicians noted that for several weeks there has been a tendency for volume to diminish on upward moves and to increase while prices are falling. Some brokers report a considerable number of customers with large credit balances, meaning that they are largely out of the market, possibly until such time as a decline makes stock prices attractive to them again.

The U.S. government bond market posted its first advance in seven weeks this week but corporates continued to slide lower for the eighth straight week.

Observers called the government market's slight rise a technical adjustment rather than a rally.

Trading for the week declined to $26,099,000 par value on the New York Stock Exchange from $30,000,000 the previous week and $28,525,200 for the corresponding week in 1958.

Building Costs Cutting Heighth Of Skyscrapers

NEW YORK (AP)—Skyscrapers are getting smaller.

That is the contention of Robert V. Tishman, executive vice president of Tishman Realty & Construction Co. Inc.

Tishfan said Saturday 40 stories has become pretty much the upper limit on "noninstitutional structures" (those not built by a single institution, such as a bank).

"The higher you go," Tishman said, "the greater the proportionate increase in the cost of labor and materials."

It costs almost twice as much to build the 40th floor of a typical New York office building as the second floor, he added.

SHREVEPORT DISTRICT

8 Oil Completions Reported In Area

SHREVEPORT (Special)—Eigh oil and one dual gas completions and four wells plugged and abandoned were reported for the past week in the Shreveport district by the Louisiana Conservation Department.

Active rigs in the area were 43, C. H. McDuff, district manager for the conservation department, reported.

Wells completed for production are:

DE SOTO

Canadian Bayou Field — T. J. Johnson's No. 1 L. L. Bogle et al, s36-13-15, located 940 feet south of north line and 1,650 feet east of west line, to be drilled to the Glenrose zone.

CADDO

Caddo Pine Island Field — Maslow and Parker's No. 52 E. K. Smith, s12-21-15, located 1,340 feet north and 2,080 feet west from SE-C, to be drilled to the Chalk zone.

Missionary Lake Field — Coulston Drilling Co. et al's No. 2 Jack Cominick, s32-23-14, located 1,650 feet east and 330 feet north from SW-C, to be drilled to 2,900 feet.

The new oil completions are:

CADDO

Caddo Pine Island — Bill Gary's No. B-2 Surrey Oil s2-20-16, completed to pump 5 barrels of oil daily from the Nacatoch zone at 937-62 feet. Total well depth is 957.

Hilburn Industries, Inc. s No. 17 Ramsey, s32-21-15, completed to pump 8 barrels of oil daily for the Chalk zone at 1,410-1,522 feet. Total well depth is 1,570 feet.

W. C. Allen's No. 1 C. W. Lane, s1-20-16, completed to pump 8 barrels of oil daily from 2,121,260 feet from the Woodbine. Total well depth is 2,260 feet.

BIENVILLE
DUAL COMPLETIONS

Ada Field — Carter Oil Co.'s No. 1-C Woodard - Walker- Mason, s 25-13-8, completed at 6,870-74 and 6,880-88 to flow 18 barrels of oil daily from the Pettit Zone with gas ratio of 135-555:1. Total depth is 8,175 feet.

Carter Oil Co.'s No. 1-T Woodard - Walker - Mason, s25-18-8, completed to flow 20 barrels of oil daily from the Hosston zone at 7,308-18, with gas ratio of 120,500:1. Total well depth is 7,892 feet.

DE SOTO

East Trenton Field K— J. M. Williams No. 2 J. M. Williams - G. L. Franklin, s6-11-12 completed to flow 5 barrels daily from the Paluxy zone at 2,704-07 feet. Total well depth is 3,758 feet.

Frank Stadler, manager of Belk-Gallant in Monroe, left today for Myrtle Beach, South Carolina to attend a once-in-three-years convention of Belk associates. He will return at the end of the week.

The board of directors of Arkansas Fuel Oil Corporation today declared a quarterly dividend of twenty-five cents per share on its common stock, payable June 29, 1959 to shareholders of record June 12, 1959.

Open house for Roselyn Hair Fashions Salon, 205 North Third St., will be held today from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m., Roselyn Simmons, manager, has announced.

Mrs. Simmons and members of her staff received training under Robert Fiance of New York and will offer complete hair styling services.

Staff members include Walter Speed, stylist; Cecelia Tanguay, stylist; Pat Seab, stylist; Sue Davis, stylist; Lillian Hemphill, manicurist; Dawn Williams manicurist; and Era Prentice, receptionist.

BUILDING PERMITS

List Evaluation Total, $142,412

The Ouachita Parish School Board obtained a building permit for a $41,000 maintenance shop yesterday from the office of William C. Hines, Monroe building inspector.

The concrete and steel one-story building, located at the corner of Central and Seventh streets, will contain two rooms, with 10,800 square feet of floor space.

John E. Zufall said 21 other permits for buildings and remodeling valued at $101,412.28 were issued, for a total evaluation of $142,412.28 during the week.

Permits issued Monday went to Kirby Johnson, remodel frame Shipley Donut Shop, 510 Louisville, $1,000; Mrs. J. J. Struben, remodel frame residence by adding storage room and carport, 1404 N. Second St., $4,010; Edward L. Elliott, add one room, 144 square feet, to frame residence at 3603 Lee Ave., $600; Corbin J. Turpin, construct six room and bath brick veneer residence and carport, 3901 Lionel Ave., 1000 square feet, $8,000; Joe W. Wainwright, add three rooms and bath to frame residence at 3917 Carver, 424 square feet, $900.

Tuesday, May 19, permits went to Dorothy Young, build frame six room and bath residence, 912 square feet, 3908 Barlow, $2,695; W. A. Langford, remodel frame garage, 312 Morris Avenue, $150; V. Charles Bruscato, remodel frame cafe, 101 Adams St., $200.

MORE PERMITS

Wednesday, May 20, permits were issued to Mrs. Lillian Campbell, move one story frame residence, 20 by 40 by 16 feet high, from Monroe to West Monroe, $200; Otha M. Morris, move frame residence, 12 by 28 by 14 feet high, from Monroe to West Monroe, $200; Mrs. Sarah Maxwell, move frame residence, size 20 by 40 by 16 feet high, from Monroe to West Monroe, $300; A. Knelos, build one room cafe and screen-in barbecue pit, 1618 S. Second St., 48 square feet, $75.

Adair G.M.C., build one-story mitchell building garage, 3103 Louisville Ave., 4335 square feet, $3,500; T. R. Henry, add one room to frame residence, 1707 Emerson Ave., 224 square feet, $1618.28; Dealers Supply Co., build wood and metal warehouse at rear of 2928 Louisville Ave., 9600 square feet, $13,000.

Thursday, May 21 permits went to Jake Benton, add one room to frame residence, 910 S. Fourth St., 400 square feet, $1500; Joe Domico, add two rooms, 362 square feet, to frame residence, 114 S. McGuire Ave., $1,000; Horace Tony, build frame storage room, 817 Bethune, 48 square feet, $25.

Friday, May 22; permits were issued to C. R. Tidwell Jr, build brick veneer six room, two bath residence, 2400 square feet, 3525 Westminster, $26,000; Lena Smith, add room and carport to frame residence, 2605 Renwick, 168 square feet, $2600; Monroe Building and Loan, remodel masonry office, 106 St. John St., $33,339 and T. Earl Ogg, add carport to frame residence, 803 Filhiol Ave., $1500.

Grain Futures Close Week On Declining Note

CHICAGO (AP)—Several grain futures contracts which only a few weeks ago were near high prices for the season finished this week closer to their season lows.

The entire list declined this week with wheat and rye leading the setbacks, all over two cents a bushel. July rye was down four cents and wheat more than three.

The steadiest grain was corn, as it has been for the past several weeks. Corn declined mostly minor fractions as did the new crop soybeans.

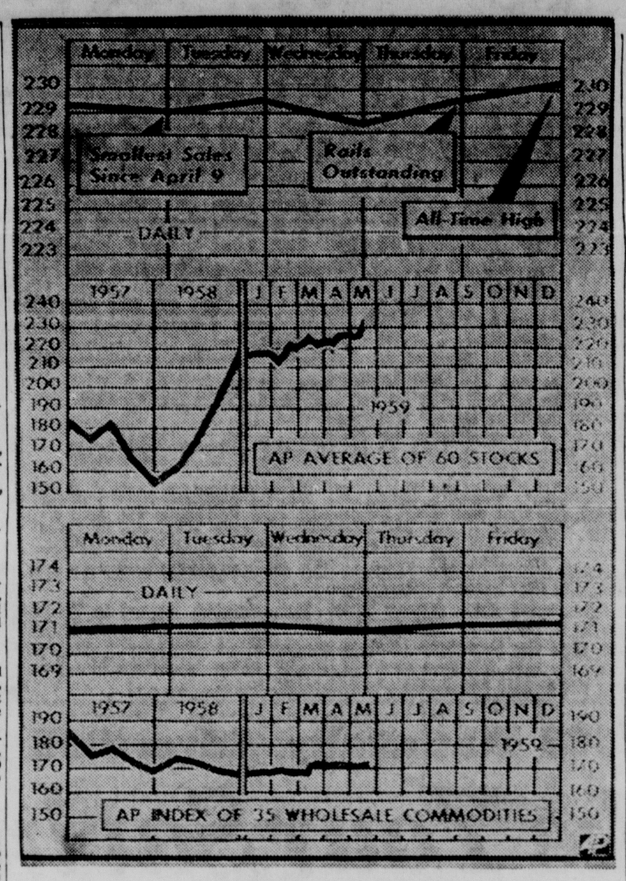

The weakness was ascribed mainly to crop and weather reports, both increasingly bearish near the end of the week. But there also was a notable slackening of both domestic and export buying.

Comprehensive private surveys showed small grain crops to be generally in excellent condition even before reports of good rainfall over most of the Great Plains.

Wheat futures closed the week 2⅝-3¼ cents a bushel lower, July $1.83¾-⅝; corn ⅛-⅝ lower, July $1.26⅛-¼; oats c-1⅞ lower, July old type contract 63⅜-½; rye 2½-4¼ lower, July $1.22¼-22; soybeans ⅛-1 cent lower, July $2.28¾.

The schooner is said to get its name from a boy in 1713 who saw one of the boats skimming atop the waves. Instead of saying skimming, he shouted "Look, she schroons!"

Stocks Hit All-Time High

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced for the second straight week, closing Friday at 230.2 — a new all-time high—from 229.2 a week ago. The commodity index also pushed higher for the second week in a row, closing at 171.5 from 171.1 in the preceding period. Industrials and foods were good gainers. (AP Wirephoto Chart)

AT OIL EXPOSITION

History Is Mixed With Cash Deals

By MAX B. SKELTON

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — History was mixed with million dollar deals at the 14th International Petroleum Exposition.

Many exhibitors at the giant of industrial shows paid tribute in some firm to Col. Edwin L. Drake, the New Haven, Conn., businessman who drilled the world's first commercial oil well.

Drake found oil at 69½ feet on Aug. 27, 1859, at Titusville, Pa.

Equipment sales completed at the 10-day Tulsa show that ended yesterday ran into the millions of dollars. Most of the deals dwarfed the total cost of Drake's discovery well—an estimated $5,000.

Items inspected by the thousands of oilmen at the exposition included pipe valves costing over five times as much as the Drake well.

Drake paid $4 each for his drill bits. The oilman of today pays from $100 to $1,600.

Two men who aided Drake at Titusville received a combined salary of $2.50 a day. The average pay of the modern oil field workers is $2.81 an hour.

Drake's drilling equipment was crude and made by hand. The tools suppliers displayed here have carried the modern driller to depts over 364 times that of 1859 Titusville. The record is 25,340 feet. Predictions of 30,000 feet and more are frequent.

The oilman of today envies Drake on one point. Crude from the first commercial producer sold at $20 a barrel. The current average price for domestic crude is $3.04.

Dr. Paul H. Giddens, former curator of the Drake Museum in Titusville, says the $5,000 estimate for the well that made history 100 years ago includes Drake's salary of $1,000 a year and other sums advanced him by Seneca Oil Co.

Giddens says Drake paid $500 for a steam engine. The original set of tools cost $47, but later additions ran the total bill to $76.50.

Studies made by Giddens, now president of Hamline University at St. Paul, Minn., indicate Drake's well was an expensive project compared to other early day producers.

An 800-foot well drilled near Titusville in 1860 had a cost estimate of $4,000. Another of only 200-foot cost $557.50, including $75 for tools, $20 for a wooden derrick, and $125 for a pump. Hard formations jumped the rate to more than $2 a foot.

Giddens was the principal speaker at exposition ceremonies honoring the oil pioneer.

He said the Drake well proved that oil lay beneath the earth's surface.

"It was the first oil well to be drilled, not dug, for the specific purpose of obtaining petroleum," he said. "It immediately set in motion the forces that created a new industry, one that was to have a revolutionary effect upon society, here and abroad."

No Improvement Shown By Dulles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Foster Dulles continued Saturday to wage a grim fight against cancer and pneumonia.

The condition of the 71-year-old former secretary of state was reported unchanged. He is under heavy sedation at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

Last formal reports said Dulles had weakened. Members of his family have been gathered in Washington for more than a week.

SMILE AWHILE

CHATHAM, N. J. (AP) — Giggling girls and cackling hens always come to no good end, says the old almanac. How about giggling couples?

Five married couples had such a hilarious time at a dinner party recently that they formed a "giggle club" and will twitter and chuckle over dinner once every two months.

ECONOMIST DECLARES

Soaring Car Sales To Continue Climb

By JACK VENDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI) — Next year probably will not be another 1955 for the auto industry but it could be the next thing to it.

An unexpected boom in auto industry sales this spring sent the spirits of usually conservative auto industry economists soaring but they still retain enough conservatism to refrain from predicting another 1955.

The auto industry recalls 1955 with fond memories. That was the year the industry set a record of 7,200,000 domestic car sales.

"That was an abnormal year for its time," said Ford Motor Co., economist Ross Hanse. "It is possible we could hit those peaks again next year but there are too many variables still to be determined to safely predict it."

But Hansen admitted that he and all other auto industry economists were pleasantly surprised by sales so far in 1959.

"An upturn in sales in the spring is a normal situation," Hansen said. "But the boom we experienced this spring was bigger than anyone in the industry expected. We, and everyone else, had to hike our estimates of how many cars we expected to sell this year."

Hansen's latest estimate for 1959 is "right around six-million." That would make it a better year than 1956 and almost as good as 1957.

And Hansen foresaw a big improvement over this year in 1960.

"I don't want to rule out the possiblity that we could match 1955 in 1960," he said. "But, while I think it is possible, I don't think it is probable."

Hansen expected the big stimulus in 1960 to be "the new products we will offer to the public."

The "new products," he said, included the new smaller cars the industry would offer but also included drastically restyled standard models with some startlingly new engineering innovations.

Much of the auto industry's success in 1960 will depend upon the reception the smaller cars get, he said.

"We don't know how many persons buying smaller cars will be buying them as a substitute for standard cars or how many will be buying them in addition to the cars they now buy," he said. "If the smaller car market doesn't cut into sales of existing models very much, we could have a really big year in 1960."

Hansen agreed the 1955 record would probably not remain intact long but he doubted that it would be wiped out by a one-year flash in the pan.

PETROLEUM REPORT

Four New Completions Reported In Monroe Area

Two oil producers and two new gas well completions were reported last week to the Monroe District office of the state department of conservation's minerals division.

Eleven new locations over the 14 - parish Monroe District were also reported to Duncan S. Cook, local office manager.

One of the new oil wells completed is in Grant parish. It is Bert and Glen Loe's Urania Lumber Co. "B" No. 5 and is pumping 35 barrels of petroleum per day from perforations at 1816 - 18 feet. The well, completed May 12, is in section 32, township 9, range 1 east of Selma Field.

On May 18 Harter Oil Company's Hartner Edenborn "C" No. 10 in LaSalle parish was completed to pump 5 barrels of oil per day from perforations at 1510 -15 feet. This completion is located in section 18, township 10, range 2 east of the productive Tullos Urania Field.

Both of the new gas producers are in Union parish's Monroe Field.

Louisiana Gas Producing Company's Reppond No. 1 was brought in on May 16 and gauged at 237 million cubic feet before acid. Rock pressure was measured at 950 pounds. This well is in section 11, township 22, range 3 east, and depth is 2183 feet.

Last Wednesday Olin Gas Transmission Co. gauged their Fe Gas No. 424 in section 33, township 21, range 3 east at 374 million cubic feet before acid. Rock pressure was 535 pounds. The well's total depth is 2,177 feet.

Last week four holes were plugged and abandoned and 28 rigs were active.

These were the new locations staked last week:

OILMEN WATCHING WILDCATS

Pan-Am Testing Gas Pool Opener

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Pan American Petroleum Corp. has opened a new deep gas condensate pool in Jefferson Davis County.

The well is the wildcat Jeff Holloway No. 1, sec. 24-8n-20w, eight miles northwest of Prentiss and six miles southwest of Gwinville field.

The well flowed 2,736,000 cubic feet of gas and 24 barrels of condensate daily from perforations at 13,264-70 feet.

Meanwhile, oilmen are watching three other wildcats for possible developments.

Sinclair Oil and Gas Co. has run electric log to 14,063 feet in the Jones County wildcat Masonite Corp. No. 1, sec. 15-9n-10w. Oil shows were logged in sands at 14,012-16 feet and at 14,016-50 feet. Operators are attempting to evaluate the shows' commercial worth.

In Forrest County, southeast of Hattiesburg, Louisiana Drilling and Exploration Co. is below 11,700 feet in the wildcat Carter No. 1, sec. 9-3n-12w. Electric log was run at 11,000 feet and operators are releasing no information. Contract depth is 12,800 feet.

In Wayne County, Jett Drilling Co. is below 12,130 feet in the wildcat GM&O No. 1, sec. 21-8n-9w. Slight shows were logged at 11,900 feet.

Skelly Oil Co. is below 13,100 feet in the Simpson County wildcat Mississippi No. 1 sec. 1-10n-18w near Sanitorium. Contract depth is 14,800 feet.

In Covington County, near Mount Olive, Gulf Coast Drilling Co. is below 10,700 feet in the week No. 1, sec. 18-9n-16w. Contract depth is 14,200 feet.

Lagrange Petroleum Co. is running electric log in the Pike County wildcat Kenna No. 1, sec. 6-4n-7e, two miles northwest of Summit field. A core at 10,917-24 feet logged no shows.

East of Summit Field in Pike County, Cordell and Ballard are below 8,100 feet in the wildcat McCullough No. 1, sec. 15-4n-9e. Contract depth is 11,000 feet.

In Smith County, 10 miles north of Raleigh Field, Skelly Oil Co. is near contract depth of 14,000 feet in the wildcat Brown No. 1, sec. 1-4n-7e. No shows were reported.

Two new oil wells were brought in at Little Creek Field this week:

Tidewater Oil Co. completed Felder No. 1, sec. 1-4n-8e on the Pike County side of the field. The well flowed 404 barrels of 38 gravity oil daily from perforations at 10,806-30 feet.

Skelly Oil Co. completed the McCullough No. 1-B, sec. 36-5n-8e, on the Lincoln County side of the field. The well flowed 72 barrels of oil daily from a sand at 10,814-18 feet.

Abandoned wells:

Adams County: Petersen Exploration Co. abandoned the wildcat board of supervisors No. 1, sec. 16-5n-w, dry at 6,12 feet.

Adams County: Callon and Callon abandoned the wildcat Green No. 1, sec. 6-7n-1w, dry at 5,940 feet.

Amite County: Drilling and Exploration and Argo Oil abandoned the wildcat Gerald No. 1, sec. 19-4n-6e, dry at 11,375 feet.

Franklin County: Marlin Exploration Co. abandoned the wildcat USA No. 2, sec. 29-6n-2e, dry at 6,711 feet.

Jefferson County: Calto - Gulmon Co. abandoned the wildcat Miller No. 1, sec. 27-8n-1w, dry at 5,860 feet.

Madison County: Clyde Moss Co. abandoned the well.

Madison County: Clyde Moss Co. abandoned the wildcat board of supervisors No. 1, sec. 16-9n-1w, dry at 6,207 feet.

NEW CAR INVENTORY RISES

Nation's Industry Is Roaring Ahead

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's industrial machine was still roaring along under a full head of steam this week, with steel strike jitters contributing mightily to the fast tempo.

Auto makers kept on turning out cars at a clip that plainly indicated they were betting on a steel strike.

On May 1 the inventory of unsold new cars stood at more than 750,000; by mid-June it should pass the 900,000-mark. Question bothering dealers is: suppose the steel workers don't go on strike, and Detroit keeps right on producing? What will we do with all those cars? Early introduction of the Big Three's new "compact" economy cars (Ford's Falcon, Chrysler's Valiant and General Motors' Corvair) could bring added complications.

All three of the big automakers have now announced officially that they'll have their small cars on the market this fall.

Too much gasoline and too much oil — that's the complaint you could hear almost anywhere in the higher echelons of the petroleum industry this week. Oil company executives complained that prices are soft while costs are up. Texas rose to the occasion by ordering a sharp cutback in the state's "allowable" oil production in June.

Business activity will reach new highs this year. But the second half may not equal the record-smashing performance of the first six months. So said top leaders of industry and finance at the 43rd annual convention of the National Industrial Conference Board. George Champion, presidents of the Chase Manhattan Bank, told the meeting that money is bound to tighten up later in the year.

Briefly over the business scene: Department store sales made a stronger showing last year than retail sales in general. . . . Two Saudi Arabian shieks were elected to the board of directors of Arabian American Oil. Co. The company is owned by four U.S. firms —Standard Oil Co. TELL ALL

BALTIMORE (AP) — Nominee for the frankest high school graduate of the year: Charles Bostian of Baltimore City College High.

Named "most likely to succeed" by his classmates, his farewell message to the school said:

"Content many times to take the easy way out, I was satisfied during my earlier years with work that could have been done much better. I managed to make fairly good grades but it was not until my senior year that I began to work in earnest."

Cotton Mart Closes On Mixed Trend

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures prices charted an irregular course this week and closed with mixed net changes. Active contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange finished at prices $1.55 a bale higher to $2.75 a bale lower than a week ago.

Demand for the nearer months was strengthened by mill price fixing and short covering in July, and the possibility of a tight supply of certain qualities of cotton at the end of the current crop year.

While nearby July scored a net gain for the week, it was under pressure at times because of its premium over new crop months.

Selling in the other positions reflected Washington developments, light profit taking and some hedging.

Traders at first placed a bearish interpretation on House approval of an agricultural appropriations bill which would put a $50,000 on the first price support a grower could receive on any single crop. Later opinion veered ti the view that this ceiling was too high to have much of an effect on cotton farmers.

On Friday, however, the Senate revised an amendment to the bill and set the limit at $35,000 for any one farmer or any one farm. This brought selling into distant October.

Demand for the nearby July contract was spurred by a new government report on domestic consumption of cotton during April. The rate — 35,800 bales per day — compared with a daily average of 34,500 in March and 29,200 in April last year.

Exports of U.S. cotton continue to lag far behind last year. The total for the week ended Tuesday was estimated by the exchange at only 50,000 bales. This compares with 57,000 the previous week and 118,000 bales in the same week last year.

The total for the season through Tuesday is estimated at 2,274,000 bales, vs. 4,624,000 at the same time last year.

Doctor Guinn To Be Speaker At Northeast

Dr. G. Earl Guinn, president of Louisiana College, will give the commencement address to the graduating class of Northeast Louisiana State College tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. in the gardens of the president's home on Chauvin Avenue.

The list of candidates for the bachelor's degree comprises 192 students. The group includes members of the first graduates in the School of Pharmacy, which was established in 1956 by the State Board of Education.

Dr. Guinn, a native of Mississippi, attended the public schools in Laurel and Hattiesburg before coming to Louisiana. He graduated with distinction from Louisiana College in 1937 and obtained the master of theology degree from the New Orleans Seminary in 1942. Two years later he completed the doctorate in theology, graduating magna cum laude.

PASTORATES

He held pastorates at the First Baptist Church in Sterlington and in Bossier City prior to becoming head of the Department of Preaching at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

Dr. Guinn accepted the Louisiana College presidency in the fall of 1951.

He has served as president of the Louisiana Foundation of Privately Supported Colleges and Universities and as vice president of the Louisiana College Conference. His experiences also include active participation as a member of the Education Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention since 1952, and he currently is chairman of the Louisiana Board of Institutions, an organization in which he has held membership since 1954.

Dr. Guinn has traveled extensively in Europe and Africa.

He and Mrs. Guinn have a daughter, Elaine, a sophomore at Louisiana College.

Senator Gore Says He May Back Strauss

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) said Saturday he was inclined to vote for confirmation of the controversial Lewis L. Strauss as secretary of commerce even though he has a "prejudice" against Strauss as a public official.

Gore, who bitterly opposed Strauss' role in the torrid Dixon-Yates power controversy when Strauss was chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, had been expected to line up with Tennessee Valley Authority partisans in opposition to the nomination. But, stating his "present inclination" to vote for Strauss, he said he would "reserve final judgment."

Strauss, who made enemies in the Senate public power bloc in the dispute over the now cancelled Dixon-Yates contract to supply power to the AEC through TVA facilities, won approval of the Senate Commerce Committee earlier this week by only one vote—9 to 8. Three Democrats sided with Republican members or the voted would have been adverse.

In the backstage maneuvering on the appointment—which President Eisenhower has refused to withdraw — the news for Strauss was not all good although Gore's tentative position enhanced his prospects.

One senator, uncommitted in the dispute and not involved in the jockeying for votes, told United Press International he was "now convinced" the nomination would be repudiated.

Republican spokesmen are almost solidly for Strauss. One exception is Sen. William Langer (R-N.D.) who has announced his opposition.

Gore disclosed his views by releasing the text of a letter sent to constituents who urged him to oppose Strauss. He said that while he was "unable to cast aside my prejudice against Mr. Strauss as a public official," the question of denying the President "latitudes traditionally accorded" is broader than personal sentiment.

The last cabinet apointee refused Senate confirmation was Charles Beecher Warren of Michigan whom Calvin Coolidge had nominated for attorney general.

Other senators reported against Strauss have hinted that they nevertheless would vote to uphold Eisenhower's right to choose his official family.

ON VOTING MACHINES

Law Suspension Favored By Dodd

BATON ROUGE (AP) — State Comptroller William J. Dodd Saturday suggested that the fiscal Legislature suspend the laws calling for an elective voting machine custodian and the present voting machine board.

Dodd said he was not interested in criticizing either Gov. Earl Long or Secretary of State Wade Martin Jr. in their legislative tift.

He came forward with his suggestion for two reasons he said. He is a candidate for governor and interested in economy, and his name has been mentioned in connection with voting machines.

"This is a thing I would like to see done now," he said, "so if I'm elected I won't have to wait four years."

"I'd like to see the Legislature take necessary action to abolish the entire present setup," he said.

Dodd said he had not talked to any individual lawmakers about his ideas.

The Legislature, he said, "could easily do this by adopting a House concurrent resolution to suspend legislation that calls for an elective custodian and the present board.

"Then Gov. Long or his successor . . . could through the division of administration make purchases of voting machines."

Such purchases, Dodd said, could be made according to law—with purchases being made from the lowest bidder and the same staff that now makes state purchases.

Dodd said he was a member of the Voting Machine Board while lieutenant governor under Long from 1948-1952.

Dodd said the state constitution would not allow any state elective post to be abolished but such may be suspended. If a person's office is suspended, he said, the state is still required to pay his salary during the time he was elected to hold the office.

For that reason, he said, it could be better for the Legislature to act now instead of waiting until 1960.

Dodd called attention to the $636,390 budgeted by the administration for the board of voting machines during the next fiscal year. At least some of that, he said, could be saved.

Demo Seeking Ike's Backing On Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Sen. J. William Fulbright said Saturday the fate of his proposal to expand the development loan fund for economic aid to under-developed countries "depends entirely on the President."

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in effect has challenged President Eisenhower to get behind the proposal in light of what Fulbright regards as at least a partial endorsement of the plan at a recent White House press conference.

However, Fulbright told a reporter, he did not know what stand Eisenhower would take officially.

Fulbright Friday asked the State Department to present the President's views to the committee Monday, when Undersecretary of State C. Douglas Dillon will testify on the economic aid program.

Eisenhower asked for 700 million dollars to continue the loan fund for another year as part of his 3.9 billion dollar overall foreign aid request.

Fulbright's plan, co - sponsored by Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), calls for 1.5 billion dollars a year for five years and corresponding de-emphasis on military aid. It also would remove the loan fund from year-to-year appropriations control by Congress by authorizing the longrange operation.

Although they have supported the President's one-year request in testifying on the aid program, State Department and foreign aid officials have made it clear they wanted a bigger, longer - range loan fund but were, in effect, over ruled by the Budget Bureau.

The Fullbright-Humphrey - Kennedy proposal has picked up considerable support from private organizations. But Fulbright conceded its chances for getting through Congress are not too good unless the President throws his weight behind it.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee is expected to complete action next week on the 3.9 billion dollar foreign aid authorization.

Rep. A.S.J. Carnahan (D-Mo.), a high-ranking Democratic member, predicted some cuts.

The Senate committee will wind up its hearings Monday with testimony by Dillon and Dempster McIntosh, administrator of the Loan Fund. But Fulbright said the committee would not act on the authorization bill until after the House completes action.

Baccalaureate At West Monroe

Baccalaureate services for seniors of the West Monroe High School week scheduled for 3 p.m. today at the school auditorium.

The Rev. F. D. Wall of the First Assembly of God Church will deliver the message and he will be assisted by the Rev. E. E. Taylor of the Trinity Baptist Church.

Dr. Hugh E. Bradshaw of the Memorial Presbyterian Church and the Rev. Paul Owens of the Church of God will also take part in the ceremonies.

The West Monroe High School choir under the direction of Mrs. Juanita Kilpatrick will furnish the music for the occasion.

The baccalaureate services will be followed by a reception at the home of Judge and Mrs. Jesse Heard from 4 to 6 p.m., honoring graduates and the faculty and staff of West Monroe High School.

19 Americans Depart For Soviet Tour

HELSINKI (UPI) — Nineteen Americans left here Saturday in a bus flying the Stars and Stripes on what may be a trail-blazing tour of the Soviet Union.

The group was believed to be the first party of Americans to embark on a regularly-scheduled bus tour of Russia. The Americans will spend 18 days in the Soviet Union leaving that country at the border near Warsaw.

The bus was the first of five that will go back and forth along this summer, carrying Americans and Europeans. The cost of the tour is $519, which covers transporation, hotel accommodations and meals.

They rode on the way to Leningrad Saturday, where they will spend four nights. Then they head for Moscow, where they will spend five days, before going to Warsaw.

The bus was met at the Finnish border by a Russian in tourist agency guide.

The guide will be with them for their entire stay in Russia.

Mrs. Rose Hirsham of (301 N.S. river Dr.) Fort Lauderdale. Fla., said she was making the trip in hopes of being reunited with long-lost relatives. She was born near Minsk but left there when she was 7. The 64-year-old manager of an apartment house said she would try to find some relatives although she recalls only that "our home was an overnight trip from Minsk."

PIDGEON IN MUSICAL

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Pidgeon is returning to the singing stage as star of a musical adaptation of "Ah, Wilderness!"

Pidgeon first went to Hollywood to be a singer, but earned his reputation in straight dramatic parts. He returned to Broadway two seasons ago in "The Happiest Millionaire."

The Eugene O'Neill comedy about a family of 50 years ago is being retitled "Connecticut Summer" in its new form. David Merrick has scheduled the production for next fall.

DR. G. EARL GUINN

Doctor Guinn To Be Speaker At Northeast

Dr. G. Earl Guinn, president of Louisiana College, will give the commencement address to the graduating class of Northeast Louisiana State College tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. in the gardens of the president's home on Chauvin Avenue.

The list of candidates for the bachelor's degree comprises 192 students. The group includes members of the first graduates in the School of Pharmacy, which was established in 1956 by the State Board of Education.

Dr. Guinn, a native of Mississippi, attended the public schools in Laurel and Hattiesburg before coming to Louisiana. He graduated with distinction from Louisiana College in 1937 and obtained the master of theology degree from the New Orleans Seminary in 1942. Two years later he completed the doctorate in theology, graduating magna cum laude.

PASTORATES

He held pastorates at the First Baptist Church in Sterlington and in Bossier City prior to becoming head of the Department of Preaching at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

Dr. Guinn accepted the Louisiana College presidency in the fall of 1951.

He has served as president of the Louisiana Foundation of Privately Supported Colleges and Universities and as vice president of the Louisiana College Conference. His experiences also include active participation as a member of the Education Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention since 1952, and he currently is chairman of the Louisiana Board of Institutions, an organization in which he has held membership since 1954.

Dr. Guinn has traveled extensively in Europe and Africa.

He and Mrs. Guinn have a daughter, Elaine, a sophomore at Louisiana College.

Senator Gore Says He May Back Strauss

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) said Saturday he was inclined to vote for confirmation of the controversial Lewis L. Strauss as secretary of commerce even though he has a "prejudice" against Strauss as a public official.

Gore, who bitterly opposed Strauss' role in the torrid Dixon-Yates power controversy when Strauss was chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, had been expected to line up with Tennessee Valley Authority partisans in opposition to the nomination. But, stating his "present inclination" to vote for Strauss, he said he would "reserve final judgment."

Strauss, who made enemies in the Senate public power bloc in the dispute over the now cancelled Dixon-Yates contract to supply power to the AEC through TVA facilities, won approval of the Senate Commerce Committee earlier this week by only one vote—9 to 8. Three Democrats sided with Republican members or the voted would have been adverse.

In the backstage maneuvering on the appointment—which President Eisenhower has refused to withdraw — the news for Strauss was not all good although Gore's tentative position enhanced his prospects.

One senator, uncommitted in the dispute and not involved in the jockeying for votes, told United Press International he was "now convinced" the nomination would be repudiated.

Republican spokesmen are almost solidly for Strauss. One exception is Sen. William Langer (R-N.D.) who has announced his opposition.

Gore disclosed his views by releasing the text of a letter sent to constituents who urged him to oppose Strauss. He said that while he was "unable to cast aside my prejudice against Mr. Strauss as a public official," the question of denying the President "latitudes traditionally accorded" is broader than personal sentiment.

The last cabinet apointee refused Senate confirmation was Charles Beecher Warren of Michigan whom Calvin Coolidge had nominated for attorney general.

Other senators reported against Strauss have hinted that they nevertheless would vote to uphold Eisenhower's right to choose his official family.

ON VOTING MACHINES

Law Suspension Favored By Dodd

BATON ROUGE (AP) — State Comptroller William J. Dodd Saturday suggested that the fiscal Legislature suspend the laws calling for an elective voting machine custodian and the present voting machine board.

Dodd said he was not interested in criticizing either Gov. Earl Long or Secretary of State Wade Martin Jr. in their legislative tift.

He came forward with his suggestion for two reasons he said. He is a candidate for governor and interested in economy, and his name has been mentioned in connection with voting machines.

"This is a thing I would like to see done now," he said, "so if I'm elected I won't have to wait four years."

"I'd like to see the Legislature take necessary action to abolish the entire present setup," he said.

Dodd said he had not talked to any individual lawmakers about his ideas.

The Legislature, he said, "could easily do this by adopting a House concurrent resolution to suspend legislation that calls for an elective custodian and the present board.

"Then Gov. Long or his successor . . . could through the division of administration make purchases of voting machines."

Such purchases, Dodd said, could be made according to law—with purchases being made from the lowest bidder and the same staff that now makes state purchases.

Dodd said he was a member of the Voting Machine Board while lieutenant governor under Long from 1948-1952.

Dodd said the state constitution would not allow any state elective post to be abolished but such may be suspended. If a person's office is suspended, he said, the state is still required to pay his salary during the time he was elected to hold the office.

For that reason, he said, it could be better for the Legislature to act now instead of waiting until 1960.

Dodd called attention to the $636,390 budgeted by the administration for the board of voting machines during the next fiscal year. At least some of that, he said, could be saved.

Demo Seeking Ike's Backing On Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Sen. J. William Fulbright said Saturday the fate of his proposal to expand the development loan fund for economic aid to under-developed countries "depends entirely on the President."

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in effect has challenged President Eisenhower to get behind the proposal in light of what Fulbright regards as at least a partial endorsement of the plan at a recent White House press conference.

However, Fulbright told a reporter, he did not know what stand Eisenhower would take officially.

Fulbright Friday asked the State Department to present the President's views to the committee Monday, when Undersecretary of State C. Douglas Dillon will testify on the economic aid program.

Eisenhower asked for 700 million dollars to continue the loan fund for another year as part of his 3.9 billion dollar overall foreign aid request.

Fulbright's plan, co - sponsored by Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) and John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), calls for 1.5 billion dollars a year for five years and corresponding de-emphasis on military aid. It also would remove the loan fund from year-to-year appropriations control by Congress by authorizing the longrange operation.

Although they have supported the President's one-year request in testifying on the aid program, State Department and foreign aid officials have made it clear they wanted a bigger, longer - range loan fund but were, in effect, over ruled by the Budget Bureau.

The Fullbright-Humphrey - Kennedy proposal has picked up considerable support from private organizations. But Fulbright conceded its chances for getting through Congress are not too good unless the President throws his weight behind it.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee is expected to complete action next week on the 3.9 billion dollar foreign aid authorization.

Rep. A.S.J. Carnahan (D-Mo.), a high-ranking Democratic member, predicted some cuts.

The Senate committee will wind up its hearings Monday with testimony by Dillon and Dempster McIntosh, administrator of the Loan Fund. But Fulbright said the committee would not act on the authorization bill until after the House completes action.

Baccalaureate At West Monroe

Baccalaureate services for seniors of the West Monroe High School week scheduled for 3 p.m. today at the school auditorium.

The Rev. F. D. Wall of the First Assembly of God Church will deliver the message and he will be assisted by the Rev. E. E. Taylor of the Trinity Baptist Church.

Dr. Hugh E. Bradshaw of the Memorial Presbyterian Church and the Rev. Paul Owens of the Church of God will also take part in the ceremonies.

The West Monroe High School choir under the direction of Mrs. Juanita Kilpatrick will furnish the music for the occasion.

The baccalaureate services will be followed by a reception at the home of Judge and Mrs. Jesse Heard from 4 to 6 p.m., honoring graduates and the faculty and staff of West Monroe High School.

19 Americans Depart For Soviet Tour

HELSINKI (UPI) — Nineteen Americans left here Saturday in a bus flying the Stars and Stripes on what may be a trail-blazing tour of the Soviet Union.

The group was believed to be the first party of Americans to embark on a regularly-scheduled bus tour of Russia. The Americans will spend 18 days in the Soviet Union leaving that country at the border near Warsaw.

The bus was the first of five that will go back and forth along this summer, carrying Americans and Europeans. The cost of the tour is $519, which covers transporation, hotel accommodations and meals.

They rode on the way to Leningrad Saturday, where they will spend four nights. Then they head for Moscow, where they will spend five days, before going to Warsaw.

The bus was met at the Finnish border by a Russian in tourist agency guide.

The guide will be with them for their entire stay in Russia.

Mrs. Rose Hirsham of (301 N.S. river Dr.) Fort Lauderdale, Fla., said she was making the trip in hopes of being reunited with long-lost relatives. She was born near Minsk but left there when she was 7. The 64-year-old manager of an apartment house said she would try to find some relatives although she recalls only that "our home was an overnight trip from Minsk."

PIDGEON IN MUSICAL

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Pidgeon is returning to the singing stage as star of a musical adaptation of "Ah, Wilderness!"

Pidgeon first went to Hollywood to be a singer, but earned his reputation in straight dramatic parts. He returned to Broadway two seasons ago in "The Happiest Millionaire."

The Eugene O'Neill comedy about a family of 50 years ago is being retitled "Connecticut Summer" in its new form. David Merrick has scheduled the production for next fall.

BUT WHAT ABOUT THE GOLD MINE UNCLE LUCKY WAS GOING TO GIVE US?

I TELL YOU, WE NEVER GOT NEAR THE DRATTED GOLD MINE. RAN OUT OF GAS ON THE DESERT. WHEN I GOT BACK AFTER WALKING 20 MILES FOR GAS, UNCLE LUCKY WAS GONE!

WELL, I WARNED YOU NOT TO COUNT TOO MUCH ON THE GOLD MINE. I'M AFRAID UNCLE LUCKY'S GETTING ABSENT-MINDED.

I'LL SAY HE IS!

KNOCK! KNOCK!

WHY, UNCLE LUCKY!

HIDY, FOLKS! HOW'D YOU LIKE TO OWN A GOLD MINE?

WELL, ER... WH...

YES, SIREE! YOU'RE MY FAVORITE KINFOLKS! YOU FLY OUT WEST WITH ME, NEPHEW, AND IT'S YOUR GOLD MINE!

WE APPRECIATE YOUR GOOD INTENTIONS, UNCLE LUCKY, BUT... ER... WELL, I'M AFRAID BROTHER CAN'T LEAVE THE FARM JUST NOW.

OKAY, I'LL CALL MY LAWYER IN SAN FRANCISCO AND HAVE HIM DEED IT TO YOU.

HI, JIM! REMEMBER THAT LAZY LUCY GOLD MINE I GOT OUT THERE? WELL, I WANT YOU TO DEED IT OVER TO MY FAVORITE KINFOLKS, ROSCO AND LUCILLE----

EH?... I DON'T HAVE A GOLD MINE? ...ARE YOU SURE?... SOLD IT IN 1946?

THERE! YOU SEE!... HE'S EVEN FORGOTTEN HE SOLD IT!

BUT UNCLE LUCKY MEANS WELL, BROTHER.

TELL YOU WHAT, NEPHEW, INSTEAD OF THAT OLD RUNDOWN GOLD MINE, I'M GONNA GIVE YOU MY SOUTH SEA ISLAND COCONUT PLANTATION!

BUT DO I HAVE TO GO THERE TO SEE IT?

NOT AT ALL! I'LL SIMPLY DEED IT OVER TO YOU! IT'S AN ISLAND CALLED PINGO-PONGO.

PINGO-PONGO? WHY, PINGO-PONGO'S THE ISLAND I WAS.. ER... "MAROONED" ON DURING THE WAR!

BOY, OBOY! WHAT A PARADISE! ALL THE WOMEN WERE BEAUTIFUL, AND I WAS THE ONLY MAN!

LET'S GO!!

DESE VILL HELP ME SEE MORE T'INGS, DOCTOR?

YES, INDEED... NOW, OF COURSE, THINGS MAY LOOK STRANGE TO YOU AT FIRST...

DER OLD GOAT SEES TOO MUCH ALREADY!

YOU LOOK QUITE DISTINGUISHED!

UND YOU LOOK QVITE VIGGLY UND VOOZY!

THOSE ARE OLD FRAMES BOYS, YOU MAY HAVE THEM...

HELLO, INSPECTOR!

GLEEK!

T'INGS SOITINLY DO LOOK STRANGE

YI!

HELLO, INSPECTOR!

GLEEK!

MIGHT BE I'M VEARING DER GLASSES UPSIDE DOWN... I HOPE...

PSST!

DIS VAY!

HIMMEL! IT'S VOISE!!

YOU LOOK STRANGE, INSPECTOR!

ISS YOU SEEING T'INGS OR SOME-T'ING?

IF DOT'S DER VAY T'INGS LOOK, I DON'T VANT TO SEE DEM!! DISTINGVISHED, BAH!

The PHANTOM

By Lee Falk and Wilson McCoy

IN A 50-YEAR-OLD PHANTOM CHRONICLE

AH~HERE IT IS.

May 1909: Returned today after destruction of Singh pirate ship.

"AS THE BURNING SHIP SANK, I WAS BADLY WOUNDED. DR. WORTH BRAVELY RESCUED ME."

"~SAVED MY LIFE AND NURSED ME TO HEALTH. FOR THIS, I PUT UPON HIM OUR GOOD MARK~~"

HMM~THAT WAS FIFTY YEARS AGO~MY GRAND-FATHER AND HIS GRAND-FATHER~NOW THE CHILD WEARS THE MARK~~

TELL ME WHY YOU CAME TO THE JUNGLE, CONLEY.

I TOLD YOU. BAD MEN WITH COUSIN GARR CHASED ME~ NURSE SAID CALL PHANTOM~

HMM~AND WHAT DO THESE BAD MEN WANT WITH YOUR COUSIN GARR?

HURT AND ROB AND KILL HIM! ISN'T THAT WHAT BAD MEN DO?

WILSON McCOY 5-24

USUALLY. WE'D BETTER SEE YOUR COUSIN GARR, AND FIND OUT.

OH~THIS PRETTY HORSE! PLEASE, CAN I DRIVE?

NEXT WEEK: COUSIN GARR

SENSATIONAL! THE NEW Gillette Adjustable Razor

HERE IT IS...the greatest advance in shaving comfort since the invention of the safety razor. It's the Gillette Adjustable! Just turn the micrometer dial on the handle. You get 9 different degrees of edge exposure and edge angle.

Light beard?...Heavy beard?...There's a setting that delivers you comfort that's all but unbelievable. And, change the setting if you like while shaving sensitive or hard-to-shave spots.

Believe us, it's all but a miracle the e-a-s-y, clean shaves you get with the Gillette Adjustable. It's guaranteed...so what can you lose? Buy it. Try it. If you don't agree that the Gillette Adjustable is all but out of this world, you get back every cent you paid. This is the razor to give...and to own yourself.
